Allies Slated To Halt Drive At Parallel 38

Decision Reported Made By Officials

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—High officials are reported to have decided that United Nations troops should stop at the 38th parallel if they are to drive that far in any northward advance in Korea.

While responsible authorities were reluctant to discuss this development even privately, the intent appeared to be to create if possible a basis for new efforts at a political settlement.

The United States exercises through Gen. Douglas MacArthur the command of United Nations forces in Korea and MacArthur presumably has been or shortly will be informed of the decision.

No All-Out Drive In Progress

At the moment U. N. advances to the north are described as relatively limited offensive action and apparently the present strategy is not designed to develop an all-out northward movement. But if the Chinese and Korean Communist resistance proves relatively weak an all out advance obviously might be undertaken and proceed, if possible, as far as the parallel.

Although the parallel, which formed the boundary between North and South Korea before the war began last June has been crossed by both U. N. and Communist forces, it is still regarded here and in other world capitals as a line of political significance.

In recent United Nations discussions of a cease-fire arrangement, the 38th parallel has figured prominently, as the line along which the belligerent forces could have established their positions.

Other Factors Considered

Other factors taken into consideration here is the military situation in Korea. American military leaders assert that the U. N. forces can hold on indefinitely against any pressure the Communists may bring against them. On the other hand none of these authorities has claimed since the Chinese intervention that the United Nations would be able to muster sufficient strength to force the Communists out of Korea altogether.

The situation in a sense therefore is one of stalemate and authorities evidently still hope that some way may be found to bring it to a conclusion by political means.

Japan Invited To Sign Treaty

TOKYO, Friday, Feb. 2 (AP) — U. S. Ambassador-at-Large John Foster Dulles today invited Japan to sign a peace treaty which would offer her an opportunity to share in "collective security against direct aggression."

If Japan accepts, he said, the United States would consider retaining American forces in and near Japan "as a testimony to the unity between our countries."

The first official offer of a defense agreement, after the projected Japanese peace treaty, was made by the special State Department envoy in a luncheon speech before the America-Japan Society.

Dulles outlined at length the principles underlying the formal peace treaty program which his mission has studied here. The mission tentatively plans to leave Japan Sunday for the Philippines and probably New Zealand to consult officials of those governments on the peace settlement.

"Ike" On Air Tonight

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will make a report to the nation at 10:45 p. m. Eastern Standard Time tomorrow night on his recent survey of Western European defense potentials.

North Korean Reds' Commander Killed

TOKYO, Friday, Feb. 2 (AP) —The death in action of North Korea's commanding general and vice premier, Im Chek, was announced today by the Pyongyang radio.

The broadcast, heard in Tokyo, said his death occurred Jan. 30 but gave no details.

It said Kim, in addition to commanding the North Korean army and serving as vice premier, was North Korean minister of industries. He was described as a close friend and co-worker of Red Premier Kim Il Sung.

The death was announced jointly by the North Korean cabinet, headquarters of the North Korean army, and the North Korean Communist Party central committee.

Military Goods Removed From Price "Freeze"

Coal Ceilings Upped; Food Prices Climb

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—The price freeze today was taken off a vast range of military goods bought by the government.

The announced purpose was to keep price controls from "interfering with the defense effort."

This was the first change in the price freeze order of last Friday night. The second change, a rise in coal price ceilings which could add more than $100,000,000 a year to consumer's bills, was made a few minutes later. This follows a wage increase won by John L. Lewis.

Almost simultaneously, the government announced that retail food prices had risen to another record high, climbing 1.1 per cent during the first two weeks of January to 220.5 per cent of the 1935-39 average.

The Office of Price Stabilization said that the thaw on defense buying applied only to strictly military goods. It said price ceilings are not "practicable or advisable" on such articles because of frequent changes in specifications and production plans.

Officials hastened to say that these articles are not being freed from all control because their prices "can be best controlled" by the defense agencies themselves—through contract negotations and in later renegotations to eliminate excessive profits.

From now until April 1, there is a sweeping exemption of "all commodities and services peculiar to military needs."

The new coal prices regulation had the effect of allowing raises that conceivably could amount to an average of 25 cents a ton in the case of soft coal and 90 cents a ton for anthracite.

But officials of the OPS said the actual increases would probably be "very much less" than this because coal is highly competitive with oil and gas, and the industry may not be able to get the full increases.

Dewey Says Russia Getting Set For "Grab"

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 (AP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said today Russia "is getting set" to seize all of Germany and Japan as a prelude to attempted world conquest.

By grabbing all the industrial power of those two nations, the New York Governor said in an article in Collier's magazine, Stalin "would no longer fear American industrial might and, with his vast manpower, he would be in a position to take the final step of conquering the world."

He said "there is good reason to believe" that either an internal coup or armed conquest of Yugoslavia by satellite powers is planned before an attack on Germany.

Flexible U. S. Contribution To Pact Urged

Says West Europe Would "Risk" War

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower reportedly told senators today he is aiming at a goal of 40 divisions—roughly about 700,000 troops—to defend Western Europe by the end of 1952.

Testifying behind closed doors, Eisenhower also declared:

"I don't deny the danger of a powder keg war. But the task today is one of building for peace."

The direct quotation was attributed to Eisenhower by Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Connally said in a statement:

"The General expressed the view that the United States contribution under its North Atlantic obligations should be flexible and that it should not be expressed in terms of a mathematical ratio or of a fixed ceiling.

"He made it clear that all NAT (North Atlantic Treaty) partners should make their maximum possible contribution."

Europe Will Risk War

Other senators said, however, that Eisenhower favored a ratio—worked out by military men though not by Congress.

Earlier in the day, Eisenhower had told Congress members in a dramatic, hour-long speech that Western Europe is now determined to "take the risk" of war in combatting Communism. He said the United States must help or see America's way of life "wither away."

Senators who heard Eisenhower testify in closed session told newsmen he expressed belief that a land defense army of 1,600,000 men would be sufficient to withstand an initial assault on Western Europe by Russia's Red armies.

Senators said Eisenhower, in testifying before the Senate Foreign and Armed Services Committees, avoided any direct, specific statement on U. S. troop commitments in Europe. He explained he did not have all the facts yet to lay down a full program.

Eisenhower's reported goal of 40 divisions would work out roughly at about 600,000 to 700,000 men.

Military informants said British, French and Belgian divisions are about equivalent to American divisional strength—about 18,000 men—

Indochina Reds Fire On U. S. Ship

SAIGON, Vietnam, Indochina, Feb. 1 (AP)—Vietminh suicide patrols fired on a U. S. Navy escort carrier today and later threw 10 grenades at her crewmen on shore leave in downtown Saigon. They hit neither the carrier nor the sailors.

Five French marines who were with the sailors in Saigon bars were injured by grenade fragments. Vietnamese police captured one of the Vietminh group, guerrilla followers of the Communist Ho Chi Minh.

The demonstrations were staged to protest the delivery of planes and other arms by the carrier to the French-commanded forces combatting a Red-led rebellion.

Vietminh machine-gun and mortar fire was directed at the 6,730-ton escort carrier Windham Bay, a ship of the Casablanca class, as she moved up the Saigon River from the South China Sea. All fell short. Shore leaves were granted when the ship reached Saigon.

Immediately after the attacks in Saigon, military police ordered all U. S. Navy personnel to return to the ship.

U. N. Assembly Finds China Guilty Of Aggression; Jebb Urges Caution On Sanctions

LAGE SUCCESS, Feb. 1 (AP)—The United Nations General Assembly today found Communist China guilty of aggression in Korea by a one-sided majority of 44 to 7. But Britain warned the U. N. to take it easy on sanctions against the Chinese Reds until every effort is made at a peaceful settlement. That appeared to be the course the U. N. will take in the immediate future.

Sir Gladwyn Jebb, Britain, agreed with the others in the majority camp that the U. N. must establish its "moral position" by condemning Communist China for aggression. Then he told the Assembly that Britain has the "gravest doubts whether any punitive measures can be discovered which are not dangerous, double-edged, or merely useless, or any which will materially assist our brave troops now fighting in Korea." He said the most urgent task is that of "peaceful negotiation."

Historic Decision

A good offices committee, still to be chosen, is expected to get to work as soon as possible.

The decision was regarded here as historic in that it is the first ever taken by the U. N. against such massive power as Red China represents. It came at an unusually brief session of one hour and 15 minutes in the same committee room in which the Political Committee last Tuesday branded Red China an aggressor by the same vote.

The 12-nation Arab and Asian group abandoned its fight, which lasted for days in the committee, to have the U. N. call a seven-nation conference on all Far Eastern issues, with a cease-fire arrangement the first order of business.

India Votes Against Resolution

The United States, Britain, France, every one of the 20 Latin American republics and other countries scattered around the globe made up the 44-vote majority.

The Soviet bloc of five members, plus India and Burma, voted against the resolution, originally proposed by the United States on Jan. 20, which said Red China has engaged in aggression in Korea.

Nine countries abstained. They were Afghanistan, Egypt, Indonesia, Pakistan, Saudi Arabia, Sweden, Syria, Yemen and Yugoslavia. Saudi Arabia asked to be recorded as not participating in the vote, but Assembly President Nasrollah Entezam ruled Saudi Arabia must be counted as abstaining.

American Casualties Increase To 46,814

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—An increase of 613 American casualties in Korea was reported today in this week's Defense Department summary—the smallest increase since the department started issuing weekly totals last August.

The new total of 46,814 covers casualties where the next of kin had been notified through Jan. 26.

The dead mounted to 7,739, including 6,897 killed in action, 796 who died of wounds, and 46 who originally were reported as missing but later were determined to be dead.

Winter Attacks On Wide Front

[By The Associated Press]

Winter renewed its attack against the nation Thursday along the widest front of the season.

The assault took varied forms—snow, cold, sleet, freezing rains—in the vast territory from the Rockies to the Atlantic seaboard.

Hundreds of schools were closed in the storm regions. Transportation was slowed.

Communication and power lines snapped. Texas citrus losses were calculated in millions of dollars.

The toll of deaths laid to the week's savage weather rose to 108.

Householders in the frigid zones kept one eye on dwindling fuel stocks and the other on news of the strike of railroad workers—a tieup threatening to cut fresh supplies of coal and oil.

Heavy clouds dumped snow on a broad belt from Missouri to Ohio and from Tennessee to Michigan.

Most of the states to the east were pelted with sleet and a chilling rain.

Stay Of Execution Denied 7 Negroes

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 1 (AP) — Gov. John S. Battle formally turned down last hour pleas for stay of execution tonight and prison officials prepared for the electrocution tomorrow of four of the seven Martinsville negroes sentenced to die for rape.

Counsel for the men fought in vain against time to stay the executioner's hand. Two attorneys for the men were turned down at Charlotte, N. C., by a Fourth U. S. Circuit Court judge earlier in the day.

Then, while delegates to a mass rally here were standing a prayer vigil in Capitol Square, two other negro attorneys called again on the Governor. They asked for commutation.

The governor declined this. He said it wasn't in any way merited because of the facts in the "brutal and dastardly" mass assault against the white woman two years ago in Martinsville.

Banker Is Sentenced

BALTIMORE, Feb. 1 (AP)—Andrew A. Kramer, 57-year-old former president of an Annapolis bank, was given a five-month prison sentence today after he was convicted on three counts involving handling of the bank's funds and stock.

Dynamite Truck Blast Kills One, Razes 10 Homes

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va., Feb. 1 (AP) — A dynamite explosion blamed on a broken tire chain killed one person, injured at least nine others and wrecked ten homes near here early today.

The blast demolished a truck carrying the dynamite on U. S. Route 340, about four miles east of here, and west of the Maryland-West Virginia line.

Windows were shattered for seven miles around and the impact was felt in Sharpsburg, Md., 15 miles distant.

Billy Bates, 30-year-old farmer, was the only known fatality. He was blown through the doorway of a neighbor's home while trying to rouse sleeping occupants.

Two Seriously Injured

Two of the nine injured, including Bates' 27-year-old wife, were in serious condition at Charles Town General Hospital. The other serious injury was suffered by Mrs. Estella Cobb, also 27, the neighbor Bates tried to warn.

Corp. C. A. Hehle of the West Virginia State Police said the truck driver, 33-year-old Edward Schade of Gloucester, N. J., escaped injury. The officer said Schade gave him this description of the explosion:

Shortly before 5 a.m. the truck, laden with 15 tons of dynamite, produced a noise that sounded like a broken tire chain striking the gasoline tank. Sparks apparently caused by the snapped chain flew up behind the cab.

Finds Gas Tank Ablaze

Schade pulled to a stop on the ice-covered highway, checked the tank and found it blazing. Realizing the flames were out of control and eating their way toward the dynamite cargo, he awakened his half-clad sleeping assistant, Fred Schappert of Paulsboro, N. J.

The two men dashed along the road to sound the alarm about the imminent explosion. Schappert, stumbling along the frozen road in his bare feet, suffered slight frostbite.

When the dynamite went off it ripped doors from their hinges, sprayed the air with flying window glass and sent furniture crashing through the interior of homes up and down U. S. 340.

Third Atomic Blast Rocks Las Vegas, Nev.

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Feb. 1 (AP)—The third atomic blast in less than a week went off before dawn today in the desert near here, but hardly a soul in Las Vegas turned a hair.

Such things are just everyday stuff now in this city of high stakes gambling and quick divorce.

The sky lit up in a blinding flash at 5:48 a. m. (Pacific Standard Time) and buildings rumbled from the concussion six minutes later.

New Legal Moves Made In Attempt To End Rail Tieup

Paralysis Spreads, 66,000 Furloughed

[By The Associated Press]

The government clamped a partial embargo on mail Thursday because of the railroad strike. It also made two legal moves to try to halt the walkout.

Paralysis spread along more of the nation's rail arteries as more trainmen reported "sick." The rail strike also caused layoffs of more than 66,000 workers in other industries.

Hardship loomed on the fighting and home fronts. Combat rations for the forces in Korea were stalled in Chicago's vast freight yards. Domestic mail, freight and express piles mounted.

The tieup of fuel oil shipments brought fears that homes would grow cold during the current cold wave gripping much of the nation.

The mail embargo, similar to that declared during the pre-Christmas walkout by the trainmen, directly affected 10 of the nation's largest cities.

Truman Urged To Intercede

The order restricted acceptance of second, third and fourth class mail for out-of-town delivery at Chicago, St. Louis, Washington, Philadelphia, Trenton, N. J., Jacksonville, Fla., New York City, Atlanta, Ga., Cleveland, and Baltimore, Md.

Other post offices will not accept restricted mail for delivery in any of those cities.

Still accepted are first class mail weighing less than eight ounces, daily newspapers, and emergency package mailing of medcines, drugs and surgical supplies.

Air mail service is not affected by the order.

Two congressmen urged President Truman to intercede in the strike. Sen. Holland (D-Fla) asked the President to make a radio appeal, a move which was instrumental in ending the December walkout.

Rep. Van Pelt (R-Wis) also telegraphed the President to act in the strike.

In the three days since they began, the "sick" walkouts of rail workers have spread to more than 42 railroads in about 30 cities.

Contempt Action Taken

In Washington Thursday, Attorney General McGrath took contempt action against the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and its officials, the key union in the current walkout, before Federal Judge Edward Tamm.

They were directed to appear Feb. 8 and explain why the work stoppages are continuing despite a court order against such strikes issued in December.

Judge Tamm said that if the union cannot show itself innocent of contempt at that time, it will have to go on trial on the contempt charges Feb. 15.

Earlier, the brotherhood's president, W. P. Kennedy, accepted a subpoena demanding his appearance in a Chicago federal court Friday on a previous contempt charge by the government.

Typhus Epidemic Hits Red Troops In Korea

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP) — A typhus epidemic in "serious proportions" has broken out among Communist troops in Korea, an Army spokesman said today.

While no figures were available, the spokesman said the disease could have a material influence on the enemy's military capabilities by reducing his fighting manpower.

The disease appeared first among front line elements of the North Korean army, the spokesman said. Whether it also is affecting Chinese Communist troops was not known.

Planes Help U. N. Regiment To Fight Free

Allied Offensive Rolling Forward

TOKYO, Friday, Feb. (AP)—A French-American regiment, aided by low-flying planes and reinforcements, crushed an attempt by 6,000 screaming Chinese to trap it in Central Korea, the U. S. Eighth Army reported today.

A communique said the enemy was forced to break off contact Thursday after a fight which lasted nearly 13 hours and the Red entrapment assault caused "no appreciable change in position."

AP Correspondent Stan Swinton reported that the nine-day-old Allied offensive on the western front south of Seoul "rolled forward" at dawn today.

Renewal of the advance followed a night in which the Reds, believed suffering from serious manpower losses, mustered only one faint counterattack in the west.

About 200 Reds attacked a hill five miles northeast of Suwon, 17 miles south of Seoul. They were driven back by Puerto Ricans after a four-hour fight.

Hand-To-Hand Fighting

The French-American regiment on the central front was attacked at 4:50 a. m. Thursday 18 miles northwest of Wonju. That is near the juncture of the western and central fronts.

By noon, all of 6,000 Reds had been committed and were assaulting the Allied regiment from all sides. Hand-to-hand fighting was in progress by 1:15 p. m. Then Allied reinforcements moved up. Planes roared down in support.

The Eighth Army communique said the Reds were forced to quit the fight at 5:30 p. m.

Swinton's western front field dispatch today said "Communist resistance has been slackening daily, with individual Red soldiers showing little heart for battle."

One small group of Reds waved a white flag and surrendered—the first such move by the Chinese since the Allied drive opened.

U. N. staff officers said that serious manpower losses, overwhelmingly superior U. N. firepower and skidding Chinese morale apparently explained why the Reds are failing to put up a more serious battle from their main line of resistance. Reliable sources also reported that many Reds were suffering from typhus and other diseases.

Turks Gain Three Miles

Turkish troops made Thursday's biggest advance in the west.

Brandishing their favorite weapons—fixed bayonets—the Turks drove ahead three miles on the Allied left flank to within two miles of Anyang, a highway town 12 miles due south of Seoul and 16 miles southeast of Seoul's port on Inchon.

Conservative Charges Rejected By Commons

LONDON, Feb. 1 (AP)—The Labor government rode down tonight Conservative Party charges that it had bungled Britain into a critical fuel shortage.

By a vote of 300 to 289 along strictly party lines the House of Commons rejected a Conservative motion accusing Prime Minister Attlee's government of mismanagement of fuel resources. A Conservative victory might have toppled Attlee's government from office.

Only a few hours earlier the government had instituted emergency measures designed to head off a creeping coal crisis which threatens to hamper Britain's new rearmament program.

Foes Of Constitutional Convention Score Victory As Bill Is Sent Back To Committee

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 1 (AP) — Legislation to call a constitutional convention received a sharp setback today during a General Assembly session marked by city-county bickering.

Last night, after two successful preliminary skirmishes, backers of the bill to call a convention to overhaul Maryland's 84-year-old constitution, were predicting freely that it would be given tentative House approval today.

But county men opposed to a convention call, working quietly, marshalled their forces.

When the House Judiciary Committee brought the measure to the floor with a favorable report, Delegate McNulty (D-Anne Arundel) moved that it be re-referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

"It will cost the state more than a million dollars to hold a convention — how much more I don't know and you don't know," he said.

"This bill deals with state finances and it belongs in the Ways and Means Committee," he declared.

McNulty, a leading opponent of the measure, then made his motion.

It was adopted 59-57. This means that the bill must go through the whole process of committee consideration again.

The Ways and Means Committee, if it wants, may hold the bill from the floor for at least 20 days.

Among the bills introduced today was one by Delegates Sklar and Robinson, Democrats of Baltimore City's Fourth District, to give pay raises to all employes of the state. Under the bill, each person on the state payroll would get a raise amounting to 15 per cent of the first $3,000 he makes, plus five per cent of anything over that amount he earns a year.

Senate President Della (D-Balto-5th) submitted a series of bills to liberalize the workmen's compensation laws.

Four delegates introduced legislation calling for compulsory annual inspections of motor vehicles.

John L. Assesses Miners $20 Each For "War Chest"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—John L. Lewis today assessed his 475,000 coal miners $20 each to build a war chest against what he called "the onslaughter of our adversaries."

Lewis did not name these "adversaries" in the circular which announced the assessment. However, in earlier proposals for a joint fund with the AFL and CIO, he had referred to the opponents as vast banking and investment interests which he said controlled coal, steel, auto, insurance, telephone and other basic industries.

Taking advantage of the $1.60 daily wage hike which he negotiated with the soft and hard coal operators—and which was approved yesterday by the Wage Stabilization Board—Lewis called for an assessment amounting to six per cent of the raise over the next two months.

The money is to be paid by the 400,000 soft coal miners and 75,000 hard coal miners in $5 installments in the four pay days of February and March. It would raise an estimated $9.500.000.

Five French marines who were with the sailors in Saigon bars were injured by grenade fragments. Vietnamese police captured one of the Vietminh group, guerrilla followers of the Communist Ho Chi Minh.

The demonstrations were staged to protest the delivery of planes and other arms by the carrier to the French-commanded forces combatting a Red-led rebellion.

Vietminh machine-gun and mortar fire was directed at the 6,730-ton escort carrier Windham Bay, a ship of the Casablanca class, as she moved up the Saigon River from the South China Sea. All fell short. Shore leaves were granted when the ship reached Saigon.

Immediately after the attacks in Saigon, military police ordered all U. S. Navy personnel to return to the ship.

U. N. Assembly Finds China Guilty Of Aggression; Jebb Urges Caution On Sanctions

LAGE SUCCESS, Feb. 1 (AP)—The United Nations General Assembly today found Communist China guilty of aggression in Korea by a one-sided majority of 44 to 7. But Britain warned the U. N. to take it easy on sanctions against the Chinese Reds until every effort is made at a peaceful settlement. That appeared to be the course the U. N. will take in the immediate future.

Sir Gladwyn Jebb, Britain, agreed with the others in the majority camp that the U. N. must establish its "moral position" by condemning Communist China for aggression. Then he told the Assembly that Britain has the "gravest doubts whether any punitive measures can be discovered which are not dangerous, double-edged, or merely useless, or any which will materially assist our brave troops now fighting in Korea." He said the most urgent task is that of "peaceful negotiation."

Historic Decision

A good offices committee, still to be chosen, is expected to get to work as soon as possible.

The decision was regarded here as historic in that it is the first ever taken by the U. N. against such massive power as Red China represents. It came at an unusually brief session of one hour and 15 minutes in the same committee room in which the Political Committee last Tuesday branded Red China an aggressor by the same vote.

The 12-nation Arab and Asian group abandoned its fight, which lasted for days in the committee, to have the U. N. call a seven-nation conference on all Far Eastern issues, with a cease-fire arrangement the first order of business.

India Votes Against Resolution

The United States, Britain, France, every one of the 20 Latin American republics and other countries scattered around the globe made up the 44-vote majority.

The Soviet bloc of five members, plus India and Burma, voted against the resolution, originally proposed by the United States on Jan. 20, which said Red China has engaged in aggression in Korea.

Nine countries abstained. They were Afghanistan, Egypt, Indonesia, Pakistan, Saudi Arabia, Sweden, Syria, Yemen and Yugoslavia. Saudi Arabia asked to be recorded as not participating in the vote, but Assembly President Nasrollah Entezam ruled Saudi Arabia must be counted as abstaining.

American Casualties Increase To 46,814

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—An increase of 613 American casualties in Korea was reported today in this week's Defense Department summary—the smallest increase since the department started issuing weekly totals last August.

The new total of 46,814 covers casualties where the next of kin had been notified through Jan. 26.

The dead mounted to 7,739, including 6,897 killed in action, 796 who died of wounds, and 46 who originally were reported as missing but later were determined to be dead.

Winter Attacks On Wide Front

[By The Associated Press]

Winter renewed its attack against the nation Thursday along the widest front of the season.

The assault took varied forms—snow, cold, sleet, freezing rains—in the vast territory from the Rockies to the Atlantic seaboard.

Hundreds of schools were closed in the storm regions. Transportation was slowed.

Communication and power lines snapped. Texas citrus losses were calculated in millions of dollars.

The toll of deaths laid to the week's savage weather rose to 108.

Householders in the frigid zones kept one eye on dwindling fuel stocks and the other on news of the strike of railroad workers—a tieup threatening to cut fresh supplies of coal and oil.

Heavy clouds dumped snow on a broad belt from Missouri to Ohio and from Tennessee to Michigan.

Most of the states to the east were pelted with sleet and a chilling rain.

Stay Of Execution Denied 7 Negroes

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 1 (AP) — Gov. John S. Battle formally turned down last hour pleas for stay of execution tonight and prison officials prepared for the electrocution tomorrow of four of the seven Martinsville negroes sentenced to die for rape.

Counsel for the men fought in vain against time to stay the executioner's hand. Two attorneys for the men were turned down at Charlotte, N. C., by a Fourth U. S. Circuit Court judge earlier in the day.

Then, while delegates to a mass rally here were standing a prayer vigil in Capitol Square, two other negro attorneys called again on the Governor. They asked for commutation.

The governor declined this. He said it wasn't in any way merited because of the facts in the "brutal and dastardly" mass assault against the white woman two years ago in Martinsville.

Banker Is Sentenced

BALTIMORE, Feb. 1 (AP)—Andrew A. Kramer, 57-year-old former president of an Annapolis bank, was given a five-month prison sentence today after he was convicted on three counts involving handling of the bank's funds and stock.

Dynamite Truck Blast Kills One, Razes 10 Homes

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va., Feb. 1 (AP) — A dynamite explosion blamed on a broken tire chain killed one person, injured at least nine others and wrecked ten homes near here early today.

The blast demolished a truck carrying the dynamite on U. S. Route 340, about four miles east of here, and west of the Maryland-West Virginia line.

Windows were shattered for seven miles around and the impact was felt in Sharpsburg, Md., 15 miles distant.

Billy Bates, 30-year-old farmer, was the only known fatality. He was blown through the doorway of a neighbor's home while trying to rouse sleeping occupants.

Two Seriously Injured

Two of the nine injured, including Bates' 27-year-old wife, were in serious condition at Charles Town General Hospital. The other serious injury was suffered by Mrs. Estella Cobb, also 27, the neighbor Bates tried to warn.

Corp. C. A. Hehle of the West Virginia State Police said the truck driver, 33-year-old Edward Schade of Gloucester, N. J., escaped injury. The officer said Schade gave him this description of the explosion:

Shortly before 5 a.m. the truck, laden with 15 tons of dynamite, produced a noise that sounded like a broken tire chain striking the gasoline tank. Sparks apparently caused by the snapped chain flew up behind the cab.

Finds Gas Tank Ablaze

Schade pulled to a stop on the ice-covered highway, checked the tank and found it blazing. Realizing the flames were out of control and eating their way toward the dynamite cargo, he awakened his half-clad sleeping assistant, Fred Schappert of Paulsboro, N. J.

The two men dashed along the road to sound the alarm about the imminent explosion. Schappert, stumbling along the frozen road in his bare feet, suffered slight frostbite.

When the dynamite went off it ripped doors from their hinges, sprayed the air with flying window glass and sent furniture crashing through the interior of homes up and down U. S. 340.

Third Atomic Blast Rocks Las Vegas, Nev.

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Feb. 1 (AP)—The third atomic blast in less than a week went off before dawn today in the desert near here, but hardly a soul in Las Vegas turned a hair.

Such things are just everyday stuff now in this city of high stakes gambling and quick divorce.

The sky lit up in a blinding flash at 5:48 a. m. (Pacific Standard Time) and buildings rumbled from the concussion six minutes later.

New Legal Moves Made In Attempt To End Rail Tieup

Paralysis Spreads, 66,000 Furloughed

[By The Associated Press]

The government clamped a partial embargo on mail Thursday because of the railroad strike. It also made two legal moves to try to halt the walkout.

Paralysis spread along more of the nation's rail arteries as more trainmen reported "sick." The rail strike also caused layoffs of more than 66,000 workers in other industries.

Hardship loomed on the fighting and home fronts. Combat rations for the forces in Korea were stalled in Chicago's vast freight yards. Domestic mail, freight and express piles mounted.

The tieup of fuel oil shipments brought fears that homes would grow cold during the current cold wave gripping much of the nation.

Truman Urged To Intercede

The order restricted acceptance of second, third and fourth class mail for out-of-town delivery at Chicago, St. Louis, Washington, Philadelphia, Trenton, N. J., Jacksonville, Fla., New York City, Atlanta, Ga., Cleveland, and Baltimore, Md.

Other post offices will not accept restricted mail for delivery in any of those cities.

Still accepted are first class mail weighing less than eight ounces, daily newspapers, and emergency package mailing of medcines, drugs and surgical supplies.

Air mail service is not affected by the order.

Two congressmen urged President Truman to intercede in the strike. Sen. Holland (D-Fla) asked the President to make a radio appeal, a move which was instrumental in ending the December walkout.

Rep. Van Pelt (R-Wis) also telegraphed the President to act in the strike.

In the three days since they began, the "sick" walkouts of rail workers have spread to more than 42 railroads in about 30 cities.

Contempt Action Taken

In Washington Thursday, Attorney General McGrath took contempt action against the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and its officials, the key union in the current walkout, before Federal Judge Edward Tamm.

They were directed to appear Feb. 8 and explain why the work stoppages are continuing despite a court order against such strikes issued in December.

Judge Tamm said that if the union cannot show itself innocent of contempt at that time, it will have to go on trial on the contempt charges Feb. 15.

Earlier, the brotherhood's president, W. P. Kennedy, accepted a subpoena demanding his appearance in a Chicago federal court Friday on a previous contempt charge by the government.

Typhus Epidemic Hits Red Troops In Korea

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP) — A typhus epidemic in "serious proportions" has broken out among Communist troops in Korea, an Army spokesman said today.

While no figures were available, the spokesman said the disease could have a material influence on the enemy's military capabilities by reducing his fighting manpower.

The disease appeared first among front line elements of the North Korean army, the spokesman said. Whether it also is affecting Chinese Communist troops was not known.

Planes Help U. N. Regiment To Fight Free

Allied Offensive Rolling Forward

TOKYO, Friday, Feb. (AP)—A French-American regiment, aided by low-flying planes and reinforcements, crushed an attempt by 6,000 screaming Chinese to trap it in Central Korea, the U. S. Eighth Army reported today.

A communique said the enemy was forced to break off contact Thursday after a fight which lasted nearly 13 hours and the Red entrapment assault caused "no appreciable change in position."

AP Correspondent Stan Swinton reported that the nine-day-old Allied offensive on the western front south of Seoul "rolled forward" at dawn today.

Renewal of the advance followed a night in which the Reds, believed suffering from serious manpower losses, mustered only one faint counterattack in the west.

About 200 Reds attacked a hill five miles northeast of Suwon, 17 miles south of Seoul. They were driven back by Puerto Ricans after a four-hour fight.

Hand-To-Hand Fighting

The French-American regiment on the central front was attacked at 4:50 a. m. Thursday 18 miles northwest of Wonju. That is near the juncture of the western and central fronts.

By noon, all of 6,000 Reds had been committed and were assaulting the Allied regiment from all sides. Hand-to-hand fighting was in progress by 1:15 p. m. Then Allied reinforcements moved up. Planes roared down in support.

The Eighth Army communique said the Reds were forced to quit the fight at 5:30 p. m.

Swinton's western front field dispatch today said "Communist resistance has been slackening daily, with individual Red soldiers showing little heart for battle."

One small group of Reds waved a white flag and surrendered—the first such move by the Chinese since the Allied drive opened.

U. N. staff officers said that serious manpower losses, overwhelmingly superior U. N. firepower and skidding Chinese morale apparently explained why the Reds are failing to put up a more serious battle from their main line of resistance. Reliable sources also reported that many Reds were suffering from typhus and other diseases.

Turks Gain Three Miles

At the western anchor of the Allied line, bayonet-wielding Turks stabbed ahead three miles Thursday, wheeling towards Seoul's port of Inchon.

Turkish troops made Thursday's biggest advance in the west.

Brandishing their favorite weapons—fixed bayonets—the Turks drove ahead three miles on the Allied left flank to within two miles of Anyang, a highway town 12 miles due south of Seoul and 16 miles southeast of Seoul's port on Inchon.

Conservative Charges Rejected By Commons

LONDON, Feb. 1 (AP)—The Labor government rode down tonight Conservative Party charges that it had bungled Britain into a critical fuel shortage.

By a vote of 300 to 289 along strictly party lines the House of Commons rejected a Conservative motion accusing Prime Minister Attlee's government of mismanagement of fuel resources. A Conservative victory might have toppled Attlee's government from office.

Only a few hours earlier the government had instituted emergency measures designed to head off a creeping coal crisis which threatens to hamper Britain's new rearmament program.

John L. Assesses Miners $20 Each For "War Chest"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—John L. Lewis today assessed his 475,000 coal miners $20 each to build a war chest against what he called "the onslaughter of our adversaries."

Lewis did not name these "adversaries" in the circular which announced the assessment. However, in earlier proposals for a joint fund with the AFL and CIO, he had referred to the opponents as vast banking and investment interests which he said controlled coal, steel, auto, insurance, telephone and other basic industries.

Taking advantage of the $1.60 daily wage hike which he negotiated with the soft and hard coal operators—and which was approved yesterday by the Wage Stabilization Board—Lewis called for an assessment amounting to six per cent of the raise over the next two months.

The money is to be paid by the 400,000 soft coal miners and 75,000 hard coal miners in $5 installments in the four pay days of February and March. It would raise an estimated $9.500.000.

Foes Of Constitutional Convention Score Victory As Bill Is Sent Back To Committee

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 1 (AP) — Legislation to call a constitutional convention received a sharp setback today during a General Assembly session marked by city-county bickering.

Last night, after two successful preliminary skirmishes, backers of the bill to call a convention to overhaul Maryland's 84-year-old constitution, were predicting freely that it would be given tentative House approval today.

But county men opposed to a convention call, working quietly, marshalled their forces.

When the House Judiciary Committee brought the measure to the floor with a favorable report, Delegate McNulty (D-Anne Arundel) moved that it be re-referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

"It will cost the state more than a million dollars to hold a convention — how much more I don't know and you don't know," he said.

"This bill deals with state finances and it belongs in the Ways and Means Committee," he declared.

McNulty, a leading opponent of the measure, then made his motion.

It was adopted 59-57. This means that the bill must go through the whole process of committee consideration again.

The Ways and Means Committee, if it wants, may hold the bill from the floor for at least 20 days.

Among the bills introduced today was one by Delegates Sklar and Robinson, Democrats of Baltimore City's Fourth District, to give pay raises to all employes of the state. Under the bill, each person on the state payroll would get a raise amounting to 15 per cent of the first $3,000 he makes, plus five per cent of anything over that amount he earns a year.

Senate President Della (D-Balto-5th) submitted a series of bills to liberalize the workmen's compensation laws.

Four delegates introduced legislation calling for compulsory annual inspections of motor vehicles.

Meyers Paroled, Faces Tax Count

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—Bennett E. Meyers, a onetime jaunty major general in the Air Force, stepped out of prison today right into an indictment charging that he dodged 1941 income taxes.

Meyers was paroled after serving almost three years in the federal reformatory in Lorton, Va.

But the government took no chances. Handcuffed to a marshall, Meyers was brought before U. S. Commissioner Cyril Lawrence.

He posted a $5,000 bond that he would appear in Baltimore whenever the government wants him to and answer charges that in 1941 he reported a net income of $3,808.70 when it was really was $36,301.52.

With the help of Jimmy Conroy, a professional bondsman, Meyers made the bond. He then was released, for the first time since mid-March, 1948.

Meyers, who once did much of the buying for the Army Air Force, was convicted of inducing an associate to lie to a Senate investigating committee looking into wartime contracts.

Governor Would Expand College For Negroes

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 1 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin is in favor of improving Morgan State College and believes negroes would rather go there than to the University of Maryland.

The Governor said today he feels the college for negroes in Baltimore should be built up gradually because "I believe negroes would prefer Morgan to College park."

The Governor's expansion plans for Morgan were revealed in the wake of a decision yesterday by the University of Maryland's board of regents to admit its first negro undergraduate "immediately."

Benton Assails Sen. McCarthy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—Sen. Benton (D-Conn) said today the Republicans have moved the State Department's "tormenter," Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), into a position of vast power over its funds and personnel. He asked the Republicans to reconsider the choice.

Accusing McCarthy of "sneak attacks" against the department, Benton said in a Senate speech that the Wisconsin Senator now can manipulate its budgets by reason of his membership on a subcommittee which handles its appropriations.

McCarthy retorted in a prepared statement that Benton "squeals and beats his breast in agony because the day of judgment is at hand for the crimson clique in the State Department."

The Wisconsin Senator, who for nearly a year has led a bitter campaign against the department as a hotbed of Communist sympathizers, added that it "may be called upon to render an accounting of its stewardship."

Slot 'Take' Reflects High Cost Of Living

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Feb. 1 (AP)—Police added this footnote today to the cost-of-living chapter.

A year and a half ago they raided Hagerstown fraternal and veterans clubhouses and confiscated 80 slot machines with a total take of $3700—or $46 for each machine.

A similar raid Jan. 16 netted 34 machines whose take, counted up today, totaled $745—or about $22 apiece.

State Prison Fire Causes $10,000 Damage

BALTIMORE, Feb. 1 (AP) — A two-alarm fire in the paint department at the Maryland Penitentiary today caused about $10,000 damage before firemen and prisoners extinguished it.

Col. E. T. Swenson, superintendent, said an oven used to bake paint on metal suddenly "flashed back with a boom." Paint fumes from 3,000 to 4,000 license plates in the oven apparently caused the flash, he said.

Burning paint dropped from the oven to cardboard and paper below and ignited them. Swenson credited fast work of prisoners at work in the department with limiting the blaze to the second floor.

Md. Officials Absolved In Princess Anne Case

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 1 (AP) —The Senate's Princess Anne investigating committee today absolved state officials of any blame for permitting construction at the college for negroes without a contract.

But the committee cautioned them not to let it happen again.

It suggested all state officers who deal with building affairs be told by the Governor "they are not to encourage, sanction or acquiesce" in a contractor's undertaking a project without written authority.

Sen. Turnbull (D-Baltimore County), originally demanded the probe of why a Cambridge contractor began work on a $270,000 mechanical arts and engineering building at the university's college for negroes without a contract.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (INS)—The Army today ordered 80,000 more men drafted in April, maintaining its high rate of induction and bringing total calls to 530,000.

The April call is the same as those for January, February and March.

State Prison Fire Causes $10,000 Damage

BALTIMORE, Feb. 1 (AP) — A two-alarm fire in the paint department at the Maryland Penitentiary today caused about $10,000 damage before firemen and prisoners extinguished it.

Col. E. T. Swenson, superintendent, said an oven used to bake paint on metal suddenly "flashed back with a boom." Paint fumes from 3,000 to 4,000 license plates in the oven apparently caused the flash, he said.

Burning paint dropped from the oven to cardboard and paper below and ignited them. Swenson credited fast work of prisoners at work in the department with limiting the blaze to the second floor.

Md. Officials Absolved In Princess Anne Case

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 1 (AP)—The Senate's Princess Anne investigating committee today absolved state officials of any blame for permitting construction at the college for negroes without a contract.

But the committee cautioned them not to let it happen again.

It suggested all state officers who deal with building affairs be told by the Governor "they are not to encourage, sanction or acquiesce" in a contractor's undertaking a project without written authority.

Sen. Turnbull (D-Baltimore County), originally demanded the probe of why a Cambridge contractor began work on a $270,000 mechanical arts and engineering building at the university's college for negroes without a contract.

Venture In Socialistic Cooperative Community Comes Before Court

NEW ORLEANS, (AP)—A venture by some 300 families in socialistic cooperative community living that attracted Russian observation before its failure came before the U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals this week.

The New LLano Colony, as it was called, was established in 1917 on some 22,000 acres of timber and farm land in Vernon Parish (county), about 50 miles north of Lake Charles, La. It owned its own schools, power and water companies, and the town of New Llano.

The colony operated as a "happy and successful community until 1935," Attorney Gerald Weatherly of Austin, Tex., representing the colony in its appeal, told the appellate court.

Amplifying in an interview, Weatherly said the colony was founded by "scolialistic enthusiasts who wanted to try a purely socialistic living. They held the thinking of the English socialists which included George Bernard Shaw.

"They incorporated under the laws of Nevada principally because that state's statutes allowed broad powers of corporate charters. Most states would not allow a corporation of that kind.

"The people came from all over the country. Some of the families were from New York, New Jersey, New Mexico and California — the bulk of them were from California.

"While the colony flourished, Russia sent a delegation to study its operations, particularly its schools."

In 1935, creditors whose claims totalled around $800 obtained judgments against the colony and forced it into receivership.

State District Judge W. H. Ponder of Many, La., authorized the sale of the land to meet the creditors' claims. The land was parcelled out and was sold for about $40,000.

The colony's resident families owned none of the land in their own name but all participated in the colony's assets and liabilities as corporation stockholders.

In 1947, the colony brought suit in the U. S. District Court for Western Louisiana against Judge Ponder and 14 persons who had bought the land in receivership, alleging conspiracy to take the property without due process of law, and also alleging that the land was worth $13,000,000. The suit sought an additional $500,000 compensation for a total of $13,500,000.

Attorneys for the appellees argued that there is no federal jurisdiction and that the statute of limitations has closed any litigation on the property sales.

The appellate court took the case under advisement.

Federal Judge Acts On Impulse

BOSTON (AP) — Federal Judge Francis J. W. Ford said afterward that it was a sudden whimsical impulse but anyway it means that there will be another sale of a New Bedford fishing vessel.

The "Cape Cod" was sold at a recent U. S. marshal's sale for $2,200. The matter came into court today purely for court confirmation of the sale.

But then there was that impulse . . .

Judge Ford suddenly looked up with a grin and said "do I hear $2,300?"

A voice in the back of the room said: "$2,300."

The answer amazed the judge and veteran court officials who knew that the case wasn't one for autioneering.

But the man in the back repeated his bid and even went up to $2,500.

The upshot is that Judge Ford revoked his confirmation of the $2,200 sale and ordered a new sale to be held at New Bedford Feb. 9.

The bidder disappeared without revealing his identity.

House In Foreign Affairs

The Senate last week interrupted its "great debate" on the President's authority to send troops to Europe to follow the lead of the House in adopting a resolution which called upon the UN to condemn Red China as an aggressor in Korea. This was one of an increasing number of occasions during recent years in which the mighty Senate has seen the so-called "lower branch" of Congress assume a position of equality in dealing with foreign affairs.

From time to time proposals are heard for having treaties ratified by majority vote of both branches, thus giving the House an equal share with the Senate in the treaty power. But this would require a constitutional amendment. There is little chance that a two-thirds vote to send it on to the states for adoption can ever be mustered in the Senate.

In the present period, however, the House does not need participation in the treaty power in order to make its influence felt in the country's external relations. Appropriations of more than $7 billion have been asked by the President to finance military and economic aid to foreign nations during the next fiscal year. The House will have equal say with the Senate in granting these appropriations, in withholding funds, or in attaching conditions to the expenditure of monies provided for particular purposes.

Through this share in the power of the purse, the House is now in position to exert an influence in the field of foreign affairs as potent as that exercised by the Senate through its share in the treaty power.

The husband who takes time to think over his wife's viewpoint before agreeing with it had better do so quickly—before she changes her mind.

Benefits For GI's And Ex-GI's

In recommending free insurance coverage of $10,000 for all armed services personnel, President Truman told Congress that "before many years, nearly all the population may be veterans or the dependents of veterans." Such a prospect would require "a profound change in the social and economic import of government programs affecting veterans." The President has estimated the cost of present veteran programs during this and the next fiscal year at more than $10 billion.

A bill of 1949 passed by the House, but not by the Senate, would have authorized service pensions of $72 a month for veterans of World War I and World War II. Add to these old veterans the men who will come out of the present crisis as new veterans and a vast segment of the nation's population would be eligible for any military pension program of the future.

Although three veterans' organizations—the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Disabled American Veterans and the Amvets—supported the free insurance bill passed by the House last week, the American Legion opposed it. Free insurance for GI's is all very well, says the Legion, but not when coverage would end automatically 90 days after discharge, as provided in the House measure.

The tricky new hats may make some women appear ten years younger. But, it should be remembered, they sooner or later must be taken off.

Security Inquiry

The internal security commission which has been established by the President has great possibilities for good work. It also has the possibility, as suggested by some legislators who were quick to criticize it, of further muddling the waters in regard to espionage, disloyalty, subversive activities and the like. But the membership of the commission is reassuring on that point.

The commission might be able to accomplish in this special field something comparable to what the Hoover Commission accomplished in the broader field of government organization. The Hoover Commission was able to do such a striking job partly because of the advantage of its position as a group outside of the government, nonpartisan in character, bent on doing a job rather than on political aims, led by a man of high personal repute. These same advantages can accrue to the commission on internal security.

There is sore need for a workmanlike, nonpartisan study of internal security. Although previous investigations and counter-investigations in many instances have been conducted in utmost sincerity of purpose, yet it has been impossible to separate them from political parties and considerations. If this commission can keep its operations on a nonpolitical basis, and can establish general confidence that it is working for the people and not for the administration, it should be able to bring much light and common sense into the whole controversy on loyalty and subversion.

Many of the stanchest citizens of our northern cities appear to be so proud of their home towns that they head south each winter.

Stopgap Program

Statements of officials have indicated some awareness in Washington of the fact that ceilings on prices and wages are only a stopgap in the effort to control inflation. They are stopgap measures whether or not the government intends that they be. The freeze contained patent inequities. The most glaring is that it penalizes business people who have complied with the earlier administration appeal not to raise prices, while favoring those who raised prices anyway, and penalizes those workers who refrained from forcing quick pay increases, while favoring those who did so.

The inequities will have to be adjusted. But the process will never be finished because one adjustment will create the need for another. The ceilings which are eventually worked out will retard inflation for a time, but will not stop it permanently.

Success in combating inflation depends on the working out of more permanent measures during the respite won with price and wage ceilings. Putting the government on a sound financial basis and reducing the over-all cost of government so that the level of taxation can be brought back below the safety point are high on the list of measures required for a permanent buttress against inflation. Until the supply of goods and services can be brought into balance with market demand, that demand has to be held in check with limitations on credit and the volume of money.

The task of holding back inflation remains for the administration, for the Congress and for the people. The nation's economic problems have not been solved by the issuance of a freeze order on prices and wages.

Nothing is certain but death and taxes, and even persons believed dead have sometimes been revived.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Diabetes Can Be Kept Under Control

COMING UP on the elevator recently a man said: "My wife has 250 blood sugar. She feels all right but has been put on a diet. Doctor, how long must she be on it?" The lady in question has diabetes and must be on a diet the rest of her life. This is necessary because, even though the condition can be controlled, it is not curable.

Diabetes does not heal like a broken bone nor does it disappear like a cold or an attack of chickenpox. It does not respond to penicillin because it is not an infection or related in any way to germs. Surgery is not needed because tumors are not responsible. Diabetes stems from a poorly functioning pancreas which fails to manufacture a sufficient quantity of the hormone, insulin, a secretion essential for the proper metabolism of sugars. When lacking, sugars are not stored or used by the body and sooner or later accumulate in the blood and spill over into the urine.

We have tests to measure the blood sugar level. The normal individual has between 80 and 120 milligrams per 100 cubic centimeters of blood. The tests are done in the morning before breakfast because after eating the amount rises within half an hour and may go up to 150 milligrams or more. It returns to normal levels at the end of an hour. But the blood sugar of the diabetic remains high for several hours after eating. Furthermore, the sugar is not used and the excess is eliminated through the urine. Some diabetics may have blood levels of 1,000 milligrams or more. The woman with 250 has a a reading above average, but not excessive.

Some cases are treated successfully with diet; others require insulin also. Most physicians try the dietary regimen first and if it fails to control the sugar level, they prescribe insulin. The dose varies with the individual because the amount necessary to make up the deficit differs from one to another.

Diabetes is treacherous because most victims feel so well they are lulled into a sense of false security. The blood sugar may be 250 or more without affecting appetite, weight, or the sense of well being; but during tht time that the disease is out of control changes inside the body are taking place. It may be hardening of the arteries, which in turn affects the circulation to the eyes, heart, and lower extremities. Those who fail to accept treatment sometimes suffer from ulcers or gangere of the feet; others encounter cataract or carbuncles and boils. Diabetic retinitis also is likely to appear in those who neglect themselves by failing to adhere to the diet or forget to take insulin regularly. Neuritis of the legs occurs from time to time, with pains shooting down the extremities; others complain of numbness and tingling. Vitamin B1 usually is required for relief, in addition to the usual diabetic treatment.

Acidosis and coma are the most serious complications and in the past led the causes of death from diabetes. When they begin the individual develops dull headache and feels weak and weary. As acidosis increases, shortness of breath, abdominal pain, nausea, and vomiting ensue. Unless given emergency care, restlessness, irritability, listlessness, and confusion occur, followed by coma and death. This is a terrible price to pay for failing to adhere to a few simple instructions. After all, it is not difficult to keep diabetes under control nor does the condition present an unusual handicap to the patient.

NERVOUS FATIGUE

M. T. writes: What are the symptoms of nervous exhaustion?

REPLY

Jitteriness, inability to concentrate, irritability, insomnia, fatigue, headache, and palpitaton of the heart. These symptoms are not specific, however, for this condition, because nervous exhaustion is a rather indefiinte disturbance. In fact, it is so vague a term that many physicians never write it without quotation marks.

SLEEP REQUIREMENTS

L. C. writes: Does a person who is inactive require less sleep than one who is physically active?

REPLY

Yes, but there are many exceptions. An inactive individual, for example, may be that way because he lacks vitality and is tired at the end of the day even though nothing has been accomplished. Those who are forced to remain in bed for one reason or another may complain that they cannot sleep at night but when the catnaps of the day are totaled they amount to a goodly sum.

LIVER DISORDERS

L. J. writes: Is cirrhosis another name for enlarged liver?

REPLY

No. Cirrhosis refers to hardening of the liver caused by infiltration of scar tissue. When the organ is affected in this manner it enlarges initially but later contracts so that it is smaller than normal.

Yugoslav U. N. Delegate Learns How Democracy Works; European Allies Don't Draft 18-Year-Old Men, But Chinese And Russian Armies Do

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—In the delegates lounge of the United Nations, U. S. Ambassador Warren Austin stood listening to a group of earnest people. They talked at some length. Austin listened carefully, as patient, as solid as the Vermont hills from which he comes.

At the other end of the delegates lounge Yugoslav Delegate Ales Bebler, stanch marxist, though friendly to the U. S. A., sat talking to Miss Betty Jacobs, representative of the United Nations childrens fund. Intrigued at Ambassador Austin's lengthy conversation, Ambassador Bebler finally asked Miss Jacobs:

"What are those people doing, bothering Mr. Austin?"

"They are lobbying," Miss Jacobs replied. Then, noting the Yugoslav's puzzled expression, she continued: "That's an American system whereby the people can make their views known to the government. That group talking to Mr. Austin is a peace organization which has some ideas on China and Korea."

"Do you mean to say that just anyone can come in here and talk to your top delegate?" asked Ambassador Bebler.

"Yes, reputable citizens can always see the representatives of their government," Miss Jacobs explained. "That's part of the American system."

Bebler seemed greatly impressed. In order to understand the American system more fully, he is now reading Dorothy Detzer's book, "Appointment On The Hill," in which she describes her experiences in lobbying for better international relations.

Drafting 18-Year-Olds

Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense in charge of manpower, was being grilled by the House Armed Services Committee on the question of drafting 18-year-olds.

Handsome Congressman Mendel Rivers of South Carolina picked up a sheet of paper and began firing questions.

"Why is it that France does not draft men until they are 19?" he asked.

"And Belgium," he continued, "Does not draft until men are twenty, while Italy does not draft until men are 21?"

"That is correct, Congressman," replied Mrs. Rosenberg, "but you fail to state that you are reading from information which we supplied you, and you also neglected to read the rest of the memo—namely that Russia drafts at the age of 18, while China drafts at the age of 16.

"And what I am interested in," concluded the assistant secretary of defense, "is not what our friends do, but our potential enemies. We have established a minimum line of defense and we must get the men to meet it."

"You tell 'em, Anna," encouraged Chairman Vinson of Georgia in a very audible whisper. Mrs. Rosenberg later paid tribute to Congressman Rivers, says he has been one of the most helpful members of the Armed Services Committee.

Note—While Belgium drafts at 20 for only one year, and Italy at 21 for a year and a quarter, England drafts at 18 for two years, China at 16 for an indefinite period, and Russia at 18 for three years. However, if a Russian boy has not finished his secondary education at 18, he is not drafted until he is 19. The Soviet places great emphasis on education.

Citizen's Suggestion Box

Millions of Americans, though dreading war, are eager and anxious to help their government prepare for that eventuality, according to the voluminous mass of mail received by this columnist. There is a great unharnessed reservoir of patriotic goodwill and activity in this country which can be put to work, and here is a citizen's suggestion box conducted by the Washington Merry-Go-Round for better preparedness and for winning the cold war:

Warren A. Peterson, Duluth, Minn.—Have the Post Office Department print a stamp bearing a message of hope, to be used on U. S. letters sent abroad. Many of these letters would eventually get behind the Iron Curtain.

D. H. Stein, Rochester, N. Y.—Let the Defense Department prepare plans to utilize civilians who are now working only 40 hours per week. The response of the American people would be terrific. Community-wide cooperation not only would put across important projects, but replace the present state of jitters with a feeling of pride and accomplishment, and a partnership with the men in uniform whose hours are not limited to 40 a week.

Flora Ross, Chicago, Ill.—Sears, Roebuck and Montgomery Ward catalogs dropped behind the Iron Curtain would constitute wonderful propaganda. Russian parents are no different from us. They don't want war either.

David A. Ritchie, Ulysses, Pa.—Let justices of the peace, aldermen, and notaries public volunteer their services without cost in the preparation of papers relating to violation of price control. This would save time and expense in preventing black marketeering.

Mrs. Daniel T. Cox, Prospect, Ky.—A group in Louisville, as well as others throughout the nation, have started a movement to get everyone to pause at 12 noon daily for a minute of silent prayer for Peace, Guidance, and the spread of Christianity. . . . There is just as much truth in the power of prayer as there is in the power of gravity or electricity, neither of which you can see or touch.

Carl Landman, Palo Alto, Calif.—Create a huge organization to combat Russian propaganda, the staff to be recruited from refugees of Soviet oppression.

M. L. Donohoe, Charleston, W. Va.—Fourteen million hunting licenses were issued last year. The holders of these licenses can shoot with considerable accuracy. They can be organized for home defense.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Jardine, Jackson Heights, N. Y.—Persuade the nation's No. 1 pianist to make a record to be sold for the benefit of the U. S. A. Regardless of the music critics, we are sure that a record by H. S. T. at the keyboard would outsell "The Thing."

Restrictions May Limit Effective Price Control

By MARK SULLIVAN

IN A RUSH of hurrying developments during several days past, the government has set ceilings over many prices and is setting them on more. To fix the prices and enforce them it has set in motion several new agencies, among them a kind of overall one, the Economic Stabilization Agency administered by Mr. Eric Johnston. (Associated with Mr. Johnston is Mr. Michael Di Salle, director of price stabilization.).

All this is portentous. It means as a matter of course that there will be ceilings over prices of a large number of commodities. Further than that, it has created an impression that the rising cost of living is to be checked and inflation also. This in fact is generally assumed to be the official purpose and expectation of the Administration. Whether it is likely to be achieved is a subject of much discussion. Some light may be found by inquiry beneath the superficial aspect of crowded and hurrying developments.

The basis and authority for all that has so far been done is a statute passed by Congress last September, the Defense Production Act of 1950. The act is very long, intricate and technical. Two sentences of its mass of verbiage throw rather deeper light on it than all the rest together. They are sentences of limitation. Stating what Administrator Johnston and the agencies under him cannot do, they raise a question about how much he can do at all, certainly a question whether he can stop rising cost of living and inflation. The two sentences compose most of subsection 402 (D) (3) of the act:

Brannan Displaces Johnston

"No ceiling shall be established . . . for any agricultural commodity below the highest of the following prices: 1—the Parity price for such commodity, as determined by the Secretary of Agriculture . . . II—The highest price received by producers during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950 . . . as determined by the Secretary of Agriculture."

This means that as to putting ceilings on farm crops, Administrator Eric Johnston of the Economic Stabilization Agency is in effect displaced by Secretary Brannan of the Department of Agriculture. Mr. Johnston can put no ceiling on a farm crop that is below the Parity price "determined by the Secretary of Agriculture;" or alternately the other standard likewise determined by the Secretary of Agriculture, the highest market price during May 24—June 24, 1950. While it is true that Mr. Johnston can put a ceiling on a farm crop that is above the Parity price, he is here again subordinated to the Secretary of Agriculture, for it is the Secretary who determines the Parity price.

The limitation on Stabilization Administrator Johnston is severe. He can at will put ceilings on prices in nearly all the country's industries but no on prices in agriculture. He can at will put ceilings on automobiles and other manufactured products, through a wide range of heavy goods and household appliances, practically the whole field of manufactured goods; but he cannot at will put ceilings on wheat and other grains or on eggs or poultry. Before he can put ceilings on these and other farm products, the ceiling price must be below standards "determined by the Secretary of Agriculture."

An Important Exception

This is a momentous condition. The farm crops which are kept out of the Stabilization Administrator's discretion and authority are many and important, in the aggregate they compose a material part of the whole economy of the country. It is questionable whether the immense and complex mechanism of ceilings and regulations and controls now under way can function successfully with a material part of the country's economy not under its authority. This question has been raised in Congress and there have been proposals that the section of the Defense Production Act containing the immunity for agriculture be repealed, a bill to this effect has been introduced by Rep. Javits of New York.

At such proposals, however, members of Congress from farming districts are on guard. From questions they have asked Stabilization Administrator Johnston at a Congressional hearing Mr. Johnston could reasonably infer that he was being warned to lay off agriculture.

But the question remains, can this immense and complex mechanism of ceilings and controls function successfully as now restricted? And the broader question, can the rising cost of living and inflation be checked? Throughout the course of the price rise and inflation during several years a judgment common among economists and other authorities has been that a large factor in the price rise and inflation has been price support of farm crops as administered by the Department of Agriculture.

Collective Security Idea Vindicated By UN Action

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1—Vindication for the principle of collective security has been slow in coming through at the United Nations meetings but the importance of the fact that it has finally come cannot be underestimated.

The American people naturally have been impatient about the months of talk and procrastination. It's the same kind of irritation which occasionally crops up when Congress dawdles along. But there is need for even more patience and sympathetic understanding where the United Nations is concerned. For here is a body that isn't really a world parliament or a superstate, and yet at times it has the seeming obligation to act as such under the compulsion of world-wide public opinion.

When it is considered that the debates in the U. N. are not printed widely and that slow methods of communicating messages and their import to the peoples of each country are still in use in some instances, the fact that an overwhelming majority can be obtained at all for a condemnation of aggression is remarkable.

Victory For Democracy

The vote in the U. N. on the aggression resolution is in a proper sense a victory for the diplomacy of the United States and particularly for the ambassadors and ministers abroad who have been laboring so zealously in the past few weeks to explain to the different foreign offices of the world the true meaning of the American viewpoint in world affairs today. The Department of State can proudly chalk up a point gained, and the American people inevitably will increase their confidence in that department if it continues to hew to the straight line of moral principle.

For it was a moral principle of great significance which was at stake in the resolution of the General Assembly condemning Red China as an aggressor. To some observers this may seem to be merely a calling of names. But it isn't the characterization which counts but the fact that a world tribunal did pronounce its judgment so plainly after the fullest and frankest debate, such as is customary in democratic parliaments.

There is ground for satisfaction, too, that all those European countries which were hesitating a few weeks ago have now seen the wisdom of supporting a moral principle as the paramount duty of an assembly which represents free nations. By branding Red China as an aggressor, the same assembly can apply not merely its potential armed strength but also its moral force, which can penetrate the public opinion of all nations and forge a spirit of unity behind international policy.

It will be recalled that, in the 1920's, the idea of outlawing war and condemning aggression was the basic truth which the Kellogg-Briand treaties proclaimed. But, unhappily, there was then no accompanying definition of what the signatories were to do to protect the victims of aggression.

Today the implications of the U. N. resolution stand out clearly. A faction or regime or government which is branded the aggressor must desist from that course or suffer the consequences. Nor is physical punishment by force of arms the only thing that can follow. Moral condemnation means that Red China has disqualified herself as a government capable of discharging international obligations.

Can Apply Pressure

This disqualification for membership in the family of nations can mean withholding of diplomatic recognition, too, and it could mean economic blockade and further embargoes. It implies pressure of all kinds, but there is no reason to be too hasty about selecting the methods, especially when the first job is to defeat Red China's troops on the military front and compel their withdrawal from Korea, where the aggression occurred.

To many casual observers the U. N. resolution and the fighting in Korea may seem purposeless, but the truth is that, as events unfold, it will be found that the firm action of the U. N., led as it was by a resolute American delegation, will have contributed a great deal toward prevention of large-scale war. And speaking of patience and understanding, the individual performance of Ambassador Warren Austin has been outstanding. His experience in the U. S. Senate, where for years he represented the state of Vermont, has taught him restraint as well as calmness under the fire of debates and under the provocation of obstructive filibusters. He has proved just the man to represent America in the U. N.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK (INS) — WE'RE NOT as close to the sink hole as some of my heavier-domed contemporaries would lead you to believe. The Air Force has commissioned my friend Molly Thayer as a lieutenant colonel (the elevation broke Custer's record for quick promotion) and my friend Mr. John, the ma-a-a-ad hatter, is planning to open a second front in Western Europe.

Col. Thayer's duties were not adequately outlined in the news bulletins from Washington. An associate, who was scooped many times by Molly in the colonel's days as a Washington society chit-chatter, has attempted to persuade me to believe that Molly will be placed in charge of the Air Force's lighter-than-air equipment.

This I have rejected as part of the smear campaign now being directed at cherished U. S. military figures. Col. Thayer, an out-standing figure, should be quite useful in the Air Force. As a roving war — and foreign-correspondent she learned as much about the Balkans as any member of any armed forces intelligence service, for Molly was never one to clam up and be humble in the presence of a dictator or any of his thugs.

Knows her way around Washington, too, where her advanced headquarters will be set up. In time of war or near-war, when the services are battling one another for sufficient appropriations and materiel from the corporate bin, an intrepid warrior like Molly can do more good in the Mayflower lounge than her superiors might be doing at the Pentagon or on Capitol Hill.

It's comforting to have another Molly in the armed forces in another time that is trying men's souls. For all we know she may be remembered with Molly Pitcher, though the latter never even made pfc.

Mr. John's invasion of Europe will be through Paris, after which, according to the hat designer's latest communique from "my white, gold and crystal salon," he will attack Chartres, Orleans, Barcelona, Majorca, Rapallo, San Remo, Capri, Venice and Lake Como. Mr. John vents hats for some of the most famous women known to man.

Mr. John may have a more stimulating effect on France than did Eisenhower, and is almost certain to attract more attention. Some years ago somebody told Mr. John he looked a bit like Napoleon, on foggy days. Mr. John promptly changed his coiffure to enhance the resemblance. Now he sports Napoleonic bangs and is really quite something to behold — especially at parties, at which he appears with an enormous white parrot, fairly well house-broken, resting on his shoulder. They share hors d'oeuvres and small talk.

But this announcement may be only subterfuge. I have learned from an usually peachable source that Mr. John may be spirited behind the iron curtain as a U. S. secret weapon. One look at his hats and the commissars will take to their heels, knowing full well that they have been invaded by Martians, and all the slave-babes will drop their tools and hoes and queue up to try them on.

Mr. John recently set tongues wagging in bonnet circles by supplying a hat for Eleanor Roosevelt as a six-year-old girl. This was a feat which in the hat trade surpassed in magnitude such other historial events as MacArthur's landing at Inchon and Babe Ruth's 60 home runs in 1927.

Seems that Artist Marcel Vertes was doing a portrait of Mrs. R. as she looked at six. Mr. John supplied the appropriate skimmer, "an attic hat, with a large bloused crown, old-fashioned roses and several bunches of old memories, very pretty, very period."

Blowing kisses of delight at the completion of that most difficult portion of the painting, getting the right color combinations for the several bunches of old memories, Vertes went to work painting Mr. John as a six-month-old, "hatless, clothesless, but deep and darling in a white bearskin rug."

House In Foreign Affairs

The Senate last week interrupted its "great debate" on the President's authority to send troops to Europe to follow the lead of the House in adopting a resolution which called upon the UN to condemn Red China as an aggressor in Korea. This was one of an increasing number of occasions during recent years in which the mighty Senate has seen the so-called "lower branch" of Congress assume a position of equality in dealing with foreign affairs.

From time to time proposals are heard for having treaties ratified by majority vote of both branches, thus giving the House an equal share with the Senate in the treaty power. Diabetes Can Be Kept Under Control

COMING UP on the elevator recently a man said: "My wife has 250 blood sugar. She feels all right but has been put on a diet. Doctor, how long must she be on it?" The lady in question has diabetes and must be on a diet the rest of her life. This is necessary because, even though the condition can be controlled, it is not curable.

Diabetes does not heal like a broken bone nor does it disappear like a cold or an attack of chickenpox. It does not respond to penicillin because it is not an infection or related in any way to germs. Surgery is not needed because tumors are not responsible. Diabetes stems from a poorly functioning pancreas which fails to manufacture a sufficient quantity of the hormone, insulin, a secretion essential for the proper metabolism of sugars. When lacking, sugars are not stored or used by the body and sooner or later accumulate in the blood and spill over into the urine.

We have tests to measure the blood sugar level. The normal individual has between 80 and 120 milligrams per 100 cubic centimeters of blood. The tests are done in the morning before breakfast because after eating the amount rises within half an hour and may go up to 150 milligrams or more. It returns to normal levels at the end of an hour. But the blood sugar of the diabetic remains high for several hours after eating. Furthermore, the sugar is not used and the excess is eliminated through the urine. Some diabetics may have blood levels of 1,000 milligrams or more. The woman with 250 has a a reading above average, but not excessive.

Some cases are treated successfully with diet; others require insulin also. Most physicians try the dietary regimen first and if it fails to control the sugar level, they prescribe insulin. The dose varies with the individual because the amount necessary to make up the deficit differs from one to another.

Diabetes is treacherous because most victims feel so well they are lulled into a sense of false security. The blood sugar may be 250 or more without affecting appetite, weight, or the sense of well being; but during tht time that the disease is out of control changes inside the body are taking place. It may be hardening of the arteries, which in turn affects the circulation to the eyes, heart, and lower extremities. Those who fail to accept treatment sometimes suffer from ulcers or gangere of the feet; others encounter cataract or carbuncles and boils. Diabetic retinitis also is likely to appear in those who neglect themselves by failing to adhere to the diet or forget to take insulin regularly. Neuritis of the legs occurs from time to time, with pains shooting down the extremities; others complain of numbness and tingling. Vitamin B1 usually is required for relief, in addition to the usual diabetic treatment.

Acidosis and coma are the most serious complications and in the past led the causes of death from diabetes. When they begin the individual develops dull headache and feels weak and weary. As acidosis increases, shortness of breath, abdominal pain, nausea, and vomiting ensue. Unless given emergency care, restlessness, irritability, listlessness, and confusion occur, followed by coma and death. This is a terrible price to pay for failing to adhere to a few simple instructions. After all, it is not dfficult to keep diabetes under control nor does the condition present an unusual handicap to the patient.

NERVOUS FATIGUE

M. T. writes: What are the symptoms of nervous exhaustion?

REPLY

Jitteriness, inability to concentrate, irritability, insomnia, fatigue, headache, and palpitaton of the heart. These symptoms are not specific, however, for this condition, because nervous exhaustion is a rather indefiinte disturbance. In fact, it is so vague a term that many physicians never write it without quotation marks.

SLEEP REQUIREMENTS

L. C. writes: Does a person who is inactive require less sleep than one who is physically active?

REPLY

Yes, but there are many exceptions. An inactive individual, for example, may be that way because he lacks vitality and is tired at the end of the day even though nothing has been accomplished. Those who are forced to remain in bed for one reason or another may complain that they cannot sleep at night but when the catnaps of the day are totaled they amount to a goodly sum.

LIVER DISORDERS

L. J. writes: Is cirrhosis another name for enlarged liver?

REPLY

No. Cirrhosis refers to hardening of the liver caused by infiltration of scar tissue. When the organ is affected in this manner it enlarges initially but later contracts so that it is smaller than normal.

Yugoslav U. N. Delegate Learns How Democracy Works; European Allies Don't Draft 18-Year-Old Men, But Chinese And Russian Armies Do

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—In the delegates lounge of the United Nations, U. S. Ambassador Warren Austin stood listening to a group of earnest people. They talked at some length. Austin listened carefully, as patient, as solid as the Vermont hills from which he comes.

At the other end of the delegates lounge Yugoslav Delegate Ales Bebler, stanch marxist, though friendly to the U. S. A., sat talking to Miss Betty Jacobs, representative of the United Nations childrens fund. Intrigued at Ambassador Austin's lengthy conversation, Ambassador Bebler finally asked Miss Jacobs:

"What are those people doing, bothering Mr. Austin?"

"They are lobbying," Miss Jacobs replied. Then, noting the Yugoslav's puzzled expression, she continued: "That's an American system whereby the people can make their views known to the government. That group talking to Mr. Austin is a peace organization which has some ideas on China and Korea."

"Do you mean to say that just anyone can come in here and talk to your top delegate?" asked Ambassador Bebler.

"Yes, reputable citizens can always see the representatives of their government," Miss Jacobs explained. "That's part of the American system."

Bebler seemed greatly impressed. In order to understand the American system more fully, he is now reading Dorothy Detzer's book, "Appointment On The Hill," in which she describes her experiences in lobbying for better international relations.

Drafting 18-Year-Olds

Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense in charge of manpower, was being grilled by the House Armed Services Committee on the question of drafting 18-year-olds.

Handsome Congressman Mendel Rivers of South Carolina picked up a sheet of paper and began firing questions.

"Why is it that France does not draft men until they are 19?" he asked.

"And Belgium," he continued, "Does not draft until men are twenty, while Italy does not draft until men are 21?"

"That is correct, Congressman," replied Mrs. Rosenberg, "but you fail to state that you are reading from information which we supplied you, and you also neglected to read the rest of the memo—namely that Russia drafts at the age of 18, while China drafts at the age of 16.

"And what I am interested in," concluded the assistant secretary of defense, "is not what our friends do, but our potential enemies. We have established a minimum line of defense and we must get the men to meet it."

"You tell 'em, Anna," encouraged Chairman Vinson of Georgia in a very audible whisper. Mrs. Rosenberg later paid tribute to Congressman Rivers, says he has been one of the most helpful members of the Armed Services Committee.

Note—While Belgium drafts at 20 for only one year, and Italy at 21 for a year and a quarter, England drafts at 18 for two years, China at 16 for an indefinite period, and Russia at 18 for three years. However, if a Russian boy has not finished his secondary education at 18, he is not drafted until he is 19. The Soviet places great emphasis on education.

Citizen's Suggestion Box

Millions of Americans, though dreading war, are eager and anxious to help their government prepare for that eventuality, according to the voluminous mass of mail received by this columnist. There is a great unharnessed reservoir of patriotic goodwill and activity in this country which can be put to work, and here is a citizen's suggestion box conducted by the Washington Merry-Go-Round for better preparedness and for winning the cold war:

Warren A. Peterson, Duluth, Minn.—Have the Post Office Department print a stamp bearing a message of hope, to be used on U. S. letters sent abroad. Many of these letters would eventually get behind the Iron Curtain.

D. H. Stein, Rochester, N. Y.—Let the Defense Department prepare plans to utilize civilians who are now working only 40 hours per week. The response of the American people would be terrific. Community-wide cooperation not only would put across important projects, but replace the present state of jitters with a feeling of pride and accomplishment, and a partnership with the men in uniform whose hours are not limited to 40 a week.

Flora Ross, Chicago, Ill.—Sears, Roebuck and Montgomery Ward catalogs dropped behind the Iron Curtain would constitute wonderful propaganda. Russian parents are no different from us. They don't want war either.

David A. Ritchie, Ulysses, Pa.—Let justices of the peace, aldermen, and notaries public volunteer their services without cost in the preparation of papers relating to violation of price control. This would save time and expense in preventing black marketeering.

Mrs. Daniel T. Cox, Prospect, Ky.—A group in Louisville, as well as others throughout the nation, have started a movement to get everyone to pause at 12 noon daily for a minute of silent prayer for Peace, Guidance, and the spread of Christianity. . . . There is just as much truth in the power of prayer as there is in the power of gravity or electricity, neither of which you can see or touch.

Carl Landman, Palo Alto, Calif.—Create a huge organization to combat Russian propaganda, the staff to be recruited from refugees of Soviet oppression.

M. L. Donohoe, Charleston, W. Va.—Fourteen million hunting licenses were issued last year. The holders of these licenses can shoot with considerable accuracy. They can be organized for home defense.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Jardine, Jackson Heights, N. Y.—Persuade the nation's No. 1 pianist to make a record to be sold for the benefit of the U. S. A. Regardless of the music critics, we are sure that a record by H. S. T. at the keyboard would outsell "The Thing."

Restrictions May Limit Effective Price Control

By MARK SULLIVAN

IN A RUSH of hurrying developments during several days past, the government has set ceilings over many prices and is setting them on more. To fix the prices and enforce them it has set in motion several new agencies, among them a kind of overall one, the Economic Stabilization Agency administered by Mr. Eric Johnston. (Associated with Mr. Johnston is Mr. Michael Di Salle, director of price stabilization.).

All this is portentous. It means as a matter of course that there will be ceilings over prices of a large number of commodities. Further than that, it has created an impression that the rising cost of living is to be checked and inflation also. This in fact is generally assumed to be the official purpose and expectation of the Administration. Whether it is likely to be achieved is a subject of much discussion. Some light may be found by inquiry beneath the superficial aspect of crowded and hurrying developments.

The basis and authority for all that has so far been done is a statute passed by Congress last September, the Defense Production Act of 1950. The act is very long, intricate and technical. Two sentences of its mass of verbiage throw rather deeper light on it than all the rest together. They are sentences of limitation. Stating what Administrator Johnston and the agencies under him cannot do, they raise a question about how much he can do at all, certainly a question whether he can stop rising cost of living and inflation. The two sentences compose most of subsection 402 (D) (3) of the act:

Brannan Displaces Johnston

"No ceiling shall be established . . . for any agricultural commodity below the highest of the following prices: 1—the Parity price for such commodity, as determined by the Secretary of Agriculture . . . II—The highest price received by producers during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950 . . . as determined by the Secretary of Agriculture."

This means that as to putting ceilings on farm crops, Administrator Eric Johnston of the Economic Stabilization Agency is in effect displaced by Secretary Brannan of the Department of Agriculture. Mr. Johnston can put no ceiling on a farm crop that is below the Parity price "determined by the Secretary of Agriculture;" or alternately the other standard likewise determined by the Secretary of Agriculture, the highest market price during May 24 — June 24, 1950. While it is true that Mr. Johnston can put a ceiling on a farm crop that is above the Parity price, he is here again subordinated to the Secretary of Agriculture, for it is the Secretary who determines the Parity price.

The limitation on Stabilization Administrator Johnston is severe. He can at will put ceilings on prices in nearly all the country's industries but no on prices in agriculture. He can at will put ceilings on automobiles and other manufactured products, through a wide range of heavy goods and household appliances, practically the whole field of manufactured goods; but he cannot at will put ceilings on wheat and other grains or on eggs or poultry. Before he can put ceilings on these and other farm products, the ceiling price must be below standards "determined by the Secretary of Agriculture."

An Important Exception

This is a momentous condition. The farm crops which are kept out of the Stabilization Administrator's discretion and authority are many and important, in the aggregate they compose a material part of the whole economy of the country. It is questionable whether the immense and complex mechanism of ceilings and regulations and controls now under way can function successfully with a material part of the country's economy not under its authority. This question has been raised in Congress and there have been proposals that the section of the Defense Production Act containing the immunity for agriculture be repealed, a bill to this effect has been introduced by Rep. Javits of New York.

At such proposals, however, members of Congress from farming districts are on guard. From questions they have asked Stabilization Administrator Johnston at a Congressional hearing Mr. Johnston could reasonably infer that he was being warned to lay off agriculture.

But the question remains, can this immense and complex mechanism of ceilings and controls function successfully as now restricted? And the broader question, can the rising cost of living and inflation be checked? Throughout the course of the price rise and inflation during several years a judgment common among economists and other authorities has been that a large factor in the price rise and inflation has been price support of farm crops as administered by the Department of Agriculture.

Collective Security Idea Vindicated By UN Action

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1—Vindication for the principle of collective security has been slow in coming through at the United Nations meetings but the importance of the fact that it has finally come cannot be underestimated.

The American people naturally have been impatient about the months of talk and procrastination. It's the same kind of irritation which occasionally crops up when Congress dawdles along. But there is need for even more patience and sympathetic understanding where the United Nations is concerned. For here is a body that isn't really a world parliament or a superstate, and yet at times it has the seeming obligation to act as such under the compulsion of world-wide public opinion.

When it is considered that the debates in the U. N. are not printed widely and that slow methods of communicating messages and their import to the peoples of each country are still in use in some instances, the fact that an overwhelming majority can be obtained at all for a condemnation of aggression is remarkable.

Victory For Democracy

The vote in the U. N. on the aggression resolution is in a proper sense a victory for the diplomacy of the United States and particularly for the ambassadors and ministers abroad who have been laboring so zealously in the past few weeks to explain to the different foreign offices of the world the true meaning of the American viewpoint in world affairs today. The Department of State can proudly chalk up a point gained, and the American people inevitably will increase their confidence in that department if it continues to hew to the straight line of moral principle.

For it was a moral principle of great significance which was at stake in the resolution of the General Assembly condemning Red China as an aggressor. To some observers this may seem to be merely a calling of names. But it isn't the characterization which counts but the fact that a world tribunal did pronounce its judgment so plainly after the fullest and frankest debate, such as is customary in democratic parliaments.

There is ground for satisfaction, too, that all those European countries which were hesitating a few weeks ago have now seen the wisdom of supporting a moral principle as the paramount duty of an assembly which represents free nations. By branding Red China as an aggressor, the same assembly can apply not merely its potential armed strength but also its moral force, which can penetrate the public opinion of all nations and forge a spirit of unity behind international policy.

It will be recalled that, in the 1920's, the idea of outlawing war and condemning aggression was the basic truth which the Kellogg-Briand treaties proclaimed. But, unhappily, there was then no accompanying definition of what the signatories were to do to protect the victims of aggression.

Today the implications of the U. N. resolution stand out clearly. A faction or regime or government which is branded the aggressor must desist from that course or suffer the consequences. Nor is physical punishment by force of arms the only thing that can follow. Moral condemnation means that Red China has disqualified herself as a government capable of discharging international obligations.

Can Apply Pressure

This disqualification for membership in the family of nations can mean withholding of diplomatic recognition, too, and it could mean economic blockade and further embargoes. It implies pressure of all kinds, but there is no reason to be too hasty about selecting the methods, especially when the first job is to defeat Red China's troops on the military front and compel their withdrawal from Korea, where the aggression occurred.

To many casual observers the U. N. resolution and the fighting in Korea may seem purposeless, but the truth is that, as events unfold, it will be found that the firm action of the U. N., led as it was by a resolute American delegation, will have contributed a great deal toward prevention of large-scale war. And speaking of patience and understanding, the individual performance of Ambassador Warren Austin has been outstanding. His experience in the U. S. Senate, where for years he represented the state of Vermont, has taught him restraint as well as calmness under the fire of debates and under the provocation of obstructive filibusters. He has proved just the man to represent America in the U. N.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK (INS) —

WE'RE NOT as close to the sink hole as some of my heavier-domed contemporaries would lead you to believe. The Air Force has commissioned my friend Molly Thayer as a lieutenant colonel (the elevation broke Custer's record for quick promotion) and my friend Mr. John, the ma-a-a-ad hatter, is planning to open a second front in Western Europe.

Col. Thayer's duties were not adequately outlined in the news bulletins from Washington. An associate, who was scooped many times by Molly in the colonel's days as a Washington society chit-chatter, has attempted to persuade me to believe that Molly will be placed in charge of the Air Force's lighter-than-air equipment.

This I have rejected as part of the smear campaign now being directed at cherished U. S. military figures. Col. Thayer, an out-standing figure, should be quite useful in the Air Force. As a roving war — and foreign-correspondent she learned as much about the Balkans as any member of any armed forces intelligence service, for Molly was never one to clam up and be humble in the presence of a dictator or any of his thugs.

Knows her way around Washington, too, where her advanced headquarters will be set up. In time of war or near-war, when the services are battling one another for sufficient appropriations and materiel from the corporate bin, an intrepid warrior like Molly can do more good in the Mayflower lounge than her superiors might be doing at the Pentagon or on Capitol Hill.

It's comforting to have another Molly in the armed forces in another time that is trying men's souls. For all we know she may be remembered with Molly Pitcher, though the latter never even made pfc.

Mr. John's invasion of Europe will be through Paris, after which, according to the hat designer's latest communique from "my white, gold and crystal salon," he will attack Chartres, Orleans, Barcelona, Majorca, Rapallo, San Remo, Capri, Venice and Lake Como. Mr. John vents hats for some of the most famous women known to man.

Mr. John may have a more stimulating effect on France than did Eisenhower, and is almost certain to attract more attention. Some years ago somebody told Mr. John he looked a bit like Napoleon, on foggy days. Mr. John promptly changed his coiffure to enhance the resemblance. Now he sports Napoleonic bangs and is really quite something to behold — especially at parties, at which he appears with an enormous white parrot, fairly well house-broken, resting on his shoulder. They share hors d'oeuvres and small talk.

But this announcement may be only subterfuge. I have learned from an usually peachable source that Mr. John may be spirited behind the iron curtain as a U. S. secret weapon. One look at his hats and the commissars will take to their heels, knowing full well that they have been invaded by Martians, and all the slave-babes will drop their tools and hoes and queue up to try them on.

Mr. John recently set tongues wagging in bonnet circles by supplying a hat for Eleanor Roosevelt as a six-year-old girl. This was a feat which in the hat trade surpassed in magnitude such other historial events as MacArthur's landing at Inchon and Babe Ruth's 60 home runs in 1927.

Seems that Artist Marcel Vertes was doing a portrait of Mrs. R. as she looked at six. Mr. John supplied the appropriate skimmer, "an attic hat, with a large bloused crown, old-fashioned roses and several bunches of old memories, very pretty, very period."

Blowing kisses of delight at the completion of that most difficult portion of the painting, getting the right color combinations for the several bunches of old memories, Vertes went to work painting Mr. John as a six-month-old, "hatless, clothesless, but deep and darling in a white bearskin rug."

Las Vegas Citizens Tell What Life Is Like Living In Shadow Of Atom Tests

By CLINT MOSHER

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — (INS) — At 5:46 o'clock last Sunday morning Bob Alexander's wife shook him awake in their bungalow on South Second Street and said, "You better get up. I saw a bright light. I think someone's turning in the driveway."

The Alexanders have a reputation for dispensing hospitality at any hour in the twenty-four, and so Mrs. Alexander made a dive for the kitchen to get the coffee pot started and Bob dashed into the bathroom to scrape the Saturday night whiskers from his face.

Mrs. Bob hoped to have the coffee under way and Bob at least one side of his face presentable before the knock came at the door, but the knock never came. The door opened itself, the coffee pot bounced across the stove and Bob's shaving mirror rocked like crazy.

The fact of the matter was that the Alexanders were experiencing the backwash of the third and largest blast yet set off at the Atomic Energy Commission's new test range approximately a hundred miles north of this desert mecca for those who pursue the dice table and the winter sun.

When it dawned on the Alexanders that something big and persuasive had happened at the Las Vegas bombing and gunnery range, the couple ran into the backyard.

"There was a huge white mushroom in the sky," said Bob. "I watched it awhile and after about a half hour, it thinned out like an old cloud and just went away."

At the precise moment at which Mrs. Alexander saw what she thought was a car turning into the drive, Wayne Kirch, who runs an auto repair and towing service out on Main Street at the end of town, was going after a disabled automobile with his tow truck.

Kirch is the boss but he runs a twenty-four hour service and his night man was off so he took the call.

Kirch remembers:

"I was driving along the Tonopah Highway when all of a sudden the whole sky lit up with a white sort of shiny light.

"I got out of the car and stood in the road to watch. It was as light as day. I guess that lasted say two seconds, then there came an orange glow that covered almost as much sky. You could see it plainly because it was just before dawn.

"It seemed like three or four minutes and then came the air shock and the noise. It wasn't like an earthquake. It was more like concussion.

"The noise came three separate times—echoes, I suppose. I know people who heard up to eleven."

Kirch, today in telling about it, got up out of his lean-back office chair and remarked, "Makes you kind of think, doesn't it?" These incidents deserve brief mention to complete the eyewitness picture.

The blast shook the soot out of the ventilators in the Golden Nugget Casino, dousing dice and roulette system players—the only ones who pursue lady luck on the graveyard shift. No one budged.

There was a report, however, that in one of the gaming establishments along Front Street a lone gambler left his bet on the green baize of the dice table and ran into the street to watch the show. No one else budged. The gambler returned and found he had lost his bet and put his money down for the next roll. Just like that.

The next incident concerned a report by the desk sergeant at police headquarters. The lady who called remains anonymous because policemen are, first of all, gentlemen.

Said the lady, "I was asleep and a man came in my window and jumped into my bed and right out again."

She was quieted with the police explanation of one of the most unusual phenomenas following the explosion. Persons all over town with bedrooms facing in a northwest direction and having the window open reported the shock waves ruffled their bed clothing.

Many thought they were the victims of intruders. Those who remained asleep until the noise of the blast came along thought a car had crashed into the homes.

Will the atomic experiments over behind the Charleston and Sheep Mountains make Las Vegas ultimately just another stop in a long and straight desert highway?

There is no evidence of it. L. H. (Jack) Maxwell, the chief of police and the sort of westerner who gets around, said:

"Personally, I wish they were dropping bombs on Korea instead of trying out that atom business out here. On the other hand, it doesn't make sense to think Uncle Sam is going to take a chance on killing us, the people who are feeding the kitty in the defense buildup."

He slipped his western hat to the back of his head and added:

"Only ones frightened are women who don't like lightning."

The open desert, as flat as a man's hand, stretches to the northwest of Las Vegas for approximately 35 miles. Beyond that rise the Charleston and Sheep Mountains, two ranges forming a single line of purple, snow-thatched pinnacles in a direction parallel to the length of Las Vegas.

The two ranges don't quite touch. Between, there is a gap of level desert and here is where the fireworks appear. Here is where, to use the Washington terminology, the scientists are "twisting the dragon's tail."

But the concentration of the scientists is equalled by the gambler trying to get well or taking a fling at breaking the bank with a system. And the surest bet around these parts is that the scientists will continue their experiments and so will the gamblers.

The mink and diamond set chasing the winter sun also show no signs of forfeiting the chance to get a brown skinned torso or leg.

Mr. Grady Thomas suffered from nagging pains due to a lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin.

Why Settle for Symptomatic Relief When HADACOL Has Helped People Like These with Such Deficiencies

Mrs. Dennis Deomes, 111 Florence Street, Hot Springs, Arkansas: "My little girl has taken four $1.25 size bottles of HADACOL. She is three years old, was pale, nervous, had no appetite. Didn't care to play like other children. At night, she would awaken many times frightened and nervous. She would only sit around days and was very easy to cry. I was worried, because she was so pale and had no appetite at all. Then, I had heard of the wonders that HADACOL had done for so many people, both young and old. So I decided to give it to my little girl. I did so, and the third day after she began taking HADACOL, she was more cheerful and began to eat. She awoke hungry on the 3rd morning, and has been both eating and sleeping fine ever since, and isn't nervous at all. She is as cheerful as any child can be. Thanks to the makers of HADACOL, we are a HADACOL family. My little girl's name is Mary Helen Deomes."

Mrs. Verna Riley, 514 Missouri Avenue, Jeffersonville, Indiana: "I had been sick off and on for a long time. I am now 51 years old. After I heard about HADACOL, I have taken two bottles. I don't have that fullness in my stomach and I can eat anything I wish. I sleep much better at night now. Myself, I wouldn't do without HADACOL. My family also takes HADACOL."

Mr. Grady Thomas, Route 2, Somerville, Alabama: "My age is 59, I was sick for a long time. Could not sleep at night. After taking three bottles of HADACOL, I felt much better and now I can sleep all night. My wife says she believes I could sleep a week. I can do a full day's work on my farm. Before taking HADACOL, I couldn't work more than an hour or two at a time. I am very thankful for learning about this product."

Mrs. Marjorie Mullins, Jewellridge, Virginia: "I feel like HADACOL has helped me in many ways. My health was very poor, till I decided to give it a trial. I got one economy size bottle. It helped so much, I decided I wouldn't be without it. So now I am on my 4th large bottle. Before I took it, I wasn't able to do my housework, and care for my family. Every month, I would have to give up and think I was going to die. But thanks to HADACOL I never feel those weak spells any more. I tell my neighbors about it. I do my housework, my washing and never felt better. I am 43, but don't feel like my age is getting me down now. I am the mother of eight children and have been a widow for 10 years. I worked hard and sent my children to school, and now they are old enough to help me."

Lloyd E. Scheultz, 4045 Erie Avenue, Houston, Texas: "Before I took HADACOL, I did not know what it was to sleep for over an hour at night. Since using HADACOL I sleep all night without pains. I have taken three bottles of HADACOL and the relief has been wonderful. I have started on my fourth bottle."

Mrs. C. H. Strack, 605½ West Second Avenue, Pine Bluff, Arkansas: "Before using HADACOL, I was rundown, nervous, and had upset stomach. My friends could not understand the way I was acting. After I took HADACOL, I felt better than I have ever felt. I am not at all nervous and my friends have remarked at the change in me. I am forever grateful for what HADACOL has done for me. I wish to let the whole world know how much I praise HADACOL."

Bennie Hollingsworth, Box 8, Simms, Louisiana: "I am ten years old. I have been sick for a good while. I was nervous. I could not sleep at night. I did not want to study my school lessons. Then, some of my friends told me about HADACOL. Now I have taken only three bottles of HADACOL. I can say that HADACOL has helped me a lot. Now, I can sleep. I am not so nervous. I do not hate to get my school lessons. I want to thank my friends for telling me about HADACOL."

SENATOR DUDLEY J. LEBLANC, Whose Tireless Efforts For Relief Of Suffering, Have Brought Humanity Today's Great HADACOL

Senator LeBlanc in all of his political activities has always championed the cause of the oppressed, and the poor and underprivileged.

He was the first candidate for Governor to advocate a specific Old Age Pension . . . and today in Louisiana, he is known as the Father of the Old Age Pension. In the course of his long, lone fight he has had his critics, but to those who opposed him he has continually stated, "If you do not believe in Old Age Pensions, remember the mandate of the Lord himself—'Honor thy Father and thy Mother that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.'"

Senator LeBlanc is known as a friend of the veterans. He introduced and successfully passed the law that created the State Service Commissioner whose duty it is to see that every service man receives his just compensation from both State and Federal governments. His activities in public life in behalf of the working man are too numerous to mention here.

It was only natural that in his sincere desire to serve the people, that Senator LeBlanc would seek and find a product that would tend to assist the poor and ailing, that would help them lead a more happy and contented life. His tireless study and effort resulted in today's wonderful HADACOL.

Why Wait?

Why experiment, why give up, why suffer from a lack of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Iron and Niacin? Why not make up your mind to start taking HADACOL today with the positive assurance that it will help you if you suffer from such deficiencies or the Senator will gladly send back your money. You have to be satisfied, and since Senator LeBlanc has proven by his past activities that he is your friend, you know you can depend on what he says and what he does. Ask for HADACOL now. Trial size $1.25; large family or hospital size $3.50.

Las Vegas Citizens Tell What Life Is Like Living In Shadow Of Atom Tests

By CLINT MOSHER

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — (INS) — At 5:46 o'clock last Sunday morning Bob Alexander's wife shook him awake in their bungalow on South Second Street and said, "You better get up. I saw a bright light. I think someone's turning in the driveway."

The Alexanders have a reputation for dispensing hospitality at any hour in the twenty-four, and so Mrs. Alexander made a dive for the kitchen to get the coffee pot started and Bob dashed into the bathroom to scrape the Saturday night whiskers from his face.

Mrs. Bob hoped to have the coffee under way and Bob at least one side of his face presentable before the knock came at the door, but the knock never came. The door opened itself, the coffee pot bounced across the stove and Bob's shaving mirror rocked like crazy.

The fact of the matter was that the Alexanders were experiencing the backwash of the third and largest blast yet set off at the Atomic Energy Commission's new test range approximately a hundred miles north of this desert mecca for those who pursue the dice table and the winter sun.

When it dawned on the Alexanders that something big and persuasive had happened at the Las Vegas bombing and gunnery range, the couple ran into the backyard.

"There was a huge white mushroom in the sky," said Bob. "I watched it awhile and after about a half hour, it thinned out like an old cloud and just went away."

At the precise moment at which Mrs. Alexander saw what she thought was a car turning into the drive, Wayne Kirch, who runs an auto repair and towing service out on Main Street at the end of town, was going after a disabled automobile with his tow truck.

Kirch is the boss but he runs a twenty-four hour service and his night man was off so he took the call.

Kirch remembers:

"I was driving along the Tonopah Highway when all of a sudden the whole sky lit up with a white sort of shiny light.

"I got out of the car and stood in the road to watch. It was as light as day. I guess that lasted say two seconds, then there came an orange glow that covered almost as much sky. You could see it plainly because it was just before dawn.

"It seemed like three or four minutes and then came the air shock and the noise. It wasn't like an earthquake. It was more like concussion.

"The noise came three separate times—echoes, I suppose. I know people who heard up to eleven."

Kirch, today in telling about it, got up out of his lean-back office chair and remarked, "Makes you kind of think, doesn't it?" These incidents deserve brief mention to complete the eyewitness picture.

The blast shook the soot out of the ventilators in the Golden Nugget Casino, dousing dice and roulette system players—the only ones who pursue lady luck on the graveyard shift. No one budged.

There was a report, however, that in one of the gaming establishments along Front Street a lone gambler left his bet on the green baize of the dice table and ran into the street to watch the show. No one else budged. The gambler returned and found he had lost his bet and put his money down for the next roll. Just like that.

The next incident concerned a report by the desk sergeant at police headquarters. The lady who called remains anonymous because policemen are, first of all, gentlemen.

Said the lady, "I was asleep and a man came in my window and jumped into my bed and right out again."

She was quieted with the police explanation of one of the most unusual phenomenas following the explosion. Persons all over town with bedrooms facing in a northwest direction and having the window open reported the shock waves ruffled their bed clothing.

Many thought they were the victims of intruders. Those who remained asleep until the noise of the blast came along thought a car had crashed into the homes.

Will the atomic experiments over behind the Charleston and Sheep Mountains make Las Vegas ultimately just another stop in a long and straight desert highway?

There is no evidence of it. L. H. (Jack) Maxwell, the chief of police and the sort of westerner who gets around, said:

"Personally, I wish they were dropping bombs on Korea instead of trying out that atom business out here. On the other hand, it doesn't make sense to think Uncle Sam is going to take a chance on killing us, the people who are feeding the kitty in the defense buildup."

He slipped his western hat to the back of his head and added:

"Only ones frightened are women who don't like lightning."

The open desert, as flat as a man's hand, stretches to the northwest of Las Vegas for approximately 35' miles. Beyond that rise the Charleston and Sheep Mountains, two ranges forming a single line of purple, snow-thatched pinnacles in a direction parallel to the length of Las Vegas.

The two ranges don't quite touch. Between, there is a gap of level desert and here is where the fireworks appear. Here is where, to use the Washington terminology, the scientists are "twisting the dragon's tail."

But the concentration of the scientists is equalled by the gambler trying to get well or taking a fling at breaking the bank with a system. And the surest bet around these parts is that the scientists will continue their experiments and so will the gamblers.

The mink and diamond set chasing the winter sun also show no signs of forfeiting the chance to get a brown skinned torso or leg.

Why Settle for Symptomatic Relief When HADACOL Has Helped People Like These with Such Deficiencies

Mrs. Dennis Deomes, 111 Florence Street, Hot Springs, Arkansas: "My little girl has taken four $1.25 size bottles of HADACOL. She is three years old, was pale, nervous, had no appetite. Didn't care to play like other children. At night, she would awaken many times frightened and nervous. She would only sit around days and was very easy to cry. I was worried, because she was so pale and had no appetite at all. Then, I had heard of the wonders that HADACOL had done for so many people, both young and old. So I decided to give it to my little girl. I did so, and the third day after she began taking HADACOL, she was more cheerful and began to eat. She awoke hungry on the 3rd morning, and has been both eating and sleeping fine ever since, and isn't nervous at all. She is as cheerful as any child can be. Thanks to the makers of HADACOL, we are a HADACOL family. My little girl's name is Mary Helen Deomes."

Mrs. Verna Riley, 514 Missouri Avenue, Jeffersonville, Indiana: "I had been sick off and on for a long time. I am now 51 years old. After I heard about HADACOL, I have taken two bottles. I don't have that fullness in my stomach and I can eat anything I wish. I sleep much better at night now. Myself, I wouldn't do without HADACOL. My family also takes HADACOL."

Mr. Grady Thomas, Route 2, Somerville, Alabama: "My age is 59, I was sick for a long time. Could not sleep at night. After taking three bottles of HADACOL, I felt much better and now I can sleep all night. My wife says she believes I could sleep a week. I can do a full day's work on my farm. WHY STORE AWAY YOUR CHINA AND OTHER NICE THINGS? USE THEM AND SET A GOOD TASTE STANDARD

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeature Writer

Why don't you take all those wedding presents out of the attic and use them for a Valentine party? There's that lovely heirloom silver that has been in the family several generations—only everyone's been afraid to use it; the china you've put away for fear it will chip or crack; linens that you are afraid will be lost in the laundry.

It would be a lot better to get some use out of these things even with the possibility of breakage or loss, than to have them waste their beauty in a dust-laden cell. Even missing pieces of heirloom silver often can be replaced—and why should they be missing? If you use it frequently it should always be on hand and under your watchful eye.

Perhaps you don't use your china because you are afraid it is out of "open stock" and pieces can't be matched. One of the reasons china does go out of "open stock" is that there are no calls for the stock. If everybody used good china all the time, it would be cheaper to replace a broken cup or chipped plate, than to buy inexpensive sets of earthenware, which because it is not handled with care must be assembled at frequent intervals. You'll have much less breakage of fine china, even if you use it frequently, because you'll handle it with care.

Why is it people hesitate to use lovely possessions when they have them? Is there anything prettier than a buffet or dinner table set with grandma's linen, exquisite silver and fine china? Yet few people bother to use their "good china," linen or silver unless there is a very special occasion.

You should set a standard of living that is in good taste, if possible. Surround yourself with these lovely things, use them properly and everything in your home will take on more importance.

The trouble with the American housewife is she is a squirrel at heart. She has too many attics, basements, storage cabinets and now the deep freeze. If everybody would clean out their attics, use some of the nice old things they have and eat some of the billion pounds of meat and other foodstuffs now stored away, perhaps prices would slacken off.

Try it for your Valentine's Day buffet—dig out all those old usable lovely things you can get your hands on. You'll be delighted with the "oh's" and "ah's" of your guests. Make it a habit from there on in to use those pretty things. If you can't bring yourself to do them every day, use them weekends to begin with. Pretty soon, you'll get the habit of using them often, and perhaps all the time.

Speech Smoothies

In the world where poise, charm and success reign, extremes in speech are conspicuous distractions.

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

Do you have as much glide in your speech as a Powers Girl has in her walk? If so, you are the possessor of one of the most potent charms. You have discovered not only the value of a listenable way of speaking, but how to achieve one.

While a salient feature of a beautiful manner of speaking is well-chosen, colorful words, as any good speech book or the introduction to your dictionary will tell you, there is a difference between written and spoken usage of our language. In speaking, you are allowed a far greater latitude.

Always Easy, Never Stilted

Colloquial phrases and words which would attract no admiration if found in your written messages are not only permissible but an attribute to your spoken words. A certain easiness in speech is far more desirable than over preciseness or a stilted, prissy quality.

The delivery of your spoken words is one of your most distinguishing characteristics, as individual as your signature. If you wish it to be admired, be sure that it has an easy, fluid quality, too.

Speaking too sharply and clipping off each word is a definite fault. It implies a self-consciousness that is repellent to your listeners. It is as though you were saying, "I (stop) speak (stop) this (stop) way (stop) because (stop) every (stop) word (stop) I (stop) say (stop) is (stop) of (stop) great (stop) importance.

But suppose we go to the opposite extreme; suppose, "Ispotaya lithins" (I spoke to you like this). Such careless indifference is an insult to the listener and displays equally bad taste.

The Middle Road

Like so many standards of the discriminating world, conversational speech takes a middle path between the stilted and the careless. Extremes of any kind are rarely found where poise, charm and success abound.

It is very easy to acquire bad habits unconsciously. Talk aloud to yourself and listen. Is your speech as smooth as a Powers Girl's walk? If not, be conscious of your fault all of the time; read aloud for practice in correcting it. Soon your voice will be reflecting you in the very nicest way!

A fur-bearing fish is driving a good-natured senate secretary, Miss Lois Miller, stark, storming dotty-daffy . . . People who come into Senator Muray's office keep asking "Where's the fur-bearing fish?" . . . People ought to know better . . . There ain't no such animal . . . Except in this case there WAS!

Lois Miller's boss, the Senator from Montana, recently moved his office bag, baggage, files and decorations . . . One decoration that never ceased to raise eyebrows and comment was a fur-bearing fish caught in White Fish Lake, Montana . . . But in the new office she decided not to stick the monstrosity on the wall . . . So tourists, voters, newspapermen still ask, "Where's the fur-bearin fish?" . . . They have either heard so much about it . . . Or got used to seeing it.

Gen. Marshall's probably been too busy to answer one letter he got recently . . . Besides, the letter asked some questions which may be difficult to answer:

Why one firm in N. Y. was awarded the entire contract to stitch up 1,300,000 summer dresses for the Waves and Lady Leathernecks?

Why were they all summer dresses?

Why so many, when the total of women in the Armed Services doesn't exceed 30,000?

What's happened to the regional supply program, the plan to spread war contracts around, give the little firms a chance to bid?

Perhaps Secretary of Defense Marshall or his Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna Rosenberg have all the answers and satisfactory explanations . . . But, if they haven't, Senator Homer Capehart of Indiana who wrote the letter will hound them till he digs out the truth.

After all, Congressmen must protect the interests of the American people they represent by doggedly asking embarrassing questions and demanding answers.

People who come into Senator Muray's office keep asking "Where's the fur-bearing fish?" . . . People ought to know better . . . There ain't no such animal . . . Except in this case there WAS!

Lois Miller's boss, the Senator from Montana, recently moved his office bag, baggage, files and decorations . . . One decoration that never ceased to raise eyebrows and comment was a fur-bearing fish caught in White Fish Lake, Montana . . . But in the new office she decided not to stick the monstrosity on the wall . . . So tourists, voters, newspapermen still ask, "Where's the fur-bearin fish?" . . . They have either heard so much about it . . . Or got used to seeing it.

AUSTINE

The Rare Specimen, in case you've never seen one, is in reality a lake trout which some pixilated taxidermist covered with a beaver skin

As far as Lois is concerned "The Thing" is probably a fur-bearing fish . . . But Miss Miller feels the gag has worn a little thin . . . In fact, the moths have already damaged the trout's luxurious hair . . . And she secretly hopes they'll complete the job so she won't have to hang it again.

Gen. Marshall's probably been too busy to answer one letter he got recently . . . Besides, the letter asked some questions which may be difficult to answer:

Why one firm in N. Y. was awarded the entire contract to stitch up 1,300,000 summer dresses for the Waves and Lady Leathernecks?

Why were they all summer dresses?

Why so many, when the total of women in the Armed Services doesn't exceed 30,000?

What's happened to the regional supply program, the plan to spread war contracts around, give the little firms a chance to bid?

Perhaps Secretary of Defense Marshall or his Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna Rosenberg have all the answers and satisfactory explanations . . . But, if they haven't, Senator Homer Capehart of Indiana who wrote the letter will hound them till he digs out the truth.

After all, Congressmen must protect the interests of the American people they represent by doggedly asking embarrassing questions and demanding answers.

Local Merchants Must Make Price Lists Available

All businessmen were cautioned yesterday that ceiling price lists mentioned in the general ceiling price regulation of the Economic Stabilization Agency must be available for inspection by March 1.

"We urge cooperation of all concerned to facilitate the fight against inflation."

This announcement was made by Hugo R. Hoffman, acting price director for Maryland. Hoffman said the regulation clearly specifies that records dealing with the prices and services "frozen" as of the period December 19, 1950 to January 25, 1951 must be preserved at all times and that the list of ceiling prices based on these figures must be ready for the director of price stabilization by the first of March. In addition, current records of the kind kept in the ordinary operation of business must be maintained for a period of two years and are also subject to examination by the director.

Covered By January 26 Order

Spokesmen for the Baltimore Office of Price Stabilization state that requirements for compliance with the order are covered in paragraph 16 of the general price regulation issued on January 26. Printed copies of this regulation are being sent to chambers of commerce offices and other agencies throughout Maryland and may be obtained by making a direct request.

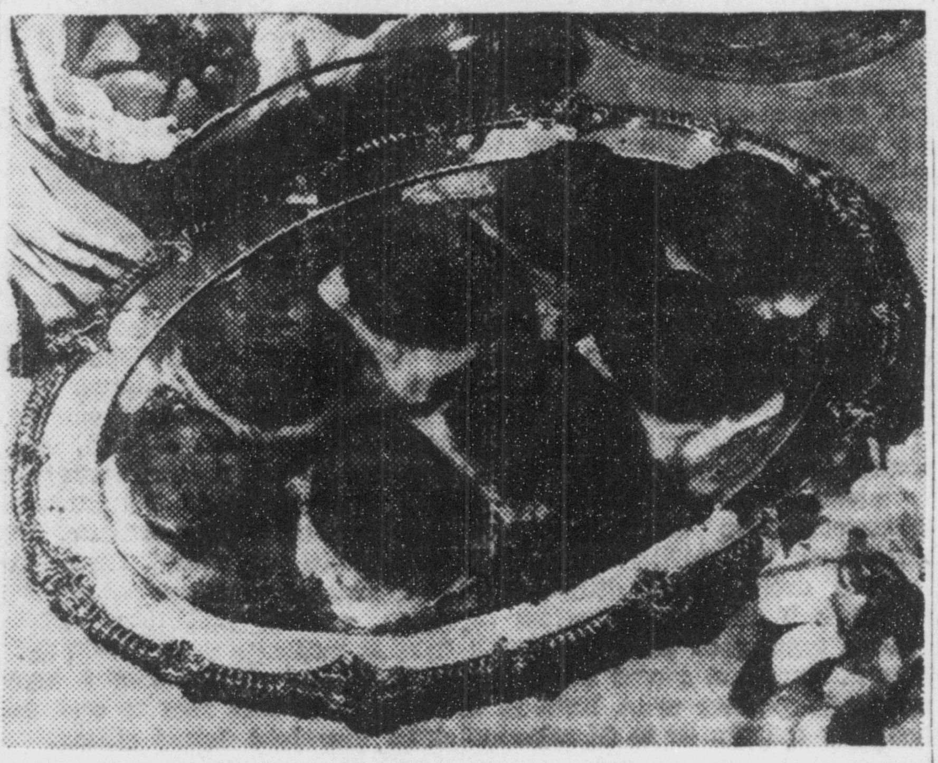
Meat Balls Join Mushroom Soup In Noodle Nest

Meat balls may be meat balls to some, but not to the adventuresome cook. A touch with seasonings, with sauces and with other accompaniments can make the difference. Just one example is a platter of subtly seasoned meat balls in mushroom sauce served over tender noodles.

For four servings of this easily prepared dish the homemaker needs to purchase 1 pound of ground beef (ground chuck is a wise choice). The meat is then seasoned with ¾ teaspoon of salt, a bit of pepper and ¼ teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce. After it is seasoned, the meat is formed into balls and browned in a small amount of lard or drippings. When browned on all sides, a can of condensed mushroom soup is added to the frying-pan, the utensil closely covered and the meat allowed to simmer in the sauce from 15 to 20 minutes.

In the meantime, the egg noodles are cooked. Of course, spaghetti may be used in their place. In serving, the noodles or spaghetti are arranged on a large platter with the meat balls in sauce placed over them. Touches of parsley add a colorful note to the serving.

Sausage Star Performer



'Round the clock—any time, any day—fresh pork sausage is a star performer. Its versatility and delightful flavor make it an excellent choice for any meal. We suggest you serve fresh pork sausage for breakfast some days, then alternate to have it for lunch or dinner on others.

If it's the time element that prevents you from giving your family a good breakfast to start the day right, remember that pork sausage will cook thoroughly while you're juicing the fruit, making the coffee, and dishing the cereal.

Not only is pork sausage good to eat, but it's also good nutritionally. Fresh pork is our richest source of thiamine—that vitamin B1 so essential for good appetites, steady nerves, and all-around top health.

Pork sausage contains other vitamins, too, and the minerals iron and phosphorus that are found in all meats.

Buy pork sausage with care. Ask for it by brand, so you'll know you're getting 100% pure pork—expertly spiced and seasoned to give you sausage at its best. It can be purchased in link style, 16 links to the pound, or in pound cellophane rolls. The cellophane rolls are handy for slicing into the number of portions you wish to serve. Just remove the cellophane from the slices, and your patties are ready to cook with no fuss or bother. Any way you buy it, fresh pork sausage is easy to prepare and full of succulent goodness. Here's our suggestion for an appetizing and hearty main dish calling for fresh pork sausage patties.

Sausage Patties Fried Potato Cakes

1 pound roll fresh pork sausage
¼ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter
4 cups mashed potato (may be left-over)
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
1 egg, well beaten

Cook onion in butter until clear. Add to potatoes with other ingredients. Pack into 8x8x2 pan and chill in refrigerator for several hours or overnight. Cut into 8 squares, dip in flour and fry in sausage drippings until lightly browned.

Cut Sausage Roll into 8 slices. Place in frying pan and cook about 15 minutes or until brown on each side.

Top potato square with sausage. Serve with green salad. 4 servings.

Sweet Sauce

⅓ cup port
⅓ cup sherry
2 oranges
1 lemon
1 tablespoon corn starch
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
½ cup currant jelly
2 tablespoons butter
2 cups pitted canned Bing cherries (or Royal Anne)

Combine port, sherry, orange and lemon juice. Mix corn starch and cloves and mix to smooth paste with a little of the liquid. Add to wine mixture. Add jelly and cook until clear and slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Set in top of double boiler and cook 15 minutes longer, stirring several times. Add cherries and ½ teaspoon each grated orange and lemon rind. Serve hot over ham slices. Makes about 3 cups sauce.

Molasses Flavor Favored By Washington And Lincoln

During February when the birthdays of Lincoln and Washington are celebrated, it's of interest to recall a food preference that both men had in common . . . that for sweet, spicy molasses.

George Washington's name comes up frequently in the mention of molasses not only because of the orders he placed for this commodity to be used as a sweetener in much of the cooking at Mt. Vernon but in the very light of the American Revolution. By the 18th century, molasses was the life blood of colonial commerce. It was the medium for getting cash to balance trade accounts with the mother country. When England levied heavy import restrictions on this commodity, molasses became one of the major causes of the American Revolution.

Abraham Lincoln had a preference for Molasses Pie. In the records of a bakery existing in Washington, D. C., during his presidency. there are frequent orders placed by Lincoln for this specialty. This same bakery supplied such products as mince pie, molasses pound cake and molasses sheet cake to the Union Army encamped near the Nation's capitol.

The following recipe for molasses pecan pie is based on a very old recipe, but it has been modernized to follow today's cooking techniques. Its goodness would surely have made it a favorite of Lincoln and Washington. It is custard-like in texture and of distinct though delicate molasses flavor. That delicate flavor is the result of the unsulphured molasses used. Unsulphured molasses is made according to the same formula known since early sailing vessels brought this sweetener from the West Indies to the colonies.

Molasses Pecan Pie

3 eggs, beaten
¾ cup unsulphured molasses
¾ cup white corn syrup
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped pecans
1 tablespoon flour
8-inch, unbaked pie crust.

Heat oven to 375° F. (moderate). Combine first six ingredients. Mix pecans with flour; add to egg-molasses mixture. Pour into an 8-inch pie pan lined with unbaked pastry. Bake 40 minutes or until filling is firm. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Molasses Peanut Pie: Replace pecans with roasted peanut halves.

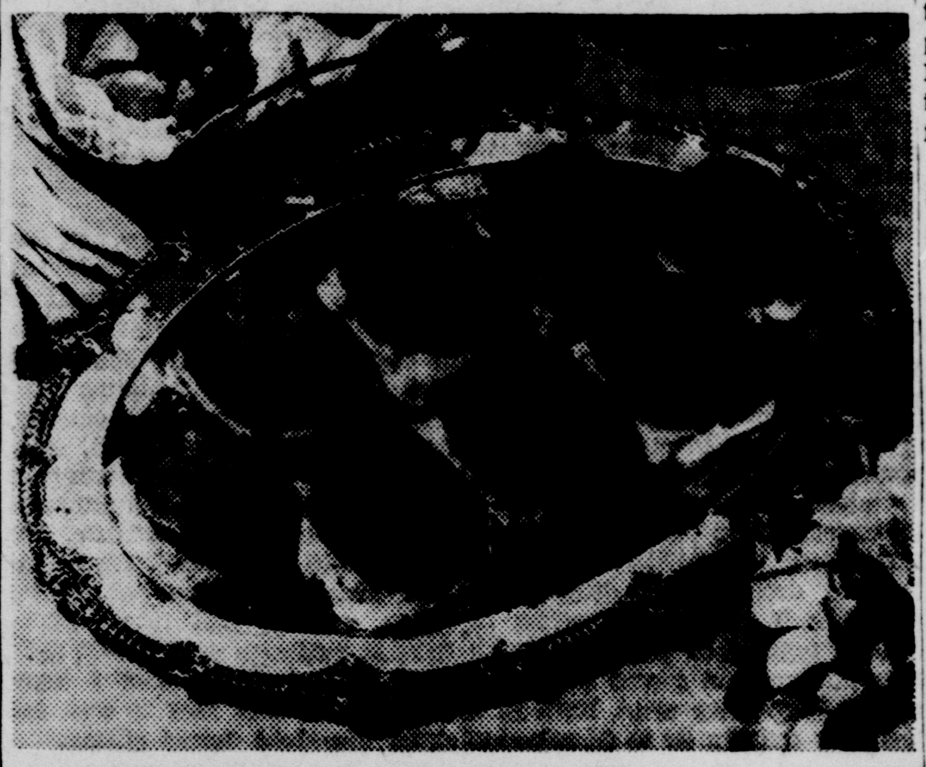
Meat Balls Join Mushroom Soup In Noodle Nest

Meat balls may be meat balls to some, but not to the adventuresome cook. A touch with seasonings, with sauces and with other accompaniments can make the difference. Just one example is a platter of subtly seasoned meat balls in mushroom sauce served over tender noodles.

For four servings of this easily prepared dish the homemaker needs to purchase 1 pound of ground beef (ground chuck is a wise choice). The meat is then seasoned with ¾ teaspoon of salt, a bit of pepper and ¼ teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce. After it is seasoned, the meat is formed into balls and browned in a small amount of lard or drippings. When browned on all sides, a can of condensed mushroom soup is added to the frying-pan, the utensil closely covered and the meat allowed to simmer in the sauce from 15 to 20 minutes.

In the meantime, the egg noodles are cooked. Of course, spaghetti may be used in their place. In serving, the noodles or spaghetti are arranged on a large platter with the meat balls in sauce placed over them. Touches of parsley add a colorful note to the serving.

Sausage Star Performer



'Round the clock—any time, any day—fresh pork sausage is a star performer. Its versatility and delightful flavor make it an excellent choice for any meal. We suggest you serve fresh pork sausage for breakfast some days, then alternate to have it for lunch or dinner on others.

If it's the time element that prevents you from giving your family a good breakfast to start the day right, remember that pork sausage will cook thoroughly while you're juicing the fruit, making the coffee, and dishing the cereal.

Not only is pork sausage good to eat, but it's also good nutritionally. Fresh pork is our richest source of thiamine—that vitamin B1 so essential for good appetites, steady nerves, and all-around top health.

Pork sausage contains other vitamins, too, and the minerals iron and phosphorus that are found in all meats.

Buy pork sausage with care. Ask for it by brand, so you'll know you're getting 100% pure pork—expertly spiced and seasoned to give you sausage at its best. It can be purchased in link style, 16 links to the pound, or in pound cellophane rolls. The cellophane rolls are handy for slicing into the number of portions you wish to serve. Just remove the cellophane from the slices, and your patties are ready to cook with no fuss or bother. Any way you buy it, fresh pork sausage is easy to prepare and full of succulent goodness. Here's our suggestion for an appetizing and hearty main dish calling for fresh pork sausage patties.

Sausage Patties Fried Potato Cakes

1 pound roll fresh pork sausage
¼ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter
4 cups mashed potato (may be left-over)
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
1 egg, well beaten

Cook onion in butter until clear. Add to potatoes with other ingredients. Pack into 8x8x2 pan and chill in refrigerator for several hours or overnight. Cut into 8 squares, dip in flour and fry in sausage drippings until lightly browned.

Cut Sausage Roll into 8 slices. Place in frying pan and cook about 15 minutes or until brown on each side.

Top potato square with sausage. Serve with green salad. 4 servings.

Sweet Sauce

⅓ cup port
⅓ cup sherry
2 oranges
1 lemon
1 tablespoon corn starch
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
½ cup currant jelly
2 tablespoons butter
2 cups pitted canned Bing cherries (or Royal Anne)

Combine port, sherry, orange and lemon juice. Mix corn starch and cloves and mix to smooth paste with a little of the liquid. Add to wine mixture. Add jelly and cook until clear and slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Set in top of double boiler and cook 15 minutes longer, stirring several times. Add cherries and ½ teaspoon each grated orange and lemon rind. Serve hot over ham slices. Makes about 3 cups sauce.

Molasses Flavor Favored By Washington And Lincoln

During February when the birthdays of Lincoln and Washington are celebrated, it's of interest to recall a food preference that both men had in common . . . that for sweet, spicy molasses.

George Washington's name comes up frequently in the mention of molasses not only because of the orders he placed for this commodity to be used as a sweetener in much of the cooking at Mt. Vernon but in the very light of the American Revolution. By the 18th century, molasses was the life blood of colonial commerce. It was the medium for getting cash to balance trade accounts with the mother country. When England levied heavy import restrictions on this commodity, molasses became one of the major causes of the American Revolution.

Abraham Lincoln had a preference for Molasses Pie. In the records of a bakery existing in Washington, D. C., during his presidency, there are frequent orders placed by Lincoln for this specialty. This same bakery supplied such products as mince pie, molasses pound cake and molasses sheet cake to the Union Army encamped near the Nation's capitol.

The following recipe for molasses pecan pie is based on a very old recipe, but it has been modernized to follow today's cooking techniques. Its goodness would surely have made it a favorite of Lincoln and Washington. It is custard-like in texture and of distinct though delicate molasses flavor. That delicate flavor is the result of the unsulphured molasses used. Unsulphured molasses is made according to the same formula known since early sailing vessels brought this sweetener from the West Indies to the colonies.

Molasses Pecan Pie

3 eggs, beaten
¾ cup unsulphured molasses
¾ cup white corn syrup
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped pecans
1 tablespoon flour
8-inch, unbaked pie crust.

Heat oven to 375° F. (moderate). Combine first six ingredients. Mix pecans with flour; add to egg-molasses mixture. Pour into an 8-inch pie pan lined with unbaked pastry. Bake 40 minutes or until filling is firm. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Molasses Peanut Pie: Replace pecans with roasted peanut halves.

1 cup top milk
1 cup heavy cream
1 cup toasted chopped almonds
½ cup minced seeded raisins
1 quart cherry ice cream.

Crumble the fig cookies into the top milk in a small saucepan and place over low heat. Stir until the cookies are blended with the milk. Cool. Whip the cream until it is almost stiff. Combine the cookies and the milk, cream, chopped almonds and the minced raisins with the ice cream. Work quickly and do not let the ice cream melt. Stir until smooth and turn at once into the freeinz tray of your mechanical refrigerator. Freeze quickly. Stir once while freeinz but do not remove from the pan. Serves 8 to 10. This lovely ice cream pudding is worthy of a formal dinner or a simple supper for the family.

Drop Cooky Favorites

The pleasing aroma of freshly-baked cookies coming from the oven attracts young and old alike. Be sure to bake plenty, for they're bound to disappear by the handful.

Made with thrifty breakfast cereals, they're crunchy, chewy cookies packed with the nutrition bonus of the cereal grains.

Cereal Ranger Cookies

½ cup butter
½ cup lard
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup brown sugar
2 eggs, beaten
2¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1½ cups rolled oats, uncooked
1½ cups oven-popped rice cereal
1 cup coconut

Cream together butter, lard, and sugars. Add vanilla and eggs and continue creaming. Sift together flour, salt, soda, and baking powder. Add to creamed mixture. Stir in rolled oats, oven-popped rice cereal, and coconut. Form into small balls and place on greased cooky sheet; flatten with fork; bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Yield: About 6 dozen cookies depending on size.

Orange-Flake Drop Cookies

⅓ cup fat
½ cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons orange juice
½ ttablespoon grated orange rind
1 cup bran flakes or wheat flake

Cream fat and add sugar gradually. Add egg slowly to creamed mixture. Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt. Add dry ingredients alternately with orange juice to creamed mixture. Stir in orange rind and cereal flakes. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto well-greased cooky sheet. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 15 minutes. Yield: About 2½ dozen cookies, 2 inches in diameter.

Orange Butter Icing

1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1 tablespoon orange juice
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon melted butter
1 tablespoon cream

Combine ingredients. Beat until mixture is of spreading consistency. Yield: Icing for 2½ dozen cookies.

Blast furnace construction costs have more than doubled since 1933.

Breakfast, the most important meal of the day, is one meal that isn't putting a strain on the pocketbook in these days of food budget worries. A good breakfast can be the thriftiest meal of the day. At the same time, it's a food combination that finds its way to the table with only a few minutes of preparation.

Serving an economical main dish lowers the cost of any meal, including breakfast. That's one reason for the breakfast-table popularity of a bowl of cereal and milk, a main dish that costs barely four cents.

In this one easy dish, you get just the food energy you need after the 10 to 14-hour fast since dinner. Also, you get top-quality protein, which children need for growing, and adults need for upkeep and repair. Then, too, there is vitamin A for growth and health, as well as to help keep your eyes and vision clear, and your skin in good condition.

The B vitamins help keep your appetite and nervous system healthy. Also, this dish gives you food energy and important minerals for building good bones and teeth.

Variety in the breakfast menu is a must to keep morning appetites sharp, and it's easy to vary the cereal every day. Chopped dried fruits are especially good served on hot cereals, or stirred into the cereal in the last minute or so of cooking. A ring of dates makes today's cereal bowl of farina a tasty and appetizing main dish. The fruit is orange slices, with sweet rolls, butter, and milk to drink.

Try Cereal Hot Breads

Suggestion one is to pep up any meal with hot breads. Suggestion two, make those breads with thrifty breakfast cereals. Here are two specially selected recipes for the purpose. One uses brown granular wheat cereal to make Golden Wheat Sticks. The other calls for whole bran and produces a rounded-top, tender-crusted Perfect Bran Muffin.

These breads will add color and variety to your meals. Too, the breakfast cereal makes a special thrifty contribution of vitamins, minerals, and protein.

When you bake Golden Wheat Sticks or Perfect Bran Muffins, make plenty so that for another meal you can split and toast them. Or, to reheat, sprinkle with a few drops of water, put in a paper bag and let warm in the oven.

A special recommendation is to serve these tasty breads for breakfast. They zestfully fill the bread section of a basic breakfast pattern which calls for fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter. To save morning time, measure the dry ingredients the night before.

Golden Wheat Sticks

¾ cup brown granlar wheat cereal, uncooked
1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 egg, beaten,
¾ cup milk
¼ cup melted butter or margarine

Combine cereal, flour, sugar, salt, and baking powder. Add egg and milk; mix. Stir in butter. Place in greased corn stick pans. Bake in hot oven (425-450°F.) about 25 to 30 minutes. Yield: 12 wheat sticks.

Perfect Bran Muffins

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons sugar
1 egg
¾ cup milk
1 cup whole bran
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt

Cream together butter and sugar, add egg and beat well. Stir in milk, then whole bran, and let soak about 10 minutes. Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt. Add to first mixture, stirring until dry ingredients are just moistened. Fill greased muffin pans, 2½x1¼ inches, ⅔ full. Make in moderately hot oven (400°F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Field: 12 muffins.

Easy-To-Make Dishes For Homemaker

Dishes that are easy to prepare, economical, and nutritious will be favorites in most homes this year, due to the increased demand on the homemaker's time and to the rise in the cost of living. This does not mean to deprive the family of the good food to which they are accustomed. There are dishes that meet these specifications and still give added enjoyment to the family meals.

Barbecued Luncheon Meat fits into this classification. It is economical, quick to make, nutritious, and tasty enough to be a main-dish favorite.

The recipes for Coffee Gingerbread and Taffy Pudding were developed for the busy homemaker whose family prefers genuinely good, homemade desserts. The dry ingredients may be mixed ahead of time and stored in the cupboard to use as needed.

Since the flavor of these dishes is determined by the kind of molasses used, it is important that a sweet, mild-flavored molasses be used for making them.

Here are recipes for delicious easy-to-make dishes that the budget-wise homemaker will appreciate.

Barbecued Luncheon Meat With Spaghetti

Two tablespoons butter or margarine, ½ cup chopped onion, 12-oz. can luncheon meat, 1 tablespoon unsulphured molasses, 6-oz. can tomato paste, 3 tablespoons vinegar, 3 tablespoons unsulphured molasses, 1 cup water, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 teaspoons dry mustard, ½ teaspoon black pepper, ½ to ¾ teaspoon chili powder, 1 garlic bud, ½ pound spaghetti, cooked.

Melt butter or margarine in a skillet. Add onions. Cut luncheon meat into 8 slices. Use the 1 tablespoon of molasses to spread thinly on both sides of all 8 slices of meat. Place in skillet; cook until meat is brown and onions are limp. Mix remaining ingredients; pour over meat and cook until thick. Place a serving of the cooked spaghetti on a plate; cover with sauce and 2 slices of meat. Yield: 4 servings.

Mock Apple Sauce Layer Cake

No. 2 can sweetened apple sauce, ½ cup unsulphured molasses, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 8 slices white bread.

Mix first three ingredients. Trim crust from bread; place two slices, end to end, on plate and cover with apple sauce mixture. Repeat until all bread and apple sauce have been used, having apple sauce as top layer. Chill. When ready to serve, cut in 1-inch slices. Serve plain or with whipped cream. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

With the last of Sunday's ham, make a tempting hot sandwich using enriched biscuit dough instead of bread. Make a well-seasoned ham mixture by mixing together 1¾ cups of ground, cooked ham (about ½ pound), 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 2 tablespoons dry mustard and 1 tablespoon of milk. Make your favorite drop biscuit dough, and spread half of it over bottom of greased 8x8x2 inch pan. Cover with ham mixture and spread remaining biscuit dough over meat. Bake in a hot over (450°F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Serve with creamed peas. Makes six servings.

Oatmeal Nut Bread

1½ cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon soda
½ cup broken nutmeats
2 eggs
¼ cup softened fat
1 cup buttermilk, or sour milk
1½ cups rolled oats

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and soda into mixing bowl. Add broken nutmeats. Place eggs, fat, half of milk, rolled oats and rest of milk in container of electric blender in that order. Cover container and turn on blender. Run until oats are finely cut, about 30 seconds, stopping blender and stirring down once after 15 seconds. Pour blended mixture over sifted flour mixture. Stir lightly until just mixed. Place batter in greased small loaf pan, 7 x 3½ inches, puhing well into corners. Bake in moderate oven, 350°F, until browned and done, about 1 hour. Turn out on wire rack to cool. Let stand overnight before slicing.

YIELD: 1 small loaf oatmeal nut bread.

Orange Bread

3 cups sifted flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup softened fat
1 egg
¾ cup milk
1 medium orange, diced
1 cup sugar

Sift flour, baking powder and salt into mixing bowl. Place fat, egg and milk in container of electric blender. Add unpeeled orange cut in about a dozen pieces, removing any large seeds, and the sugar. Cover container and turn on blender. Run until orange is finely divided, about 1 minute. Pour over sifted flour mixture. Mix just until barely moistened, as for muffin batter. Pour batter into greased long loaf pan, 12 x 3½ inches, or two loaf pans, 7 x 3½ inches. Bake in moderate oven, 350°F, until done, about 1 hour. Turn out on wire rack and let loaf cool on its side. Let stand overnight before slicing.

YIELD: One large loaf orange bread, or two small loaves.

Drop Cooky Favorites

The pleasing aroma of freshly-baked cookies coming from the oven attracts young and old alike. Be sure to bake plenty, for they're bound to disappear by the handful.

Made with thrifty breakfast cereals, they're crunchy, chewy cookies packed with the nutrition bonus of the cereal grains.

Cereal Ranger Cookies

½ cup butter
½ cup lard
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup brown sugar
2 eggs, beaten
2¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1½ cups rolled oats, uncooked
1½ cups oven-popped rice cereal
1 cup coconut

Cream together butter, lard, and sugars. Add vanilla and eggs and continue creaming. Sift together flour, salt, soda, and baking powder. Add to creamed mixture. Stir in rolled oats, oven-popped rice cereal, and coconut. Form into small balls and place on greased cooky sheet; flatten with fork; bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Yield: About 6 dozen cookies depending on size.

Orange-Flake Drop Cookies

⅓ cup fat
½ cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons orange juice
½ ttablespoon grated orange rind
1 cup bran flakes or wheat flake

Cream fat and add sugar gradually. Add egg slowly to creamed mixture. Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt. Add dry ingredients alternately with orange juice to creamed mixture. Stir in orange rind and cereal flakes. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto well-greased cooky sheet. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 15 minutes. Yield: About 2½ dozen cookies, 2 inches in diameter.

Orange Butter Icing

1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1 tablespoon orange juice
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon melted butter
1 tablespoon cream

Combine ingredients. Beat until mixture is of spreading consistency. Yield: Icing for 2½ dozen cookies.

Blast furnace construction costs have more than doubled since 1933.

Breakfast, the most important meal of the day, is one meal that isn't putting a strain on the pocketbook in these days of food budget worries. A good breakfast can be the thriftiest meal of the day. At the same time, it's a food combination that finds its way to the table with only a few minutes of preparation.

Serving an economical main dish lowers the cost of any meal, including breakfast. That's one reason for the breakfast-table popularity of a bowl of cereal and milk, a main dish that costs barely four cents.

In this one easy dish, you get just the food energy you need after the 10 to 14-hour fast since dinner. Also, you get top-quality protein, which children need for growing, and adults need for upkeep and repair. Then, too, there is vitamin A for growth and health, as well as to help keep your eyes and vision clear, and your skin in good condition.

The B vitamins help keep your appetite and nervous system healthy. Also, this dish gives you food energy and important minerals for building good bones and teeth.

Variety in the breakfast menu is a must to keep morning appetites sharp, and it's easy to vary the cereal every day. Chopped dried fruits are especially good served on hot cereals, or stirred into the cereal in the last minute or so of cooking. A ring of dates makes today's cereal bowl of farina a tasty and appetizing main dish. The fruit is orange slices, with sweet rolls, butter, and milk to drink.

Try Cereal Hot Breads

Suggestion one is to pep up any meal with hot breads. Suggestion two, make those breads with thrifty breakfast cereals. Here are two specially selected recipes for the purpose. One uses brown granular wheat cereal to make Golden Wheat Sticks. The other calls for whole bran and produces a rounded-top, tender-crusted Perfect Bran Muffin.

These breads will add color and variety to your meals. Too, the breakfast cereal makes a special thrifty contribution of vitamins, minerals, and protein.

When you bake Golden Wheat Sticks or Perfect Bran Muffins, make plenty so that for another meal you can split and toast them. Or, to reheat, sprinkle with a few drops of water, put in a paper bag and let warm in the oven.

A special recommendation is to serve these tasty breads for breakfast. They zestfully fill the bread section of a basic breakfast pattern which calls for fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter. To save morning time, measure the dry ingredients the night before.

Golden Wheat Sticks

¾ cup brown granlar wheat cereal, uncooked
1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 egg, beaten,
¾ cup milk
¼ cup melted butter or margarine

Combine cereal, flour, sugar, salt, and baking powder. Add egg and milk; mix. Stir in butter. Place in greased corn stick pans. Bake in hot oven (425-450°F.) about 25 to 30 minutes. Yield: 12 wheat sticks.

Perfect Bran Muffins

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons sugar
1 egg
¾ cup milk
1 cup whole bran
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt

Cream together butter and sugar, add egg and beat well. Stir in milk, then whole bran, and let soak about 10 minutes. Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt. Add to first mixture, stirring until dry ingredients are just moistened. Fill greased muffin pans, 2½x1¼ inches, ⅔ full. Make in moderately hot oven (400°F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Field: 12 muffins.

Easy-To-Make Dishes For Homemaker

Dishes that are easy to prepare, economical, and nutritious will be favorites in most homes this year, due to the increased demand on the homemaker's time and to the rise in the cost of living. This does not mean to deprive the family of the good food to which they are accustomed. There are dishes that meet these specifications and still give added enjoyment to the family meals.

Barbecued Luncheon Meat fits into this classification. It is economical, quick to make, nutritious, and tasty enough to be a main-dish favorite.

The recipes for Coffee Gingerbread and Taffy Pudding were developed for the busy homemaker whose family prefers genuinely good, homemade desserts. The dry ingredients may be mixed ahead of time and stored in the cupboard to use as needed.

Since the flavor of these dishes is determined by the kind of molasses used, it is important that a sweet, mild-flavored molasses be used for making them.

Here are recipes for delicious easy-to-make dishes that the budget-wise homemaker will appreciate.

Barbecued Luncheon Meat With Spaghetti

Two tablespoons butter or margarine, ½ cup chopped onion, 12-oz. can luncheon meat, 1 tablespoon unsulphured molasses, 6-oz. can tomato paste, 3 tablespoons vinegar, 3 tablespoons unsulphured molasses, 1 cup water, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 teaspoons dry mustard, ½ teaspoon black pepper, ½ to ¾ teaspoon chili powder, 1 garlic bud, ½ pound spaghetti, cooked.

Melt butter or margarine in a skillet. Add onions. Cut luncheon meat into 8 slices. Use the 1 tablespoon of molasses to spread thinly on both sides of all 8 slices of meat. Place in skillet; cook until meat is brown and onions are limp. Mix remaining ingredients; pour over meat and cook until thick. Place a serving of the cooked spaghetti on a plate; cover with sauce and 2 slices of meat. Yield: 4 servings.

Mock Apple Sauce Layer Cake

No. 2 can sweetened apple sauce, ½ cup unsulphured molasses, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 8 slices white bread.

Mix first three ingredients. Trim crust from bread; place two slices, end to end, on plate and cover with apple sauce mixture. Repeat until all bread and apple sauce have been used, having apple sauce as top layer. Chill. When ready to serve, cut in 1-inch slices. Serve plain or with whipped cream. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

With the last of Sunday's ham, make a tempting hot sandwich using enriched biscuit dough instead of bread. Make a well-seasoned ham mixture by mixing together 1¾ cups of ground, cooked ham (about ½ pound), 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 2 tablespoons dry mustard and 1 tablespoon of milk. Make your favorite drop biscuit dough, and spread half of it over bottom of greased 8x8x2 inch pan. Cover with ham mixture and spread remaining biscuit dough over meat. Bake in a hot over (450°F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Serve with creamed peas. Makes six servings.

Oatmeal Nut Bread

1½ cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon soda
½ cup broken nutmeats
2 eggs
¼ cup softened fat
1 cup buttermilk, or sour milk
1½ cups rolled oats

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and soda into mixing bowl. Add broken nutmeats. Place eggs, fat, half of milk, rolled oats and rest of milk in container of electric blender in that order. Cover container and turn on blender. Run until oats are finely cut, about 30 seconds, stopping blender and stirring down once after 15 seconds. Pour blended mixture over sifted flour mixture. Stir lightly until just mixed. Place batter in greased small loaf pan, 7 x 3½ inches, puhing well into corners. Bake in moderate oven, 350°F, until browned and done, about 1 hour. Turn out on wire rack to cool. Let stand overnight before slicing.

YIELD: 1 small loaf oatmeal nut bread.

Orange Bread

3 cups sifted flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup softened fat
1 egg
¾ cup milk
1 medium orange, diced
1 cup sugar

Sift flour, baking powder and salt into mixing bowl. Place fat, egg and milk in container of electric blender. Add unpeeled orange cut in about a dozen pieces, removing any large seeds, and the sugar. Cover container and turn on blender. Run until orange is finely divided, about 1 minute. Pour over sifted flour mixture. Mix just until barely moistened, as for muffin batter. Pour batter into greased long loaf pan, 12 x 3½ inches, or two loaf pans, 7 x 3½ inches. Bake in moderate oven, 350°F, until done, about 1 hour. Turn out on wire rack and let loaf cool on its side. Let stand overnight before slicing.

YIELD: One large loaf orange bread, or two small loaves.

Range-Oven May Be Used For Pork

In a covered frying-pan or in a casserole, versatile pork chops may be cooked either way. However, whether cooked on the range or in the oven, pork chops are prepared by the same method—by braising.

And whether cooking chops over a sweet potato and apple combination casserole, apple dressing or over scalloped corn or potatoes, they are first browned slowly in a frying-pan. Next, the chops are arranged over the casserole, the cover of the utensil closely fitted and the dish cooked in a 350° F. oven.

The correct top-of-range method is an identical procedure. When the chops are browned, the utensil is tightly covered so the chops can cook in moist heat for 45 minutes to 1 hour, depending upon their thickness.

As well as various cookery possibilities, there are various chops from which to choose. There are the popular center cut loin chops which many homemakers are sure to purchase. But for equally as flavorsome a choice as the center chops, homemakers may choose rib chops or the shoulder arm and blade slices which are actually steaks. These are all prepared by the braising method and may be used interchangeably for range top or oven cooking.

Pork Shoulder Rolls

4 pork arm steaks, cut ⅜ to ½ inch thick
¼ cup lard or drippings
¼ cup water
2 cups soft bread crumbs
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon sage
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
1 egg, beaten
Meat Stock or water

Combine bread crumbs, seasonings, onion, parsley, and egg. Add stock or water to make a slightly moist stuffing. Remove arm bones from steaks and spread stuffing on each steak. Roll and tie. Brown meat rolls in lard or drippings. Drain off all but 2 tablespoons drippings. Add ¼ cup water, cover and cook in a moderate oven (350° F.) or simmer on top of range 45 minutes to 1 hour, or until done. 4 servings.

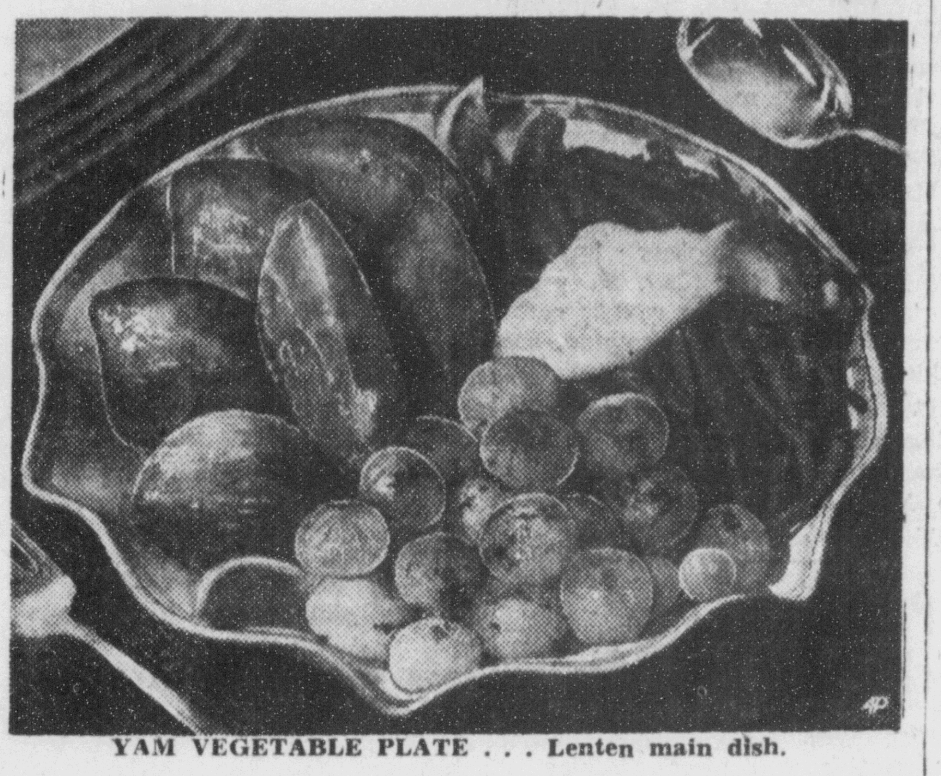
Food Budgeteers Should Consider The Yam

One of the substantial vegetables to lean heavily on right now, when vegetable plates make inexpensive main dishes for Lenten fare, is the sweet and satisfying yam. Besides furnishing body-fuel, golden yams from Louisiana are famed for their carotene or vitamin A content. Yams have vitamin C, too — the vitamin we need every day because our bodies do not store it. If you cook the yams in their own skins, very little of their vitamin C will be lost. They also provide some of the B complex vitamins — that large and important family. If you're regional food conscious, you might like to know that February 6 to 14 is Louisiana Yam Week.



YAM VEGETABLE PLATE . . . Lenten main dish.

Yams team up well with leafy greens such as spinach. Other candidates for a yam plate are cauliflower, eggplant, white turnips. Yams are delicious served with buttered white onions and snap beans; perfect with scalloped tomatoes, green peas, and (if your budget allows it) mushrooms.

For these vegetable plate combinations, serve yams baked, mashed, or lightly glazed rather than heavily candied. Adding lemon juice or lemon rind or both when you glaze them does wonders for their flavor. Orange, pineapple, and grapefruit are other fruits that go well with yams.

Here's a method for lightly glazing Louisiana yams that's easy and preserves their natural reddish-gold color. When I tried this recipe and served it with ham, a green salad with a tart dressing, and hot cheese biscuits, all the taste-testers applauded it.

Lemon Glazed Yams

Ingredients: 6 small to medium-sized yams (about 1¾ pounds), 1 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons water, ½ large lemon, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine.

Method: Boil yams in skins until tender — about 30 minutes. Meanwhile put sugar and water in 10-inch skillet; cut rind from lemon in thin strips and add with juice. Stir over low heat until sugar melts; boil slowly for 2 minutes, watching carefully. Stir in butter or margarine and set aside from heat. Peel and trim yams; cut in half lengthwise and arrange in syrup. Reheat, gently basting yams with syrup. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Any leftover syrup may be stored in refrigerator and used to sweeten plain mashed yams.

When you're baking yams and want to make them extra-delicious, add 1 teaspoon butter or margarine to the scooped-out pulp of each small to medium-sized yam along with any of the following combinations:

1. 1 teaspoon orange, grapefruit, lemon, or pineapple juice, dash of salt and cinnamon.
2. 1 tablespoon honey, ½ teaspoon lemon juice, dash of salt and nutmeg.
3. 1 tablespoon orange marmalade or pineapple preserves, ½ teaspoon lemon juice.
4. 1 tablespoon maple syrup, 1 tablespoon chopped peanuts.
5. 1 teaspoon white or 2 teaspoons brown sugar, 1 tablespoon cut raisins, 1 tablespoon shredded coconut.
6. 2 marshmallows cut in small pieces, 3 slices of canned peaches for top, dash of allspice.

Salmon For Inexpensive Dinner Dish

You'll want to try this unusual baked salmon pie, particularly if you are one of those who doesn't usually care for the bland smoothness of a creamed dish. A couple of tablespoons of granulated rice cereal are added to this sauce to give it texture as well as the needed thickness. A can of mushrooms complements the salmon flavor and helps make the recipe a pantry shelf stand-by.

Baked Salmon Pie

3 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 2 tablespoon minced green pepper, 3 oz. can chopped broiled mushrooms, 1⅛ cups milk, about 2 tablespoons granulated rice cereal, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, 8 oz. can salmon, 1 cup biscuit mix.

Melt butter in saucepan over moderate heat. Add onion and green pepper. Let cook about 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Drain mushrooms and add milk to mushroom broth to make 1½ cups. Add milk and broth to onion mixture and bring to boil. Sprinkle in granulated rice cereal, salt, pepper and mustard. Cook, stirring frequently, for about 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Drain salmon, adding any liquid to rice mixture. Flake salmon and arrange in shallow greased baking dish, about 10 x 16 inches. Sprinkle with the drained mushrooms. Carefully pour sauce over salmon and mushrooms. Prepare biscuit mix according to directions on package and roll out to fit top of the baking dish. Cut hole in center of crust to allow escape of steam. Bake in moderately hot oven, 375°F, until lightly browned and done, about 20 minutes. Serve immediately.

Yield: 4 servings.

Range-Oven May Be Used For Pork

In a covered frying-pan or in a casserole, versatile pork chops may be cooked either way. However, whether cooked on the range or in the oven, pork chops are prepared by the same method—by braising.

And whether cooking chops over a sweet potato and apple combination casserole, apple dressing or over scalloped corn or potatoes, they are first browned slowly in a frying-pan. Next, the chops are arranged over the casserole, the cover of the utensil closely fitted and the dish cooked in a 350° F. oven.

The correct top-of-range method is an identical procedure. When the chops are browned, the utensil is tightly covered so the chops can cook in moist heat for 45 minutes to 1 hour, depending upon their thickness.

As well as various cookery possibilities, there are various chops from which to choose. There are the popular center cut loin chops which many homemakers are sure to purchase. But for equally as flavorsome a choice as the center chops, homemakers may choose rib chops or the shoulder arm and blade slices which are actually steaks. These are all prepared by the braising method and may be used interchangeably for range top or oven cooking.

Pork Shoulder Rolls

4 pork arm steaks, cut ⅜ to ½ inch thick
¼ cup lard or drippings
¼ cup water
2 cups soft bread crumbs
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon sage
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
1 egg, beaten
Meat Stock or water

Combine bread crumbs, seasonings, onion, parsley, and egg. Add stock or water to make a slightly moist stuffing. Remove arm bones from steaks and spread stuffing on each steak. Roll and tie. Brown meat rolls in lard or drippings. Drain off all but 2 tablespoons drippings. Add ¼ cup water, cover and cook in a moderate oven (350° F.) or simmer on top of range 45 minutes to 1 hour, or until done. 4 servings.

The weight of a fowl after it is dressed is about 15 to 10 per cent ess.

Food Budgeteers Should Consider The Yam

One of the substantial vegetables to lean heavily on right now, when vegetable plates make inexpensive main dishes for Lenten fare, is the sweet and satisfying yam. Besides furnishing body-fuel, golden yams from Louisiana are famed for their carotene or vitamin A content. Yams have vitamin C, too — the vitamin we need every day because our bodies do not store it. If you cook the yams in their own skins, very little of their vitamin C will be lost. They also provide some of the B complex vitamins — that large and important family. If you're regional food conscious, you might like to know that February 6 to 14 is Louisiana Yam Week.

Yams team up well with leafy greens such as spinach. Other candidates for a yam plate are cauliflower, eggplant, white turnips. Yams are delicious served with buttered white onions and snap beans; perfect with scalloped tomatoes, green peas, and (if your budget allows it) mushrooms.

For these vegetable plate combinations, serve yams baked, mashed, or lightly glazed rather than heavily candied. Adding lemon juice or lemon rind or both when you glaze them does wonders for their flavor. Orange, pineapple, and grapefruit are other fruits that go well with yams.

Here's a method for lightly glazing Louisiana yams that's easy and preserves their natural reddish-gold color. When I tried this recipe and served it with ham, a green salad with a tart dressing, and hot cheese biscuits, all the taste-testers applauded it.

Lemon Glazed Yams

Ingredients: 6 small to medium-sized yams (about 1¾ pounds), 1 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons water, ½ large lemon, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine.

Method: Boil yams in skins until tender — about 30 minutes. Meanwhile put sugar and water in 10-inch skillet; cut rind from lemon in thin strips and add with juice. Stir over low heat until sugar melts; boil slowly for 2 minutes, watching carefully. Stir in butter or margarine and set aside from heat. Peel and trim yams; cut in half lengthwise and arrange in syrup. Reheat, gently basting yams with syrup. Makes 6 servings.

YAM VEGETABLE PLATE . . . Lenten main dish.

Note: Any leftover syrup may be stored in refrigerator and used to sweeten plain mashed yams.

When you're baking yams and want to make them extra-delicious, add 1 teaspoon butter or margarine to the scooped-out pulp of each small to medium-sized yam along with any of the following combinations:

1. 1 teaspoon orange, grapefruit, lemon, or pineapple juice, dash of salt and cinnamon.
2. 1 tablespoon honey, ½ teaspoon lemon juice, dash of salt and nutmeg.
3. 1 tablespoon orange marmalade or pineapple preserves, ½ teaspoon lemon juice.
4. 1 tablespoon maple syrup, 1 tablespoon chopped peanuts.
5. 1 teaspoon white or 2 teaspoons brown sugar, 1 tablespoon cut raisins, 1 tablespoon shredded coconut.
6. 2 marshmallows cut in small pieces, 3 slices of canned peaches for top, dash of allspice.

Salmon For Inexpensive Dinner Dish

You'll want to try this unusual baked salmon pie, particularly if you are one of those who doesn't usually care for the bland smoothness of a creamed dish. A couple of tablespoons of granulated rice cereal are added to this sauce to give it texture as well as the needed thickness. A can of mushrooms complements the salmon flavor and helps make the recipe a pantry shelf stand-by.

Baked Salmon Pie

3 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 2 tablespoon minced green pepper, 3 oz. can chopped broiled mushrooms, 1⅛ cups milk, about 2 tablespoons granulated rice cereal, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, 8 oz. can salmon, 1 cup biscuit mix.

Melt butter in saucepan over moderate heat. Add onion and green pepper. Let cook about 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Drain mushrooms and add milk to mushroom broth to make 1½ cups. Add milk and broth to onion mixture and bring to boil. Sprinkle in granulated rice cereal, salt, pepper and mustard. Cook, stirring frequently, for about 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Drain salmon, adding any liquid to rice mixture. Flake salmon and arrange in shallow greased baking dish, about 10 x 16 inches. Sprinkle with the drained mushrooms. Carefully pour sauce over salmon and mushrooms. Prepare biscuit mix according to directions on package and roll out to fit top of the baking dish. Cut hole in center of crust to allow escape of steam. Bake in moderately hot oven, 375°F, until lightly browned and done, about 20 minutes. Serve immediately.

Yield: 4 servings.

Add milk, spices and orange juice to pumpkin; blend well. Pour into pie shell. Bake in a hot oven, 450°F., for 15 minutes; then reduce heat to 300°F., and continue baking about 30 minutes longer, or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean. Cool on cake rack. Serves 6.

Cherry Tart

Cut five inch pastry squares with knife or pastry wheel. Snugly fit one square inside of each 2¾ muffin cup, letting corners stand upright. After pricking well, then chilling one-half hour, bake in hot oven of 450 degrees, F., 10 to 15 minutes, or until golden brown. Cool on wire cake rack. Carefully lift from pan.

County March Of Dimes Drive Nears $2,000 Mark

Incomplete returns from the 1951 March of Dimes drive in Allegany county show that approximately $1,750 has been contributed to date, according to campaign officials.

Mrs. Vivian L. Annan, executive secretary of the Allegany County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, yesterday said proceeds included $926 donated by theatre patrons here. The drive got underway January 15 and ended yesterday.

Cumberland Lodge No. 63, B. P. O. Elks, collected more than $250 at a dance held last night. Despite inclement weather and the absence of Russ Romero's Orchestra, about 75 couples attended. Music was furnished by Rudy Sullivan's ensemble.

John M. Robb, county campaign director, cooperated with Harry S. Tracy, head of the Elks Social Sessions Committee, in sponsoring the dance.

Last night a Square Dance Festival was held in the State Armory under sponsorship of the Potomac Park Improvement Association. Proceeds will go to the county polio fund.

Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion, Frostburg, has completed plans for a semi-formal dance tonight from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. in the Legion Home for the March of Dimes.

Mrs. Annan said coin containers will be collected at downtown stores, restaurants and other business establishments Saturday. Early reports from town and county campaign leaders are encouraging, she added.

Contributions this year are running about the same as in 1950 when $8,080 was collected, according to Mrs. Annan. The 1949 total was $9,100. No quota is set.

"Preface To Life" Scheduled For PTA

The West Side Parent-Teacher Association will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the school.

Following the business meeting a movie "Preface to a Life," showing the great influence parents play in the life of a child, will be shown with Mrs. A. J. Mirkin as commentator. Afterwards a discussion will be conducted with Mrs. Ross Decker as chairman.

Entertainment will include violin numbers by Wilton H. Syckes, accompanied by Mrs. Samuel Weatherholt.

Home room visitation is scheduled for 9 p. m. and refreshments will follow.

Mrs. Howard L. Tolson To Become Nurse Consultant

Mrs. Howard L. Tolson has been named nursing education coordinator and consultant to The Memorial Hospital School of Nursing and Frostburg State Teachers College.

She will continue as school nurse and health consultant at the college, and will conduct classes in anatomy and physiology and in the mathematics of drugs as she has done since joining the staff at the college three years ago.

In addition, she will do planning and follow-up work in connection with all classes for which the student nurses affiliate at the college, and will do some teaching at the Memorial Hospital in Cumberland.

Mrs. Tolson received a bachelor of science degree from the University of Wisconsin and later was graduated from the University of Wisconsin School of Nursing. She has done graduate work at Columbia University, New York. She was formerly superintendent of nurses and director of the School of Nursing at Memorial Hospital and during the war served as educational director there. While serving in this capacity, she instituted the affiliation between the School of Nursing and Frostburg State Teachers College.

15 Inductees Ordered To Report For Duty

Induction orders for 15 registrants of Draft Board Nos. 28 and 29 were received yesterday morning by P. Emmett Fahey, clerk co-ordinator.

The contingent will leave Queen City Station February 19 at 5:55 a. m. for Martinsburg, W. Va. Military posts will be assigned after the inductees are "screened."

Fahey said today's call was for 10 men in Board No. 28 and five in Board No. 29. Leaving will be:

Edward Kennison Lindsay, 316 Harrison Street; Bruce McKinley Smith, 206 Reynolds Street; Robert Leslie Smith, 306 Pulaski Street; Clarence Edward Stickley, 600 North Centre Street; Robert Eugene Grapes, 609 Woodlawn Terrace; Milton Simon Morrissey, 216 North Charles Street, Baltimore, formerly of 630 North Centre Street.

Richard William Schupfer, 708 Columbia Avenue; Cloyd Raymond True, 703 North Mechanic Street; Ronald Lawrence Sheally, Route 3, Valley Road; Ray Eugene DeHaven, 644 Columbia Avenue.

Joseph Franklin Radcliffe, Route 1, LaVale; William Lee Ward, Route 5, Cumberland; Yancey Hodges Shaffer, 539 Patterson Avenue; John Filmore Robinson, 686 Fayette Street, and Walter Henry Cecil, of Cresaptown.

Fifteen registrants of Board No. 27 will report Monday for induction at Martinsburg.

In answer to a number of queries, Fahey pointed out that college students, who have already received their physical examinations, are permitted under Selective Service regulations to enlist in any branch of the Armed Forces in June.

High school students, however, are prohibited from enlisting after they receive notice to report for physicals.

County March Of Dimes Drive Nears $2,000 Mark

Incomplete returns from the 1951 March of Dimes drive in Allegany county show that approximately $1,750 has been contributed to date, according to campaign officials.

Mrs. Vivian L. Annan, executive secretary of the Allegany County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, yesterday said proceeds included $926 donated by theatre patrons here. The drive got underway January 15 and ended yesterday.

Cumberland Lodge No. 63, B. P. O. Elks, collected more than $250 at a dance held last night. Despite inclement weather and the absence of Russ Romero's Orchestra, about 75 couples attended. Music was furnished by Rudy Sullivan's ensemble.

John M. Robb, county campaign director, cooperated with Harry S. Tracy, head of the Elks Social Sessions Committee, in sponsoring the dance.

Last night a Square Dance Festival was held in the State Armory under sponsorship of the Potomac Park Improvement Association. Proceeds will go to the county polio fund.

Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion, Frostburg, has completed plans for a semi-formal dance tonight from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. in the Legion Home for the March of Dimes.

Mrs. Annan said coin containers will be collected at downtown stores, restaurants and other business establishments Saturday. Early reports from town and county campaign leaders are encouraging, she added.

Contributions this year are running about the same as in 1950 when $8,080 was collected, according to Mrs. Annan. The 1949 total was $9,100. No quota is set.

"Preface To Life" Scheduled For PTA

The West Side Parent-Teacher Association will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the school.

Following the business meeting a movie "Preface to a Life," showing the great influence parents play in the life of a child, will be shown with Mrs. A. J. Mirkin as commentator. Afterwards a discussion will be conducted with Mrs. Ross Decker as chairman.

Entertainment will include violin numbers by Wilton H. Syckes, accompanied by Mrs. Samuel Weatherholt.

Home room visitation is scheduled for 9 p. m. and refreshments will follow.

Mrs. Howard L. Tolson To Become Nurse Consultant

Mrs. Howard L. Tolson has been named nursing education coordinator and consultant to The Memorial Hospital School of Nursing and Frostburg State Teachers College.

She will continue as school nurse and health consultant at the college, and will conduct classes in anatomy and physiology and in the mathematics of drugs as she has done since joining the staff at the college three years ago.

In addition, she will do planning and follow-up work in connection with all classes for which the student nurses affiliate at the college, and will do some teaching at the Memorial Hospital in Cumberland.

Mrs. Tolson received a bachelor of science degree from the University of Wisconsin and later was graduated from the University of Wisconsin School of Nursing. She has done graduate work at Columbia University, New York. She was formerly superintendent of nurses and director of the School of Nursing at Memorial Hospital and during the war served as educational director there. While serving in this capacity, she instituted the affiliation between the School of Nursing and Frostburg State Teachers College.

15 Inductees Ordered To Report For Duty

Induction orders for 15 registrants of Draft Board Nos. 28 and 29 were received yesterday morning by P. Emmett Fahey, clerk co-ordinator.

The contingent will leave Queen City Station February 19 at 5:55 a. m. for Martinsburg, W. Va. Military posts will be assigned after the inductees are "screened."

Fahey said today's call was for 10 men in Board No. 28 and five in Board No. 29. Leaving will be:

Edward Kennison Lindsay, 316 Harrison Street; Bruce McKinley Smith, 206 Reynolds Street; Robert Leslie Smith, 306 Pulaski Street; Clarence Edward Stickley, 600 North Centre Street; Robert Eugene Grapes, 609 Woodlawn Terrace; Milton Simon Morrissey, 216 North Charles Street, Baltimore, formerly of 630 North Centre Street.

Joseph Franklin Radcliffe, Route 1, LaVale; William Lee Ward, Route 5, Cumberland; Yancey Hodges Shaffer, 539 Patterson Avenue; John Filmore Robinson, 686 Fayette Street, and Walter Henry Cecil, of Cresaptown.

Fifteen registrants of Board No. 27 will report Monday for induction at Martinsburg.

In answer to a number of queries, Fahey pointed out that college students, who have already received their physical examinations, are permitted under Selective Service regulations to enlist in any branch of the Armed Forces in June.

High school students, however, are prohibited from enlisting after they receive notice to report for physicals.

LAMOTTA AND ROBINSON AGREE TO TERMS — Chairman Joe Triner (center) of the Illinois State Athletic Commission looks on at Chicago as Middleweight Champion Jake LaMotta (left) and Sugar Ray Robinson sign terms for their scheduled title bout in Chicago February 14. The commission granted LaMotta permission for an early weigh-in on the day of the fight. After a briefing by the commission, both fighters left for New York to complete their training.

Turnesa's 64 Leads Tucson Open Tourney

Three Tied For 2nd, One Stroke Off Pace

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 1 (AP) — Deadly approach shots today gave Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff, N. Y., the lead in the $10,000 Tucson Open Golf Tournament with a six-under-par 64 for the first 18 holes.

Iron shots put Turnesa, one of the five golfing brothers, within easy putting distance for birdies on six holes.

Three golfers were grouped a scant stroke back of the winner of the recent Havana Open. They are Bob Watson, White Plains, N. Y., Ralph Blomquist, Glendale, Calif., and Jack Burke, Jr., Houston, Texas. Each turned in cards of 65.

The easy par 70, 6,402-yard El Rio Golf and Country Club Course lived up to its reputation. Thirty-five golfers broke par and another 13 finished in regulation figures.

The closest big name golfers to the leader are Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago and Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn. They are in a 10-way tie for 14th place with scores of 68. Grouped with them are Jimmy Clark, Laguna Beach, Calif., and Vic Ghezzi, Inwood, L. I., N. Y.

Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., the reigning PGA champ and defending champion here, ran into trouble on the first nine and went two over par. He picked up one stroke on the back nine to finish with 71.

Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., had an uphill fight after going three over par on the first four holes. He took a five on the par-three fourth. He partly recovered to finish with a 71 and could still do plenty of damage.

The big jam right behind the four leaders includes John Barnum, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y.; Jay Hebert, Long Island, N. Y.; and Ed Furgol, Royal Oak, Mich. They are four under par with 66's.

Trailing them by one stroke are Jim Deal, New York City; Dave Douglas, Newark, Del.; Bob Gadja, Detroit, Mich.; George Harrington, Medford, Ore.; and Max Evans, Detroit.

National League Marks Birthday

NEW YORK, Feb. 1—(INS)—The 75th anniversary of the National League will be marked in New York tomorrow by special ceremonies and —it is hoped—a special birthday present in the form of a "green light" message from President Harry S. Truman.

President Ford Frick of the National League will read Truman's congratulatory message during a half-hour ceremony at the Broadway Central, site of the league's founding in 1876.

Among those present will be 16 members of Baseball's Hall of Fame, including the newly-elected Mel Ott and Jimmy Foxx. On hand, too, will be Mayor Vincent Impellitteri of New York, who will dedicate a plaque commemorating the founding of the league.

Those hall-of-famers to be present tomorrow will be Fred Clarke, Ty Cobb, Mickey Cochrane, Eddie Collins, Hugh Duffy, Charlie Gehringer, Rogers Hornsby, Carl Hubbell, Kid Nichols, George Sisler, Tris Speaker, Pie Traynor, Ed Walsh, Cy Young, Foxx and Ott.

Ott will speak briefly for the Hall-of-Famers.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—The Washington Nats signed four more ballplayers today, bringing the total under contract to 13.

Central League Will Operate

DETROIT, Feb. 1 (AP)—The Central Baseball League announced today that it had overcome all its difficulties and would operate in 1951.

President T. J. Halligan said the league would have at least six teams and might add two more before opening day on April 25.

"We have drawn up a schedule including four Michigan teams—Flint, Grand Rapids, Saginaw and Muskegon—plus Dayton, O., and Charleston, W. Va." he said.

Halligan disclosed that both Youngstown, O., and Evansville, Ind., have expressed a desire to join the league. "We have decided to give them 40 days to make up their minds," he explained.

The league head added, "if they decide to come in, we can revise the schedule easily to fit an eight team league."

Keyser Gets Big Game

By C. V. BURNS

Thirteen years have elapsed since an Allegany High School basketball team finished the season with a record under the .500 mark. That was in 1938 when the Campers won 11 and lost 12.

The present AHS team has won five and lost eight. Eight, incidentally, represents the greatest number of losses for an AHS team since 1938. The 1942 quint dropped eight out of 23 while the 1949 aggregation lost eight of 22.

Many Allegany followers were hopeful that the present team would give Coach Walter L. Bowers 500 wins in his silver anniversary year as tutor of AHS teams. Ten more victories would do the trick. This would mean that the Blue and White would have to cop its eight remaining regularly scheduled games and bag a couple states games—that's if they get that far. This is a large order. Bowers' teams have won 490 games since he took over the reins in 1927.

Workman Gets 26 Points As W. V. U. Beats Generals

LEXINGTON, Va., Feb. 1 (AP) — West Virginia University's overall speed and Mark Workman's 26-point performance steered the Mountaineers to an 88-70 basketball conquest of Washington and Lee tonight.

In rolling to its seventh Southern Conference decision in 10 games, West Virginia threw up a defensive arrangement that held the losers' Jay Handlan to five field goals and otherwise kept the Generals' attack off balance.

Washington and Lee, which went down to its 13th loss in 16 games and suffered its 10th loop loss as against only one triumph, succeeded in controlling the play for the first 10 minutes.

At that stage, however, Dave Steindler tossed in a fielder to put the Mountaineers ahead 21-19 and they never were headed. West Virginia led 48-31 at halftime, then never let the Generals get closer than 14 points in the second 20-minute stretch.

Workman ran his point total for the year to 469 points in 18 contests for an average of 25.5 as Jim Sottile and Kenny Alessi fed the ball to him beautifully.

Handlan led Washington and Lee with 22 points, making good 12 of 13 free throws.

Abuse From Fans Causing Arbiters To Shun Gardens

Condition Serious, Dave Fawcett Says

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 1 (AP)—It's getting so basketball officials calling the shots at Pittsburgh's Gardens feel like Christians in a Roman arena full of lions.

Or so they say.

Abuse from fans is getting so bad that arbiters balk at handling the assignments. Duquesne and Carnegie Tech play at the Gardens for lack of adequate gyms of their own.

Commissioner Dave Fawcett, who assigns officials for Pittsburgh district games, said from his hospital sick bed that the Gardens situation is serious. He coupled the statement with an appeal to fans for better sportsmanship.

Asked To Be Relieved

Fawcett said several men assigned to the Gardens have asked to be relieved, adding:

"I'm having trouble putting the men I want into the Gardens they don't care for the reception there. Only recently one of my best men was the target for a pop bottle. On another occasion someone tried to trip him."

Fawcett, who listens to game broadcasts, also said:

'I' was disheartened by the tremendous booing when Villanova players were awarded free throws in the Duquesne game."

Coaches came in for some criticism from the commissioner, who declared:

"There's entirely too much attention directed toward the officials, who are the scapegoats for everything that goes on. Several coaches have been immoderate in their statements and, in some cases, newsmen and radio announcers have joined fans in adding fuel to the fire."

Dudey Moore Gripes

When Cincinnati cut short Duquesne' winning streak at 10 games, Coach Dudey Moore of the Pittsburghers let out a blast at officials. He said:

"The officials were leaning backward to help Cincinnati. They were not doing it dishonestly, just unconsciously.

"We've got as good officials around here as anywhere. But they have been influenced by the newspapers and the radio, both of which have been criticising them. So now they take it out on us by giving the other team every break."

Fawcett, apparently, doesn't see it that way. He told newsmen that "everyone realizes what a tough assignment a basketball official has these days."

He said they should not be subjected to second guessing.

The commissioner said also:

"The fans' abuse is having a bad effect on several of my men. Red Mihalik, for instance, is near a nervous breakdown and wishes to curtail his schedule."

Four Sox Unsigned

CHICAGO, Feb. 1 (AP)—Only four Chicago White Sox players remained unsigned for 1951 today with the inking of a contract by rookie outfielder Bill Higdon.

Still to come to terms are first sackers Ed Robinson and Gordon Goldsberry, catcher Gus Niarhos and outfielder Dave Philley.

Unbeaten Fort Hill Quint Will Invade Martinsburg

Vikings Test Jackets Tonight; A-B To Play Catamounts In Keyser

The 61st meeting of LaSalle and Allegany on SS. Peter and Paul court and the Martinsburg-Fort Hill game at the West Virginians' gym top tonight's basketball bill in the tri-state area.

Victorious over AHS at Campobello, January 5, by the score of 35-34, Art Slocum's Explorers believe they can do it again tonight on their home floor. Both teams have played in-and-out basketball this season and the game appears to be a toss-up.

LaSalle is playing .500 ball in 14 games while Allegany has won five and lost eight.

The all-time series score is 39 wins to 21 in favor of Allegany. The starting time is 8 o'clock. "Eck" Miers and Eddie Diehl will officiate.

Will 13th Be Unlucky?

Undefeated Fort Hill plays its 13th game of the season tonight and it could be unlucky, yet the Sentinels are favored to continue their winning streak at the expense of John Cobourne's Martinsburg Bulldogs. "Bobby" Cavanaugh's club muzzled the Canines here to the tune of 50-39.

Final of Tucker Series

The final game of the Tucker County championship series is set for tonight with Thomas billed to play the Wildcats at Davis. Parsons leads in the series 3-1 and Davis, now 2-1, can tie it up with a victory tonight. A win for Thomas would net Parsons the crown.

Friendsville, upset victor over Accident, is scheduled to play at Oakland High School tonight in a Garrett County League game. Accident visits Kitzmiller.

Other scholastic contests find Monongalia High of Morgantown, W. Va., playing Howard High of Piedmont on the Keyser High School court, Hedgesville at Paw Paw, Capon Bridge at Berkeley Springs, Romney at Charles Town and the Berlin FFA at Hyndman High.

Battlers At Keyser

Defeated in their last three starts by Westinghouse, Steubenville and West Liberty, Potomac State's Catamounts return to the home court at Keyser tonight to engage Alderson-Broaddus College of Philippi in a West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference game. Coach Lough's team has a 4-4 record in the state circuit and an overall record of 8-8 after losing two road games this week. The Battlers have won six and lost six in the conference.

Don Moran Hero In Terp Victory

Westernport Cager's Goal Tops Davidson

DAVIDSON, N. C., Feb. 1 (AP) — Favored Maryland had its hands full here tonight before emerging with 57-55 overtime Southern Conference basketball victory over Davidson.

Don Moran, 6-3 sophomore center from Westernport, Md., dropped in a set shot from quarter court as the buzzer ending the overtime sounded, and that was the margin.

Davidson led 35-21 at halftime. At the end of regulation time the count was 53-53.

Davidson moved ahead 55-53 in the overtime on a basket by Bob Graham, sophomore reserve forward. Then guard Jim Koffenberger put in a layup for Maryland to tie it and set the stage for Moran's winning effort. Moran's heave was in the air as the buzzer sounded.

Brawley scored 17 points for Maryland. Manis had 13 and Moran nine.

Turnesa's 64 Leads Tucson Open Tourney

Three Tied For 2nd, One Stroke Off Pace

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 1 (AP) — Deadly approach shots today gave Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff, N. Y., the lead in the $10,000 Tucson Open Golf Tournament with a six-under-par 64 for the first 18 holes.

Iron shots put Turnesa, one of the five golfing brothers, within easy putting distance for birdies on six holes.

Three golfers were grouped a scant stroke back of the winner of the recent Havana Open. They are Bob Watson, White Plains, N. Y., Ralph Blomquist, Glendale, Calif., and Jack Burke, Jr., Houston, Texas. Each turned in cards of 65.

The easy par 70, 6,402-yard El Rio Golf and Country Club Course lived up to its reputation. Thirty-five golfers broke par and another 13 finished in regulation figures.

The closest big name golfers to the leader are Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago and Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn. They are in a 10-way tie for 14th place with scores of 68. Grouped with them are Jimmy Clark, Laguna Beach, Calif., and Vic Ghezzi, Inwood, L. I., N. Y.

Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., the reigning PGA champ and defending champion here, ran into trouble on the first nine and went two over par. He picked up one stroke on the back nine to finish with 71.

Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., had an uphill fight after going three over par on the first four holes. He took a five on the par-three fourth. He partly recovered to finish with a 71 and could still do plenty of damage.

The big jam right behind the four leaders includes John Barnum, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y.; Jay Hebert, Long Island, N. Y.; and Ed Furgol, Royal Oak, Mich. They are four under par with 66's.

Trailing them by one stroke are Jim Deal, New York City; Dave Douglas, Newark, Del.; Bob Gadja, Detroit, Mich.; George Harrington, Medford, Ore.; and Max Evans, Detroit.

Among those present will be 16 members of Baseball's Hall of Fame, including the newly-elected Mel Ott and Jimmy Foxx. On hand, too, will be Mayor Vincent Impellitteri of New York, who will dedicate a plaque commemorating the founding of the league.

Those hall-of-famers to be present tomorrow will be Fred Clarke, Ty Cobb, Mickey Cochrane, Eddie Collins, Hugh Duffy, Charlie Gehringer, Rogers Hornsby, Carl Hubbell, Kid Nichols, George Sisler, Tris Speaker, Pie Traynor, Ed Walsh, Cy Young, Foxx and Ott.

Ott will speak briefly for the Hall-of-Famers.

Central League Will Operate

DETROIT, Feb. 1 (AP)—The Central Baseball League announced today that it had overcome all its difficulties and would operate in 1951.

President T. J. Halligan said the league would have at least six teams and might add two more before opening day on April 25.

"We have drawn up a schedule including four Michigan teams—Flint, Grand Rapids, Saginaw and Muskegon—plus Dayton, O., and Charleston, W. Va." he said.

Halligan disclosed that both Youngstown, O., and Evansville, Ind., have expressed a desire to join the league. "We have decided to give them 40 days to make up their minds," he explained.

The league head added, "if they decide to come in, we can revise the schedule easily to fit an eight team league."

Keyser Gets Big Game

By C. V. BURNS

Thirteen years have elapsed since an Allegany High School basketball team finished the season with a record under the .500 mark. That was in 1938 when the Campers won 11 and lost 12.

The present AHS team has won five and lost eight. Eight, incidentally, represents the greatest number of losses for an AHS team since 1938. The 1942 quint dropped eight out of 23 while the 1949 aggregation lost eight of 22.

Many Allegany followers were hopeful that the present team would give Coach Walter L. Bowers 500 wins in his silver anniversary year as tutor of AHS teams. Ten more victories would do the trick. This would mean that the Blue and White would have to cop its eight remaining regularly scheduled games and bag a couple states games—that's if they get that far. This is a large order. Ralph Thuss, Sr., announces that the City Recreation Department would like to hear from persons who are interested in managing teams in the Little League and the Hot Stove League this year.

There will be 12 teams in the Little League for boys ranging fro 9 to 12 years. The Hot Stove League will comprise eight teams made up of boys 13 and 14 years old.

The Hot Stove League is something new here. The Little League operated last season and several who managed teams are not returning.

Ralph says hundreds of youngsters have filed applications for both leagues.

Workman Gets 26 Points As W. V. U. Beats Generals

LEXINGTON, Va., Feb. 1 (AP) — West Virginia University's overall speed and Mark Workman's 26-point performance steered the Mountaineers to an 88-70 basketball conquest of Washington and Lee tonight.

In rolling to its seventh Southern Conference decision in 10 games, West Virginia threw up a defensive arrangement that held the losers' Jay Handlan to five field goals and otherwise kept the Generals' attack off balance.

Washington and Lee, which went down to its 13th loss in 16 games and suffered its 10th loop loss as against only one triumph, succeeded in controlling the play for the first 10 minutes.

At that stage, however, Dave Steindler tossed in a fielder to put the Mountaineers ahead 21-19 and they never were headed. West Virginia led 48-31 at halftime, then never let the Generals get closer than 14 points in the second 20-minute stretch.

Workman ran his point total for the year to 469 points in 18 contests for an average of 25.5 as Jim Sottile and Kenny Alessi fed the ball to him beautifully.

Handlan led Washington and Lee with 22 points, making good 12 of 13 free throws.

Abuse From Fans Causing Arbiters To Shun Gardens

Condition Serious, Dave Fawcett Says

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 1 (AP)—It's getting so basketball officials calling the shots at Pittsburgh's Gardens feel like Christians in a Roman arena full of lions.

Or so they say.

Abuse from fans is getting so bad that arbiters balk at handling the assignments. Duquesne and Carnegie Tech play at the Gardens for lack of adequate gyms of their own.

Commissioner Dave Fawcett, who assigns officials for Pittsburgh district games, said from his hospital sick bed that the Gardens situation is serious. He coupled the statement with an appeal to fans for better sportsmanship.

Asked To Be Relieved

Fawcett said several men assigned to the Gardens have asked to be relieved, adding:

"I'm having trouble putting the men I want into the Gardens they don't care for the reception there. Only recently one of my best men was the target for a pop bottle. On another occasion someone tried to trip him."

Fawcett, who listens to game broadcasts, also said:

'I' was disheartened by the tremendous booing when Villanova players were awarded free throws in the Duquesne game."

Coaches came in for some criticism from the commissioner, who declared:

"There's entirely too much attention directed toward the officials, who are the scapegoats for everything that goes on. Several coaches have been immoderate in their statements and, in some cases, newsmen and radio announcers have joined fans in adding fuel to the fire."

Dudey Moore Gripes

When Cincinnati cut short Duquesne' winning streak at 10 games, Coach Dudey Moore of the Pittsburghers let out a blast at officials. He said:

"The officials were leaning backward to help Cincinnati. They were not doing it dishonestly, just unconsciously.

"We've got as good officials around here as anywhere. But they have been influenced by the newspapers and the radio, both of which have been criticising them. So now they take it out on us by giving the other team every break."

Fawcett, apparently, doesn't see it that way. He told newsmen that "everyone realizes what a tough assignment a basketball official has these days."

He said they should not be subjected to second guessing.

The commissioner said also:

"The fans' abuse is having a bad effect on several of my men. Red Mihalik, for instance, is near a nervous breakdown and wishes to curtail his schedule."

Four Sox Unsigned

CHICAGO, Feb. 1 (AP)—Only four Chicago White Sox players remained unsigned for 1951 today with the inking of a contract by rookie outfielder Bill Higdon.

Still to come to terms are first sackers Ed Robinson and Gordon Goldsberry, catcher Gus Niarhos and outfielder Dave Philley.

Unbeaten Fort Hill Quint Will Invade Martinsburg

Vikings Test Jackets Tonight; A-B To Play Catamounts In Keyser

The 61st meeting of LaSalle and Allegany on SS. Peter and Paul court and the Martinsburg-Fort Hill game at the West Virginians' gym top tonight's basketball bill in the tri-state area.

Victorious over AHS at Campobello, January 5, by the score of 35-34, Art Slocum's Explorers believe they can do it again tonight on their home floor. Both teams have played in-and-out basketball this season and the game appears to be a toss-up.

LaSalle is playing .500 ball in 14 games while Allegany has won five and lost eight.

The all-time series score is 39 wins to 21 in favor of Allegany. The starting time is 8 o'clock. "Eck" Miers and Eddie Diehl will officiate.

Will 13th Be Unlucky?

Undefeated Fort Hill plays its 13th game of the season tonight and it could be unlucky, yet the Sentinels are favored to continue their winning streak at the expense of John Cobourne's Martinsburg Bulldogs. "Bobby" Cavanaugh's club muzzled the Canines here to the tune of 50-39.

Ridgeley steps out of the Potomac Valley Conference to engage Beall High of Frostburg tonight at 8 on the Ridgeley court. Ralph Poling's Blackhawks won the opener in Frostburg, 41-38, and should repeat tonight.

Moorefield's Yellow Jackets go after their 12th straight in the P. V. C. when they tackle Walt Owens' Petersburg High Vikings at Petersburg tonight. In other conference tilts Fort Ashby plays at Piedmont and Mathias is host to Franklin High.

Final of Tucker Series

The final game of the Tucker County championship series is set for tonight with Thomas billed to play the Wildcats at Davis. Parsons leads in the series 3-1 and Davis, now 2-1, can tie it up with a victory tonight. A win for Thomas would net Parsons the crown.

Friendsville, upset victor over Accident, is scheduled to play at Oakland High School tonight in a Garrett County League game. Accident visits Kitzmiller.

Other scholastic contests find Monongalia High of Morgantown, W. Va., playing Howard High of Piedmont on the Keyser High School court, Hedgesville at Paw Paw, Capon Bridge at Berkeley Springs, Romney at Charles Town and the Berlin FFA at Hyndman High.

Battlers At Keyser

Defeated in their last three starts by Westinghouse, Steubenville and West Liberty, Potomac State's Catamounts return to the home court at Keyser tonight to engage Alderson-Broaddus College of Philippi in a West Virginia Intercollegiate Conference game. Coach Lough's team has a 4-4 record in the state circuit and an overall record of 8-8 after losing two road games this week. The Battlers have won six and lost six in the conference.

Beagle Club Meets

The Allegany Beagle Club will hold a meeting at the Woodmen of the World building tonight at 8 o'clock. Plans for the club's derby trial will be outlined.

Don Moran Hero In Terp Victory

Westernport Cager's Goal Tops Davidson

DAVIDSON, N. C., Feb. 1 (AP) — Favored Maryland had its hands full here tonight before emerging with 57-55 overtime Southern Conference basketball victory over Davidson.

Don Moran, 6-3 sophomore center from Westernport, Md., dropped in a set shot from quarter court as the buzzer ending the overtime sounded, and that was the margin.

Davidson led 35-21 at halftime. At the end of regulation time the count was 53-53.

Davidson moved ahead 55-53 in the overtime on a basket by Bob Graham, sophomore reserve forward. Then guard Jim Koffenberger put in a layup for Maryland to tie it and set the stage for Moran's winning effort. Moran's heave was in the air as the buzzer sounded.

Brawley scored 17 points for Maryland. Manis had 13 and Moran nine.

Colonials Will Play Georgia, Kentucky

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP) — George Washington University announced today that its football team will play Georgia and Kentucky next year.

Marta Scores By Length In Hialeah Race

Beats Six Candidates For Black Helen 'Cap

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 1 (AP) — A crowd of 15,284 saw Woodvale Farm's Marta score a front running victory in the featured Orange Blossom Purse at Hialeah Park today. Favored at $5.70, the daughter of Haltal led home seven other fillies and mares in this test for candidates for the Black Helen Handicap.

Marta, third in her first start this winter, was favorably weighted at 105 pounds and carried Warren Mehrtens past the judges a length before W. J. Lenihan's September. A. R. Evans' Evanstep was third, about three lengths farther away, while H. W. Fincher's Danger Ahead was a non-threatening fourth.

Sixth to finish in the $4,000 overnight event of seven furlongs was Ogden Phipps' Busanda, the Alabama heroine of 1950. She carried top-weight of 120 pounds and was making her first start of the winter.

Marta covered the distance on a fast track in 1.24 4-5. She broke in stride, opened at once and after putting Danger Ahead away turning for home, had enough in reserve to thwart the rally of September. The latter was rated superbly but was not quite good enough under pressure. Evanstep never really proved troublesome, nor were any of the others.

Marta herself is not a candidate for the $15,000 Black Helen on March 2. But she did turn back in today's race six that were eligible for Hialeah's most important fixture for fillies and mares.

Ken Church, by virtue of riding two winners, again assumed the leadership for Hialeah's riding title, moving two markers ahead of Hedley Woodhouse, who came through with four winners on Wednesday.

The daily double was worth $26.40 to a total of 2,466 ticket-holders. It was formed by Clara Patricia, $6.80, winner of the opener, and Freedom Wins, $5.00 choice in the second.

about decide the Potomac Valley Conference championship — if Moorefield wins.

Johnny Paugh's club has an 11-0 record, including a 53-37 win over Keyser. John Shelton's KHS outfit boasts an 8-1 record.

Each school plays 16 games in the conference. Petersburg, Ridgeley, Piedmont, Keyser and Mathias remain on the Moorefield schedule. Keyser must play Petersburg, Moorefield, Davis, Piedmont, Ridgeley, Parsons and Davis in that order.

Paul Oberhaus has played his last game with the Cumberland Spas and the fans who have followed the local pro teams for the past five seasons will be sorry to see the tall, willowy push-shot artist leave the ranks for Phoenix, Arizona.

Oberhaus typifies the "Joe Basket" of the present era because he seldom shoots with both hands whether it be from the field or the foul line. He has the habit of flinging one-handers, left or right, from any position on the court and his shooting at times bordered on the sensational.

Paul gave the game all he had. The guy was really a race horse and seemed to have remarkable stamina.

Oberhaus started out with the Amvets, an independent team in 1946-47, played with the Dukes the past three years and the Spas this season.

Over five seasons Paul played in 148 of the 157 games in which the local pro teams participated and scored 1,357 points.

He's the type of gentleman-athlete we can't help but admire.

Peter J. "Bunny" Buntag of Pittsburgh called the other morning to spread the glad tidings that "Skeets" Starkey looked great in his first two fights in New York in which he won via the K. O. routs.

The Wiley Ford belter who has chalked up 47 wins in 60 bouts since he made his debut in the amateurs here in 1946, won his first Gotham match last Saturday at the Ridgewood Grove Club and not at Long Island City as was stated in the first report we received. His second match was at the White Plains County Center. These places are among the proving grounds for boxers trying to crash Madison Square Garden.

In the February issue of The Ring magazine — boxing's bible — Starkey's name is listed among the leading Class B light heavyweights.

Louis Reported Physically Fit

Fights Agramonte Wednesday Night

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 1 (AP) — Joe Louis was reported today to be in "remarkable physical condition" for his ten-round fight with Omelio Agramonte of Cuba at Miami Stadium Wednesday night.

Dr. James J. McCormick of the City Boxing Commission examined Louis and Agramonte at the official weighing ceremonies and said he "couldn't emphasize too strongly" that the former heavyweight champion has worked himself into excellent shape.

"He has taken off all the superfluous flesh evident last year," Dr. McCormick said, "and his blood pressure would be normal for a man 21 years old."

Louis weighed in at 208½ pounds, Agrmonte at 193. The Cuban was reported in "good condition."

Louis weighed 218 when he lost to Ezzard Charles last year. He was down to 210¼ when he recently knocked out Freddie Beshore.

When he was advised of Dr. McCormick's remark about his blood pressure, Louis chuckled and said: "I'm still 36."

Joe was scheduled to go four rounds today with his sparring partners and Agramonte planned to box three rounds. The pair will continue daily sparring sessions through Monday.

SPORTS GRILL

Pat Robinson
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 (INS)—It occurs to us that baseball still is the cheapest buy in sports and that it gives more for your greatly depreciated and hard-earned buck than any other.

Baseball admissions have risen little in half a century but the cost of operating has soared beyond the wildest dreams of the old-time club owner.

You still can buy a bleacher seat for 60 cents or a grandstand seat for $1.25 to see either the Yanks or Giants.

Not many years ago the total payroll of some major league clubs was less than the $100,000 the Yanks pay Joe DiMaggio or that the Red Sox pay Ted Williams.

We will venture a step further and say one or two payrolls were not as much as the $70,000 the Yanks pay their four coaches.

The Yanks' payroll now exceeds $600,000 but in addition labor and maintenance costs have risen as well as transportation, hotel and food costs when traveling.

Let's take a quick glance at some of the freight the fan has to pay for other sports, amateur and professional.

Tennis prices at Forest Hills last fall ran from $1.80 to $3.50. The pros, playing in Madison Square Garden, charged from $2 to $8. And bear in mind that for any of the cheap seats in the Garden you are away up with the rafters just under the roof.

College football at Columbia, Princeton, Yale and other seats of learning in the east generally run from $1.80 for a seat behind the goal posts to $3.60. The professionals run from $1.25 to $5.

You might suppose that track and field meets are cheap but all the big indoor meets at the Garden are scaled from $1.25 to $5.

Basketball, with or without a "fix" scandal, runs from $1 to $3.50. It is worth noting, too, that although the Garden seats 15,000, there are only about 3,000 of the cheapest seats available and you must have the mountain-scaling ability of a goat to climb up to them.

The Garden can hold 20,000 for a fight because seats are placed on the floor. Prices have dropped from the absurd high of a few years back and the promoters now ask only $1.50 to $8 to see a lot of stumblebums in action.

Of course, if there is any kind of a title involved, prices are jacked up.

Hockey prices run from 70 cents to $4.50, and the 70 cents would be an overcharge for the best seats if you had to watch the New York Rangers or the Chicago Blackhawks in action.

As for racing, all New York tracks charge $1.60 for grandstand seats and $4.30 for the clubhouse. The cheaper seats are better than the clubhouse section but if you must feel exclusive—or snobbish—the racing people make you pay for the privilege.

And, remember, that except for basketball, you never get a doubleheader for your dough as you do in baseball.

While most birds are able to move only one, both mandibles of the parrot's beak are movable and are endowed with considerable muscular power.

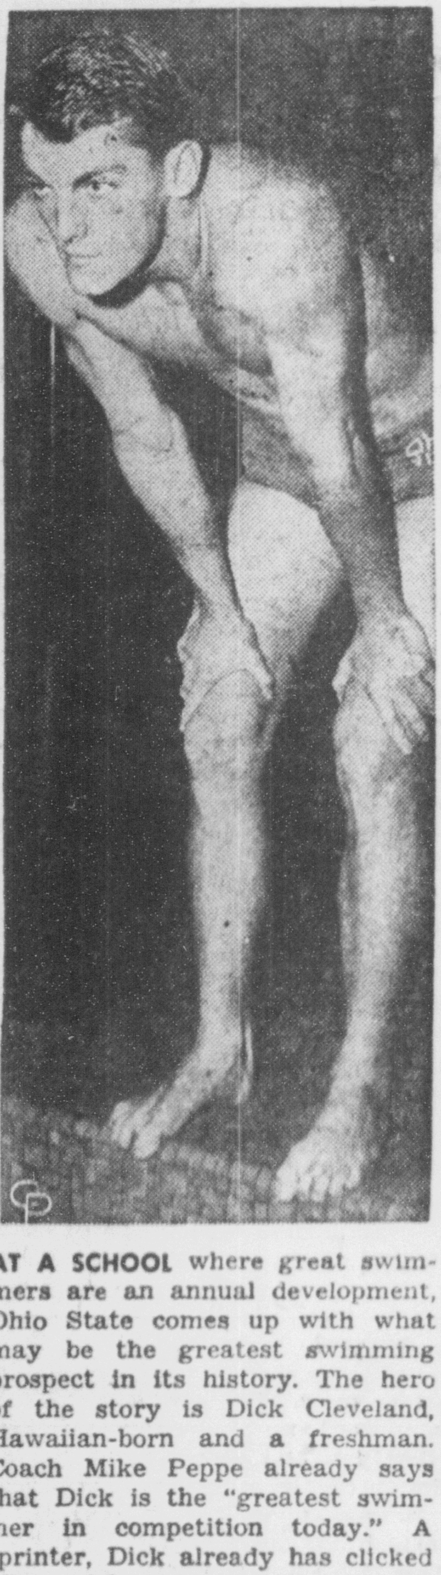
Just Like a Fish



AT A SCHOOL where great swimmers are an annual development, Ohio State comes up with what may be the greatest swimming prospect in its history. The hero of the story is Dick Cleveland, Hawaiian-born and a freshman. Coach Mike Peppe already says that Dick is the "greatest swimmer in competition today." A sprinter, Dick already has clicked off a :49.8 century, just one-tenth of a second over Alan Ford's phenomenal record. (International)

Mlkvy Holds Scoring Lead

Owl's Average Is 28, White's Total 464

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 (AP)—West Virginia's towering Mark Workman is closing in on Bill Mlkvy and Sherman White in the keen race for the sharpshooter's title among the nation's major college basketball players.

A 50-point splurge—highest one-point total this season for a major team's player—against Salem last Saturday zoomed Workman's average to 26.3 points through games of Jan. 27. The N.C.C.A. Service Bureau's records through last Saturday showed Mlkvy of Temple still in front with a 28 point average with White, of Long Island, right on his heels with 27.3.

Workman, a nimble 6-8 center, hit 22 of 27 field goal attempts against Salem and his hot shooting vaulted him from 15th to fourth in the bucket department with a 51 per cent average on two-point tries. Cincinnati's Larry Imburgia, out with a bad knee, leads in field goal shooting with a 62.2 mark.

Jay Handlan of Washington and Lee held on to his foul shooting lead with an 87.3 average. He has connected on 103 of 118 charity tosses.

Marta Scores By Length In Hialeah Race

Beats Six Candidates For Black Helen 'Cap

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 1 (AP) — A crowd of 15,284 saw Woodvale Farm's Marta score a front running victory in the featured Orange Blossom Purse at Hialeah Park today. Favored at $5.70, the daughter of Haltal led home seven other fillies and mares in this test for candidates for the Black Helen Handicap.

Marta, third in her first start this winter, was favorably weighted at 105 pounds and carried Warren Mehrtens past the judges a length before W. J. Lenihan's September. A. R. Evans' Evanstep was third, about three lengths farther away, while H. W. Fincher's Danger Ahead was a non-threatening fourth.

Sixth to finish in the $4,000 overnight event of seven furlongs was Ogden Phipps' Busanda, the Alabama heroine of 1950. She carried top-weight of 120 pounds and was making her first start of the winter.

Marta covered the distance on a fast track in 1.24 4-5. She broke in stride, opened at once and after putting Danger Ahead away turning for home, had enough in reserve to thwart the rally of September. The latter was rated superbly but was not quite good enough under pressure. Evanstep never really proved troublesome, nor were any of the others.

Marta herself is not a candidate for the $15,000 Black Helen on March 2. But she did turn back in today's race six that were eligible for Hialeah's most important fixture for fillies and mares.

Ken Church, by virtue of riding two winners, again assumed the leadership for Hialeah's riding title, moving two markers ahead of Hedley Woodhouse, who came through with four winners on Wednesday.

The daily double was worth $26.40 to a total of 2,466 ticket-holders. It was formed by Clara Patricia, $6.80, winner of the opener, and Freedom Wins, $5.00 choice in the second.

about decide the Potomac Valley Conference championship — if Moorefield wins.

Johnny Paugh's club has an 11-0 record, including a 53-37 win over Keyser. John Shelton's KHS outfit boasts an 8-1 record.

Each school plays 16 games in the conference. Petersburg, Ridgeley, Piedmont, Keyser and Mathias remain on the Moorefield schedule. Keyser must play Petersburg, Moorefield, Davis, Piedmont, Ridgeley, Parsons and Davis in that order.

Paul Oberhaus has played his last game with the Cumberland Spas and the fans who have followed the local pro teams for the past five seasons will be sorry to see the tall, willowy push-shot artist leave the ranks for Phoenix, Arizona.

Oberhaus typifies the "Joe Basket" of the present era because he seldom shoots with both hands whether it be from the field or the foul line. He has the habit of flinging one-handers, left or right, from any position on the court and his shooting at times bordered on the sensational.

Paul gave the game all he had. The guy was really a race horse and seemed to have remarkable stamina.

Oberhaus started out with the Amvets, an independent team in 1946-47, played with the Dukes the past three years and the Spas this season.

Over five seasons Paul played in 148 of the 157 games in which the local pro teams participated and scored 1,357 points.

He's the type of gentleman-athlete we can't help but admire.

Peter J. "Bunny" Buntag of Pittsburgh called the other morning to spread the glad tidings that "Skeets" Starkey looked great in his first two fights in New York in which he won via the K. O. routs.

The Wiley Ford belter who has chalked up 47 wins in 60 bouts since he made his debut in the amateurs here in 1946, won his first Gotham match last Saturday at the Ridgewood Grove Club and not at Long Island City as was stated in the first report we received. His second match was at the White Plains County Center. These places are among the proving grounds for boxers trying to crash Madison Square Garden.

In the February issue of The Ring magazine — boxing's bible — Starkey's name is listed among the leading Class B light heavyweights.

Louis Reported Physically Fit

Fights Agramonte Wednesday Night

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 1 (AP) — Joe Louis was reported today to be in "remarkable physical condition" for his ten-round fight with Omelio Agramonte of Cuba at Miami Stadium Wednesday night.

Dr. James J. McCormick of the City Boxing Commission examined Louis and Agramonte at the official weighing ceremonies and said he "couldn't emphasize too strongly" that the former heavyweight champion has worked himself into excellent shape.

"He has taken off all the superfluous flesh evident last year," Dr. McCormick said, "and his blood pressure would be normal for a man 21 years old."

Louis weighed in at 208½ pounds, Agrmonte at 193. The Cuban was reported in "good condition."

Louis weighed 218 when he lost to Ezzard Charles last year. He was down to 210¼ when he recently knocked out Freddie Beshore.

When he was advised of Dr. McCormick's remark about his blood pressure, Louis chuckled and said: "I'm still 36."

Joe was scheduled to go four rounds today with his sparring partners and Agramonte planned to box three rounds. The pair will continue daily sparring sessions through Monday.

SPORTS GRILL

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 (INS)—It occurs to us that baseball still is the cheapest buy in sports and that it gives more for your greatly depreciated and hard-earned buck than any other.

Baseball admissions have risen little in half a century but the cost of operating has soared beyond the wildest dreams of the old-time club owner.

You still can buy a bleacher seat for 60 cents or a grandstand seat for $1.25 to see either the Yanks or Giants.

Not many years ago the total payroll of some major league clubs was less than the $100,000 the Yanks pay Joe DiMaggio or that the Red Sox pay Ted Williams.

We will venture a step further and say one or two payrolls were not as much as the $70,000 the Yanks pay their four coaches.

The Yanks' payroll now exceeds $600,000 but in addition labor and maintenance costs have risen as well as transportation, hotel and food costs when traveling.

Let's take a quick glance at some of the freight the fan has to pay for other sports, amateur and professional.

Tennis prices at Forest Hills last fall ran from $1.80 to $3.50. The pros, playing in Madison Square Garden, charged from $2 to $8. And bear in mind that for any of the cheap seats in the Garden you are away up with the rafters just under the roof.

College football at Columbia, Princeton, Yale and other seats of learning in the east generally run from $1.80 for a seat behind the goal posts to $3.60. The professionals run from $1.25 to $5.

You might suppose that track and field meets are cheap but all the big indoor meets at the Garden are scaled from $1.25 to $5.

Basketball, with or without a "fix" scandal, runs from $1 to $3.50. It is worth noting, too, that although the Garden seats 15,000, there are only about 3,000 of the cheapest seats available and you must have the mountain-scaling ability of a goat to climb up to them.

The Garden can hold 20,000 for a fight because seats are placed on the floor. Prices have dropped from the absurd high of a few years back and the promoters now ask only $1.50 to $8 to see a lot of stumblebums in action.

Of course, if there is any kind of a title involved, prices are jacked up. Hockey prices run from 70 cents to $4.50, and the 70 cents would be an overcharge for the best seats if you had to watch the New York Rangers or the Chicago Blackhawks in action.

As for racing, all New York tracks charge $1.60 for grandstand seats and $4.30 for the clubhouse. The cheaper seats are better than the clubhouse section but if you must feel exclusive—or snobbish—the racing people make you pay for the privilege.

And, remember, that except for basketball, you never get a doubleheader for your dough as you do in baseball.

While most birds are able to move only one, both mandibles of the parrot's beak are movable and are endowed with considerable muscular power.

AT A SCHOOL where great swimmers are an annual development, Ohio State comes up with what may be the greatest swimming prospect in its history. The hero of the story is Dick Cleveland, Hawaiian-born and a freshman. Coach Mike Peppe already says that Dick is the "greatest swimmer in competition today." A sprinter, Dick already has clicked off a :49.8 century, just one-tenth of a second over Alan Ford's phenomenal record. (International)

Mlkvy Holds Scoring Lead

Owl's Average Is 28, White's Total 464

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 (AP)—West Virginia's towering Mark Workman is closing in on Bill Mlkvy and Sherman White in the keen race for the sharpshooter's title among the nation's major college basketball players.

A 50-point splurge—highest one-point total this season for a major team's player—against Salem last Saturday zoomed Workman's average to 26.3 points through games of Jan. 27. The N.C.C.A. Service Bureau's records through last Saturday showed Mlkvy of Temple still in front with a 28 point average with White, of Long Island, right on his heels with 27.3.

Workman, a nimble 6-8 center, hit 22 of 27 field goal attempts against Salem and his hot shooting vaulted him from 15th to fourth in the bucket department with a 51 per cent average on two-point tries. Cincinnati's Larry Imburgia, out with a bad knee, leads in field goal shooting with a 62.2 mark.

Jay Handlan of Washington and Lee held on to his foul shooting lead with an 87.3 average. He has connected on 103 of 118 charity tosses.

YOU CAN SURVIVE THE ATOM BOMB

KNOW THE BOMB'S TRUE DANGERS. KNOW STEPS YOU CAN TAKE TO ESCAPE THEM.

What About "Induced" Radioactivity?

EXPLOSIVE RADIOACTIVITY CAN'T BE KEPT OUT OF THE UPPER FLOORS OF YOUR HOUSE, SO LEARN WHAT TO EXPECT FROM IT

IF AN atomic bomb goes off in the air within two-thirds of a mile or slightly more of your home, there is no practical way of keeping explosive radioactivity out of the above-ground part of your house. It is possible that, at very short range, artificial, or induced radioactivity could be set up in gold, silver, and many other objects. However, this kind of radioactivity will never offer great danger, so don't throw away bandages and other first aid materials in the medicine cabinet. They will be perfectly safe to use.

EVEN CANNED AND BOTTLED FOODS MAY BE IRRADIATED, BUT IT WILL STILL BE SAFE TO USE THEM

Naturally, the radioactivity that passes through the walls of your house won't be stopped by tin or glass. It can go right through canned and bottle foods. However, this will not make them dangerous, and it will not cause them to spoil. Go ahead and use them, provided the containers are not broken open.

What About "Radiation Sickness"?

VOMITING AND DIARRHEA ARE THE FIRST SIGNS OF RADIATION SICKNESS

Should you be caught upstairs or in the open at the time of a bombing, you might soak up a serious dose of explosive radioactivity. Even so, the first indication that you had been pierced by the rays probably wouldn't show up for a couple of hours. Then you most likely would get sick at your stomach and begin to vomit. However, you might be sick at your stomach for other reasons, too, so vomiting won't always mean you have radiation sickness.

EVEN IF YOU SHOULD GET SEVERE RADIATION SICKNESS, YOU WOULD HAVE BETTER THAN AN EVEN CHANCE OF RECOVERY

The time it would take you to get sick would depend on how strong a dose you got. The stronger the dose, the quicker you would get sick. For a few days you might continue to feel below par and about two weeks later most of your hair might fall out. By the time you lost your hair you would be good and sick. But in spite of it all, you would still stand better than an even chance of making a complete recovery, including having your hair grow in again.

Reprinted from the official U. S. government report.

Where is Best Place to Go?

THERE IS LITTLE YOU CAN DO TO PROTECT YOUR HOUSE FROM BLAST

If your house is close to the explosion, there is little you can do to protect it from the bomb's blast, or pressure wave. Within one-half mile of the surface point directly beneath the explosion, the shock wave from an atomic bomb is sure to flatten most houses. Out to a distance of about one mile, steel, brick and wooden structures are likely to be damaged beyond repair. Farther out, there is less destruction, but serious damage may be expected to extend as far as two miles.

IT IS BEST TO FIGURE ON COLLAPSE OF THE UPPER FLOORS AND TO TAKE COVER IN THE CELLAR

It is only wise to figure that the upper floors of most buildings near the explosion will be pushed in. This means the basement is probably the safest place to be. If you have a basement and time to get down to it, lie flat along the outer wall or near the base of some heavy supporting column. You would be even safer under a cellar work bench or heavy table. Stay away from the middle of the floor where falling beams and other objects are most likely to strike you.

Naturally, you run a risk of being trapped in the wreckage, but your over-all chances of escape from the bomb in most cases are many times greater than they would be upstairs. If your basement has two exits, you will be in less danger of being trapped.

BASEMENTS GIVE SHELTER AGAINST BLAST AND HEAT, AND RADIOACTIVITY

Besides protecting you from blast and heat, basements also provide shielding from explosive radiation. Because, the lower you get, the more barriers against radiation there are likely to be between you and the bursting bomb. Down in the cellar you'll probably be shielded not only by other buildings, but also by earth and the cement foundations of your own house. Earth, concrete and steel are good radiation barriers.

IF YOU HAVE NO BASEMENT, LOCATE A SHELTER YOU CAN REACH QUICKLY

If you have no basement, look around your immediate neighborhood for a nearby shelter you can get to quickly in an emergency. Such a shelter might be a culvert, a deep gully, or another building within easy reach. If you live in rolling country, there is probably a hill close to you. Even a high bank will offer some protection from most bursts if it is between you and the explosion. In choosing your shelter, assume that the enemy will aim for the industrial buildings.

CYCLONE CELLARS ARE EXCELLENT

If you live in a state where there is danger from sudden storms like cyclones or hurricanes, you may have a "cyclone cellar" or something similar. If so, you have a shelter that will give excellent protection against atomic bombs.

"Why Was I Born?" Cancer Victim Asks; Pens Answer Before Death

TARENTUM, Pa.—(AP)—"Why was I born?"

Pretty, vivacious Virginia Silliman asked herself the question many times as she sickened and died within a year of cancer.

She penned the answer in a letter made public just 24 hours after her death.

There had been five operations. The 21-year-old girl lost her baby. Her body was racked with pain.

Last November she wrote her last letter as a message of courage and hope to friends and relatives, especially Husband Lawrence.

"Why was I born?"

She told her loved ones:

"I feel that this has been my task here on earth—to bring you to the Lord. And even though I have suffered, I have no regrets. I would suffer again for such a cause."

Just as Virginia wanted, the letter remained sealed until after her death. Here are some of her own words:

"For years now, I've been asking myself—why was I born? For what reason did the dear Lord bless me with life?

"I've sat in church and prayed; I've prayed at home—'Dear Lord, what can I do to help Thee in Thy great work?'

"I've tried to be loyal in my church attendance. I've tried to live Christianly. I've sung praises of the Lord with all my heart. I began teaching Sunday school when I was 14. But all this was not enough. I still found unrest.

"Then, as you know, a little over a year ago, my troubles began. But, because you've been such kind friends, a loyal family and a devoted husband, you made my troubles yours also.

"In these ways, you've made my sufferings much easier. And although I've lost a baby, made four trips to the hospital and five to the operating room within the past year, I haven't lost faith in the Lord."

"Matter of fact, I've come to know and love Him more than I ever have.

"But most important of all, you have noticed this. You have seen what the Lord has done for me and you have found Him for yourself also. Your faith has been strengthened, too. I know for I've been watching and I've seen you grow to be more spiritually minded. And because you have, I have found peace of mind.

"Even now, some people are wondering how long I will live. But I have no fear of dying. If the Lord decides to take me, I only pray that when that time comes, you—my friends, family and husband—will have found enough faith—through my faith—to bear the sorrow of our parting."

Scoffers Given Their Chance By Art Patron

ROCHESTER, Minn., (AP) — A Rochester art patron, who has been parrying wisecracks directed at some of his paintings, is giving the scoffers their chance.

Newt Holland, president of the Rochester Art Center, has arranged "The Layman's Revenge," a showing which will run through February.

For the past few years, Holland has had a "little gallery" in conjunction with a cafeteria he operates. On the wall of his restaurant he hung oil paintings, water colors and sketches by some of Minnesota's leading artists.

"I can't see why you torture us with some of these paintings, Newt. They're awful," the customer said. "I'll bet most of your regular customers could do as well."

Holland took the challenge. The results were immediate and startling. People who never touched a brush to canvas before turned up with their "masterpieces." A man who didn't know a palette from a palate entered a Dali-like work.

Greeting Holland's customers will be a display of false noses, severed thumbs, primitive abstractions, water-color splatterings, and one oiled portrait labeled an authentic "Rumbrand."

A Holland favorite is an abstraction called "Sunset On the Alimentary Canal." Holland won't say, but the artist could be some doctor seeking escape from the tensio nof his work at the Mayo Clinic.

Prizes for the exhibition will be all the coffee you can drink in one day (as first prize), half of what you can drink (as second prize) and one third as third prize.

Divorce-Seeking Wife Says Mate Took Philosophy Too Seriously

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Dolores Sutor complained in Superior Court that her husband, Casimir, took his philosophy studies too seriously.

"He even insisted that I call him Socrates," Mrs. Sutor declared. "He finally came to believe he didn't need to support his family."

Mrs. Sutor, 22, said that was cruelty, asked for a divorce, alimony and support for their children, Yvonne, three, and Paul, 15 months.

"My wife is Xanthippe and Mrs. Rip Van Winkle combined," replied Sutor, 25-year-old graduate of Illinois Wesleyan and graduate student at Northwestern University night school.

(Xanthippe was Socrates' wife whose peevishness and quarrelsome temper have become proverbial. Rip also had an ill-tempered wife before he took his 20-year nap.)

"He even carried on correspondence for three years with a woman who signed her letters Plato," continued Mrs. Sutor.

Judge Daniel A. Roberts was not to be outdone in his own courtroom.

"For a woman," he said, "she should have signed herself Sappho."

(Sappho was an ancient Greek poetess who lived on Lesbos, the Isle of Women.)

"She beat me once a week," broke in Sutor, a South Pacific naval veteran, "but like a Stoic, I bore it."

(Stoics were members of an ancient school of philosophy that professed indifference to pleasure or pain.)

Mrs. Sutor's lawyer, Victor Frolich, told the court Sutor makes $66 a week as a punch press operator and part time clerk.

Judge Roberts ordered Sutor to pay $35 a week temporary alimony.

"I can't pay more than $20," said Sutor, who majored in mathematics and physics at Illinois Wesleyan. "I've got to go on with my education."

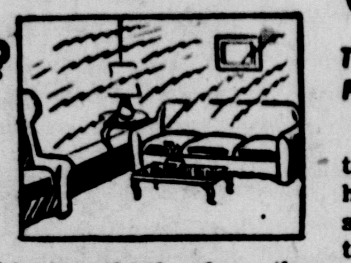
YOU CAN SURVIVE THE ATOM BOMB

KNOW THE BOMB'S TRUE DANGERS. KNOW STEPS YOU CAN TAKE TO ESCAPE THEM.

What About "Induced" Radioactivity?



EXPLOSIVE RADIOACTIVITY CAN'T BE KEPT OUT OF THE UPPER FLOORS OF YOUR HOUSE, SO LEARN WHAT TO EXPECT FROM IT

IF AN atomic bomb goes off in the air within two-thirds of a mile or slightly more of your home, there is no practical way of keeping explosive radioactivity out of the above-ground part of your house. It is possible that, at very short range, artificial, or induced radioactivity could be set up in gold, silver, and many other objects. However, this kind of radioactivity will never offer great danger, so don't throw away bandages and other first aid materials in the medicine cabinet. They will be perfectly safe to use.

EVEN CANNED AND BOTTLED FOODS MAY BE IRRADIATED, BUT IT WILL STILL BE SAFE TO USE THEM

Naturally, the radioactivity that passes through the walls of your house won't be stopped by tin or glass. It can go right through canned and bottle foods. However, this will not make them dangerous and it will not cause them to spoil. Go ahead and use them, provided the containers are not broken open.

What About "Radiation Sickness"?

VOMITING AND DIARRHEA ARE THE FIRST SIGNS OF RADIATION SICKNESS

Should you be caught upstairs or in the open at the time of a bombing, you might soak up a serious dose of explosive radioactivity. Even so, the first indication that you had been pierced by the rays probably wouldn't show up for a couple of hours. Then you most likely would get sick at your stomach and begin to vomit. However, you might be sick at your stomach for other reasons, too, so vomiting won't always mean you have radiation sickness.

EVEN IF YOU SHOULD GET SEVERE RADIATION SICKNESS, YOU WOULD HAVE BETTER THAN AN EVEN CHANCE OF RECOVERY

The time it would take you to get sick would depend on how strong a dose you got. The stronger the dose, the quicker you would get sick. For a few days you might continue to feel below par and about two weeks later most of your hair might fall out. By the time you lost your hair you would be good and sick. But in spite of it all, you would still stand better than an even chance of making a complete recovery, including having your hair grow in again.

Reprinted from the official U. S. government report.

Where is Best Place to Go?

THERE IS LITTLE YOU CAN DO TO PROTECT YOUR HOUSE FROM BLAST

If your house is close to the explosion, there is little you can do to protect it from the bomb's blast, or pressure wave. Within one-half mile of the surface point directly beneath the explosion, the shock wave from an atomic bomb is sure to flatten most houses. Out to a distance of about one mile, steel, brick and wooden structures are likely to be damaged beyond repair. Farther out, there is less destruction, but serious damage may be expected to extend as far as two miles.

IT IS BEST TO FIGURE ON COLLAPSE OF THE UPPER FLOORS AND TO TAKE COVER IN THE CELLAR

It is only wise to figure that the upper floors of most buildings near the explosion will be pushed in. This means the basement is probably the safest place to be. If you have a basement and time to get down to it, lie flat along the outer wall or near the base of some heavy supporting column. You would be even safer under a cellar work bench or heavy table. Stay away from the middle of the floor where falling beams and other objects are most likely to strike you.

Naturally, you run a risk of being trapped in the wreckage, but your over-all chances of escape from the bomb in most cases are many times greater than they would be upstairs. If your basement has two exits, you will be in less danger of being trapped.

BASEMENTS GIVE SHELTER AGAINST BLAST AND HEAT, AND RADIOACTIVITY

Besides protecting you from blast and heat, basements also provide shielding from explosive radiation. Because, the lower you get, the more barriers against radiation there are likely to be between you and the bursting bomb. Down in the cellar you'll probably be shielded not only by other buildings, but also by earth and the cement foundations of your own house. Earth, concrete and steel are good radiation barriers.

IF YOU HAVE NO BASEMENT, LOCATE A SHELTER YOU CAN REACH QUICKLY

If you have no basement, look around your immediate neighborhood for a nearby shelter you can get to quickly in an emergency. Such a shelter might be a culvert, a deep gully, or another building within easy reach. If you live in rolling country, there is probably a hill close to you. Even a high bank will offer some protection from most bursts if it is between you and the explosion. In choosing your shelter, assume that the enemy will aim for the industrial buildings.

CYCLONE CELLARS ARE EXCELLENT

If you live in a state where there is danger from sudden storms like cyclones or hurricanes, you may have a "cyclone cellar" or something similar. If so, you have a shelter that will give excellent protection against atomic bombs.

"Why Was I Born?" Cancer Victim Asks; Pens Answer Before Death

TARENTUM, Pa.—(AP)—"Why was I born?"

Pretty, vivacious Virginia Silliman asked herself the question many times as she sickened and died within a year of cancer.

She penned the answer in a letter made public just 24 hours after her death.

There had been five operations. The 21-year-old girl lost her baby. Her body was racked with pain.

Last November she wrote her last letter as a message of courage and hope to friends and relatives, especially Husband Lawrence.

"Why was I born?"

She told her loved ones:

"I feel that this has been my task here on earth—to bring you to the Lord. And even though I have suffered, I have no regrets. I would suffer again for such a cause."

Just as Virginia wanted, the letter remained sealed until after her death. Here are some of her own words:

"For years now, I've been asking myself—why was I born? For what reason did the dear Lord bless me with life?

"I've sat in church and prayed; I've prayed at home—'Dear Lord, what can I do to help Thee in Thy great work?'

"I've tried to be loyal in my church attendance. I've tried to live Christianly. I've sung praises of the Lord with all my heart. I began teaching Sunday school when I was 14. But all this was not enough. I still found unrest.

"Then, as you know, a little over a year ago, my troubles began. But, because you've been such kind friends, a loyal family and a devoted husband, you made my troubles yours also.

"In these ways, you've made my sufferings much easier. And although I've lost a baby, made four trips to the hospital and five to the operating room within the past year, I haven't lost faith in the Lord."

"Matter of fact, I've come to know and love Him more than I ever have.

"But most important of all, you have noticed this. You have seen what the Lord has done for me and you have found Him for yourself also. Your faith has been strengthened, too. I know for I've been watching and I've seen you grow to be more spiritually minded. And because you have, I have found peace of mind.

"Even now, some people are wondering how long I will live. But I have no fear of dying. If the Lord decides to take me, I only pray that when that time comes, you—my friends, family and husband—will have found enough faith—through my faith—to bear the sorrow of our parting."

Auto Industry Doesn't Expect Any Off-Season

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

DETROIT, (AP)—This is off-season for the auto industry but new car sales don't indicate it.

Most surveys made so far this month indicate retail deliveries are running well above those of the same pending upward price adjustment and the early elimination of much normal bright trim probably are factors in the steady new car demand.

But while there are many buyers there also are the usual number of bargain hunters. Most would-be buyers are seeking high trade-in allowances and some still look for discounts.

Early last month many dealers offered high allowances on the purchase of the last of their 1950 model cars. More recently they have taken down signs offering big savings on low mileage demonstrators and "officials' cars."

And the feeling appears to be growing that the retailers will be able to sell all the cars they will get from the factories this year—whether the number is 4,000,000 or 6,000,000.

The maturing of a large amount of savings bonds this year probably figures in the sales picture thinking of automobile retailers. Certainly there is no question about ability to pay, although the tight credit restrictions have made it a bit tougher for the would-be new car buyer in the lower income area.

Despite dealer optimism, promotion of new model quality is going on as usual. This is handled mainly by the manufacturing division.

Practically all new models so far introduced have displayed more bright finish than last year's cars. But nobody expects the glamorous make-up to be available for many months. So the rush to buy right now is understandable.

Last week the factories built 121,287 cars and 29,132 trucks. This compares with 120,831 cars and 29,548 trucks in the preceding week. Car output is down somewhat from last January but truck assemblies are higher. This is due to the increasing number of military vehicles coming from the assembly lines.

B & O Railroad Revenue Higher

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad yesterday reported a net income of $15,037,080.39 for 1950. Total railway operating revenues were $402,541,895.65, railway operating expenses were $324,575,869.26, and railway tax accurals were $35,621,836.76.

Revenue carloads for 1950 at 3,06,110, were 308,928, or 11.22 per cent more than the 1949 total.

Revenue ton miles for 1950 at 27,546,419,153, were 3,291,338,607, or 13.57 per cent more than for 1949.

The B & O's operating ratio for 1950 was 80.63 as compared to 82.24 for 1949.

The B & O reduced its fixed charges and interest payments by $581,636.42 in 1950 as compared with 1949. This saving included a reduction of $330,036.05 in interest on its funded debt, a reduction of $140,538.29 in contingent interest, and a reduction of $111,062.08 in other fixed charges.

For December 1950 the B & O showed a net income of $1,914,345.02, as compared with $811,827.30 for 1949.

Teen Age Rec Center Will Open Today

A new teen-age recreation center, to be open every Friday night, will be inaugurated today by Mountain City Camp No. 6, Woodmen of the World, on the first floor of the WOW building, Union Street. The project has been approved by police and recreation officials.

The Woodmen teen-age center is a phase of the "Fraternity in Action" project of the national organization. It will be open without cost to all youths between 13 and 18 years of age. No membership dues are required in the beginning, according to Richard Connors, chairman of the committee in charge which also includes Russell Reynolds and Blair Kaiser.

The remains of Julius Caesar lie in the tomb of the Caesars in the Campus Maritus in Rome.

"I WANT TO TELL THIS TO WOMEN IN YOUR 40's"

I find Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound wonderful to relieve distress of 'change of life'"

"Any woman between the ages of 38 and 52 should be interested in my experience. I was going through functional change of life and found myself terribly embarrassed from hot flushes, and I felt so nervous, easily upset because of this.

"What really shocked me was when I overheard my husband explaining my shortcomings behind my back. He said, 'Don't mind Louise—she's going through change of life.' That made up my mind. I had heard how effective Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was for relieving such symptoms, and I decided then and there to try it. Thank heavens I did.

"I find Pinkham's Compound simply marvelous to relieve embarrassing symptoms due to this cause. In fact I now take Lydia Pinkham's Compound regularly to help build up resistance against hot flushes, tense emotions, flighty, nervous, tired feelings—due to this cause. I wish anyone when troubled this way would try this great medicine."

P. S. Pinkham's Compound tastes swell in a little fruit juice or plain water. A wonderfully effective medicine made especially for women.

Auto Industry Doesn't Expect Any Off-Season

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

DETROIT, (AP)—This is off-season for the auto industry but new car sales don't indicate it.

Most surveys made so far this month indicate retail deliveries are running well above those of the same pending upward price adjustment and the early elimination of much normal bright trim probably are factors in the steady new car demand.

But while there are many buyers there also are the usual number of bargain hunters. Most would-be buyers are seeking high trade-in allowances and some still look for discounts.

Early last month many dealers offered high allowances on the purchase of the last of their 1950 model cars. More recently they have taken down signs offering big savings on low mileage demonstrators and "officials' cars."

And the feeling appears to be growing that the retailers will be able to sell all the cars they will get from the factories this year—whether the number is 4,000,000 or 6,000,000.

The maturing of a large amount of savings bonds this year probably figures in the sales picture thinking of automobile retailers. Certainly there is no question about ability to pay, although the tight credit restrictions have made it a bit tougher for the would-be new car buyer in the lower income area.

Despite dealer optimism, promotion of new model quality is going on as usual. This is handled mainly by the manufacturing division.

Practically all new models so far introduced have displayed more bright finish than last year's cars. But nobody expects the glamorous make-up to be available for many months. So the rush to buy right now is understandable.

Last week the factories built 121,287 cars and 29,132 trucks. This compares with 120,831 cars and 29,548 trucks in the preceding week. Car output is down somewhat from last January but truck assemblies are higher. This is due to the increasing number of military vehicles coming from the assembly lines.

B & O Railroad Revenue Higher

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad yesterday reported a net income of $15,037,080.39 for 1950. Total railway operating revenues were $402,541,895.65, railway operating expenses were $324,575,869.26, and railway tax accurals were $35,621,836.76.

Revenue carloads for 1950 at 3,06,110, were 308,928, or 11.22 per cent more than the 1949 total.

Revenue ton miles for 1950 at 27,546,419,153, were 3,291,338,607, or 13.57 per cent more than for 1949.

The B & O's operating ratio for 1950 was 80.63 as compared to 82.24 for 1949.

The B & O reduced its fixed charges and interest payments by $581,636.42 in 1950 as compared with 1949. This saving included a reduction of $330,036.05 in interest on its funded debt, a reduction of $140,538.29 in contingent interest, and a reduction of $111,062.08 in other fixed charges.

For December 1950 the B & O showed a net income of $1,914,345.02, as compared with $811,827.30 for 1949.

Barbara Van Ornam In "Glass Menagerie"

A talented young actress of summer stock, radio and television will have one of the leading roles in the Barter Theatre presentation "The Glass Menagerie" to be presented here February 14.

She is Barbara Van Ornam who had leading roles in the Theatre's "The Vinegar Tree" and "The Late Christopher Bean" during the summer and won the part of Laura in the play scheduled for Cumberland.

The Barter Theatre appearance is sponsored by the Junior Association of Commerce and will be staged at Allegany High School auditorium.

Tickets for the play will go on sale Monday at the S. T. Little Jewelry Store, according to Hugh D. Shires, ticket chairman. Other members of the committee are K. O. Nelson, chairman; E. V. Cozad and John Reinhard, publicity; Henry H. Lowry, Miles Amick and Ralph Higgins.

"I WANT TO TELL THIS TO WOMEN IN YOUR 40's"
I find Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound wonderful to relieve distress of 'change of life'"

"Any woman between the ages of 38 and 52 should be interested in my experience. I was going through functional change of life and found myself terribly embarrassed from hot flushes, and I felt so nervous, easily upset because of this.

"What really shocked me was when I overheard my husband explaining my shortcomings behind my back. He said, 'Don't mind Louise—she's going through change of life.' That made up my mind. I had heard how effective Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was for relieving such symptoms, and I decided then and there to try it. Thank heavens I did.

"I find Pinkham's Compound simply marvelous to relieve embarrassing symptoms due to this cause. In fact I now take Lydia Pinkham's Compound regularly to help build up resistance against hot flushes, tense emotions, flighty, nervous, tired feelings—due to this cause. I wish anyone when troubled this way would try this great medicine." P. S. Pinkham's Compound tastes swell in a little fruit juice or plain water. A wonderfully effective medicine made especially for women.

Rich Little Poor Girl Graduated Cum Laude From Hunter College

NEW YORK, —(INS)— A rich little poor girl was graduated cum laude from Hunter College this week.

She is Lois Jean Prechtl, who put herself through school by hoofing in a chorus line, sitting with babies, working in a dime-store and twirling from a circus rope as high above the ground as the six-story tenement she lives in.

Before she left her top-flight walk-up, Lois looked like any well-scrubbed and wistful girl heading for hallowed college halls to receive her diploma.

But there was a difference.

"This is really a big thrill for mother," she whispered, "but I can't say I'm as excited about getting graduated as about getting the work over. I really didn't like studying very much. I want to do other things, exciting things."

There was another difference. Lois Jean had to walk through sleet, lugging the huge box that carried her cap and gown, and then take a spitting Third Avenue elevated train to the commencement exercises.

She said, "I'll look a wreck when I get there, but I guess that doesn't matter, does it?"

Lois has been walking places—or dancing places—since she first went to school and was allowed 10 cents train fare, a lunchtime sandwich, and two cents a day for a glass of milk.

She was in junior high school when she got her first job, working in a department store. In Walton High School, where she was graduated at age 15, she bought her books with money earned by baby-sitting one night and tutoring French the next.

One semester after she enrolled at Hunter College—on proceeds of the tutoring and some "throw-in jobs" she ran out of money and took a job dancing with Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey Circus. They talked her into climbing a high-rope and doing upside down pirouettes in the air, minus a net.

The $60 a week with the circus for six months earned enough to send her back to Hunter for another year, but then she was "flat broke again and had to get out." She auditioned with Olsen and Johnson, and won a chorus girl job with their 1948 revue, "Laffacade".

The next summer, broke again, she traveled with the Radio City Rockettes as captain of their chorus line. She also tutored college students in French and French-speaking immigrants in English.

Clary Club Dance For Crippled Children

U. S. Soldier Pays Part Of His Bill In Korean Money

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(AP)—A Louisville collection agency received a big bundle of depreciated Korean money from a former soldier at Fort Knox in payment on a $23.50 grocery bill.

The soldier, identified as Cpl. Earl Booth of the Fifth Cavalry Division, wrote in response to a threat to take legal action if he failed to pay.

"I haven't been paid since July," the soldier wrote, "so therefore I don't have any American currency at present. However, I do have 1,100 won (Korean money) which I confiscated from a North Korean. x x x I am enclosing it in this letter as a down payment on the $23.50."

The letter continued: "I am most grateful to you for informing me of the fact that you are sending the cops after me. I will be very happy to see them because, you see, I am a policeman myself, presently engaged in a police action called the United Nations.

"My police squad is located in Central Korea and I am sure you have heard of our chief, MacArthur. x x x

The soldier said he wished the collection agency had sent the cops after him last August or in early November when he was wounded and easy to locate in a hospital. He also sent a similar letter to the Louisville Times and asked that it be published.

"I will close now as duty calls," the letter concluded, "and I must be walking my beat.

"P. S. We are having a policeman's ball here February 15. Please inform all Louisville cops they are cordially invited."

The agency, which asked that its name be withheld, sent the soldier a receipt for 26 cents, the value placed on the bundle of depreciated Korean money.

Rich Little Poor Girl Graduated Cum Laude From Hunter College

NEW YORK, —(INS)— A rich little poor girl was graduated cum laude from Hunter College this week.

She is Lois Jean Prechtl, who put herself through school by hoofing in a chorus line, sitting with babies, working in a dime-store and twirling from a circus rope as high above the ground as the six-story tenement she lives in.

Before she left her top-flight walk-up, Lois looked like any well-scrubbed and wistful girl heading for hallowed college halls to receive her diploma.

But there was a difference.

"This is really a big thrill for mother," she whispered, "but I can't say I'm as excited about getting graduated as about getting the work over. I really didn't like studying very much. I want to do other things, exciting things."

There was another difference. Lois Jean had to walk through sleet, lugging the huge box that carried her cap and gown, and then take a spitting Third Avenue elevated train to the commencement exercises.

She said, "I'll look a wreck when I get there, but I guess that doesn't matter, does it?"

Lois has been walking places—or dancing places—since she first went to school and was allowed 10 cents train fare, a lunchtime sandwich, and two cents a day for a glass of milk.

She was in junior high school when she got her first job, working in a department store. In Walton High School, where she was graduated at age 15, she bought her books with money earned by baby-sitting one night and tutoring French the next.

One semester after she enrolled at Hunter College—on proceeds of the tutoring and some "throw-in jobs" she ran out of money and took a job dancing with Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey Circus. They talked her into climbing a high-rope and doing upside down pirouettes in the air, minus a net.

The $60 a week with the circus for six months earned enough to send her back to Hunter for another year, but then she was "flat broke again and had to get out." She auditioned with Olsen and Johnson, and won a chorus girl job with their 1948 revue, "Laffacade".

The next summer, broke again, she traveled with the Radio City Rockettes as captain of their chorus line. She also tutored college students in French and French-speaking immigrants in English.

In her spare time, Lois took care of her three-year-old brother, Joey, one of five children in the Prechtl family.

U. S. Soldier Pays Part Of His Bill In Korean Money

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(AP)—A Louisville collection agency received a big bundle of depreciated Korean money from a former soldier at Fort Knox in payment on a $23.50 grocery bill.

The soldier, identified as Cpl. Earl Booth of the Fifth Cavalry Division, wrote in response to a threat to take legal action if he failed to pay.

"I haven't been paid since July," the soldier wrote, "so therefore I don't have any American currency at present. However, I do have 1,100 won (Korean money) which I confiscated from a North Korean. x x x I am enclosing it in this letter as a down payment on the $23.50."

The letter continued: "I am most grateful to you for informing me of the fact that you are sending the cops after me. I will be very happy to see them because, you see, I am a policeman myself, presently engaged in a police action called the United Nations.

"My police squad is located in Central Korea and I am sure you have heard of our chief, MacArthur. x x x

The soldier said he wished the collection agency had sent the cops after him last August or in early November when he was wounded and easy to locate in a hospital. He also sent a similar letter to the Louisville Times and asked that it be published.

"I will close now as duty calls," the letter concluded, "and I must be walking my beat.

"P. S. We are having a policeman's ball here February 15. Please inform all Louisville cops they are cordially invited."

The agency, which asked that its name be withheld, sent the soldier a receipt for 26 cents, the value placed on the bundle of depreciated Korean money.

Movies Feature Keyser Kiwanis Club Meeting

Telephone Company Manager In Charge

KEYSER, W. Va. — Leo P. Prendergast, manager of the Keyser office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, was guest speaker at the regular weekly Kiwanis Club dinner-meeting Wednesday evening in the dining hall at the First Methodist Church.

Prendergast brought two rolls of film, one educational and the other a marionette show in colored moviet entitled "Party Lines," that had much of the comic strip idea in an enlightened presentation, dealing with the troubles caused on party telephone lines.

There were serious and comical instances presented on the subject in a manner in which the telephone company tried to show the selfishness of many telephone users in usurping the service lines of the company to the discomfort of other users.

The other picture issued only a few days ago, showed actual scenes in the laying of the first underwater telephone cable system from the United States via Key West to Hav ana, Cuba. Two cables were laid over that route, overcoming the difficulties of booster service from a new system beneath the water to carry voices to distant places from great depths on the sea floor.

Riddle, an employe of the American Railway Express, is accused of wounding Ralph Lemons, 42, at the latter's home in Clarksburg. The injured man is recuperating at St. Mary's Hospital there.

Lemons' wife, Mrs. Mary (Gatrell) Lemons, ex-wife of Riddle, was arrested on a drunk charge after the shooting. The woman told authorities she and her husband were having a few drinks in the kitchen when Riddle arrived.

There was no argument, Mrs. Lemons said, but Riddle turned suddenly and fired three shots from a pistol after he reached the kitchen door while leaving. Lemons was shot in the abdomen.

Eckhart Soldier Gets Mention In AP Column

An Eckhart soldier, Cpl. Thomas Smith ,was mentioned in the Hal Boyle column of war news yesterday.

Written by Jim Becker of the Associated Press, the article reports how Cpl. Smith and five others ducked behind a tank to escape sniper fire in Korea.

As the men huddled together, Smith offered his cigarettes. When he didn't get any takers he remarked:

"They're from the States . . . notice the blue tax stamp."

"Why cigarettes clear from the States?" another asked.

"I just got homesick for that blue stamp," replied Cpl. Smith.

The human heart pumps nearly seven tons of blood every day.

Keyser Church To Show Movie Sunday

KEYSER, W. Va. — The movie, "Yesterday, Today and Forever" will be shown Sunday at the Church of the Brethren, here at 7:30 p.m. The film's theme is alcoholism.

Rev. I. S. Long, pastor of the church, said "alcohol is a great scourge even to intelligent Americans, but it is difficult to see why it should be forever. The same is true of war. It's a pity we can't get together, around a table and make a lasting peace, just as it is a pity that we spend nine billion dollars on alcoholic drinks that bring ruination to so many."

Telephone Company Manager In Charge

KEYSER, W. Va. — Leo P. Prendergast, manager of the Keyser office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, was guest speaker at the regular weekly Kiwanis Club dinner-meeting Wednesday evening in the dining hall at the First Methodist Church.

Prendergast brought two rolls of film, one educational and the other a marionette show in colored moviet entitled "Party Lines," that had much of the comic strip idea in an enlightened presentation, dealing with the troubles caused on party telephone lines.

There were serious and comical instances presented on the subject in a manner in which the telephone company tried to show the selfishness of many telephone users in usurping the service lines of the company to the discomfort of other users.

The other picture issued only a few days ago, showed actual scenes in the laying of the first underwater telephone cable system from the United States via Key West to Hav ana, Cuba. Two cables were laid over that route, overcoming the difficulties of booster service from a new system beneath the water to carry voices to distant places from great depths on the sea floor.

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD
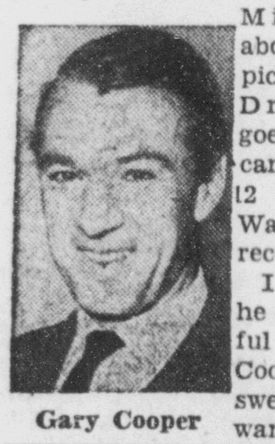
By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 1—(INS)—Gary Cooper returns Tuesday or Wednesday with Rocky and Maria. That heart-to-heart talk they had in New York worked wonders.

Coop comes back to confer with Milton Sperling about his next picture "Distant Drums," which goes before the cameras on March 12 with Raoul Walsh in the director's seat.



Gary Cooper

I asked Milt if he had a beautiful lady set for Coop, and he answered he didn't want to make any choice until he discussed it with the star. But, if it's all right with Gary, Ruth Roman is okay with Raoul and Milt.

Peggy Maley, who received a lot of publicity when she impudently sat on the throns of England in 1948, stars in a picture for Frank Ross.

She's now appearing with Joan Caulfield and David Niven in "The Lady Says No," but Frank has come up with an idea for Peggy which, believe me, is very different from "The Robe" on which he worked for years.

He's calling Peggy's opus "The Royal Chase." It's now being written by Robert Russell and deals with an American girl who is chased all over Europe by a member of the British nobility. Could that be the Marquis of Milford-Haven who is now married to a New York socialite?

Chit-chat: Dudley J. Le Blanc, the only senator who turned medicine man and made a fortune with a patent medicine, is having his life put into a story.

But, let me say right here and now, the Senator from Louisiana isn't getting any piker author to do the job. He's engaged Stephen Longstreet (he wrote "The Jolson Story") who left Los Angeles for the Senator's home to write what he is calling "The Great American Story."

Well, maybe it is after all. It must be said of the Senator he's a man who knows how to publicize what he has—or is it because he engaged one of Hollywood's top press women to put him over?

From tiny acorns mighty oaks grow—was the thought that came to me when I watched Irene Dunne beamingly announce $135,000 had been gathered for St. John Hospital. Irene didn't just take the title of president of the St. John Guild and then sit idly by.

She worked as I have never seen anyone work because she knew well how much the children's ward and the other two wings are needed. So, her picture, "The Mudlark," brought in $50 a piece for tickets. It was certainly a tribute to her popularity and to the generosity of our stars that they, themselves, bought tickets, as well as all our producers.

Lionel Barrymore, looking wonderful, back at the M-G-M Studio rarin' to go. He's ready for a movie and for his radio show.

Betty Garrett has written a song, "Sister Can You Spare A Song," which the Andrews Sisters will introduce.

Jimmy Stewart, recovered from that demon flu, lunching at the Beverly Hills Brown Derby with Major Alexander De Seversky, famed writer and war ace.

Audie Murphy's fiancee, Pamela Archer, Dallas air line hostess, arrives here over the weekend to see Audie. I thought Audie had gone to Texas to see her.

Louis Armstrong, famous jazz trumpeter, took time off from his M-G-M chores to go to Stanford University to play for the students' annual prom.

From Boston comes a note saying that Arlene Dahl and Lex Barker were dancing romantically in the Oval Room of the Copley Plaza Hotel there. Now what would they be doing in Boston?

The sidewalk standees, who gathered as early as 6 o'clock in front of Grauman's Chinese Theater to greet the stars, followed them to the restaurant. They almost tore the bleachers apart when Sylvia and Clark Gable walked into the forecourt. That guy's popularity never lessens.

Lauren Bacall and Humphrey Bogart received a tumultuous welcome. Joan Crawford was with Clifton Webb and both rated cheers. Rosalind Russell and Freddie Brisson, with Evie and Van Johnson, were others who pleased the crowds—as did Gene Tierney, looking gorgeous.

Gene told me that Oleg Cassini, her husband, is due here. He arrived today.

Bill Grady, Jr., is the author of "Red Ball Express,' 'and Dick Tregaskis has adapted the story. Bill, Sr., is so proud of that boy, he wants all the world to know what a smart son he has and I don't blame him.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

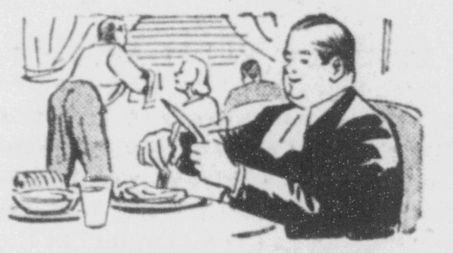
MIRROR OF YOUR MIND
By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Should you commit yourself to a long engagement?

Answer: As a rule, no, especially if you and your sweetheart are in a position to be frequently together. For in that case the increasing tension of the physical desire which love normally creates is likely to make you become associated in each other's minds with disappointment and frustration rather than the happiness that is love's normal basis. If it is impossible for you to marry, you had better allow each other complete freedom and accept the fact that with no marriage tie between you, either or both of you may "change your minds" as time passes.

Can "B. O." be a delusion?

Answer: Yes. A rather serious and hard-to-cure one. The unfounded fear of giving off unpleasant odors—sometimes compensated by the over-use of perfume—may grow out of an unconscious sense of guilt at wishing to attract attention, coupled with the fear that those whom you wish to attract will find you somehow repulsive. If the notion becomes a deep-seated conviction, it is a sign of a rather serious mental illness which requires psychiatric treatment, since it grows out of the "paranoid" idea that "nobody loves you."



Is obesity a psychiatric problem?

Answer: The conviction that this is the case is becoming increasingly widespread. For example, Dr. Spencer Bayles of Denver writes in the American Journal of Medical Science that the great majority of obese patients who have no disturbance in their metabolism consume more food than their bodies need because they lack other and more adult sources of pleasure. They are people who are bored or feel rejected by their neighbors and find in food a symbol of the love and affection they crave. They need "emotional re-education."

Try And Stop Me
By BENNETT CERF

Up near Provincetown, on Cape Cod, a harmless old gent recently released from a mental institution, wandered into a soft drink emporium, ordered a sarsaparilla, and added, "I want every straw you have in the place with my bottle."

Since he accompanied his odd request with a tip of five dollars, the clerk hastened to plank down with the drink two boxes of straws and the container-full on the counter. The old fellow peered suspiciously about the premises and demanded, "How about the ones on those little tables in the back? And how about that one on the floor over there?" "Just an oversight," the clerk assured him, after hastily adding them to his collection.

The old man persisted, "You're sure now this is all you've got?" "Absolutely," said the clerk. Whereupon the old man clarioned triumphantly, "This ositively the last straw," and st out into the sunshine.

KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 1—(INS)—Gary Cooper returns Tuesday or Wednesday with Rocky and Maria. That heart-to-heart talk they had in New York worked wonders.

Gary Cooper

Coop comes back to confer with Milton Sperling about his next picture "Distant Drums," which goes before the cameras on March 12 with Raoul Walsh in the director's seat.

I asked Milt if he had a beautiful lady set for Coop, and he answered he didn't want to make any choice until he discussed it with the star. But, if it's all right with Gary, Ruth Roman is okay with Raoul and Milt.

Peggy Maley, who received a lot of publicity when she impudently sat on the throns of England in 1948, stars in a picture for Frank Ross.

She's now appearing with Joan Caulfield and David Niven in "The Lady Says No," but Frank has come up with an idea for Peggy which, believe me, is very different from "The Robe" on which he worked for years.

He's calling Peggy's opus "The Royal Chase." It's now being written by Robert Russell and deals with an American girl who is chased all over Europe by a member of the British nobility. Could that be the Marquis of Milford-Haven who is now married to a New York socialite?

• — • — •

Chit-chat: Dudley J. Le Blanc, the only senator who turned medicine man and made a fortune with a patent medicine, is having his life put into a story.

But, let me say right here and now, the Senator from Louisiana isn't getting any piker author to do the job. He's engaged Stephen Longstreet (he wrote "The Jolson Story") who left Los Angeles for the Senator's home to write what he is calling "The Great American Story."

Well, maybe it is after all. It must be said of the Senator he's a man who knows how to publicize what he has—or is it because he engaged one of Hollywood's top press women to put him over?

• — • — •

From tiny acorns mighty oaks grow—was the thought that came to me when I watched Irene Dunne beamingly announce $135,000 had been gathered for St. John Hospital. Irene didn't just take the title of president of the St. John Guild and then sit idly by.

She worked as I have never seen anyone work because she knew well how much the children's ward and the other two wings are needed. So, her picture, "The Mudlark," brought in $50 a piece for tickets. It was certainly a tribute to her popularity and to the generosity of our stars that they, themselves, bought tickets, as well as all our producers.

Lionel Barrymore, looking wonderful, back at the M-G-M Studio rarin' to go. He's ready for a movie and for his radio show.

Betty Garrett has written a song, "Sister Can You Spare A Song," which the Andrews Sisters will introduce.

Jimmy Stewart, recovered from that demon flu, lunching at the Beverly Hills Brown Derby with Major Alexander De Seversky, famed writer and war ace.

Audie Murphy's fiancee, Pamela Archer, Dallas air line hostess, arrives here over the weekend to see Audie. I thought Audie had gone to Texas to see her.

Louis Armstrong, famous jazz trumpeter, took time off from his M-G-M chores to go to Stanford University to play for the students' annual prom.

From Boston comes a note saying that Arlene Dahl and Lex Barker were dancing romantically in the Oval Room of the Copley Plaza Hotel there. Now what would they be doing in Boston?

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

"The Authority on Authorities"

SECRET WEAPON LETHAL

POSSESSION of a long suit, which you never bid, can be a lethal weapon, especially if your opposition is not the kind that protects itself against possible hidden dangers. Sometimes you may decide to pass on an early round with the intention of coming in at a later stage. But developments in the bidding come so excitingly that you change your mind and decide to lay low, without anybody knowing a thing about your long suit.

West, with plenty of material for an overcall, adopted the scavenger policy of waiting and then backing into the bidding, instead of calling 2-Hearts, 3-Hearts or 4-Hearts at once. But when his next turn came, he had heard South's powerful bid of 3-Spades. Convinced that all suits would be badly divided against South or North, he now decided to see if his opponents would get too high and be wrecked by the adverse distribution. Whereas his own bid might warn them of their danger, his silence might lure them on.

He made his natural opening lead of the heart K against the spade slam, a lead which would disclose nothing about the length of his suit.

South of course won that with the A. Counting up, he saw that he might lose a trick in clubs if the finesse failed, so couldn't afford to drop one in hearts. He could park two of his heart losers on the diamond tops, but would have to ruff one in the dummy. With that in view, he led the heart 2 to the second trick and ruffed with the spade 5. Imagine his feelings when East over-ruffed with the spade 10. West then ruffed the club 5, East the heart 8 with the spade Q after the J was played from dummy, then West the club 3 to beat the contract three tricks.

West said later that, if he had bid his hearts, South probably would have scored the spade A and K before trying to ruff the heart and so would have taken all thirteen tricks. In other words, West's silence about his hearts proved to be worth four tricks to his side.

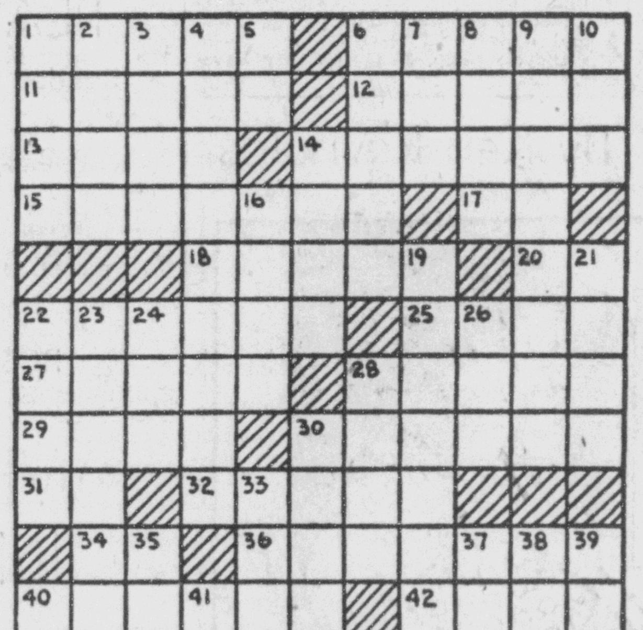
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

"The Authority on Authorities"

SECRET WEAPON LETHAL

POSSESSION of a long suit, which you never bid, can be a lethal weapon, especially if your opposition is not the kind that protects itself against possible hidden dangers. Sometimes you may decide to pass on an early round with the intention of coming in at a later stage. But developments in the bidding come so excitingly that you change your mind and decide to lay low, without anybody knowing a thing about your long suit.

West, with plenty of material for an overcall, adopted the scavenger policy of waiting and then backing into the bidding, instead of calling 2-Hearts, 3-Hearts or 4-Hearts at once. But when his next turn came, he had heard South's powerful bid of 3-Spades. Convinced that all suits would be badly divided against South or North, he now decided to see if his opponents would get too high and be wrecked by the adverse distribution. Whereas his own bid might warn them of their danger, his silence might lure them on.

He made his natural opening lead of the heart K against the spade slam, a lead which would disclose nothing about the length of his suit.

South of course won that with the A. Counting up, he saw that he might lose a trick in clubs if the finesse failed, so couldn't afford to drop one in hearts. He could park two of his heart losers on the diamond tops, but would have to ruff one in the dummy. With that in view, he led the heart 2 to the second trick and ruffed with the spade 5. Imagine his feelings when East over-ruffed with the spade 10. West then ruffed the club 5, East the heart 8 with the spade Q after the J was played from dummy, then West the club 3 to beat the contract three tricks.

West said later that, if he had bid his hearts, South probably would have scored the spade A and K before trying to ruff the heart and so would have taken all thirteen tricks. In other words, West's silence about his hearts proved to be worth four tricks to his side.

How should South play for 5-Hearts, doubled by East, if West had made a diamond overcall and leads the spade 3?

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

GKI ATW RWHA GKI ATW CEDHA EN ATPH PH ATGA KWPATWD PH VEHA AE RSGVW—HCPKRYDKW.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: THE WORDS OF HIS MOUTH WERE SMOOTHER THAN BUTTER, BUT WAR WAS IN HIS HEART—PSALMS.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Alfred Q. McDonald, who passed away one year ago today, Feb. 2.

We think of you in silence
Our hearts are crushed with pain
The happy hours we spent together
Can never come again.
But heaven' holds our treasures
God needed you we know
And your sweet face and sunny smile
Will brighten heaven so.

Sadly missed by
His Wife, Ruth, and Children

In loving memory of our dear son, Quay McDonald, who departed from this life one year ago today, February 2, 1950.

Although your soul is now at rest,
And free from care and pain,
The world would seem like heaven,
If we had you back again.
Let us think of him today,
Sleeping, resting, just away,
Resting where no shadows fall,
In perfect peace, he wants us all.

MOTHER and FATHER

In loving remembrance of our dear mother and father, Richard Scarlett, who died January 30, 1936, and Clara Scarlett, who died February 2nd, 1938.

No one knows the silent heartaches,
Only those who have lost can tell,
Of the grief that's borne in silence,
For the ones we loved so well.

Sadly missed by
The Children

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Alfred Q. McDonald, who passed away one year ago today, Feb. 2.

We think of you in silence
Our hearts are crushed with pain
The happy hours we spent together
Can never come again.
But heaven' holds our treasures
God needed you we know
And your sweet face and sunny smile
Will brighten heaven so.

Sadly missed by
His Wife, Ruth, and Children

In loving memory of our dear son, Quay McDonald, who departed from this life one year ago today, February 2, 1950.

Although your soul is now at rest,
And free from care and pain,
The world would seem like heaven,
If we had you back again.
Let us think of him today,
Sleeping, resting, just away,
Resting where no shadows fall,
In perfect peace, he wants us all.

MOTHER and FATHER

In loving remembrance of our dear mother and father, Richard Scarlett, who died January 30, 1936, and Clara Scarlett, who died February 2nd, 1938.

No one knows the silent heartaches,
Only those who have lost can tell,
Of the grief that's borne in silence,
For the ones we loved so well.

Sadly missed by
The Children

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Berlin DeWard Towler and Kathryn Virginia Towler, vs. Earl J. Patton. No. 22032 Equity in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to procure a Decree declaring Barbara Ann Patton to be the adopted child of Berlin DeWard Towler and Kathryn Virginia Towler, his wife.

The Bill states that Barbara Ann Patton was born to Earl J. Patton and Kathryn F. Patton on November 20, 1941; that the said Earl J. Patton deserted and abandoned his said wife and child in November, 1942, and that the said Kathryn F. Patton was divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the said Earl J. Patton in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, on June 29, 1946, in No. 19094 Equity in said Court, and that the said Kathryn F. Patton has supported and maintained, and cared for the said child down to the present time; that the said Kathryn F. Patton and Berlin DeWard Towler were married on May 7, 1950, at Cumberland, Maryland, and they have provided for the said child down to the time of the filing of this Bill; and that they believe themselves to be competent and responsible persons to adopt said child; further that the said Earl J. Patton has never visited the said child or contributed to her support or maintenance since November, 1942; that he is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and that his present whereabouts are unknown, but that his last known address was ———.

It is thereupon this 18th day of January, 1951, ordered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, in Equity, that the Petitioners cause this Order to be inserted in some newspaper in Allegany County once a week for four (4) successive weeks, before the 19th day of February, 1951, giving notice to the said Earl J. Patton, absent defendant, of the object and substance of this Bill, and warning him to be and appear in this Court in person or by Solicitor on or before the 8th day of March, 1951, to show cause, if any he has, why the Decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

Market Hits Another New High For Over 20 Years

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 (AP)—The stock market today ignored crippling effects of the switchmen's strike and shot forward strongly to another new high going back more than 20 years.

The trend of prices were irregularly lower until late in the session when rails rallied and pulled the rest of the market higher.

Highlight was the 15-point jump in Nickel Plate to 235 after directors voted to pay off the $45 arrearage on the six per cent preferred stock, an amount estimated at $16,226,000. The preferred itself gained 1½ at 150½.

Santa Fe was another strong performer up 5 at 170. Delaware & Lackawanna, which owns a large block of Nickel Plate, was up 1¼ at 16¾.

A number of other individual issues rushed up from more than two to around five points.

These brilliant showings overshadowed the more modest actions of the bulk of the list which advanced by fractions to more than a point.

A basic influence on market bullishness was final confirmation that the government's policy of maintaining a long-term 2½ per cent interest rate is to be continued.

In Wall Street is was felt that continuance of a low interest rate is to be continued.

In Wall Street is was felt that continuance of a low interest rate on government securities would make common stocks look much better with their much higher rate of return at current dividend rates and prices.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced $1 to $95.10, a new high for 1950-51 that goes back to Sept. 24, 1930, when the average stood at $96.70. The industrial component was up 90 cents, rails $1.70 and utilities were down 10 cents.

Volume amounted to 2,380,000 shares as compared with 2,340,000 shares yesterday. The pace of business was slow until the final hour when 860,000 shares changed hands.

situation by originally signing application cards, but said they subsequently rejected the union by a 22-0 vote.

The situation, the drivers said, is at a standstill.

C. E. Stutzman, business agent for the union, said he had not asked any of the men to join Local 453 and that the men had come to the union, not the union to them.

He said Local 453 has a strike at the bakery and will stand fast.

Negotiations Deadlocked

The strike was called, according to Stutzman, after "negotiations for a contract for the bakery's driver-salesmen became deadlocked."

Stutzman's statement follows:

"These driver-salesmen requested a meeting six months ago with the teamsters union and we had a meeting which was arranged by one of the men, Samuel Cunningham,"

"In July and August, 11 of the 19 drivers signed with the union. The union then drew up a contract after several meetings with Ort's drivers.

"The proposal was presented to the company and the men agreed to strike if the contract was not signed or negotiated."

"Negotiations were continued at a later meeting with an international representative of the Teamsters Union present. Another session was delayed because an official of the bakery was in the hospital.

"The union gave the company time—two months. The Saturday afternoon two weeks preceding the strike, a meeting was held with the company, the international representatives of the Bakery and Confectioners Workers Union, and the Teamsters Union and the local business agents of these union attending. After a lengthy discussion, the company agreed to meet with the Uniontown local of the Teamsters Union, No. 451, regarding a contract for drivers handling the bakery's bread there."

Claim Appointment Not Kept

"The company official failed to keep an appointment arranged there with union spokesmen.

"After two weeks, the union felt that the contract negotiations were deadlocked. The international headquarters of the Teamsters Union contacted me and said it was necessary to obtain a contract. A work stoppage was ordered in the same message.

"As a result, pickets were placed at the bakery on January 6.

"The Saturday after the strike was called, the men notified this office by petition asking withdrawal from the union.

"The company says there is no strike. Two men, however, are drawing strike benefits and we have a strike sanction from international headquarters.

An official of Ort Brothers made the following statement:

"Six months ago, Mr. Stutzman contacted the management of the bakery and informed us he had the majority of the driver-salesmen signed in the local.

"However, he never produced an amount of cards to substantiate his claim.

"The company has had its inside bakery workers organized for many years. We have never had any strikes or serious labor difficulties.

Want True Majority

"We are fully prepared to recognize any bargaining agency that represents a true majority of our people.

"We cannot, however, legally recognize any agency that does not represent this majority.

"The Bakery and Confectioners Workers Union in our plant has not recognized any so-called strike and all products continue to be made 100 per cent union.

"The union gave no notice of the so-called strike. The first the management knew of the so-called strike was on Saturday morning, January 6, when the pickets appeared at the bakery."

Men From Uniontown

Another development in the situation was reported Wednesday when three representatives of the drivers at Uniontown, representing all the members of Local 491 hauling Ort's products, appeared at the bakery, company officials said.

A spokesman for the trio said the trip here was made to get bread back into the Uniontown market.

A company official said the wages earned by Cumberland workers at the bakery in making the bread for the Uniontown market averages $100,000 yearly.

On January 23, the 22 driver-salesmen in a paid advertisement announced they were not on strike.

They stated that a secret ballot was held and the workers voted 22-0 against the union.

The bill was referred to the committee on Agriculture and Natural Resources.

Introduced by the Garrett County delegation, HB 170 specifies that primary elections for county commissioner in Garrett County shall be by Commissioner Districts. This bill was referred to the delegation.

Russia is reported to have about 175 divisions of 10,000 men each in Western Germany and deployed along the borders of Western Europe.

In his speech this forenoon, Eisenhower said France had promised to supply 25 divisions by the end of 1952. Connally said the General corrected that figure at the closed meeting: He meant to say 25 divisions by the end of 1953.

Other senators said Eisenhower corrected it to 15 divisions by the end of 1952, with 25 at the end of 1953.

Addressing an informal joint meeting of the Senate and House Eisenhower expressed supreme confidence that the task of defending Europe against Soviet aggression can be achieved.

Market Hits Another New High For Over 20 Years

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 (AP)—The stock market today ignored crippling effects of the switchmen's strike and shot forward strongly to another new high going back more than 20 years.

The trend of prices were irregularly lower until late in the session when rails rallied and pulled the rest of the market higher.

Highlight was the 15-point jump in Nickel Plate to 235 after directors voted to pay off the $45 arrearage on the six per cent preferred stock, an amount estimated at $16,226,000. The preferred itself gained 1½ at 150½.

Santa Fe was another strong performer up 5 at 170. Delaware & Lackawanna, which owns a large block of Nickel Plate, was up 1¼ at 16¾.

A number of other individual issues rushed up from more than two to around five points.

These brilliant showings overshadowed the more modest actions of the bulk of the list which advanced by fractions to more than a point.

A basic influence on market bullishness was final confirmation that the government's policy of maintaining a long-term 2½ per cent interest rate is to be continued.

In Wall Street is was felt that continuance of a low interest rate is to be continued.

In Wall Street is was felt that continuance of a low interest rate on government securities would make common stocks look much better with their much higher rate of return at current dividend rates and prices.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced $1 to $95.10, a new high for 1950-51 that goes back to Sept. 24, 1930, when the average stood at $96.70. The industrial component was up 90 cents, rails $1.70 and utilities were down 10 cents.

situation by originally signing application cards, but said they subsequently rejected the union by a 22-0 vote.

The situation, the drivers said, is at a standstill.

C. E. Stutzman, business agent for the union, said he had not asked any of the men to join Local 453 and that the men had come to the union, not the union to them.

He said Local 453 has a strike at the bakery and will stand fast.

Negotiations Deadlocked

The strike was called, according to Stutzman, after "negotiations for a contract for the bakery's driver-salesmen became deadlocked."

Stutzman's statement follows:

"These driver-salesmen requested a meeting six months ago with the teamsters union and we had a meeting which was arranged by one of the men, Samuel Cunningham."

"In July and August, 11 of the 19 drivers signed with the union. The union then drew up a contract after several meetings with Ort's drivers.

"The proposal was presented to the company and the men agreed to strike if the contract was not signed or negotiated."

"Negotiations were continued at a later meeting with an international representative of the Teamsters Union present. Another session was delayed because an official of the bakery was in the hospital.

"The union gave the company time—two months. The Saturday afternoon two weeks preceding the strike, a meeting was held with the company, the international representatives of the Bakery and Confectioners Workers Union, and the Teamsters Union and the local business agents of these union attending. After a lengthy discussion, the company agreed to meet with the Uniontown local of the Teamsters Union, No. 451, regarding a contract for drivers handling the bakery's bread there."

Claim Appointment Not Kept

"The company official failed to keep an appointment arranged there with union spokesmen.

"After two weeks, the union felt that the contract negotiations were deadlocked. The international headquarters of the Teamsters Union contacted me and said it was necessary to obtain a contract. A work stoppage was ordered in the same message.

"As a result, pickets were placed at the bakery on January 6.

"The Saturday after the strike was called, the men notified this office by petition asking withdrawal from the union.

"The company says there is no strike. Two men, however, are drawing strike benefits and we have a strike sanction from international headquarters.

An official of Ort Brothers made the following statement:

"Six months ago, Mr. Stutzman contacted the management of the bakery and informed us he had the majority of the driver-salesmen signed in the local.

"However, he never produced an amount of cards to substantiate his claim.

"The company has had its inside bakery workers organized for many years. We have never had any strikes or serious labor difficulties.

Want True Majority

"We are fully prepared to recognize any bargaining agency that represents a true majority of our people.

"We cannot, however, legally recognize any agency that does not represent this majority.

"The Bakery and Confectioners Workers Union in our plant has not recognized any so-called strike and all products continue to be made 100 per cent union.

"The union gave no notice of the so-called strike. The first the management knew of the so-called strike was on Saturday morning, January 6, when the pickets appeared at the bakery."

Men From Uniontown

Another development in the situation was reported Wednesday when three representatives of the drivers at Uniontown, representing all the members of Local 491 hauling Ort's products, appeared at the bakery, company officials said.

A spokesman for the trio said the trip here was made to get bread back into the Uniontown market.

A company official said the wages earned by Cumberland workers at the bakery in making the bread for the Uniontown market averages $100,000 yearly.

On January 23, the 22 driver-salesmen in a paid advertisement announced they were not on strike. They stated that a secret ballot was held and the workers voted 22-0 against the union.

New Cold Snap Abates Threat Of Flood Here

Snow And Slush Becomes Hard Ice

A new cold wave which hit the Tri-State area last night turned snow and slush from Wednesday's heavy storm into hard ice but abated the threat of high waters as streams became engorged from the run-off of the snow and rain.

Although high water in Oldtown overflowed a small bridge and several mountain streams came out of their banks yesterday the flood threat here lessened somewhat as water in Potomac River and Wills Creek stopped rising and became stationary last night. River Flood stage here is 17 feet.

Six inches of snow covered the surrounding areas and 1.87 inches of rain fell on top of this during the past 36 hours causing the Potomac to rise to 11.15 feet at 10 o'clock last night. The river's normal stage is approximately four feet.

Robert R. Golden, local weather observer expressed the opinion the cold weather would halt the river's rise and a crest of about 12 feet might be reached.

Road Conditions Good

Primary roads in Western Maryland were reported in good condition last night and, barring a heavy snowfall, were expected to remain clear today.

The frigid blasts struck this area as darkness fell, with the thermometer dropping about four degrees an hour, with an unofficial temperature of 26 at 10 p. m.

Cumberland streets were filled with slush yesterday, with City Street Department crews vainly trying to keep catch basins open.

Officials said hundreds of calls were received, reporting that snow had stopped the catch basins, damming up the water and slush.

In many areas, sidewalks were flooded by the time workers provided gutters through the slush.

In the downtown area, streets were generally clear last night and the city's snow loader was busy clearing other areas.

In Garrett county, the thermometer dropped from the day's high 32 degrees to 30, at 4:30 as the vanguard of the storm struck.

All roads in that county were in good condition.

Youghiogheny Rises

The Youghiogheny River, in nearby Pennsylvania, was rising fast yesterday afternoon as the result of the heavy runoff of snow and rain.

A sharp drop in temperature occurred in Allegany county in the Frostburg area yesterday afternoon. The temperature was 43 at 4 p. m. and dropped to 29 within 45 minutes. Roads in that area were about 85 per cent bare and no chains were needed.

In the Cumberland area, roads were 100 per cent bare, State Roads Commission officials reported, except on Route 51, to Paw Paw, which was 80 per cent bare. No chains were needed as all bad spots had been cindered.

In the Town Hill area, roads were 80 per cent bare, with streaks of ice on shady spots. Chains were not needed, but careful driving was advised.

Roads in the Hancock area were about half bare.

In Hagerstown and Frederick areas, roads were about 75 per cent bare, with icy spots. No chains were needed in Western Maryland on primary roads.

Embargo, Bad Weather Hits Local Mails

Delivery Here Is Slowed By Act

A new embargo placed on mail deliveries because of railroad switchmen strike and the current bad weather has slowed parcel post deliveries to a stand still here, Post Office officials said last night.

Richard Johnson, local mail inspector, received notification of the mail embargo on second, third and fourth class mail last night. Further instructions are expected here today.

Mail Supervisor James W. Fatkin said the embargo probably will be similar to one placed on the mails December 18, 1950. That embargo, although it lasted only several days, cut the incoming parcel post out almost entirely, he said. First class mail is not affected.

Mail generally is not handled here for Southern states during embargoes although most Eastern and New England states are not affected, Fatkin noted.

The persent railroad switchmen strike apparently has spread from Chicago and Detroit, where it started, to Washington, Fatkin said. The Washington terminal is the crux for mail distribution in this area and the great quantities of mail probably will be shifted to Baltimore under the embargo, he thought There has been no disruption of railroad service here.

Along with the rail tieup the heavy snow and rain in the past several days has slowed up trains and mail carriers somewhat so that some packages now are several days late. The local Post Office had very few parcel post deliveries yesterday, Fatkin revealed.

Mail scheduled for one train has been coming in on later trains, Fatkin said, and postal authorities here are expecting a heavy rush when the situation returns to normal.

U. S. Bond Sales In County Drop

Sales of U. S. Savings Bonds in Allegany and Garrett counties in 1950 followed a state-wide downward trend from 1949 totals, according to figures released last night by Richard H. Dixon, Jr., state director of the Treasury Department's Savings Bond Division.

Allegany County's total sales slumped $295,742 last year, from $2,986,291 to $2,690,549. "E" bond sales held up in this county proportionately better than did the combined sales of "F" and "G" bonds. "E" bonds dropped $71,628 from 1949's $2,224,293 to last year's $2,152,665. The "F" and "G" total slumped $224,114 fro m$761,998 to $537,884.

Garrett County's record for "F" and "G" sales was better last year than in 1949, but the drop in "E" sales made the county's overall total lower than in 1949. Garrett County's 1950 "E" bond sales aggregated $209,778, a drop of $31,164 from 1949's $240,942. The "F" and "G" totals in Garrett last year combined reached $47,000, an increase of $12,560 above the previous year's $34,440.

State-wide the drop was from 1949's $65,314,085 to last year's $61,630,016.

Marines Lower Standards For Married Men

The Marine Corps has lowered standards for enlistments, local recruiters said yesterday, and are now accepting married men 17 to 31 with dependents.

Original or prior service enlistments are being accepted and enlistees are placed in the Reserves. They are called to immediate active duty for an indefinite period, and, recruiters said, any veteran may subtract his original service from his age if over 31 and be accepted in this program.

Physical standards have also been lowered to a minimum for all enlistments, officials said.

City May Tax All Vending Machines

Council Probing Revenue Proposal

The Mayor and City Council are exploring the possibilities of additional revenue through a tax on vending machines, it was disclosed yesterday.

Mayor Thomas S. Post said the group will explore the possibilities of such devices as a means of securing more funds for operating expenses of the city.

Legislation is being prepared by City Attorney W. Earle Cobey for taxes on tobacco products, hotel rooms and dogs in Cumberland.

The Mayor and Council will meet in the near future to make a final decision on the rates of the suggested special taxing measures.

Mayor Post said all members of the council are "wracking their brains" in an attempt to find means of securing more sources of money.

All members of the council this week decisively called for an examination of services offered by the city, saying that any unnecessary expenses should be curtailed.

Almost unanimous opposition was expressed to any boost in real estate taxes.

By one means or another, the city must find some $152,000 next year to operate within its present budget.

Some such step would have been necessary in the 1950-51 levy had it not been for the presence of a $152,000 surplus from state-shared income.

Entries Sought For Art Show

Although some interesting pictures already have been submitted, Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian at the Cumberland Free Public Library, said yesterday that comparatively few entries have been received for the annual Tri-State Art Exhibit, which will be held at the library.

The exhibit, sponsored by the Cumberland Branch, American Association of University Women, will begin Monday, February 12, and will continue until Friday, March 16.

Miss Walsh said that over 50 entry blanks have been taken, but few have ben returned. Entries must be in by Thursday, February 8. Only two entries may be submitted by each Maryland, West Virginia or Pennsylvania artist because of limited space. However, there are no limits to the type of art that may be entered.

Mrs. William C. VanNewkirk, Frostburg, is general chairman for the exhibit.

Labor Group Will Notify Members On Bakery Strike

The Western Maryland Labor Unity Conference last night voted to notify all of its affiliates that a strike exists at the Ort Brothers Bakery here.

The action followed a meeting at which driver-salesmen of the firm appeared before the group representing AFL, CIO, Brotherhoods and independent unions of Allegany County to give their side of the dispute.

John L. Estes, chairman, said the minutes quoted Paul Fisher, one of the Ort drivers, as saying that "until all of the drivers for local bakeries were brought into the union the Ort drivers would continue to go without a union."

About half of the drivers for the local bakery appeared before the Unity Conference last night in an effort to find a solution to the dispute which has continued here for several months.

They recounted the steps which led to the dispute, including the signing of application cards by a number, disputed at 11 or 13, of the drivers.

Assessment Plan Compromise Gains New Favor

Three-Year Program Now Is Suggested

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 1—(AP)—Assessment of property every three years was offered today as a compromise between the present five-year system and a proposed annual evaluation.

The compromise plan was devised by a Senate Finance Subcommittee and Clarence E. Tyler, representing the Association of County Commissioners.

Tyler will poll his group for reaction to the plan and then confer again with the subcommittee. The County Commissioners were almost unanimous in opposing a bill calling for annual assessments at full cash value.

Three Districts

The sugested compromise would complete the present five-year cycle of assessments which have brought protests of inequities. Then in 1945 each county and Baltimore city would be divided into three geographical districts and one assessed every year.

However, the new assessments would not be used as the basis of taxation until the end of the three years and then they would all go into effect at once. Under the present system, the assessments go into effect when made.

Assessors also would use fair instead of full market value as their yardstick At present, this amounts to about 65 per cent of full market value.

Tyler expressed belief that most of the complaints against the five-year system are disappearing. "We're over the worst hurdle and from here on out it should be smooth. We're all coming up to the same level of valuation and eliminating the feeling that some area is not doing its part."

View Borrowing Plan

County members of the subcommittee, Senators Sybert (D-Howard), Jewell (D-Kent) and Ramsburg (R-Frederick), indicated they were in sympathy with objections that annual reassessment would require work beyond the ability of their assessing staffs.

Tyler also met with another Senate Finance Subcommittee about a bill to create a $25,000,000 state debt from which local governments could borrow to build water and sewer systems.

Senator Byrd (D-Worcester), Subcommittee chairman, indicated ceive an unfavorable recommenda- afterward that the bill would retion from his group. Byrd said the subcommittee felt the proposal is another in a growing tendency to have the state do what local governments should do for themselves.

Natural Gas Supply Low In This Area

Company Officials Urge Conservation

Low supply of natural gas in this area has become critical, Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company officials said yesterday.

The local gas company has placed an urgent request to all persons using gas in Cumberland and surrounding territories to take every precaution to avert the exhaustion of the supply here.

Severe Cold Blamed

Carl C. Robbins, district manager of the local gas company, said last night the situation has become critical in this area due to the unusually severe cold weather in the Louisiana and Texas area. All major pipe lines from that area have been unable to maintain the supply of natural gas to the Cumberland area, he announced.

The cold weather and snow, sleet and rain here has further aggrevated the situation, Robbins reported.

Major industries all along the major supply lines have cut their use of natural gas to an absolute minimum in efforts to overcome the critical condition, the manager said.

Situation Temporary

The gas company is now asking everyone to reduce the use of gas by closing off spare rooms, reducing temperatures or any other means of relieving the situation during the present period of extremely bad weather here.

Major industries in the Cumberland area which use great quantities of gas are Celanese Corporation of America, Cumberland Glass Company, Baltimore and Ohio Bolt and Forge shops, West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company of Luke, Big Savage Refracteries and others. Approximately 13,000 homes in Cumberland also use gas in some form or other, Robbins said.

Local Scout Pageant Set

The pageant on Scouting to be presented by the 25 troops and Cub packs of Cumberland District, Potomac Council, Boy Scouts, will be staged at the Strand Theatre February 7 and 8 at 9 p. m.

Willis V. Smith, council executive, said tickets are available from local Boy Scouts and Cubs.

Chairman of arrangements is Herbert Lehr while director of the pageant is Robert Rosamond, local announcer and dramatist.

The event will be the highlight of Cumberland District's observation of national Boy Scout week, February 6 to February 12.

One hundred fifty boys will be in the cast that presents 25 acts depicting various phases of Scouting.

Lehr emphasized that parents and those interested in seeing the pageant should buy their tickets from a Scout or a Cub in advance as the Scouts get no portion of the door sales.

Rehearsals for the production will be held this Saturday and next Saturday, at 10 a. m. in the theatre, Lehr stated.

Each troop and pack has a specific scene to produce. These have been practiced for the past two months under Rosamond's direction, Lehr said.

County Heart Association Opens Third Annual Campaign With Plea For $7,000

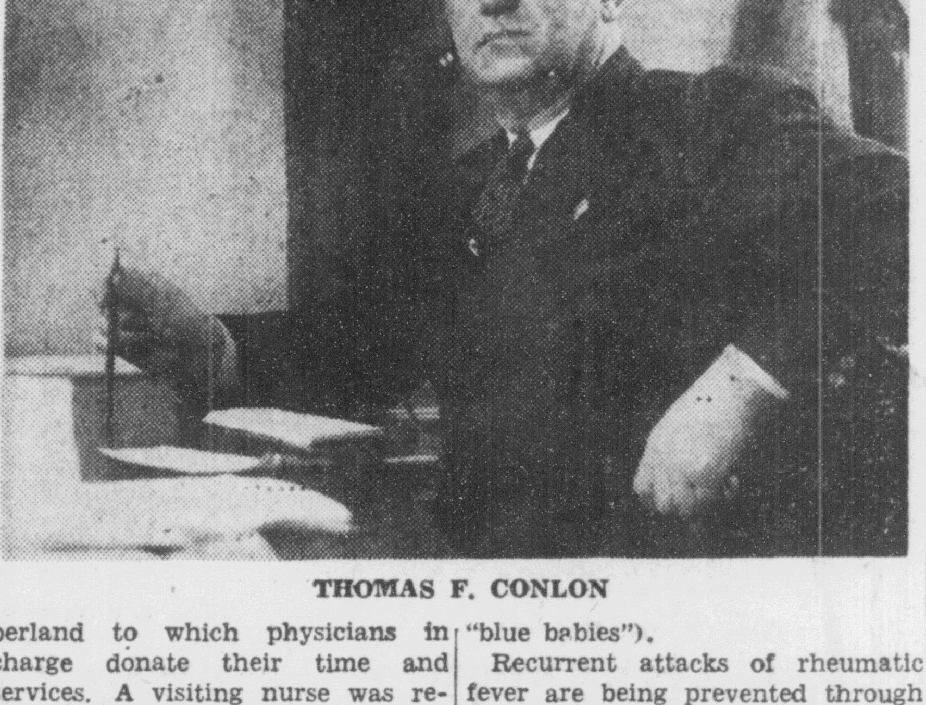
Thomas F. Conlon Is Named General Chairman For The 1951 Drive



THOMAS F. CONLON

The Allegany County Rheumatic Fever and Heart Association has established a goal of $7,000 for its third annual fund raising campaign which got underway yesterday.

Thomas F. Conlon, Cumberland postmaster, is general chairman of the Allegany County appeal program and has divided the county into sections with co-chairmen and committees in charge of the campaign in these sections.

Mrs. Effie Vogel, Mrs. Rachel Iames and Mrs. Heyl Walker have charge of tag day program which will be held either February 10 or 17, Conlon reported. Twelve large sign boards throughout the county will be placed with appeals for aid.

Approximately 325 heart cans will be placed in the county, Conlon stated, with several hundred placards with pleas for aid also being distributed.

Theater collections are planned in each community under the chairmanship of John Manuel, manager of the Strand Theater here.

Dr. Samuel M. Jacobson, president of the association, said that when the heavy toll by heart disease is considered any contribution made by the public is a step towards combatting this killer and is an investment in your own future.

The county group keeps 70 per cent of the funds collected for work within the county while 30 per cent is turned over to the National Heart Association.

The Heart Association conducts two cardiac clinics monthly in Cumberland to which physicians in charge donate their time and services. A visiting nurse was recently hired by the association to treat patients throughout the county. She is Mrs. Betty Kirk and her work is supervised by the County Health Department.

Through research under grants made by the National Heart Association great progress has been made. Surgical treatment of abnormalities of the heart and circulation is progressing especially the treatment by surgery of children born with defective hearts (such as "blue babies").

Recurrent attacks of rheumatic fever are being prevented through use of penicillin and the sulfonamides. The use of certain drugs in retarding blood clotting has decreased deaths caused by coronary heart disease.

Approximately 100 patients in the county are now receiving treatments for rheumatic fever and heart disease, Conlon related, and children up to 18 years of ago who require aid for these dread diseases are helped by the Heart Association. tion.

Trial In Case Of Blackjacking Delayed Again

City Police Officer To Be Tried Monday

The assault charge hearing today for probationary oficer Karl W. Frankfort of the Cumberland Police Force has once more been postponed.

The case has been tentatively rescheduled for 10 a.m. Monday in Trial Magistrates Court before Magistrate Frank A. Perdew. It previously was delayed from Wednesday.

Frankfort is charged with assaulting William Shumaker, 322 Henderson Avenue, in a warrant issued by Magistrate Perdew after Shumaker alleged Frankfort struck him with a blackjack early last Sunday near Midway Inn on Route 220 between Rawlings and Cumberland.

As a result of investigation by City Police, Frankfort and two other probationary officers have been suspended indefinitely. The others are Vernon E. Browning and Lewis A. Miller.

Shumaker, who was treated at Memorial Hospital for head lacerations declined to reveal at the time how he was hurt but claimed he had been hit with a blackjack when he obtained the warrant. No mention of Browning and Miller was made in the warrant, officials said.

The three probationary officers have a total of 14 months service with the police department. Frankfort joined the department September 21, 1950, Browning became a probationary officer August 16, 1950 and Miller was accepted July 3, 1950. All were off duty when the alleged blackjacking occurred.

Police declined to discuss the case although the three suspended officers and other witnesses were questioned by authorities.

Witnesses to the brawl said it occurred at an early morning hour after a brief argument in a tavern. The alleged incident occurred outside the tavern with a crowd looking on, witnesses said. It marked the second time Frankfort had been involved in a similar incident while "off duty."

New Cold Snap Abates Threat Of Flood Here

Snow And Slush Becomes Hard Ice

A new cold wave which hit the Tri-State area last night turned snow and slush from Wednesday's heavy storm into hard ice but abated the threat of high waters as streams became engorged from the run-off of the snow and rain.

Although high water in Oldtown overflowed a small bridge and several mountain streams came out of their banks yesterday the flood threat here lessened somewhat as water in Potomac River and Wills Creek stopped rising and became stationary last night. River Flood stage here is 17 feet.

Six inches of snow covered the surrounding areas and 1.87 inches of rain fell on top of this during the past 36 hours causing the Potomac to rise to 11.15 feet at 10 o'clock last night. The river's normal stage is approximately four feet.

Robert R. Golden, local weather observer expressed the opinion the cold weather would halt the river's rise and a crest of about 12 feet might be reached.

Road Conditions Good

Primary roads in Western Maryland were reported in good condition last night and, barring a heavy snowfall, were expected to remain clear today.

The frigid blasts struck this area as darkness fell, with the thermometer dropping about four degrees an hour, with an unofficial temperature of 26 at 10 p. m.

Cumberland streets were filled with slush yesterday, with City Street Department crews vainly trying to keep catch basins open.

Officials said hundreds of calls were received, reporting that snow had stopped the catch basins, damming up the water and slush.

In many areas, sidewalks were flooded by the time workers provided gutters through the slush.

In the downtown area, streets were generally clear last night and the city's snow loader was busy clearing other areas.

In Garrett county, the thermometer dropped from the day's high 32 degrees to 30, at 4:30 as the vanguard of the storm struck.

All roads in that county were in good condition.

Youghiogheny Rises

The Youghiogheny River, in nearby Pennsylvania, was rising fast yesterday afternoon as the result of the heavy runoff of snow and rain.

A sharp drop in temperature occurred in Allegany county in the Frostburg area yesterday afternoon. The temperature was 43 at 4 p. m. and dropped to 29 within 45 minutes. Roads in that area were about 85 per cent bare and no chains were needed.

In the Cumberland area, roads were 100 per cent bare, State Roads Commission officials reported, except on Route 51, to Paw Paw, which was 80 per cent bare. No chains were needed as all bad spots had been cindered.

In the Town Hill area, roads were 80 per cent bare, with streaks of ice on shady spots. Chains were not needed, but careful driving was advised.

Roads in the Hancock area were about half bare.

In Hagerstown and Frederick areas, roads were about 75 per cent bare, with icy spots. No chains were needed in Western Maryland on primary roads.

Embargo, Bad Weather Hits Local Mails

Delivery Here Is Slowed By Act

A new embargo placed on mail deliveries because of railroad switchmen strike and the current bad weather has slowed parcel post deliveries to a stand still here, Post Office officials said last night.

Richard Johnson, local mail inspector, received notification of the mail embargo on second, third and fourth class mail last night. Further instructions are expected here today.

Mail Supervisor James W. Fatkin said the embargo probably will be similar to one placed on the mails December 18, 1950. That embargo, although it lasted only several days, cut the incoming parcel post out almost entirely, he said. First class mail is not affected.

Mail generally is not handled here for Southern states during embargoes although most Eastern and New England states are not affected, Fatkin noted.

The persent railroad switchmen strike apparently has spread from Chicago and Detroit, where it started, to Washington, Fatkin said. The Washington terminal is the crux for mail distribution in this area and the great quantities of mail probably will be shifted to Baltimore under the embargo, he thought There has been no disruption of railroad service here.

Along with the rail tieup the heavy snow and rain in the past several days has slowed up trains and mail carriers somewhat so that some packages now are several days late. The local Post Office had very few parcel post deliveries yesterday, Fatkin revealed.

Mail scheduled for one train has been coming in on later trains, Fatkin said, and postal authorities here are expecting a heavy rush when the situation returns to normal.

U. S. Bond Sales In County Drop

Sales of U. S. Savings Bonds in Allegany and Garrett counties in 1950 followed a state-wide downward trend from 1949 totals, according to figures released last night by Richard H. Dixon, Jr., state director of the Treasury Department's Savings Bond Division.

Allegany County's total sales slumped $295,742 last year, from $2,986,291 to $2,690,549. "E" bond sales held up in this county proportionately better than did the combined sales of "F" and "G" bonds. "E" bonds dropped $71,628 from 1949's $2,224,293 to last year's $2,152,665. The "F" and "G" total slumped $224,114 fro m$761,998 to $537,884.

Garrett County's record for "F" and "G" sales was better last year than in 1949, but the drop in "E" sales made the county's overall total lower than in 1949. Garrett County's 1950 "E" bond sales aggregated $209,778, a drop of $31,164 from 1949's $240,942. The "F" and "G" totals in Garrett last year combined reached $47,000, an increase of $12,560 above the previous year's $34,440.

State-wide the drop was from 1949's $65,314,085 to last year's $61,630,016.

Physical standards have also been lowered to a minimum for all enlistments, officials said.

Assessment Plan Compromise Gains New Favor

Three-Year Program Now Is Suggested

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 1—(AP)—Assessment of property every three years was offered today as a compromise between the present five-year system and a proposed annual evaluation.

The compromise plan was devised by a Senate Finance Subcommittee and Clarence E. Tyler, representing the Association of County Commissioners.

Tyler will poll his group for reaction to the plan and then confer again with the subcommittee. The County Commissioners were almost unanimous in opposing a bill calling for annual assessments at full cash value.

Three Districts

The sugested compromise would complete the present five-year cycle of assessments which have brought protests of inequities. Then in 1945 each county and Baltimore city would be divided into three geographical districts and one assessed every year.

However, the new assessments would not be used as the basis of taxation until the end of the three years and then they would all go into effect at once. Under the present system, the assessments go into effect when made.

Assessors also would use fair instead of full market value as their yardstick At present, this amounts to about 65 per cent of full market value.

Tyler expressed belief that most of the complaints against the five-year system are disappearing. "We're over the worst hurdle and from here on out it should be smooth. We're all coming up to the same level of valuation and eliminating the feeling that some area is not doing its part."

View Borrowing Plan

County members of the subcommittee, Senators Sybert (D-Howard), Jewell (D-Kent) and Ramsburg (R-Frederick), indicated they were in sympathy with objections that annual reassessment would require work beyond the ability of their assessing staffs.

Tyler also met with another Senate Finance Subcommittee about a bill to create a $25,000,000 state debt from which local governments could borrow to build water and sewer systems.

Senator Byrd (D-Worcester), Subcommittee chairman, indicated ceive an unfavorable recommenda-afterward that the bill would retion from his group. Byrd said the subcommittee felt the proposal is another in a growing tendency to have the state do what local governments should do for themselves.

Natural Gas Supply Low In This Area

Company Officials Urge Conservation

Low supply of natural gas in this area has become critical, Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company officials said yesterday.

The local gas company has placed an urgent request to all persons using gas in Cumberland and surrounding territories to take every precaution to avert the exhaustion of the supply here.

Severe Cold Blamed

Carl C. Robbins, district manager of the local gas company, said last night the situation has become critical in this area due to the unusually severe cold weather in the Louisiana and Texas area. All major pipe lines from that area have been unable to maintain the supply of natural gas to the Cumberland area, he announced.

The cold weather and snow, sleet and rain here has further aggrevated the situation, Robbins reported.

Major industries all along the major supply lines have cut their use of natural gas to an absolute minimum in efforts to overcome the critical condition, the manager said.

Situation Temporary

The gas company is now asking everyone to reduce the use of gas by closing off spare rooms, reducing temperatures or any other means of relieving the situation during the present period of extremely bad weather here.

Major industries in the Cumberland area which use great quantities of gas are Celanese Corporation of America, Cumberland Glass Company, Baltimore and Ohio Bolt and Forge shops, West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company of Luke, Big Savage Refracteries and others. Approximately 13,000 homes in Cumberland also use gas in some form or other, Robbins said.

Local Scout Pageant Set

The pageant on Scouting to be presented by the 25 troops and Cub packs of Cumberland District, Potomac Council, Boy Scouts, will be staged at the Strand Theatre February 7 and 8 at 9 p. m.

Willis V. Smith, council executive, said tickets are available from local Boy Scouts and Cubs.

Chairman of arrangements is Herbert Lehr while director of the pageant is Robert Rosamond, local announcer and dramatist.

The event will be the highlight of Cumberland District's observation of national Boy Scout week, February 6 to February 12.

One hundred fifty boys will be in the cast that presents 25 acts depicting various phases of Scouting.

Lehr emphasized that parents and those interested in seeing the pageant should buy their tickets from a Scout or a Cub in advance as the Scouts get no portion of the door sales.

Rehearsals for the production will be held this Saturday and next Saturday, at 10 a. m. in the theatre, Lehr stated.

Each troop and pack has a specific scene to produce. These have been practiced for the past two months under Rosamond's direction, Lehr said.

County Heart Association Opens Third Annual Campaign With Plea For $7,000

Thomas F. Conlon Is Named General Chairman For The 1951 Drive

The Allegany County Rheumatic Fever and Heart Association has established a goal of $7,000 for its third annual fund raising campaign which got underway yesterday.

Thomas F. Conlon, Cumberland postmaster, is general chairman of the Allegany County appeal program and has divided the county into sections with co-chairmen and committees in charge of the campaign in these sections.

Mrs. Effie Vogel, Mrs. Rachel Iames and Mrs. Heyl Walker have charge of tag day program which will be held either February 10 or 17, Conlon reported. Twelve large sign boards throughout the county will be placed with appeals for aid.

Approximately 325 heart cans will be placed in the county, Conlon stated, with several hundred placards with pleas for aid also being distributed.

Theater collections are planned in each community under the chairmanship of John Manuel, manager of the Strand Theater here.

Dr. Samuel M. Jacobson, president of the association, said that when the heavy toll by heart disease is considered any contribution made by the public is a step towards combatting this killer and is an investment in your own future.

The county group keeps 70 per cent of the funds collected for work within the county while 30 per cent is turned over to the National Heart Association.

The Heart Association conducts two cardiac clinics monthly in Cumberland to which physicians in charge donate their time and services. A visiting nurse was recently hired by the association to treat patients throughout the county. She is Mrs. Betty Kirk and her work is supervised by the County Health Department.

THOMAS F. CONLON

Through research under grants made by the National Heart Association great progress has been made. Surgical treatment of abnormalities of the heart and circulation is progressing especially the treatment by surgery of children born with defective hearts (such as "blue babies").

Recurrent attacks of rheumatic fever are being prevented through use of penicillin and the sulfonamides. The use of certain drugs in retarding blood clotting has decreased deaths caused by coronary heart disease.

Approximately 100 patients in the county are now receiving treatments for rheumatic fever and heart disease, Conlon related, and children up to 18 years of ago who require aid for these dread diseases are helped by the Heart Association tion.

Church Secures Building Permit

St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church this week secured a permit to begin construction of an addition on Arch Street to be used as an education building.

The two-story addition will be constructed by the George F. Hazelwood Company here.

The cost of the building, fully equipped, is expected to be about $90,000.

The educational building will be 43 by 96 feet, with concrete foundation, brick walls and an asbestos shingle roof.

Trial In Case Of Blackjacking Delayed Again

City Police Officer To Be Tried Monday

The assault charge hearing today for probationary oficer Karl W. Frankfort of the Cumberland Police Force has once more been postponed.

The case has been tentatively rescheduled for 10 a.m. Monday in Trial Magistrates Court before Magistrate Frank A. Perdew. It previously was delayed from Wednesday.

Frankfort is charged with assaulting William Shumaker, 322 Henderson Avenue, in a warrant issued by Magistrate Perdew after Shumaker alleged Frankfort struck him with a blackjack early last Sunday near Midway Inn on Route 220 between Rawlings and Cumberland.

As a result of investigation by City Police, Frankfort and two other probationary officers have been suspended indefinitely. The others are Vernon E. Browning and Lewis A. Miller.

Shumaker, who was treated at Memorial Hospital for head lacerations declined to reveal at the time how he was hurt but claimed he had been hit with a blackjack when he obtained the warrant. No mention of Browning and Miller was made in the warrant, officials said.

The three probationary officers have a total of 14 months service with the police department. Frankfort joined the department September 21, 1950, Browning became a probationary officer August 16, 1950 and Miller was accepted July 3, 1950. All were off duty when the alleged blackjacking occurred.

Police declined to discuss the case although the three suspended officers and other witnesses were questioned by authorities.

Witnesses to the brawl said it occurred at an early morning hour after a brief argument in a tavern. The alleged incident occurred outside the tavern with a crowd looking on, witnesses said. It marked the second time Frankfort had been involved in a similar incident while "off duty."

RED ENTRAPMENT ATTEMPT FAILS

'Ike' Wants 40 Divisions By '53

Allies Slated To Halt Drive At Parallel 38

Decision Reported Made By Officials

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—High officials are reported to have decided that United Nations troops should stop at the 38th parallel if they are to drive that far in any northward advance in Korea.

While responsible authorities were reluctant to discuss this development even privately, the intent appeared to be to create if possible a basis for new efforts at a political settlement.

The United States exercises through Gen. Douglas MacArthur the command of United Nations forces in Korea and MacArthur presumably has been or shortly will be informed of the decision.

No All-Out Drive In Progress

At the moment U. N. advances to the north are described as relatively limited offensive action and apparently the present strategy is not designed to develop an all-out northward movement. But if the Chinese and Korean Communist resistance proves relatively weak an all out advance obviously might be undertaken and proceed, if possible, as far as the parallel.

Although the parallel, which formed the boundary between North and South Korea before the war began last June has been crossed by both U. N. and Communist forces, it is still regarded here and in other world capitals as a line of political significance.

In recent United Nations discussions of a cease-fire arrangement, the 38th parallel has figured prominently, as the line along which the belligerent forces could have established their positions.

Other Factors Considered

Other factors taken into consideration here is the military situation in Korea. American military leaders assert that the U. N. forces can hold on indefinitely against any pressure the Communists may bring against them. On the other hand none of these authorities has claimed since the Chinese intervention that the United Nations would be able to muster sufficient strength to force the Communists out of Korea altogether.

The situation in a sense therefore is one of stalemate and authorities evidently still hope that some way may be found to bring it to a conclusion by political means.

Japan Invited To Sign Treaty

TOKYO, Friday, Feb. 2 (AP) — U. S. Ambassador-at-Large John Foster Dulles today invited Japan to sign a peace treaty which would offer her an opportunity to share in "collective security against direct aggression."

If Japan accepts, he said, the United States would consider retaining American forces in and near Japan "as a testimony to the unity between our countries."

The first official offer of a defense agreement, after the projected Japanese peace treaty, was made by the special State Department envoy in a luncheon speech before the America-Japan Society.

Dulles outlined at length the principles underlying the formal peace treaty program which his mission has studied here. The mission tentatively plans to leave Japan Sunday for the Philippines and probably New Zealand to consult officials of those governments on the peace settlement.

"Ike" On Air Tonight

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will make a report to the nation at 10:45 p. m. Eastern Standard Time tomorrow night on his recent survey of Western European defense potentials.

North Korean Reds' Commander Killed

TOKYO, Friday, Feb. 2 (AP) —The death in action of North Korea's commanding general and vice premier, Im Chek, was announced today by the Pyongyang radio.

The broadcast, heard in Tokyo, said his death occurred Jan. 30 but gave no details.

It said Kim, in addition to commanding the North Korean army and serving as vice premier, was North Korean minister of industries. He was described as a close friend and co-worker of Red Premier Kim Il Sung.

The death was announced jointly by the North Korean cabinet, headquarters of the North Korean army, and the North Korean Communist Party central committee.

Military Goods Removed From Price "Freeze"

Coal Ceilings Upped; Food Prices Climb

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—The price freeze today was taken off a vast range of military goods bought by the government.

The announced purpose was to keep price controls from "interfering with the defense effort."

This was the first change in the price freeze order of last Friday night. The second change, a rise in coal price ceilings which could add more than $100,000,000 a year to consumer's bills, was made a few minutes later. This follows a wage increase won by John L. Lewis.

Almost simultaneously, the government announced that retail food prices had risen to another record high, climbing 1.1 per cent during the first two weeks of January to 220.5 per cent of the 1935-39 average.

The Office of Price Stabilization said that the thaw on defense buying applied only to strictly military goods. It said price ceilings are not "practicable or advisable" on such articles because of frequent changes in specifications and production plans.

Officials hastened to say that these articles are not being freed from all control because their prices "can be best controlled" by the defense agencies themselves—through contract negotiations and in later renegotations to eliminate excessive profits.

From now until April 1, there is a sweeping exemption of "all commodities and services peculiar to military needs."

The new coal prices regulation had the effect of allowing raises that conceivably could amount to an average of 25 cents a ton in the case of soft coal and 90 cents a ton for anthracite.

But officials of the OPS said the actual increases would probably be "very much less" than this because coal is highly competitive with oil and gas, and the industry may not be able to get the full increases.

Dewey Says Russia Getting Set For "Grab"

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 (AP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said today Russia "is getting set" to seize all of Germany and Japan as a prelude to attempted world conquest.

By grabbing all the industrial power of those two nations, the New York Governor said in an article in Collier's magazine, Stalin "would no longer fear American industrial might and, with his vast manpower, he would be in a position to take the final step of conquering the world."

He said "there is good reason to believe" that either an internal coup or armed conquest of Yugoslavia by satellite powers is planned before an attack on Germany.

Flexible U. S. Contribution To Pact Urged

Says West Europe Would "Risk" War

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower reportedly told senators today he is aiming at a goal of 40 divisions—roughly about 700,000 troops—to defend Western Europe by the end of 1952.

Testifying behind closed doors, Eisenhower also declared:

"I don't deny the danger of a powder keg war. But the task today is one of building for peace."

The direct quotation was attributed to Eisenhower by Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Connally said in a statement:

"The General expressed the view that the United States contribution under its North Atlantic obligations should be flexible and that it should not be expressed in terms of a mathematical ratio or of a fixed ceiling.

"He made it clear that all NAT (North Atlantic Treaty) partners should make their maximum possible contribution."

Europe Will Risk War

Other senators said, however, that Eisenhower favored a ratio—worked out by military men though not by Congress.

Earlier in the day, Eisenhower had told Congress members in a dramatic, hour-long speech that Western Europe is now determined to "take the risk" of war in combatting Communism. He said the United States must help or see America's way of life "wither away."

Senators who heard Eisenhower testify in closed session told newsmen he expressed belief that a land defense army of 1,600,000 men would be sufficient to withstand an initial assault on Western Europe by Russia's Red armies.

Senators said Eisenhower, in testifying before the Senate Foreign and Armed Services Committees, avoided any direct, specific statement on U. S. troop commitments in Europe. He explained he did not have all the facts yet to lay down a full program.

Eisenhower's reported goal of 40 divisions would work out roughly at about 600,000 to 700,000 men.

Military informants said British, French and Belgian divisions are about equivalent to American divisional strength—about 18,000 men—

Indochina Reds Fire On U. S. Ship

SAIGON, Vietnam, Indochina, Feb. 1 (AP)—Vietminh suicide patrols fired on a U. S. Navy escort carrier today and later threw 10 grenades at her crewmen on shore leave in downtown Saigon. They hit neither the carrier nor the sailors.

Five French marines who were with the sailors in Saigon bars were injured by grenade fragments. Vietnamese police captured one of the Vietminh group, guerrilla followers of the Communist Ho Chi Minh.

The demonstrations were staged to protest the delivery of planes and other arms by the carrier to the French-commanded forces combatting a Red-led rebellion.

Vietminh machine-gun and mortar fire was directed at the 6,730-ton escort carrier Windham Bay, a ship of the Casablanca class, as she moved up the Saigon River from the South China Sea. All fell short. Shore leaves were granted when the ship reached Saigon.

Immediately after the attacks in Saigon, military police ordered all U. S. Navy personnel to return to the ship.

U. N. Assembly Finds China Guilty Of Aggression; Jebb Urges Caution On Sanctions

LAGE SUCCESS, Feb. 1 (AP)—The United Nations General Assembly today found Communist China guilty of aggression in Korea by a one-sided majority of 44 to 7. But Britain warned the U. N. to take it easy on sanctions against the Chinese Reds until every effort is made at a peaceful settlement. That appeared to be the course the U. N. will take in the immediate future.

Sir Gladwyn Jebb, Britain, agreed with the others in the majority camp that the U. N. must establish its "moral position" by condemning Communist China for aggression. Then he told the Assembly that Britain has the "gravest doubts whether any punitive measures can be discovered which are not dangerous, double-edged, or merely useless, or any which will materially assist our brave troops now fighting in Korea." He said the most urgent task is that of "peaceful negotiation."

Historic Decision

A good offices committee, still to be chosen, is expected to get to work as soon as possible.

The decision was regarded here as historic in that it is the first ever taken by the U. N. against such massive power as Red China represents. It came at an unusually brief session of one hour and 15 minutes in the same committee room in which the Political Committee last Tuesday branded Red China an aggressor by the same vote.

The 12-nation Arab and Asian group abandoned its fight, which lasted for days in the committee, to have the U. N. call a seven-nation conference on all Far Eastern issues, with a cease-fire arrangement the first order of business.

India Votes Against Resolution

The United States, Britain, France, every one of the 20 Latin American republics and other countries scattered around the globe made up the 44-vote majority.

The Soviet bloc of five members, plus India and Burma, voted against the resolution, originally proposed by the United States on Jan. 20, which said Red China has engaged in aggression in Korea.

Nine countries abstained. They were Afghanistan, Egypt, Indonesia, Pakistan, Saudi Arabia, Sweden, Syria, Yemen and Yugoslavia. Saudi Arabia asked to be recorded as not participating in the vote, but Assembly President Nasrollah Entezam ruled Saudi Arabia must be counted as abstaining.

American Casualties Increase To 46,814

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—An increase of 613 American casualties in Korea was reported today in this week's Defense Department summary—the smallest increase since the department started issuing weekly totals last August.

The new total of 46,814 covers casualties where the next of kin had been notified through Jan. 26.

The dead mounted to 7,739, including 6,897 killed in action, 796 who died of wounds, and 46 who originally were reported as missing but later were determined to be dead.

Winter Attacks On Wide Front

[By The Associated Press]

Winter renewed its attack against the nation Thursday along the widest front of the season.

The assault took varied forms—snow, cold, sleet, freezing rains—in the vast territory from the Rockies to the Atlantic seaboard.

Hundreds of schools were closed in the storm regions. Transportation was slowed.

Communication and power lines snapped. Texas citrus losses were calculated in millions of dollars.

The toll of deaths laid to the week's savage weather rose to 108.

Householders in the frigid zones kept one eye on dwindling fuel stocks and the other on news of the strike of railroad workers—a tieup threatening to cut fresh supplies of coal and oil.

Heavy clouds dumped snow on a broad belt from Missouri to Ohio and from Tennessee to Michigan.

Most of the states to the east were pelted with sleet and a chilling rain.

Stay Of Execution Denied 7 Negroes

RICHMOND, Va., Feb. 1 (AP) — Gov. John S. Battle formally turned down last hour pleas for stay of execution tonight and prison officials prepared for the electrocution tomorrow of four of the seven Martinsville negroes sentenced to die for rape.

Counsel for the men fought in vain against time to stay the executioner's hand. Two attorneys for the men were turned down at Charlotte, N. C., by a Fourth U. S. Circuit Court judge earlier in the day.

Then, while delegates to a mass rally here were standing a prayer vigil in Capitol Square, two other negro attorneys called again on the Governor. They asked for commutation.

The governor declined this. He said it wasn't in any way merited because of the facts in the "brutal and dastardly" mass assault against the white woman two years ago in Martinsville.

Banker Is Sentenced

BALTIMORE, Feb. 1 (AP)—Andrew A. Kramer, 57-year-old former president of an Annapolis bank, was given a five-month prison sentence today after he was convicted on three counts involving handling of the bank's funds and stock.

Dynamite Truck Blast Kills One, Razes 10 Homes

The blast demolished a truck carrying the dynamite on U. S. Route 340, about four miles east of here, and west of the Maryland-West Virginia line.

Windows were shattered for seven miles around and the impact was felt in Sharpsburg, Md., 15 miles distant.

Billy Bates, 30-year-old farmer, was the only known fatality. He was blown through the doorway of a neighbor's home while trying to rouse sleeping occupants.

Two Seriously Injured

Two of the nine injured, including Bates' 27-year-old wife, were in serious condition at Charles Town General Hospital. The other serious injury was suffered by Mrs. Estella Cobb, also 27, the neighbor Bates tried to warn.

Corp. C. A. Hehle of the West Virginia State Police said the truck driver, 33-year-old Edward Schade of Gloucester, N. J., escaped injury. The officer said Schade gave him this description of the explosion:

Shortly before 5 a.m. the truck, laden with 15 tons of dynamite, produced a noise that sounded like a broken tire chain striking the gasoline tank. Sparks apparently caused by the snapped chain flew up behind the cab.

Finds Gas Tank Ablaze

Schade pulled to a stop on the ice-covered highway, checked the tank and found it blazing. Realizing the flames were out of control and eating their way toward the dynamite cargo, he awakened his half-clad sleeping assistant, Fred Schappert of Paulsboro, N. J.

The two men dashed along the road to sound the alarm about the imminent explosion. Schappert, stumbling along the frozen road in his bare feet, suffered slight frostbite.

When the dynamite went off it ripped doors from their hinges, sprayed the air with flying window glass and sent furniture crashing through the interior of homes up and down U. S. 340.

Third Atomic Blast Rocks Las Vegas, Nev.

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Feb. 1 (AP)—The third atomic blast in less than a week went off before dawn today in the desert near here, but hardly a soul in Las Vegas turned a hair.

Such things are just everyday stuff now in this city of high stakes gambling and quick divorce.

The sky lit up in a blinding flash at 5:48 a. m. (Pacific Standard Time) and buildings rumbled from the concussion six minutes later.

New Legal Moves Made In Attempt To End Rail Tieup

Paralysis Spreads, 66,000 Furloughed

[By The Associated Press]

The government clamped a partial embargo on mail Thursday because of the railroad strike. It also made two legal moves to try to halt the walkout.

Paralysis spread along more of the nation's rail arteries as more trainmen reported "sick." The rail strike also caused layoffs of more than 66,000 workers in other industries.

Hardship loomed on the fighting and home fronts. Combat rations for the forces in Korea were stalled in Chicago's vast freight yards. Domestic mail, freight and express piles mounted.

The tieup of fuel oil shipments brought fears that homes would grow cold during the current cold wave gripping much of the nation.

The mail embargo, similar to that declared during the pre-Christmas walkout by the trainmen, directly affected 10 of the nation's largest cities.

Truman Urged To Intercede

The order restricted acceptance of second, third and fourth class mail for out-of-town delivery at Chicago, St. Louis, Washington, Philadelphia, Trenton, N. J., Jacksonville, Fla., New York City, Atlanta, Ga., Cleveland, and Baltimore, Md.

Other post offices will not accept restricted mail for delivery in any of those cities.

Still accepted are first class mail weighing less than eight ounces, daily newspapers, and emergency package mailing of medicines, drugs and surgical supplies.

Air mail service is not affected by the order.

Two congressmen urged President Truman to intercede in the strike. Sen. Holland (D-Fla) asked the President to make a radio appeal, a move which was instrumental in ending the December walkout.

Rep. Van Pelt (R-Wis) also telegraphed the President to act in the strike.

In the three days since they began, the "sick" walkouts of rail workers have spread to more than 42 railroads in about 30 cities.

Contempt Action Taken

In Washington Thursday, Attorney General McGrath took contempt action against the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and its officials, the key union in the current walkout, before Federal Judge Edward Tamm.

They were directed to appear Feb. 8 and explain why the work stoppages are continuing despite a court order against such strikes issued in December.

Judge Tamm said that if the union cannot show itself innocent of contempt at that time, it will have to go on trial on the contempt charges Feb. 15.

Earlier, the brotherhood's president, W. P. Kennedy, accepted a subpoena demanding his appearance in a Chicago federal court Friday on a previous contempt charge by the government.

Typhus Epidemic Hits Red Troops In Korea

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP) — A typhus epidemic in "serious proportions" has broken out among Communist troops in Korea, an Army spokesman said today.

While no figures were available, the spokesman said the disease could have a material influence on the enemy's military capabilities by reducing his fighting manpower.

The disease appeared first among front line elements of the North Korean army, the spokesman said. Whether it also is affecting Chinese Communist troops was not known.

Planes Help U. N. Regiment To Fight Free

Allied Offensive Rolling Forward

TOKYO, Friday, Feb. (AP)—A French-American regiment, aided by low-flying planes and reinforcements, crushed an attempt by 6,000 screaming Chinese to trap it in Central Korea, the U. S. Eighth Army reported today.

A communique said the enemy was forced to break off contact Thursday after a fight which lasted nearly 13 hours and the Red entrapment assault caused "no appreciable change in position."

AP Correspondent Stan Swinton reported that the nine-day-old Allied offensive on the western front south of Seoul "rolled forward" at dawn today.

Renewal of the advance followed a night in which the Reds, believed suffering from serious manpower losses, mustered only one faint counterattack in the west.

About 200 Reds attacked a hill five miles northeast of Suwon, 17 miles south of Seoul. They were driven back by Puerto Ricans after a four-hour fight.

Hand-To-Hand Fighting

The French-American regiment on the central front was attacked at 4:50 a. m. Thursday 18 miles northwest of Wonju. That is near the juncture of the western and central fronts.

By noon, all of 6,000 Reds had been committed and were assaulting the Allied regiment from all sides. Hand-to-hand fighting was in progress by 1:15 p. m. Then Allied reinforcements moved up. Planes roared down in support.

The Eighth Army communique said the Reds were forced to quit the fight at 5:30 p. m.

Swinton's western front field dispatch today said "Communist resistance has been slackening daily, with individual Red soldiers showing little heart for battle."

One small group of Reds waved a white flag and surrendered—the first such move by the Chinese since the Allied drive opened.

U. N. staff officers said that serious manpower losses, overwhelmingly superior U. N. firepower and skidding Chinese morale apparently explained why the Reds are failing to put up a more serious battle from their main line of resistance. Reliable sources also reported that many Reds were suffering from typhus and other diseases.

Turks Gain Three Miles

Turkish troops made Thursday's biggest advance in the west.

Brandishing their favorite weapons—fixed bayonets—the Turks drove ahead three miles on the Allied left flank to within two miles of Anyang, a highway town 12 miles due south of Seoul and 16 miles southeast of Seoul's port on Inchon.

Conservative Charges Rejected By Commons

LONDON, Feb. 1 (AP)—The Labor government rode down tonight Conservative Party charges that it had bungled Britain into a critical fuel shortage.

By a vote of 300 to 289 along strictly party lines the House of Commons rejected a Conservative motion accusing Prime Minister Attlee's government of mismanagement of fuel resources. A Conservative victory might have toppled Attlee's government from office.

Only a few hours earlier the government had instituted emergency measures designed to head off a creeping coal crisis which threatens to hamper Britain's new rearmament program.

Foes Of Constitutional Convention Score Victory As Bill Is Sent Back To Committee

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 1 (AP) — Legislation to call a constitutional convention received a sharp setback today during a General Assembly session marked by city-county bickering.

Last night, after two successful preliminary skirmishes, backers of the bill to call a convention to overhaul Maryland's 84-year-old constitution, were predicting freely that it would be given tentative House approval today.

But county men opposed to a convention call, working quietly, marshalled their forces.

When the House Judiciary Committee brought the measure to the floor with a favorable report, Delegate McNulty (D-Anne Arundel) moved that it be re-referred to the Ways and Means Committee.

"It will cost the state more than a million dollars to hold a convention — how much more I don't know and you don't know," he said.

"This bill deals with state finances and it belongs in the Ways and Means Committee," he declared.

McNulty, a leading opponent of the measure, then made his motion.

It was adopted 59-57. This means that the bill must go through the whole process of committee consideration again.

The Ways and Means Committee, if it wants, may hold the bill from the floor for at least 20 days.

Among the bills introduced today was one by Delegates Sklar and Robinson, Democrats of Baltimore City's Fourth District, to give pay raises to all employes of the state. Under the bill, each person on the state payroll would get a raise amounting to 15 per cent of the first $3,000 he makes, plus five per cent of anything over that amount he earns a year.

Senate President Della (D-Balto-5th) submitted a series of bills to liberalize the workmen's compensation laws.

Four delegates introduced legislation calling for compulsory annual inspections of motor vehicles.

John L. Assesses Miners $20 Each For "War Chest"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—John L. Lewis today assessed his 475,000 coal miners $20 each to build a war chest against what he called "the onslaughter of our adversaries."

Lewis did not name these "adversaries" in the circular which announced the assessment. However, in earlier proposals for a joint fund with the AFL and CIO, he had referred to the opponents as vast banking and investment interests which he said controlled coal, steel, auto, insurance, telephone and other basic industries.

Taking advantage of the $1.60 daily wage hike which he negotiated with the soft and hard coal operators—and which was approved yesterday by the Wage Stabilization Board—Lewis called for an assessment amounting to six per cent of the raise over the next two months.

The money is to be paid by the 400,000 soft coal miners and 75,000 hard coal miners in $5 installments in the four pay days of February and March. It would raise an estimated $9,500,000.

Meyers Paroled, Faces Tax Count

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—Bennett E. Meyers, a onetime jaunty major general in the Air Force, stepped out of prison today right into an indictment charging that he dodged 1941 income taxes.

Meyers was paroled after serving almost three years in the federal reformatory in Lorton, Va.

He posted a $5,000 bond that he would appear in Baltimore whenever the government wants him to and answer charges that in 1941 he reported a net income of $3,808.70 when it was really was $36,301.52.

With the help of Jimmy Conroy, a professional bondsman, Meyers made the bond. He then was released, for the first time since mid-March, 1948.

Meyers, who once did much of the buying for the Army Air Force, was convicted of inducing an associate to lie to a Senate investigating committee looking into wartime contracts.

Governor Would Expand College For Negroes

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 1 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin is in favor of improving Morgan State College and believes negroes would rather go there than to the University of Maryland.

The Governor said today he feels the college for negroes in Baltimore should be built up gradually because "I believe negroes would prefer Morgan to College park."

The Governor's expansion plans for Morgan were revealed in the wake of a decision yesterday by the University of Maryland's board of regents to admit its first negro undergraduate "immediately."

Benton Assails Sen. McCarthy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (AP)—Sen. Benton (D-Conn) said today the Republicans have moved the State Department's "tormenter," Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), into a position of vast power over its funds and personnel. He asked the Republicans to reconsider the choice.

Accusing McCarthy of "sneak attacks" against the department, Benton said in a Senate speech that the Wisconsin Senator now can manipulate its budgets by reason of his membership on a subcommittee which handles its appropriations.

McCarthy retorted in a prepared statement that Benton "squeals and beats his breast in agony because the day of judgment is at hand for the crimson clique in the State Department."

The Wisconsin Senator, who for nearly a year has led a bitter campaign against the department as a hotbed of Communist sympathizers, added that it "may be called upon to render an accounting of its stewardship."

Slot 'Take' Reflects High Cost Of Living

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Feb. 1 (AP)—Police added this footnote today to the cost-of-living chapter.

A year and a half ago they raided Hagerstown fraternal and veterans clubhouses and confiscated 80 slot machines with a total take of $3700—or $46 for each machine.

A similar raid Jan. 16 netted 34 machines whose take, counted up today, totaled $745—or about $22 apiece.

Army Orders 80,000 Men Drafted In April

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1 (INS)—The Army today ordered 80,000 more men drafted in April, maintaining its high rate of induction and bringing total calls to 530,000.

The April call is the same as those for January, February and March.

State Prison Fire Causes $10,000 Damage

BALTIMORE, Feb. 1 (AP) — A two-alarm fire in the paint department at the Maryland Penitentiary today caused about $10,000 damage before firemen and prisoners extinguished it.

Col. E. T. Swenson, superintendent, said an oven used to bake paint on metal suddenly "flashed back with a boom." Paint fumes from 3,000 to 4,000 license plates in the oven apparently caused the flash, he said.

Burning paint dropped from the oven to cardboard and paper below and ignited them. Swenson credited fast work of prisoners at work in the department with limiting the blaze to the second floor.

Md. Officials Absolved In Princess Anne Case

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 1 (AP)—The Senate's Princess Anne investigating committee today absolved state officials of any blame for permitting construction at the college for negroes without a contract.

But the committee cautioned them not to let it happen again.

It suggested all state officers who deal with building affairs be told by the Governor "they are not to encourage, sanction or acquiesce" in a contractor's undertaking a project without written authority.

Sen. Turnbull (D-Baltimore County), originally demanded the probe of why a Cambridge contractor began work on a $270,000 mechanical arts and engineering building at the university's college for negroes without a contract.

Venture In Socialistic Cooperative Community Comes Before Court

NEW ORLEANS, (AP)—A venture by some 300 families in socialistic cooperative community living that attracted Russian observation before its failure came before the U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals this week.

The New LLano Colony, as it was called, was established in 1917 on some 22,000 acres of timber and farm land in Vernon Parish (county), about 50 miles north of Lake Charles, La. It owned its own schools, power and water companies, and the town of New Llano.

The colony operated as a "happy and successful community until 1935," Attorney Gerald Weatherly of Austin, Tex., representing the colony in its appeal, told the appellate court.

Amplifying in an interview, Weatherly said the colony was founded by "scolialistic enthusiasts who wanted to try a purely socialistic living. They held the thinking of the English socialists which included George Bernard Shaw.

"They incorporated under the laws of Nevada principally because that state's statutes allowed broad powers of corporate charters. Most states would not allow a corporation of that kind.

"The people came from all over the country. Some of the families were from New York, New Jersey, New Mexico and California — the bulk of them were from California.

"While the colony flourished, Russia sent a delegation to study its operations, particularly its schools."

In 1935, creditors whose claims totalled around $800 obtained judgments against the colony and forced it into receivership.

State District Judge W. H. Ponder of Many, La., authorized the sale of the land to meet the creditors' claims. The land was parcelled out and was sold for about $40,000.

The colony's resident families owned none of the land in their own name but all participated in the colony's assets and liabilities as corporation stockholders.

In 1947, the colony brought suit in the U. S. District Court for Western Louisiana against Judge Ponder and 14 persons who had bought the land in receivership, alleging conspiracy to take the property without due process of law, and also alleging that the land was worth $13,000,000. The suit sought an additional $500,000 compensation for a total of $13,500,000.

Attorneys for the appellees argued that there is no federal jurisdiction and that the statute of limitations has closed any litigation on the property sales.

The appellate court took the case under advisement.

The town of Ning-po of the Chinese province of Chekiang, is surrounded by a wall 25 feet high and 16 feet thick.

Nitroglycerin, the powerful explosive, also is used in some diseases of the heart.

Federal Judge Acts On Impulse

BOSTON (AP) — Federal Judge Francis J. W. Ford said afterward that it was a sudden whimsical impulse but anyway it means that there will be another sale of a New Bedford fishing vessel.

The "Cape Cod" was sold at a recent U. S. marshal's sale for $2,200. The matter came into court today purely for court confirmation of the sale.

But then there was that impulse . . .

Judge Ford suddenly looked up with a grin and said "do I hear $2,300?"

A voice in the back of the room said: "$2,300."

The answer amazed the judge and veteran court officials who knew that the case wasn't one for autioneering.

But the man in the back repeated his bid and even went up to $2,500.

The upshot is that Judge Ford revoked his confirmation of the $2,200 sale and ordered a new sale to be held at New Bedford Feb. 9.

The bidder disappeared without revealing his identity.

House In Foreign Affairs

The Senate last week interrupted its "great debate" on the President's authority to send troops to Europe to follow the lead of the House in adopting a resolution which called upon the UN to condemn Red China as an aggressor in Korea. This was one of an increasing number of occasions during recent years in which the mighty Senate has seen the so-called "lower branch" of Congress assume a position of equality in dealing with foreign affairs.

From time to time proposals are heard for having treaties ratified by majority vote of both branches, thus giving the House an equal share with the Senate in the treaty power. But this would require a constitutional amendment. There is little chance that a two-thirds vote to send it on to the states for adoption can ever be mustered in the Senate.

In the present period, however, the House does not need participation in the treaty power in order to make its influence felt in the country's external relations. Appropriations of more than $7 billion have been asked by the President to finance military and economic aid to foreign nations during the next fiscal year. The House will have equal say with the Senate in granting these appropriations, in withholding funds, or in attaching conditions to the expenditure of monies provided for particular purposes.

Through this share in the power of the purse, the House is now in position to exert an influence in the field of foreign affairs as potent as that exercised by the Senate through its share in the treaty power.

The husband who takes time to think over his wife's viewpoint before agreeing with it had better do so quickly—before she changes her mind.

Benefits For GI's And Ex-GI's

In recommending free insurance coverage of $10,000 for all armed services personnel, President Truman told Congress that "before many years, nearly all the population may be veterans or the dependents of veterans." Such a prospect would require "a profound change in the social and economic import of government programs affecting veterans." The President has estimated the cost of present veteran programs during this and the next fiscal year at more than $10 billion.

A bill of 1949 passed by the House, but not by the Senate, would have authorized service pensions of $72 a month for veterans of World War I and World War II. Add to these old veterans the men who will come out of the present crisis as new veterans and a vast segment of the nation's population would be eligible for any military pension program of the future.

Although three veterans' organizations—the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Disabled American Veterans and the Amvets—supported the free insurance bill passed by the House last week, the American Legion opposed it. Free insurance for GI's is all very well, says the Legion, but not when coverage would end automatically 90 days after discharge, as provided in the House measure.

The tricky new hats may make some women appear ten years younger. But, it should be remembered, they sooner or later must be taken off.

Security Inquiry

The internal security commission which has been established by the President has great possibilities for good work. It also has the possibility, as suggested by some legislators who were quick to criticize it, of further muddling the waters in regard to espionage, disloyalty, subversive activities and the like. But the membership of the commission is reassuring on that point.

The commission might be able to accomplish in this special field something comparable to what the Hoover Commission accomplished in the broader field of government organization. The Hoover Commission was able to do such a striking job partly because of the advantage of its position as a group outside of the government, nonpartisan in character, bent on doing a job rather than on political aims, led by a man of high personal repute. These same advantages can accrue to the commission on internal security.

There is sore need for a workmanlike, nonpartisan study of internal security. Although previous investigations and counter-investigations in many instances have been conducted in utmost sincerity of purpose, yet it has been impossible to separate them from political parties and considerations. If this commission can keep its operations on a nonpolitical basis, and can establish general confidence that it is working for the people and not for the administration, it should be able to bring much light and common sense into the whole controversy on loyalty and subversion.

Many of the stanchest citizens of our northern cities appear to be so proud of their home towns that they head south each winter.

Stopgap Program

Statements of officials have indicated some awareness in Washington of the fact that ceilings on prices and wages are only a stopgap in the effort to control inflation. They are stopgap measures whether or not the government intends that they be. The freeze contained patent inequities. The most glaring is that it penalizes business people who have complied with the earlier administration appeal not to raise prices, while favoring those who raised prices anyway, and penalizes those workers who refrained from forcing quick pay increases, while favoring those who did so.

The inequities will have to be adjusted. But the process will never be finished because one adjustment will create the need for another. The ceilings which are eventually worked out will retard inflation for a time, but will not stop it permanently.

Success in combating inflation depends on the working out of more permanent measures during the respite won with price and wage ceilings. Putting the government on a sound financial basis and reducing the over-all cost of government so that the level of taxation can be brought back below the safety point are high on the list of measures required for a permanent buttress against inflation. Until the supply of goods and services can be brought into balance with market demand, that demand has to be held in check with limitations on credit and the volume of money.

The task of holding back inflation remains for the administration, for the Congress and for the people. The nation's economic problems have not been solved by the issuance of a freeze order on prices and wages.

Nothing is certain but death and taxes, and even persons believed dead have sometimes been revived.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Diabetes Can Be Kept Under Control

COMING UP on the elevator recently a man said: "My wife has 250 blood sugar. She feels all right but has been put on a diet. Doctor, how long must she be on it?" The lady in question has diabetes and must be on a diet the rest of her life. This is necessary because, even though the condition can be controlled, it is not curable.

Diabetes does not heal like a broken bone nor does it disappear like a cold or an attack of chickenpox. It does not respond to penicillin because it is not an infection or related in any way to germs. Surgery is not needed because tumors are not responsible. Diabetes stems from a poorly functioning pancreas which fails to manufacture a sufficient quantity of the hormone, insulin, a secretion essential for the proper metabolism of sugars. When lacking, sugars are not stored or used by the body and sooner or later accumulate in the blood and spill over into the urine.

We have tests to measure the blood sugar level. The normal individual has between 80 and 120 milligrams per 100 cubic centimeters of blood. The tests are done in the morning before breakfast because after eating the amount rises within half an hour and may go up to 150 milligrams or more. It returns to normal levels at the end of an hour. But the blood sugar of the diabetic remains high for several hours after eating. Furthermore, the sugar is not used and the excess is eliminated through the urine. Some diabetics may have blood levels of 1,000 milligrams or more. The woman with 250 has a a reading above average, but not excessive.

Some cases are treated successfully with diet; others require insulin also. Most physicians try the dietary regimen first and if it fails to control the sugar level, they prescribe insulin. The dose varies with the individual because the amount necessary to make up the deficit differs from one to another.

Diabetes is treacherous because most victims feel so well they are lulled into a sense of false security. The blood sugar may be 250 or more without affecting appetite, weight, or the sense of well being; but during tht time that the disease is out of control changes inside the body are taking place. It may be hardening of the arteries, which in turn affects the circulation to the eyes, heart, and lower extremities. Those who fail to accept treatment sometimes suffer from ulcers or gangere of the feet; others encounter cataract or carbuncles and boils. Diabetic retinitis also is likely to appear in those who neglect themselves by failing to adhere to the diet or forget to take insulin regularly. Neuritis of the legs occurs from time to time, with pains shooting down the extremities; others complain of numbness and tingling. Vitamin B1 usually is required for relief, in addition to the usual diabetic treatment.

Acidosis and coma are the most serious complications and in the past led the causes of death from diabetes. When they begin the individual develops dull headache and feels weak and weary. As acidosis increases, shortness of breath, abdominal pain, nausea, and vomiting ensue. Unless given emergency care, restlessness, irritability, listlessness, and confusion occur, followed by coma and death. This is a terrible price to pay for failing to adhere to a few simple instructions. After all, it is not difficult to keep diabetes under control nor does the condition present an unusual handicap to the patient.

NERVOUS FATIGUE

M. T. writes: What are the symptoms of nervous exhaustion?

REPLY

Jitteriness, inability to concentrate, irritability, insomnia, fatigue, headache, and palpitaton of the heart. These symptoms are not specific, however, for this condition, because nervous exhaustion is a rather indefiinte disturbance. In fact, it is so vague a term that many physicians never write it without quotation marks.

SLEEP REQUIREMENTS

L. C. writes: Does a person who is inactive require less sleep than one who is physically active?

REPLY

Yes, but there are many exceptions. An inactive individual, for example, may be that way because he lacks vitality and is tired at the end of the day even though nothing has been accomplished. Those who are forced to remain in bed for one reason or another may complain that they cannot sleep at night but when the catnaps of the day are totaled they amount to a goodly sum.

LIVER DISORDERS

L. J. writes: Is cirrhosis another name for enlarged liver?

REPLY

No. Cirrhosis refers to hardening of the liver caused by infiltration of scar tissue. When the organ is affected in this manner it enlarges initially but later contracts so that it is smaller than normal.

Yugoslav U. N. Delegate Learns How Democracy Works; European Allies Don't Draft 18-Year-Old Men, But Chinese And Russian Armies Do

Says DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—In the delegates lounge of the United Nations, U. S. Ambassador Warren Austin stood listening to a group of earnest people. They talked at some length. Austin listened carefully, as patient, as solid as the Vermont hills from which he comes.

At the other end of the delegates lounge Yugoslav Delegate Ales Bebler, stanch marxist, though friendly to the U. S. A., sat talking to Miss Betty Jacobs, representative of the United Nations childrens fund. Intrigued at Ambassador Austin's lengthy conversation, Ambassador Bebler finally asked Miss Jacobs:

"What are those people doing, bothering Mr. Austin?"

"They are lobbying," Miss Jacobs replied. Then, noting the Yugoslav's puzzled expression, she continued: "That's an American system whereby the people can make their views known to the government. That group talking to Mr. Austin is a peace organization which has some ideas on China and Korea."

"Do you mean to say that just anyone can come in here and talk to your top delegate?" asked Ambassador Bebler.

"Yes, reputable citizens can always see the representatives of their government," Miss Jacobs explained. "That's part of the American system."

Bebler seemed greatly impressed. In order to understand the American system more fully, he is now reading Dorothy Detzer's book, "Appointment On The Hill," in which she describes her experiences in lobbying for better international relations.

Drafting 18-Year-Olds

Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense in charge of manpower, was being grilled by the House Armed Services Committee on the question of drafting 18-year-olds.

Handsome Congressman Mendel Rivers of South Carolina picked up a sheet of paper and began firing questions.

"Why is it that France does not draft men until they are 19?" he asked.

"And Belgium," he continued, "Does not draft until men are twenty, while Italy does not draft until men are 21?"

"That is correct, Congressman," replied Mrs. Rosenberg, "but you fail to state that you are reading from information which we supplied you, and you also neglected to read the rest of the memo—namely that Russia drafts at the age of 18, while China drafts at the age of 16.

"And what I am interested in," concluded the assistant secretary of defense, "is not what our friends do, but our potential enemies. We have established a minimum line of defense and we must get the men to meet it."

"You tell 'em, Anna," encouraged Chairman Vinson of Georgia in a very audible whisper. Mrs. Rosenberg later paid tribute to Congressman Rivers, says he has been one of the most helpful members of the Armed Services Committee.

Note—While Belgium drafts at 20 for only one year, and Italy at 21 for a year and a quarter, England drafts at 18 for two years, China at 16 for an indefinite period, and Russia at 18 for three years. However, if a Russian boy has not finished his secondary education at 18, he is not drafted until he is 19. The Soviet places great emphasis on education.

Citizen's Suggestion Box

Millions of Americans, though dreading war, are eager and anxious to help their government prepare for that eventuality, according to the voluminous mass of mail received by this columnist. There is a great unharnessed reservoir of patriotic goodwill and activity in this country which can be put to work, and here is a citizen's suggestion box conducted by the Washington Merry-Go-Round for better preparedness and for winning the cold war:

Warren A. Peterson, Duluth, Minn.—Have the Post Office Department print a stamp bearing a message of hope, to be used on U. S. letters sent abroad. Many of these letters would eventually get behind the Iron Curtain.

D. H. Stein, Rochester, N. Y.—Let the Defense Department prepare plans to utilize civilians who are now working only 40 hours per week. The response of the American people would be terrific. Community-wide cooperation not only would put across important projects but replace the present state of jitters with a feeling of pride and accomplishment, and a partnership with the men in uniform whose hours are not limited to 40 a week.

Flora Ross, Chicago, Ill.—Sears, Roebuck and Montgomery Ward catalogs dropped behind the Iron Curtain would constitute wonderful propaganda. Russian parents are no different from us. They don't want war either.

David A. Ritchie, Ulysses, Pa.—Let justices of the peace, aldermen, and notaries public volunteer their services without cost in the preparation of papers relating to violation of price control. This would save time and expense in preventing black marketeering.

Mrs. Daniel T. Cox, Prospect, Ky.—A group in Louisville, as well as others throughout the nation, have started a movement to get everyone to pause at 12 noon daily for a minute of silent prayer for Peace, Guidance, and the spread of Christianity. . . . There is just as much truth in the power of prayer as there is in the power of gravity or electricity, neither of which you can see or touch.

Carl Landman, Palo Alto, Calif.—Create a huge organization to combat Russian propaganda, the staff to be recruited from refugees of Soviet oppression.

M. L. Donohoe, Charleston, W. Va.—Fourteen million hunting licenses were issued last year. The holders of these licenses can shoot with considerable accuracy. They can be organized for home defense.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Jardine, Jackson Heights, N. Y.—Persuade the nation's No. 1 pianist to make a record to be sold for the benefit of the U. S. A. Regardless of the music critics, we are sure that a record by H. S. T. at the keyboard would outsell "The Thing."

Restrictions May Limit Effective Price Control

By MARK SULLIVAN

IN A RUSH of hurrying developments during several days past, the government has set ceilings over many prices and is setting them on more. To fix the prices and enforce them it has set in motion several new agencies, among them a kind of overall one, the Economic Stabilization Agency administered by Mr. Eric Johnston. (Associated with Mr. Johnston is Mr. Michael Di Salle, director of price stabilization.).

All this is portentous. It means as a matter of course that there will be ceilings over prices of a large number of commodities. Further than that, it has created an impression that the rising cost of living is to be checked and inflation also. This in fact is generally assumed to be the official purpose and expectation of the Administration. Whether it is likely to be achieved is a subject of much discussion. Some light may be found by inquiry beneath the superficial aspect of crowded and hurrying developments.

The basis and authority for all that has so far been done is a statute passed by Congress last September, the Defense Production Act of 1950. The act is very long, intricate and technical. Two sentences of its mass of verbiage throw rather deeper light on it than all the rest together. They are sentences of limitation. Stating what Administrator Johnston and the agencies under him cannot do, they raise a question about how much he can do at all, certainly a question whether he can stop rising cost of living and inflation. The two sentences compose most of subsection 402 (D) (3) of the act:

Brannan Displaces Johnston

"No ceiling shall be established . . . for any agricultural commodity below the highest of the following prices: 1—the Parity price for such commodity, as determined by the Secretary of Agriculture . . . II—The highest price received by producers during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950 . . . as determined by the Secretary of Agriculture."

This means that as to putting ceilings on farm crops, Administrator Eric Johnston of the Economic Stabilization Agency is in effect displaced by Secretary Brannan of the Department of Agriculture. Mr. Johnston can put no ceiling on a farm crop that is below the Parity price "determined by the Secretary of Agriculture;" or alternately the other standard likewise determined by the Secretary of Agriculture, the highest market price during May 24 — June 24, 1950. While it is true that Mr. Johnston can put a ceiling on a farm crop that is above the Parity price, he is here again subordinated to the Secretary of Agriculture, for it is the Secretary who determines the Parity price.

The limitation on Stabilization Administrator Johnston is severe. He can at will put ceilings on prices in nearly all the country's industries but no on prices in agriculture. He can at will put ceilings on automobiles and other manufactured products, through a wide range of heavy goods and household appliances, practically the whole field of manufactured goods; but he cannot at will put ceilings on wheat and other grains or on eggs or poultry. Before he can put ceilings on these and other farm products, the ceiling price must be below standards "determined by the Secretary of Agriculture."

An Important Exception

This is a momentous condition. The farm crops which are kept out of the Stabilization Administrator's discretion and authority are many and important, in the aggregate they compose a material part of the whole economy of the country. It is questionable whether the immense and complex mechanism of ceilings and regulations and controls now under way can function successfully with a material part of the country's economy not under its authority. This question has been raised in Congress and there have been proposals that the section of the Defense Production Act containing the immunity for agriculture be repealed, a bill to this effect has been introduced by Rep. Javits of New York.

At such proposals, however, members of Congress from farming districts are on guard. From questions they have asked Stabilization Administrator Johnston at a Congressional hearing Mr. Johnston could reasonably infer that he was being warned to lay off agriculture.

But the question remains, can this immense and complex mechanism of ceilings and controls function successfully as now restricted? And the broader question, can the rising cost of living and inflation be checked? Throughout the course of the price rise and inflation during several years a judgment common among economists and other authorities has been that a large factor in the price rise and inflation has been price support of farm crops as administered by the Department of Agriculture.

Collective Security Idea Vindicated By UN Action

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1—Vindication for the principle of collective security has been slow in coming through at the United Nations meetings but the importance of the fact that it has finally come cannot be underestimated.

The American people naturally have been impatient about the months of talk and procrastination. It's the same kind of irritation which occasionally crops up when Congress dawdles along. But there is need for even more patience and sympathetic understanding where the United Nations is concerned. For here is a body that isn't really a world parliament or a superstate, and yet at times it has the seeming obligation to act as such under the compulsion of world-wide public opinion.

When it is considered that the debates in the U. N. are not printed widely and that slow methods of communicating messages and their import to the peoples of each country are still in use in some instances, the fact that an overwhelming majority can be obtained at all for a condemnation of aggression is remarkable.

Victory For Democracy

The vote in the U. N. on the aggression resolution is in a proper sense a victory for the diplomacy of the United States and particularly for the ambassadors and ministers abroad who have been laboring so zealously in the past few weeks to explain to the different foreign offices of the world the true meaning of the American viewpoint in world affairs today. The Department of State can proudly chalk up a point gained, and the American people inevitably will increase their confidence in that department if it continues to hew to the straight line of moral principle.

For it was a moral principle of great significance which was at stake in the resolution of the General Assembly condemning Red China as an aggressor. To some observers this may seem to be merely a calling of names. But it isn't the characterization which counts but the fact that a world tribunal did pronounce its judgment so plainly after the fullest and frankest debate, such as is customary in democratic parliaments.

There is ground for satisfaction, too, that all those European countries which were hesitating a few weeks ago have now seen the wisdom of supporting a moral principle as the paramount duty of an assembly which represents free nations. By branding Red China as an aggressor, the same assembly can apply not merely its potential armed strength but also its moral force, which can penetrate the public opinion of all nations and forge a spirit of unity behind international policy.

It will be recalled that, in the 1920's, the idea of outlawing war and condemning aggression was the basic truth which the Kellogg-Briand treaties proclaimed. But, unhappily, there was then no accompanying definition of what the signatories were to do to protect the victims of aggression.

Today the implications of the U. N. resolution stand out clearly. A faction or regime or government which is branded the aggressor must desist from that course or suffer the consequences. Nor is physical punishment by force of arms the only thing that can follow. Moral condemnation means that Red China has disqualified herself as a government capable of discharging international obligations.

Can Apply Pressure

This disqualification for membership in the family of nations can mean withholding of diplomatic recognition, too, and it could mean economic blockade and further embargoes. It implies pressure of all kinds, but there is no reason to be too hasty about selecting the methods, especially when the first job is to defeat Red China's troops on the military front and compel their withdrawal from Korea, where the aggression occurred.

To many casual observers the U. N. resolution and the fighting in Korea may seem purposeless, but the truth is that, as events unfold, it will be found that the firm action of the U. N., led as it was by a resolute American delegation, will have contributed a great deal toward prevention of large-scale war. And speaking of patience and understanding, the individual performance of Ambassador Warren Austin has been outstanding. His experience in the U. S. Senate, where for years he represented the state of Vermont, has taught him restraint as well as calmness under the fire of debates and under the provocation of obstructive filibusters. He has proved just the man to represent America in the U. N.

ON THE LINE

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK (INS) — WE'RE NOT as close to the sink hole as some of my heavier-domed contemporaries would lead you to believe. The Air Force has commissioned my friend Molly Thayer as a lieutenant colonel (the elevation broke Custer's record for quick promotion) and my friend Mr. John, the ma-a-a-ad hatter, is planning to open a second front in Western Europe.

Col. Thayer's duties were not adequately outlined in the news bulletins from Washington. An associate, who was scooped many times by Molly in the colonel's days as a Washington society chit-chatter, has attempted to persuade me to believe that Molly will be placed in charge of the Air Force's lighter-than-air equipment.

This I have rejected as part of the smear campaign now being directed at cherished U. S. military figures. Col. Thayer, an out-standing figure, should be quite useful in the Air Force. As a roving war — and foreign-correspondent she learned as much about the Balkans as any member of any armed forces intelligence service, for Molly was never one to clam up and be humble in the presence of a dictator or any of his thugs.

• — • — •

Knows her way around Washington, too, where her advanced headquarters will be set up. In time of war or near-war, when the services are battling one another for sufficient appropriations and materiel from the corporate bin, an intrepid warrior like Molly can do more good in the Mayflower lounge than her superiors might be doing at the Pentagon or on Capitol Hill.

It's comforting to have another Molly in the armed forces in another time that is trying men's souls. For all we know she may be remembered with Molly Pitcher, though the latter never even made pfc.

Mr. John's invasion of Europe will be through Paris, after which, according to the hat designer's latest communique from "my white, gold and crystal salon," he will attack Chartres, Orleans, Barcelona, Majorca, Rapallo, San Remo, Capri, Venice and Lake Como. Mr. John vents hats for some of the most famous women known to man.

Mr. John may have a more stimulating effect on France than did Eisenhower, and is almost certain to attract more attention. Some years ago somebody told Mr. John he looked a bit like Napoleon, on foggy days. Mr. John promptly changed his coiffure to enhance the resemblance. Now he sports Napoleonic bangs and is really quite something to behold — especially at parties, at which he appears with an enormous white parrot, fairly well house-broken, resting on his shoulder. They share hors d'oeuvres and small talk.

• — • — •

But this announcement may be only subterfuge. I have learned from an usually peachable source that Mr. John may be spirited behind the iron curtain as a U. S. secret weapon. One look at his hats and the commissars will take to their heels, knowing full well that they have been invaded by Martians, and all the slave-babes will drop their tools and hoes and queue up to try them on.

Mr. John recently set tongues wagging in bonnet circles by supplying a hat for Eleanor Roosevelt as a six-year-old girl. This was a feat which in the hat trade surpassed in magnitude such other historial events as MacArthur's landing at Inchon and Babe Ruth's 60 home runs in 1927.

Seems that Artist Marcel Vertes was doing a portrait of Mrs. R. as she looked at six. Mr. John supplied the appropriate skimmer, "an attic hat, with a large bloused crown, old-fashioned roses and several bunches of old memories, very pretty, very period."

Blowing kisses of delight at the completion of that most difficult portion of the painting, getting the right color combinations for the several bunches of old memories, Vertes went to work painting Mr. John as a six-month-old, "hatless, clotheslesss, but deep and darling in a white bearskin rug."

Las Vegas Citizens Tell What Life Is Like Living In Shadow Of Atom Tests

By CLINT MOSHER

LAS VEGAS, Nev. —(INS)— At 5:46 o'clock last Sunday morning Bob Alexander's wife shook him awake in their bungalow on South Second Street and said, "You better get up. I saw a bright light. I think someone's turning in the driveway."

The Alexanders have a reputation for dispensing hospitality at any hour in the twenty-four, and so Mrs. Alexander made a dive for the kitchen to get the coffee pot started and Bob dashed into the bathroom to scrape the Saturday night whiskers from his face.

Mrs. Bob hoped to have the coffee under way and Bob at least one side of his face presentable before the knock came at the door, but the knock never came. The door opened itself, the coffee pot bounced across the stove and Bob's shaving mirror rocked like crazy.

The fact of the matter was that the Alexanders were experiencing the backwash of the third and largest blast yet set off at the Atomic Energy Commission's new test range approximately a hundred miles north of this desert mecca for those who pursue the dice table and the winter sun.

When it dawned on the Alexanders that something big and persuasive had happened at the Las Vegas bombing and gunnery range, the couple ran into the backyard.

"There was a huge white mushroom in the sky," said Bob. "I watched it awhile and after about a half hour, it thinned out like an old cloud and just went away."

At the precise moment at which Mrs. Alexander saw what she thought was a car turning into the drive, Wayne Kirch, who runs an auto repair and towing service out on Main Street at the end of town, was going after a disabled automobile with his tow truck.

Kirch is the boss but he runs a twenty-four hour service and his night man was off so he took the call.

Kirch remembers:

"I was driving along the Tonopah Highway when all of a sudden the whole sky lit up with a white sort of shiny light.

"I got out of the car and stood in the road to watch. It was as light as day. I guess that lasted say two seconds, then there came an orange glow that covered almost as much sky. You could see it plainly because it was just before dawn.

"It seemed like three or four minutes and then came the air shock and the noise. It wasn't like an earthquake. It was more like concussion.

"The noise came three separate times—echoes, I suppose. I know people who heard up to eleven."

Kirch, today in telling about it, got up out of his lean-back office chair and remarked, "Makes you kind of think, doesn't it?" These incidents deserve brief mention to complete the eyewitness picture.

The blast shook the soot out of the ventilators in the Golden Nugget Casino, dousing dice and roulette system players—the only ones who pursue lady luck on the graveyard shift. No one budged.

There was a report, however, that in one of the gaming establishments along Front Street a lone gambler left his bet on the green baize of the dice table and ran into the street to watch the show. No one else budged. The gambler returned and found he had lost his bet and put his money down for the next roll. Just like that.

The next incident concerned a report by the desk sergeant at police headquarters. The lady who called remains anonymous because policemen are, first of all, gentlemen.

Said the lady, "I was asleep and a man came in my window and jumped into my bed and right out again."

She was quieted with the police explanation of one of the most unusual phenomenas following the explosion. Persons all over town with bedrooms facing in a northwest direction and having the window open reported the shock waves ruffled their bed clothing.

Many thought they were the victims of intruders. Those who remained asleep until the noise of the blast came along thought a car had crashed into the homes.

Will the atomic experiments over behind the Charleston and Sheep Mountains make Las Vegas ultimately just another stop in a long and straight desert highway?

There is no evidence of it. L. H. (Jack) Maxwell, the chief of police and the sort of westerner who gets around, said:

"Personally, I wish they were dropping bombs on Korea instead of trying out that atom business out here. On the other hand, it doesn't make sense to think Uncle Sam is going to take a chance on killing us, the people who are feeding the kitty in the defense buildup."

He slipped his western hat to the back of his head and added:

"Only ones frightened are women who don't like lightning."

The open desert, as flat as a man's hand, stretches to the northwest of Las Vegas for approximately 35' miles. Beyond that rise the Charleston and Sheep Mountains, two ranges forming a single line of purple, snow-thatched pinnacles in a direction parallel to the length of Las Vegas.

The two ranges don't quite touch. Between, there is a gap of level desert and here is where the fireworks appear. Here is where, to use the Washington terminology, the scientists are "twisting the dragon's tail."

But the concentration of the scientists is equalled by the gambler trying to get well or taking a fling at breaking the bank with a system. And the surest bet around these parts is that the scientists will continue their experiments and so will the gamblers.

The mink and diamond set chasing the winter sun also show no signs of forfeiting the chance to get a brown skinned torso or leg.

Why Settle for Symptomatic Relief When HADACOL Has Helped People Like These with Such Deficiencies

Mrs. Dennis Deomes, 111 Florence Street, Hot Springs, Arkansas: "My little girl has taken four $1.25 size bottles of HADACOL. She is three years old, was pale, nervous, had no appetite. Didn't care to play like other children. At night, she would awaken many times frightened and nervous. She would only sit around days and was very easy to cry. I was worried, because she was so pale and had no appetite at all. Then, I had heard of the wonders that HADACOL had done for so many people, both young and old. So I decided to give it to my little girl. I did so, and the third day after she began taking HADACOL, she was more cheerful and began to eat. She awoke hungry on the 3rd morning, and has been both eating and sleeping fine ever since, and isn't nervous at all. She is as cheerful as any child can be. Thanks to the makers of HADACOL, we are a HADACOL family. My little girl's name is Mary Helen Deomes."

Mrs. Verna Riley, 514 Missouri Avenue, Jeffersonville, Indiana: "I had been sick off and on for a long time. I am now 51 years old. After I heard about HADACOL, I have taken two bottles. I don't have that fullness in my stomach and I can eat anything I wish. I sleep much better at night now. Myself, I wouldn't do without HADACOL. My family also takes HADACOL."

Mr. Grady Thomas, Route 2, Somerville, Alabama: "My age is 59. I was sick for a long time. Could not sleep at night. After taking three bottles of HADACOL, I felt much better and now I can sleep all night. My wife says she believes I could sleep a week. I can do a full day's work on my farm. Before taking HADACOL, I couldn't work more than an hour or two at a time. I am very thankful for learning about this product."

Mrs. Marjorie Mullins, Jewellridge, Virginia: "I feel like HADACOL has helped me in many ways. My health was very poor, till I decided to give it a trial. I got one economy size bottle. It helped so much, I decided I wouldn't be without it. So now I am on my 4th large bottle. Before I took it, I wasn't able to do my housework, and care for my family. Every month, I would have to give up and think I was going to die. But thanks to HADACOL I never feel those weak spells any more. I tell my neighbors about it. I do my housework, my washing and never felt better. I am 43, but don't feel like my age is getting me down now. I am the mother of eight children and have been a widow for 10 years. I worked hard and sent my children to school, and now they are old enough to help me."

Lloyd E. Scheultz, 4045 Erie Avenue, Houston, Texas: "Before I took HADACOL, I did not know what it was to sleep for over an hour at night. Since using HADACOL I sleep all night without pains. I have taken three bottles of HADACOL and the relief has been wonderful. I have started on my fourth bottle."

Mrs. C. H. Strack, 605½ West Second Avenue, Pine Bluff, Arkansas: "Before using HADACOL, I was rundown, nervous, and had upset stomach. My friends could not understand the way I was acting. After I took HADACOL, I felt better than I have ever felt. I am not at all nervous and my friends have remarked at the change in me. I am forever grateful for what HADACOL has done for me. I wish to let the whole world know how much I praise HADACOL."

Bennie Hollingsworth, Box 8, Simms, Louisiana: "I am ten years old. I have been sick for a good while. I was nervous. I could not sleep at night. I did not want to study my school lessons. Then, some of my friends told me about HADACOL. Now I have taken only three bottles of HADACOL. I can say that HADACOL has helped me a lot. Now, I can sleep. I am not so nervous. I do not hate to get my school lessons. I want to thank my friends for telling me about HADACOL."

SENATOR DUDLEY J. LEBLANC, Whose Tireless Efforts For Relief Of Suffering, Have Brought Humanity Today's Great HADACOL

Senator LeBlanc in all of his political activities has always championed the cause of the oppressed, and the poor and underprivileged.

He was the first candidate for Governor to advocate a specific Old Age Pension . . . and today in Louisiana, he is known as the Father of the Old Age Pension. In the course of his long, lone fight he has had his critics, but to those who opposed him he has continually stated, "If you do not believe in Old Age Pensions, remember the mandate of the Lord himself—'Honor thy Father and thy Mother that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.'"

Senator LeBlanc is known as a friend of the veterans. He introduced and successfully passed the law that created the State Service Commissioner whose duty it is to see that every service man receives his just compensation from both State and Federal governments. His activities in public life in behalf of the working man are too numerous to mention here.

It was only natural that in his sincere desire to serve the people, that Senator LeBlanc would seek and find a product that would tend to assist the poor and ailing, that would help them lead a more happy and contented life. His tireless study and effort resulted in today's wonderful HADACOL.

Why Wait?

Why experiment, why give up, why suffer from a lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin? Why not make up your mind to start taking HADACOL today with the positive assurance that it will help you if you suffer from such deficiencies or the Senator will gladly send back your money. You have to be satisfied, and since Senator LeBlanc has proven by his past activities that he is your friend, you know you can depend on what he says and what he does. Ask for HADACOL now. Trial size $1.25; large family or hospital size $3.50.

WHY STORE AWAY YOUR CHINA AND OTHER NICE THINGS? USE THEM AND SET A GOOD TASTE STANDARD

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeature Writer

Why don't you take all those wedding presents out of the attic and use them for a Valentine party? There's that lovely heirloom silver that has been in the family several generations—only everyone's been afraid to use it; the china you've put away for fear it will chip or crack; linens that you are afraid will be lost in the laundry.

It would be a lot better to get some use out of these things even with the possibility of breakage or loss, than to have them waste their beauty in a dust-laden cell. Even missing pieces of heirloom silver often can be replaced—and why should they be missing? If you use it frequently it should always be on hand and under your watchful eye.

Perhaps you don't use your china because you are afraid it is out of "open stock" and pieces can't be matched. One of the reasons china does go out of "open stock" is that there are no calls for the stock. If everybody used good china all the time, it would be cheaper to replace a broken cup or chipped plate, than to buy inexpensive sets of earthenware, which because it is not handled with care must be assembled at frequent intervals. You'll have much less breakage of fine china, even if you use it frequently, because you'll handle it with care.

Why is it people hesitate to use lovely possessions when they have them? Is there anything prettier than a buffet or dinner table set with grandma's linen, exquisite silver and fine china? Yet few people bother to use their "good china," linen or silver unless there is a very special occasion.

You should set a standard of living that is in good taste, if possible. Surround yourself with these lovely things, use them properly and everything in your home will take on more importance.

The trouble with the American housewife is she is a squirrel at heart. She has too many attics, basements, storage cabinets and now the deep freeze. If everybody would clean out their attics, use some of the nice old things they have and eat some of the billion pounds of meat and other foodstuffs now stored away, perhaps prices would slacken off.

Try it for your Valentine's Day buffet—dig out all those old usable lovely things you can get your hands on. You'll be delighted with the "oh's" and "ah's" of your guests. Make it a habit from there on in to use those pretty things. If you can't bring yourself to do them every day, use them weekends to begin with. Pretty soon, you'll get the habit of using them often, and perhaps all the time.

Bayonets are thought to have received their name from the fact that they were first manufactured at Bayonne, France.

Speech Smoothies
© 1951 by John F. Dille Co

In the world where poise, charm and success reign, extremes in speech are conspicuous distractions.

SECRETS OF CHARM

by JOHN ROBERT POWERS

Do you have as much glide in your speech as a Powers Girl has in her walk? If so, you are the possessor of one of the most potent charms. You have discovered not only the value of a listenable way of speaking, but how to achieve one.

While a salient feature of a beautiful manner of speaking is well-chosen, colorful words, as any good speech book or the introduction to your dictionary will tell you, there is a difference between written and spoken usage of our language. In speaking, you are allowed a far greater latitude.

Always Easy, Never Stilted

Colloquial phrases and words which would attract no admiration if found in your written messages are not only permissible but an attribute to your spoken words. A certain easiness in speech is far more desirable than over preciseness or a stilted, prissy quality.

The delivery of your spoken words is one of your most distinguishing characteristics, as individual as your signature. If you wish it to be admired, be sure that it has an easy, fluid quality, too.

Speaking too sharply and clipping off each word is a definite fault. It implies a self-consciousness that is repellent to your listeners. It is as though you were saying, "I (stop) speak (stop) this (stop) way (stop) because (stop) every (stop) word (stop) I (stop) say (stop) is (stop) of (stop) great (stop) importance.

But suppose we go to the opposite extreme; suppose, "Ispotaya lithins" (I spoke to you like this). Such careless indifference is an insult to the listener and displays equally bad taste.

The Middle Road

Like so many standards of the discriminating world, conversational speech takes a middle path between the stilted and the careless. Extremes of any kind are rarely found where poise, charm and success abound.

It is very easy to acquire bad habits unconsciously. Talk aloud to yourself and listen. Is your speech as smooth as a Powers Girl's walk? If not, be conscious of your fault all of the time; read aloud for practice in correcting it. Soon your voice will be reflecting you in the very nicest way!

Washington Whirl

By AUSTINE

WASHINGTON

A fur-bearing fish is driving a good-natured senate secretary, Miss Lois Miller, stark, storming dotty-daffy . . . People who come into Senator Muray's office keep asking "Where's the fur-bearing fish?" . . . People ought to know better . . . There ain't no such animal . . . Except in this case there WAS!

Lois Miller's boss, the Senator from Montana, recently moved his office bag, baggage, files and decorations . . . One decoration that never ceased to raise eyebrows and comment was a fur-bearing fish caught in White Fish Lake, Montana . . . But in the new office she decided not to stick the monstrosity on the wall . . . So tourists, voters, newspapermen still ask, "Where's the fur-bearin fish?" . . . They have either heard so much about it . . . Or got used to seeing it.

AUSTINE

The Rare Specimen, in case you've never seen one, is in reality a lake trout which some pixilated taxidermist covered with a beaver skin

As far as Lois is concerned "The Thing" is probably a fur-bearing fish . . . But Miss Miller feels the gag has worn a little thin . . . In fact, the moths have already damaged the trout's luxurious hair . . . And she secretly hopes they'll complete the job so she won't have to hang it again.

Gen. Marshall's probably been too busy to answer one letter he got recently . . . Besides, the letter asked some questions which may be difficult to answer:

Why one firm in N. Y. was awarded the entire contract to stitch up 1,300,000 summer dresses for the Waves and Lady Leathernecks?

Why were they all summer dresses?

Why so many, when the total of women in the Armed Services doesn't exceed 30,000?

What's happened to the regional supply program, the plan to spread war contracts around, give the little firms a chance to bid?

Perhaps Secretary of Defense Marshall or his Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna Rosenberg have all the answers and satisfactory explanations . . . But, if they haven't, Senator Homer Capehart of Indiana who wrote the letter will hound them till he digs out the truth.

After all, Congressmen must protect the interests of the American people they represent by doggedly asking embarrassing questions and demanding answers.

All businessmen were cautioned yesterday that ceiling price lists mentioned in the general ceiling price regulation of the Economic Stabilization Agency must be available for inspection by March 1.

"We urge cooperation of all concerned to facilitate the fight against inflation."

The announcement was made by Hugo R. Hoffman, acting price director for Maryland. Hoffman said the regulation clearly specifies that records dealing with the prices and services "frozen" as of the period December 19, 1950 to January 25, 1951 must be preserved at all times and that the list of ceiling prices based on these figures must be ready for the director of price stabilization by the first of March. In addition, current records of the kind kept in the ordinary operation of business must be maintained for a period of two years and are also subject to examination by the director.

Covered By January 26 Order

Spokesmen for the Baltimore Office of Price Stabilization state that requirements for compliance with the order are covered in paragraph 16 of the general price regulation issued on January 26. Printed copies of this regulation are being sent to chambers of commerce offices and other agencies throughout Maryland and may be obtained by making a direct request.

Meat Balls Join Mushroom Soup In Noodle Nest

Meat balls may be meat balls to some, but not to the adventuresome cook. A touch with seasonings, with sauces and with other accompaniments can make the difference. Just one example is a platter of subtly seasoned meat balls in mushroom sauce served over tender noodles.

For four servings of this easily prepared dish the homemaker needs to purchase 1 pound of ground beef (ground chuck is a wise choice). The meat is then seasoned with ¾ teaspoon of salt, a bit of pepper and ¼ teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce. After it is seasoned, the meat is formed into balls and browned in a small amount of lard or drippings. When browned on all sides, a can of condensed mushroom soup is added to the frying-pan, the utensil closely covered and the meat allowed to simmer in the sauce from 15 to 20 minutes.

In the meantime, the egg noodles are cooked. Of course, spaghetti may be used in their place. In serving, the noodles or spaghetti are arranged on a large platter with the meat balls in sauce placed over them. Touches of parsley add a colorful note to the serving.

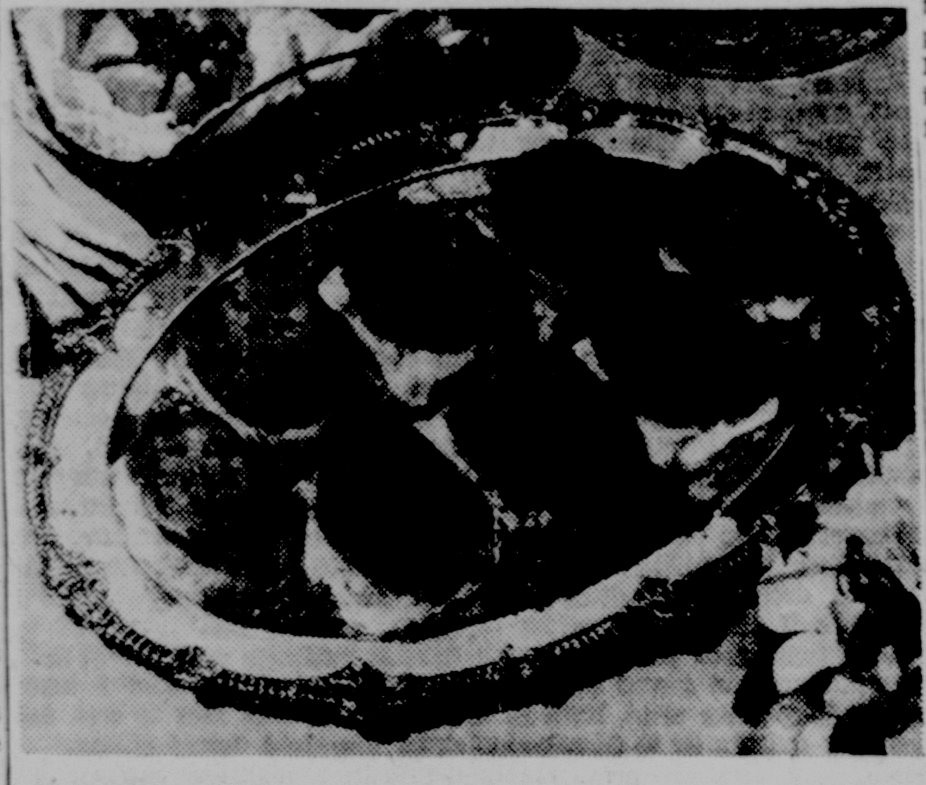
Sausage Star Performer



'Round the clock—any time, any day—fresh pork sausage is a star performer. Its versatility and delightful flavor make it an excellent choice for any meal. We suggest you serve fresh pork sausage for breakfast some days, then alternate to have it for lunch or dinner on others.

If it's the time element that prevents you from giving your family a good breakfast to start the day right, remember that pork sausage will cook thoroughly while you're juicing the fruit, making the coffee, and dishing the cereal.

Not only is pork sausage good to eat, but it's also good nutritionally. Fresh pork is our richest source of thiamine—that vitamin B1 so essential for good appetites, steady nerves, and all-around top health.

Pork sausage contains other vitamins, too, and the minerals iron and phosphorus that are found in all meats.

Buy pork sausage with care. Ask for it by brand, so you'll know you're getting 100% pure pork—expertly spiced and seasoned to give you sausage at its best. It can be purchased in link style, 16 links to the pound, or in pound cellophane rolls. The cellophane rolls are handy for slicing into the number of portions you wish to serve. Just remove the cellophane from the slices, and your patties are ready to cook with no fuss or bother. Any way you buy it, fresh pork sausage is easy to prepare and full of succulent goodness. Here's our suggestion for an appetizing and hearty main dish calling for fresh pork sausage patties.

Sausage Patties Fried Potato Cakes

- 1 pound roll fresh pork sausage
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 4 cups mashed potato (may be left-over)
- ⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 egg, well beaten

Cook onion in butter until clear. Add to potatoes with other ingredients. Pack into 8x8x2 pan and chill in refrigerator for several hours or overnight. Cut into 8 squares, dip in flour and fry in sausage drippings until lightly browned.

Cut Sausage Roll into 8 slices. Place in frying pan and cook about 15 minutes or until brown on each side.

Top potato square with sausage. Serve with green salad. 4 servings.

Sweet Sauce

- ⅓ cup port
- ⅓ cup sherry
- 2 oranges
- 1 lemon
- 1 tablespoon corn starch
- ¼ teaspoon ground cloves
- ½ cup currant jelly
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 cups pitted canned Bing cherries (or Royal Anne)

Combine port, sherry, orange and lemon juice. Mix corn starch and cloves and mix to smooth paste with a little of the liquid. Add to wine mixture. Add jelly and cook until clear and slightly thickened, stirring constantly. Set in top of double boiler and cook 15 minutes longer, stirring several times. Add cherries and ½ teaspoon each grated orange and lemon rind. Serve hot over ham slices. Makes about 3 cups sauce.

Molasses Flavor Favored By Washington And Lincoln

During February when the birthdays of Lincoln and Washington are celebrated, it's of interest to recall a food preference that both men had in common . . . that for sweet, spicy molasses.

George Washington's name comes up frequently in the mention of molasses not only because of the orders he placed for this commodity to be used as a sweetener in much of the cooking at Mt. Vernon but in the very light of the American Revolution. By the 18th century, molasses was the life blood of colonial commerce. It was the medium for getting cash to balance trade accounts with the mother country. When England levied heavy import restrictions on this commodity, molasses became one of the major causes of the American Revolution.

Abraham Lincoln had a preference for Molasses Pie. In the records of a bakery existing in Washington, D. C., during his presidency, there are frequent orders placed by Lincoln for this specialty. This same bakery supplied such products as mince pie, molasses pound cake and molasses sheet cake to the Union Army encamped near the Nation's capitol.

The following recipe for molasses pecan pie is based on a very old recipe, but it has been modernized to follow today's cooking techniques. Its goodness would surely have made it a favorite of Lincoln and Washington. It is custard-like in texture and of distinct though delicate molasses flavor. That delicate flavor is the result of the unsulphured molasses used. Unsulphured molasses is made according to the same formula known since early sailing vessels brought this sweetener from the West Indies to the colonies.

Molasses Pecan Pie

- 3 eggs, beaten
- ¾ cup unsulphured molasses
- ¾ cup white corn syrup
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup chopped pecans
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 8-inch, unbaked pie crust.

Heat oven to 375° F. (moderate). Combine first six ingredients. Mix pecans with flour; add to egg-molasses mixture. Pour into an 8-inch pie pan lined with unbaked pastry. Bake 40 minutes or until filling is firm. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Molasses Peanut Pie: Replace pecans with roasted peanut halves.

Breakfast, the most important meal of the day, is one meal that isn't putting a strain on the pocketbook in these days of food budget worries. A good breakfast can be the thriftiest meal of the day. At the same time, it's a food combination that finds its way to the table with only a few minutes of preparation.

Serving an economical main dish lowers the cost of any meal, including breakfast. That's one reason for the breakfast-table popularity of a bowl of cereal and milk, a main dish that costs barely four cents.

In this one easy dish, you get just the food energy you need after the 10 to 14-hour fast since dinner. Also, you get top-quality protein, which children need for growing, and adults need for upkeep and repair. Then, too, there is vitamin A for growth and health, as well as to help keep your eyes and vision clear, and your skin in good condition.

The B vitamins help keep your appetite and nervous system healthy. Also, this dish gives you food energy and important minerals for building good bones and teeth.

Variety in the breakfast menu is a must to keep morning appetites sharp, and it's easy to vary the cereal every day. Chopped dried fruits are especially good served on hot cereals, or stirred into the cereal in the last minute or so of cooking. A ring of dates makes today's cereal bowl of farina a tasty and appetizing main dish. The fruit is orange slices, with sweet rolls, butter, and milk to drink.

Try Cereal Hot Breads

Suggestion one is to pep up any meal with hot breads. Suggestion two, make those breads with thrifty breakfast cereals. Here are two specially selected recipes for the purpose. One uses brown granular wheat cereal to make Golden Wheat Sticks. The other calls for whole bran and produces a rounded-top, tender-crusted Perfect Bran Muffin.

These breads will add color and variety to your meals. Too, the breakfast cereal makes a special thrifty contribution of vitamins, minerals, and protein.

When you bake Golden Wheat Sticks or Perfect Bran Muffins, make plenty so that for another meal you can split and toast them. Or, to reheat, sprinkle with a few drops of water, put in a paper bag and let warm in the oven.

A special recommendation is to serve these tasty breads for breakfast. They zestfully fill the bread section of a basic breakfast pattern which calls for fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter. To save morning time, measure the dry ingredients the night before.

Golden Wheat Sticks

- ¾ cup brown granlar wheat cereal, uncooked
- 1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
- ¼ cup sugar
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 egg, beaten,
- ¾ cup milk
- ¼ cup melted butter or margarine

Combine cereal, flour, sugar, salt, and baking powder. Add egg and milk; mix. Stir in butter. Place in greased corn stick pans. Bake in hot oven (425-450°F.) about 25 to 30 minutes. Yield: 12 wheat sticks.

Perfect Bran Muffins

- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1 egg
- ¾ cup milk
- 1 cup whole bran
- 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt

Cream together butter and sugar, add egg and beat well. Stir in milk, then whole bran, and let soak about 10 minutes. Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt. Add to first mixture, stirring until dry ingredients are just moistened. Fill greased muffin pans, 2½x1¼ inches, ⅔ full. Make in moderately hot oven (400°F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Field: 12 muffins.

Easy-To-Make Dishes For Homemaker

Dishes that are easy to prepare, economical, and nutritious will be favorites in most homes this year, due to the increased demand on the homemaker's time and to the rise in the cost of living. This does not mean to deprive the family of the good food to which they are accustomed. There are dishes that meet these specifications and still give added enjoyment to the family meals.

Barbecued Luncheon Meat fits into this classification. It is economical, quick to make, nutritious, and tasty enough to be a main-dish favorite.

The recipes for Coffee Gingerbread and Taffy Pudding were developed for the busy homemaker whose family prefers genuinely good, homemade desserts. The dry ingredients may be mixed ahead of time and stored in the cupboard to use as needed.

Since the flavor of these dishes is determined by the kind of molasses used, it is important that a sweet, mild-flavored molasses be used for making them.

Here are recipes for delicious easy-to-make dishes that the budget-wise homemaker will appreciate.

Barbecued Luncheon Meat With Spaghetti

Two tablespoons butter or margarine, ½ cup chopped onion, 12-oz. can luncheon meat, 1 tablespoon unsulphured molasses, 6-oz. can tomato paste, 3 tablespoons vinegar, 3 tablespoons unsulphured molasses, 1 cup water, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 teaspoons dry mustard, ½ teaspoon black pepper, ½ to ¾ teaspoon chili powder, 1 garlic bud, ½ pound spaghetti, cooked.

Melt butter or margarine in a skillet. Add onions. Cut luncheon meat into 8 slices. Use the 1 tablespoon of molasses to spread thinly on both sides of all 8 slices of meat. Place in skillet; cook until meat is brown and onions are limp. Mix remaining ingredients; pour over meat and cook until thick. Place a serving of the cooked spaghetti on a plate; cover with sauce and 2 slices of meat. Yield: 4 servings.

Mock Apple Sauce Layer Cake

No. 2 can sweetened apple sauce, ½ cup unsulphured molasses, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 8 slices white bread.

Mix first three ingredients. Trim crust from bread; place two slices, end to end, on plate and cover with apple sauce mixture. Repeat until all bread and apple sauce have been used, having apple sauce as top layer. Chill. When ready to serve, cut in 1-inch slices. Serve plain or with whipped cream. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

With the last of Sunday's ham, make a tempting hot sandwich using enriched biscuit dough instead of bread. Make a well-seasoned ham mixture by mixing together 1¾ cups of ground, cooked ham (about ½ pound), 1 tablespoon minced onion, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 2 tablespoons dry mustard and 1 tablespoon of milk. Make your favorite drop biscuit dough, and spread half of it over bottom of greased 8x8x2 inch pan. Cover with ham mixture and spread remaining biscuit dough over meat. Bake in a hot over (450°F.) 30 to 35 minutes. Serve with creamed peas. Makes six servings.

Oatmeal Nut Bread

- 1½ cups sifted flour
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ½ teaspoon soda
- ½ cup broken nutmeats
- 2 eggs
- ¼ cup softened fat
- 1 cup buttermilk, or sour milk
- 1½ cups rolled oats

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and soda into mixing bowl. Add broken nutmeats. Place eggs, fat, half of milk, rolled oats and rest of milk in container of electric blender in that order. Cover container and turn on blender. Run until oats are finely cut, about 30 seconds, stopping blender and stirring down once after 15 seconds. Pour blended mixture over sifted flour mixture. Stir lightly until just mixed. Place batter in greased small loaf pan, 7 x 3½ inches, puhing well into corners. Bake in moderate oven, 350°F, until browned and done, about 1 hour. Turn out on wire rack to cool. Let stand overnight before slicing.

YIELD: 1 small loaf oatmeal nut bread.

Orange Bread

- 3 cups sifted flour
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- ⅓ cup softened fat
- 1 egg
- ¾ cup milk
- 1 medium orange, diced
- 1 cup sugar

Sift flour, baking powder and salt into mixing bowl. Place fat, egg and milk in container of electric blender. Add unpeeled orange cut in about a dozen pieces, removing any large seeds, and the sugar. Cover container and turn on blender. Run until orange is finely divided, about 1 minute. Pour over sifted flour mixture. Mix just until barely moistened, as for muffin batter. Pour batter into greased long loaf pan, 12 x 3½ inches, or two loaf pans, 7 x 3½ inches. Bake in moderate oven, 350°F, until done, about 1 hour. Turn out on wire rack and let loaf cool on its side. Let stand overnight before slicing.

YIELD: One large loaf orange bread, or two small loaves.

Range-Oven May Be Used For Pork

In a covered frying-pan or in a casserole, versatile pork chops may be cooked either way. However, whether cooked on the range or in the oven, pork chops are prepared by the same method—by braising.

And whether cooking chops over a sweet potato and apple combination casserole, apple dressing or over scalloped corn or potatoes, they are first browned slowly in a frying-pan. Next, the chops are arranged over the casserole, the cover of the utensil closely fitted and the dish cooked in a 350° F. oven.

The correct top-of-range method is an identical procedure. When the chops are browned, the utensil is tightly covered so the chops can cook in moist heat for 45 minutes to 1 hour, depending upon their thickness.

As well as various cookery possibilities, there are various chops from which to choose. There are the popular center cut loin chops which many homemakers are sure to purchase. But for equally as flavorsome a choice as the center chops, homemakers may choose rib chops or the shoulder arm and blade slices which are actually steaks. These are all prepared by the braising method and may be used interchangeably for range top or oven cooking.

Pork Shoulder Rolls

4 pork arm steaks, cut ⅜ to ½ inch thick
¼ cup lard or drippings
¼ cup water
2 cups soft bread crumbs
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon sage
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
1 egg, beaten
Meat Stock or water

Combine bread crumbs, seasonings, onion, parsley, and egg. Add stock or water to make a slightly moist stuffing. Remove arm bones from steaks and spread stuffing on each steak. Roll and tie. Brown meat rolls in lard or drippings. Drain off all but 2 tablespoons drippings. Add ¼ cup water, cover and cook in a moderate oven (350° F.) or simmer on top of range 45 minutes to 1 hour, or until done. 4 servings.

Food Budgeteers Should Consider The Yam

YAM VEGETABLE PLATE . . . Lenten main dish.

One of the substantial vegetables to lean heavily on right now, when vegetable plates make inexpensive main dishes for Lenten fare, is the sweet and satisfying yam. Besides furnishing body-fuel, golden yams from Louisiana are famed for their carotene or vitamin A content. Yams have vitamin C, too — the vitamin we need every day because our bodies do not store it. If you cook the yams in their own skins, very little of their vitamin C will be lost. They also provide some of the B complex vitamins — that large and important family. If you're regional food conscious, you might like to know that February 6 to 14 is Louisiana Yam Week.

Yams team up well with leafy greens such as spinach. Other candidates for a yam plate are cauliflower, eggplant, white turnips. Yams are delicious served with buttered white onions and snap beans; perfect with scalloped tomatoes, green peas, and (if your budget allows it) mushrooms.

For these vegetable plate combinations, serve yams baked, mashed, or lightly glazed rather than heavily candied. Adding lemon juice or lemon rind or both when you glaze them does wonders for their flavor. Orange, pineapple, and grapefruit are other fruits that go well with yams.

Here's a method for lightly glazing Louisiana yams that's easy and preserves their natural reddish-gold color. When I tried this recipe and served it with ham, a green salad with a tart dressing, and hot cheese biscuits, all the taste-testers applauded it.

Lemon Glazed Yams

Ingredients: 6 small to medium-sized yams (about 1¾ pounds), 1 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons water, ½ large lemon, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine.

Method: Boil yams in skins until tender — about 30 minutes. Meanwhile put sugar and water in 10-inch skillet; cut rind from lemon in thin strips and add with juice. Stir over low heat until sugar melts; boil slowly for 2 minutes, watching carefully. Stir in butter or margarine and set aside from heat. Peel and trim yams; cut in half lengthwise and arrange in syrup. Reheat, gently basting yams with syrup. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Any leftover syrup may be stored in refrigerator and used to sweeten plain mashed yams.

When you're baking yams and want to make them extra-delicious, add 1 teaspoon butter or margarine to the scooped-out pulp of each small to medium-sized yam along with any of the following combinations:

1. 1 teaspoon orange, grapefruit, lemon, or pineapple juice, dash of salt and cinnamon.
2. 1 tablespoon honey, ½ teaspoon lemon juice, dash of salt and nutmeg.
3. 1 tablespoon orange marmalade or pineapple preserves, ½ teaspoon lemon juice.
4. 1 tablespoon maple syrup, 1 tablespoon chopped peanuts.
5. 1 teaspoon white or 2 teaspoons brown sugar, 1 tablespoon cut raisins, 1 tablespoon shredded coconut.
6. 2 marshmallows cut in small pieces, 3 slices of canned peaches for top, dash of allspice.

Salmon For Inexpensive Dinner Dish

You'll want to try this unusual baked salmon pie, particularly if you are one of those who doesn't usually care for the bland smoothness of a creamed dish. A couple of tablespoons of granulated rice cereal are added to this sauce to give it texture as well as the needed thickness. A can of mushrooms complements the salmon flavor and helps make the recipe a pantry shelf stand-by.

Baked Salmon Pie

3 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons minced onion, 2 tablespoon minced green pepper, 3 oz. can chopped broiled mushrooms, 1⅛ cups milk, about 2 tablespoons granulated rice cereal, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, 8 oz. can salmon, 1 cup biscuit mix.

Melt butter in saucepan over moderate heat. Add onion and green pepper. Let cook about 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Drain mushrooms and add milk to mushroom broth to make 1½ cups. Add milk and broth to onion mixture and bring to boil. Sprinkle in granulated rice cereal, salt, pepper and mustard. Cook, stirring frequently, for about 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Drain salmon, adding any liquid to rice mixture. Flake salmon and arrange in shallow greased baking dish, about 10 x 16 inches. Sprinkle with the drained mushrooms. Carefully pour sauce over salmon and mushrooms. Prepare biscuit mix according to directions on package and roll out to fit top of the baking dish. Cut hole in center of crust to allow escape of steam. Bake in moderately hot oven, 375°F, until lightly browned and done, about 20 minutes. Serve immediately.

Yield: 4 servings.

County March Of Dimes Drive Nears $2,000 Mark

Incomplete returns from the 1951 March of Dimes drive in Allegany county show that approximately $1,750 has been contributed to date, according to campaign officials.

Mrs. Vivian L. Annan, executive secretary of the Allegany County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, yesterday said proceeds included $926 donated by theatre patrons here. The drive got underway January 15 and ended yesterday.

Cumberland Lodge No. 63, B. P. O. Elks, collected more than $250 at a dance held last night. Despite inclement weather and the absence of Russ Romero's Orchestra, about 75 couples attended. Music was furnished by Rudy Sullivan's ensemble.

John M. Robb, county campaign director, cooperated with Harry S. Tracy, head of the Elks Social Sessions Committee, in sponsoring the dance.

Last night a Square Dance Festival was held in the State Armory under sponsorship of the Potomac Park Improvement Association. Proceeds will go to the county polio fund.

Farrady Post No. 24, American Legion, Frostburg, has completed plans for a semi-formal dance tonight from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. in the Legion Home for the March of Dimes.

Mrs. Annan said coin containers will be collected at downtown stores, restaurants and other business establishments Saturday. Early reports from town and county campaign leaders are encouraging, she added.

Contributions this year are running about the same as in 1950 when $8,080 was collected, according to Mrs. Annan. The 1949 total was $9,100. No quota is set.

"Preface To Life" Scheduled For PTA

The West Side Parent-Teacher Association will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the school.

Following the business meeting a movie "Preface to a Life," showing the great influence parents play in the life of a child, will be shown with Mrs. A. J. Mirkin as commentator. Afterwards a discussion will be conducted with Mrs. Ross Decker as chairman.

Entertainment will include violin numbers by Wilton H. Syckes, accompanied by Mrs. Samuel Weatherholt.

Home room visitation is scheduled for 9 p. m. and refreshments will follow.

Mrs. Howard L. Tolson To Become Nurse Consultant

Mrs. Howard L. Tolson has been named nursing education coordinator and consultant to The Memorial Hospital School of Nursing and Frostburg State Teachers College.

She will continue as school nurse and health consultant at the college, and will conduct classes in anatomy and physiology and in the mathematics of drugs as she has done since joining the staff at the college three years ago.

In addition, she will do planning and follow-up work in connection with all classes for which the student nurses affiliate at the college, and will do some teaching at the Memorial Hospital in Cumberland.

Mrs. Tolson received a bachelor of science degree from the University of Wisconsin and later was graduated from the University of Wisconsin School of Nursing. She has done graduate work at Columbia University, New York. She was formerly superintendent of nurses and director of the School of Nursing at Memorial Hospital and during the war served as educational director there. While serving in this capacity, she instituted the affiliation between the School of Nursing and Frostburg State Teachers College.

15 Inductees Ordered To Report For Duty

Induction orders for 15 registrants of Draft Board Nos. 28 and 29 were received yesterday morning by P. Emmett Fahey, clerk co-ordinator.

The contingent will leave Queen City Station February 19 at 5:55 a. m. for Martinsburg, W. Va. Military posts will be assigned after the inductees are "screened."

Fahey said today's call was for 10 men in Board No. 28 and five in Board No. 29. Leaving will be:

Edward Kennison Lindsay, 316 Harrison Street; Bruce McKinley Smith, 206 Reynolds Street; Robert Leslie Smith, 306 Pulaski Street; Clarence Edward Stickley, 600 North Centre Street; Robert Eugene Grapes, 609 Woodlawn Terrace; Milton Simon Morrissey, 216 North Charles Street, Baltimore, formerly of 630 North Centre Street.

Richard William Schupfer, 708 Columbia Avenue; Cloyd Raymond True, 703 North Mechanic Street; Ronald Lawrence Sheally, Route 3, Valley Road; Ray Eugene DeHaven, 644 Columbia Avenue.

Joseph Franklin Radcliffe, Route 1, LaVale; William Lee Ward, Route 5, Cumberland; Yancey Hodges Shaffer, 539 Patterson Avenue; John Filmore Robinson, 686 Fayette Street, and Walter Henry Cecil, of Cresaptown.

Fifteen registrants of Board No. 27 will report Monday for induction at Martinsburg.

In answer to a number of queries, Fahey pointed out that college students, who have already received their physical examinations, are permitted under Selective Service regulations to enlist in any branch of the Armed Forces in June.

High school students, however, are prohibited from enlisting after they receive notice to report for physicals.

Annie Oakley, world's most famous woman rifle shot, began using the rifle at the age of 6 to provide food for her family.

Turnesa's 64 Leads Tucson Open Tourney

Three Tied For 2nd, One Stroke Off Pace

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 1 (AP) — Deadly approach shots today gave Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff, N. Y., the lead in the $10,000 Tucson Open Golf Tournament with a six-under-par 64 for the first 18 holes.

Iron shots put Turnesa, one of the five golfing brothers, within easy putting distance for birdies on six holes.

Three golfers were grouped a scant stroke back of the winner of the recent Havana Open. They are Bob Watson, White Plains, N. Y., Ralph Blomquist, Glendale, Calif., and Jack Burke, Jr., Houston, Texas. Each turned in cards of 65.

The easy par 70, 6,402-yard El Rio Golf and Country Club Course lived up to its reputation. Thirty-five golfers broke par and another 13 finished in regulation figures.

The closest big name golfers to the leader are Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago and Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, Tenn. They are in a 10-way tie for 14th place with scores of 68. Grouped with them are Jimmy Clark, Laguna Beach, Calif., and Vic Ghezzi, Inwood, L. I., N. Y.

Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., the reigning PGA champ and defending champion here, ran into trouble on the first nine and went two over par. He picked up one stroke on the back nine to finish with 71.

Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., had an uphill fight after going three over par on the first four holes. He took a five on the par-three fourth. He partly recovered to finish with a 71 and could still do plenty of damage.

The big jam right behind the four leaders includes John Barnum, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y.; Jay Hebert, Long Island, N. Y.; and Ed Furgol, Royal Oak, Mich. They are four under par with 66's.

Trailing them by one stroke are Jim Deal, New York City; Dave Douglas, Newark, Del.; Bob Gadja, Detroit, Mich.; George Harrington, Medford, Ore.; and Max Evans, Detroit.

National League Marks Birthday

NEW YORK, Feb. 1—(INS)—The 75th anniversary of the National League will be marked in New York tomorrow by special ceremonies and —it is hoped—a special birthday present in the form of a "green light" message from President Harry S. Truman.

President Ford Frick of the National League will read Truman's congratulatory message during a half-hour ceremony at the Broadway Central, site of the league's founding in 1876.

Among those present will be 16 members of Baseball's Hall of Fame, including the newly-elected Mel Ott and Jimmy Foxx. On hand, too, will be Mayor Vincent Impellitteri of New York, who will dedicate a plaque commemorating the founding of the league.

Those hall-of-famers to be present tomorrow will be Fred Clarke, Ty Cobb, Mickey Cochrane, Eddie Collins, Hugh Duffy, Charlie Gehringer, Rogers Hornsby, Carl Hubbell, Kid Nichols, George Sisler, Tris Speaker, Pie Traynor, Ed Walsh, Cy Young, Foxx and Ott.

Ott will speak briefly for the Hall-of-Famers.

Central League Will Operate

DETROIT, Feb. 1 (AP)—The Central Baseball League announced today that it had overcome all its difficulties and would operate in 1951.

President T. J. Halligan said the league would have at least six teams and might add two more before opening day on April 25.

"We have drawn up a schedule including four Michigan teams—Flint, Grand Rapids, Saginaw and Muskegon—plus Dayton, O., and Charleston, W. Va." he said.

Halligan disclosed that both Youngstown, O., and Evansville, Ind., have expressed a desire to join the league. "We have decided to give them 40 days to make up their minds," he explained.

The league head added, "if they decide to come in, we can revise the schedule easily to fit an eight team league."

Keyser Gets Big Game

By C. V. BURNS

Thirteen years have elapsed since an Allegany High School basketball team finished the season with a record under the .500 mark. That was in 1938 when the Campers won 11 and lost 12.

The present AHS team has won five and lost eight. Eight, incidentally, represents the greatest number of losses for an AHS team since 1938. The 1942 quint dropped eight out of 23 while the 1949 aggregation lost eight of 22.

Many Allegany followers were hopeful that the present team would give Coach Walter L. Bowers 500 wins in his silver anniversary year as tutor of AHS teams. Ten more victories would do the trick. This would mean that the Blue and White would have to cop its eight remaining regularly scheduled games and bag a couple states games—that's if they get that far. This is a large order. Bowers' teams have won 490 games since he took over the reins in 1927.

When LaSalle lost to Barton here Tuesday night, 56-55, it was the 15th time this season a district team had lost a game by a single point.

LaSalle also has lost two games by two point margins (one an overtime affair) and finished three points behind on another occasion.

The Explorers are hitting an even .500 in 14 games this season.

In four of the contests Stowell's team failed to score a single run for him.

"Mac' marked up four wins over the Cumberland Old Germans, beat Frostburg twice and Hyndman once.

Workman Gets 26 Points As W. V. U. Beats Generals

LEXINGTON, Va., Feb. 1 (AP) — West Virginia University's overall speed and Mark Workman's 26-point performance steered the Mountaineers to an 88-70 basketball conquest of Washington and Lee tonight.

In rolling to its seventh Southern Conference decision in 10 games, West Virginia threw up a defensive arrangement that held the losers' Jay Handlan to five field goals and otherwise kept the Generals' attack off balance.

Washington and Lee, which went down to its 13th loss in 16 games and suffered its 10th loop loss as against only one triumph, succeeded in controlling the play for the first 10 minutes.

At that stage, however, Dave Steindler tossed in a fielder to put the Mountaineers ahead 21-19 and they never were headed. West Virginia led 48-31 at halftime, then never let the Generals get closer than 14 points in the second 20-minute stretch.

Workman ran his point total for the year to 469 points in 18 contests for an average of 25.5 as Jim Sottile and Kenny Alessi fed the ball to him beautifully.

Handlan led Washington and Lee with 22 points, making good 12 of 13 free throws.

Abuse From Fans Causing Arbiters To Shun Gardens

Condition Serious, Dave Fawcett Says

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 1 (AP)—It's getting so basketball officials calling the shots at Pittsburgh's Gardens feel like Christians in a Roman arena full of lions.

Or so they say.

Abuse from fans is getting so bad that arbiters balk at handling the assignments. Duquesne and Carnegie Tech play at the Gardens for lack of adequate gyms of their own.

Commissioner Dave Fawcett, who assigns officials for Pittsburgh district games, said from his hospital sick bed that the Gardens situation is serious. He coupled the statement with an appeal to fans for better sportsmanship.

Asked To Be Relieved

Fawcett said several men assigned to the Gardens have asked to be relieved, adding:

"I'm having trouble putting the men I want into the Gardens they don't care for the reception there. Only recently one of my best men was the target for a pop bottle. On another occasion someone tried to trip him."

Fawcett, who listens to game broadcasts, also said:

'I' was disheartened by the tremendous booing when Villanova players were awarded free throws in the Duquesne game."

Coaches came in for some criticism from the commissioner, who declared:

"There's entirely too much attention directed toward the officials, who are the scapegoats for everything that goes on. Several coaches have been immoderate in their statements and, in some cases, newsmen and radio announcers have joined fans in adding fuel to the fire."

Dudey Moore Gripes

When Cincinnati cut short Duquesne' winning streak at 10 games, Coach Dudey Moore of the Pittsburghers let out a blast at officials. He said:

"The officials were leaning backward to help Cincinnati. They were not doing it dishonestly, just unconsciously.

"We've got as good officials around here as anywhere. But they have been influenced by the newspapers and the radio, both of which have been criticising them. So now they take it out on us by giving the other team every break."

Fawcett, apparently, doesn't see it that way. He told newsmen that "everyone realizes what a tough assignment a basketball official has these days."

He said they should not be subjected to second guessing.

The commissioner said also:

"The fans' abuse is having a bad effect on several of my men. Red Mihalik, for instance, is near a nervous breakdown and wishes to curtail his schedule."

Four Sox Unsigned

CHICAGO, Feb. 1 (AP)—Only four Chicago White Sox players remained unsigned for 1951 today with the inking of a contract by rookie outfielder Bill Higdon.

Still to come to terms are first sackers Ed Robinson and Gordon Goldsberry, catcher Gus Niarhos and outfielder Dave Philley.

Unbeaten Fort Hill Quint Will Invade Martinsburg

Vikings Test Jackets Tonight; A-B To Play Catamounts In Keyser

The 61st meeting of LaSalle and Allegany on SS. Peter and Paul court and the Martinsburg-Fort Hill game at the West Virginians' gym top tonight's basketball bill in the tri-state area.

Victorious over AHS at Campobello, January 5, by the score of 35-34, Art Slocum's Explorers believe they can do it again tonight on their home floor. Both teams have played in-and-out basketball this season and the game appears to be a toss-up.

LaSalle is playing .500 ball in 14 games while Allegany has won five and lost eight.

The all-time series score is 39 wins to 21 in favor of Allegany. The starting time is 8 o'clock. "Eck" Miers and Eddie Diehl will officiate.

Will 13th Be Unlucky?

Undefeated Fort Hill plays its 13th game of the season tonight and it could be unlucky, yet the Sentinels are favored to continue their winning streak at the expense of John Cobourne's Martinsburg Bulldogs. "Bobby" Cavanaugh's club muzzled the Canines here to the tune of 50-39.

Ridgeley steps out of the Potomac Valley Conference to engage Beall High of Frostburg tonight at 8 on the Ridgeley court. Ralph Poling's Blackhawks won the opener in Frostburg, 41-38, and should repeat tonight.

Moorefield's Yellow Jackets go after their 12th straight in the P. V. C. when they tackle Walt Owens' Petersburg High Vikings at Petersburg tonight. In other conference tilts Fort Ashby plays at Piedmont and Mathias is host to Franklin High.

Final of Tucker Series

The final game of the Tucker County championship series is set for tonight with Thomas billed to play the Wildcats at Davis. Parsons leads in the series 3-1 and Davis, now 2-1, can tie it up with a victory tonight. A win for Thomas would net Parsons the crown.

Friendsville, upset victor over Accident, is scheduled to play at Oakland High School tonight in a Garrett County League game. Accident visits Kitzmiller.

Other scholastic contests find Monongalia High of Morgantown, W. Va., playing Howard High of Piedmont on the Keyser High School court, Hedgesville at Paw Paw, Capon Bridge at Berkeley Springs, Romney at Charles Town and the Berlin FFA at Hyndman High.

Don Moran Hero In Terp Victory

Westernport Cager's Goal Tops Davidson

DAVIDSON, N. C., Feb. 1 (AP) — Favored Maryland had its hands full here tonight before emerging with 57-55 overtime Southern Conference basketball victory over Davidson.

Don Moran, 6-3 sophomore center from Westernport, Md., dropped in a set shot from quarter court as the buzzer ending the overtime sounded, and that was the margin.

Davidson led 35-21 at halftime. At the end of regulation time the count was 53-53.

Davidson moved ahead 55-53 in the overtime on a basket by Bob Graham, sophomore reserve forward. Then guard Jim Koffenberger put in a layup for Maryland to tie it and set the stage for Moran's winning effort. Moran's heave was in the air as the buzzer sounded.

Brawley scored 17 points for Maryland. Manis had 13 and Moran nine.

Marta Scores By Length In Hialeah Race

Beats Six Candidates For Black Helen 'Cap

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 1 (AP) — A crowd of 15,284 saw Woodvale Farm's Marta score a front running victory in the featured Orange Blossom Purse at Hialeah Park today. Favored at $5.70, the daughter of Haltal led home seven other fillies and mares in this test for candidates for the Black Helen Handicap.

Marta, third in her first start this winter, was favorably weighted at 105 pounds and carried Warren Mehrtens past the judges a length before W. J. Lenihan's September. A. R. Evans' Evanstep was third, about three lengths farther away, while H. W. Fincher's Danger Ahead was a non-threatening fourth.

Sixth to finish in the $4,000 overnight event of seven furlongs was Ogden Phipps' Busanda, the Alabama heroine of 1950. She carried top-weight of 120 pounds and was making her first start of the winter.

Marta covered the distance on a fast track in 1.24 4-5. She broke in stride, opened at once and after putting Danger Ahead away turning for home, had enough in reserve to thwart the rally of September. The latter was rated superbly but was not quite good enough under pressure. Evanstep never really proved troublesome, nor were any of the others.

Marta herself is not a candidate for the $15,000 Black Helen on March 2. But she did turn back in today's race six that were eligible for Hialeah's most important fixture for fillies and mares.

Ken Church, by virtue of riding two winners, again assumed the leadership for Hialeah's riding title, moving two markers ahead of Hedley Woodhouse, who came through with four winners on Wednesday.

The daily double was worth $26.40 to a total of 2,466 ticket-holders. It was formed by Clara Patricia, $6.80, winner of the opener, and Freedom Wins, $5.00 choice in the second.

about decide the Potomac Valley Conference championship — if Moorefield wins.

Johnny Paugh's club has an 11-0 record, including a 53-37 win over Keyser. John Shelton's KHS outfit boasts an 8-1 record.

Each school plays 16 games in the conference. Petersburg, Ridgeley, Piedmont, Keyser and Mathias remain on the Moorefield schedule. Keyser must play Petersburg, Moorefield, Davis, Piedmont, Ridgeley, Parsons and Davis in that order.

Paul Oberhaus has played his last game with the Cumberland Spas and the fans who have followed the local pro teams for the past five seasons will be sorry to see the tall, willowy push-shot artist leave the ranks for Phoenix, Arizona.

Oberhaus typifies the "Joe Basket" of the present era because he seldom shoots with both hands whether it be from the field or the foul line. He has the habit of flinging one-handers, left or right, from any position on the court and his shooting at times bordered on the sensational.

Paul gave the game all he had. The guy was really a race horse and seemed to have remarkable stamina.

Oberhaus started out with the Amvets, an independent team in 1946-47, played with the Dukes the past three years and the Spas this season.

Over five seasons Paul played in 148 of the 157 games in which the local pro teams participated and scored 1,357 points.

He's the type of gentleman-athlete we can't help but admire.

Peter J. "Bunny" Buntag of Pittsburgh called the other morning to spread the glad tidings that "Skeets" Starkey looked great in his first two fights in New York in which he won via the K. O. routs.

The Wiley Ford belter who has chalked up 47 wins in 60 bouts since he made his debut in the amateurs here in 1946, won his first Gotham match last Saturday at the Ridgewood Grove Club and not at Long Island City as was stated in the first report we received. His second match was at the White Plains County Center. These places are among the proving grounds for boxers trying to crash Madison Square Garden.

In the February issue of The Ring magazine — boxing's bible — Starkey's name is listed among the leading Class B light heavyweights.

Louis Reported Physically Fit

Fights Agramonte Wednesday Night

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 1 (AP) — Joe Louis was reported today to be in "remarkable physical condition" for his ten-round fight with Omelio Agramonte of Cuba at Miami Stadium Wednesday night.

Dr. James J. McCormick of the City Boxing Commission examined Louis and Agramonte at the official weighing ceremonies and said he "couldn't emphasize too strongly" that the former heavyweight champion has worked himself into excellent shape.

"He has taken off all the superfluous flesh evident last year," Dr. McCormick said, "and his blood pressure would be normal for a man 21 years old."

Louis weighed in at 208½ pounds, Agrmonte at 193. The Cuban was reported in "good condition."

Louis weighed 218 when he lost to Ezzard Charles last year. He was down to 210¼ when he recently knocked out Freddie Beshore.

When he was advised of Dr. McCormick's remark about his blood pressure, Louis chuckled and said: "I'm still 36."

Joe was scheduled to go four rounds today with his sparring partners and Agramonte planned to box three rounds. The pair will continue daily sparring sessions through Monday.

SPORTS GRILL

by
Pat Robinson
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 (INS)—It occurs to us that baseball still is the cheapest buy in sports and that it gives more for your greatly depreciated and hard-earned buck than any other.

Baseball admissions have risen little in half a century but the cost of operating has soared beyond the wildest dreams of the old-time club owner.

You still can buy a bleacher seat for 60 cents or a grandstand seat for $1.25 to see either the Yanks or Giants.

Not many years ago the total payroll of some major league clubs was less than the $100,000 the Yanks pay Joe DiMaggio or that the Red Sox pay Ted Williams.

We will venture a step further and say one or two payrolls were not as much as the $70,000 the Yanks pay their four coaches.

The Yanks' payroll now exceeds $600,000 but in addition labor and maintenance costs have risen as well as transportation, hotel and food costs when traveling.

Let's take a quick glance at some of the freight the fan has to pay for other sports, amateur and professional.

Tennis prices at Forest Hills last fall ran from $1.80 to $3.50. The pros, playing in Madison Square Garden, charged from $2 to $8. And bear in mind that for any of the cheap seats in the Garden you are away up with the rafters just under the roof.

College football at Columbia, Princeton, Yale and other seats of learning in the east generally run from $1.80 for a seat behind the goal posts to $3.60. The professionals run from $1.25 to $5.

You might suppose that track and field meets are cheap but all the big indoor meets at the Garden are scaled from $1.25 to $5.

Basketball, with or without a "fix" scandal, runs from $1 to $3.50. It is worth noting, too, that although the Garden seats 15,000, there are only about 3,000 of the cheapest seats available and you must have the mountain-scaling ability of a goat to climb up to them.

The Garden can hold 20,000 for a fight because seats are placed on the floor. Prices have dropped from the absurd high of a few years back and the promoters now ask only $1.50 to $8 to see a lot of stumblebums in action.

Of course, if there is any kind of a title involved, prices are jacked up. Hockey prices run from 70 cents to $4.50, and the 70 cents would be an overcharge for the best seats if you had to watch the New York Rangers or the Chicago Blackhawks in action.

As for racing, all New York tracks charge $1.60 for grandstand seats and $4.30 for the clubhouse. The cheaper seats are better than the clubhouse section but if you must feel exclusive—or snobbish—the racing people make you pay for the privilege.

And, remember, that except for basketball, you never get a doubleheader for your dough as you do in baseball.

While most birds are able to move only one, both mandibles of the parrot's beak are movable and are endowed with considerable muscular power.

AT A SCHOOL where great swimmers are an annual development, Ohio State comes up with what may be the greatest swimming prospect in its history. The hero of the story is Dick Cleveland, Hawaiian-born and a freshman. Coach Mike Peppe already says that Dick is the "greatest swimmer in competition today." A sprinter, Dick already has clicked off a :49.8 century, just one-tenth of a second over Alan Ford's phenomenal record. (International)

Mlkvy Holds Scoring Lead

Owl's Average Is 28, White's Total 464

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 (AP)—West Virginia's towering Mark Workman is closing in on Bill Mlkvy and Sherman White in the keen race for the sharpshooter's title among the nation's major college basketball players.

A 50-point splurge—highest one-point total this season for a major team's player—against Salem last Saturday zoomed Workman's average to 26.3 points through games of Jan. 27. The N.C.C.A. Service Bureau's records through last Saturday showed Mlkvy of Temple still in front with a 28 point average with White, of Long Island, right on his heels with 27.3.

Workman, a nimble 6-8 center, hit 22 of 27 field goal attempts against Salem and his hot shooting vaulted him from 15th to fourth in the bucket department with a 51 per cent average on two-point tries. Cincinnati's Larry Imburgia, out with a bad knee, leads in field goal shooting with a 62.2 mark.

Jay Handlan of Washington and Lee held on to his foul shooting lead with an 87.3 average. He has connected on 103 of 118 charity tosses.

YOU CAN SURVIVE THE ATOM BOMB

KNOW THE BOMB'S TRUE DANGERS. KNOW STEPS YOU CAN TAKE TO ESCAPE THEM.

What About "Induced" Radioactivity?

EXPLOSIVE RADIOACTIVITY CAN'T BE KEPT OUT OF THE UPPER FLOORS OF YOUR HOUSE, SO LEARN WHAT TO EXPECT FROM IT

IF AN atomic bomb goes off in the air within two-thirds of a mile or slightly more of your home, there is no practical way of keeping explosive radioactivity out of the above-ground part of your house. It is possible that, at very short range, artificial, or induced radioactivity could be set up in gold, silver, and many other objects. However, this kind of radioactivity will never offer great danger, so don't throw away bandages and other first aid materials in the medicine cabinet. They will be perfectly safe to use.

EVEN CANNED AND BOTTLED FOODS MAY BE IRRADIATED, BUT IT WILL STILL BE SAFE TO USE THEM

Naturally, the radioactivity that passes through the walls of your house won't be stopped by tin or glass. It can go right through canned and bottle foods. However, this will not make them dangerous, and it will not cause them to spoil. Go ahead and use them, provided the containers are not broken open.

What About "Radiation Sickness"?

VOMITING AND DIARRHEA ARE THE FIRST SIGNS OF RADIATION SICKNESS

Should you be caught upstairs or in the open at the time of a bombing, you might soak up a serious dose of explosive radioactivity. Even so, the first indication that you had been pierced by the rays probably wouldn't show up for a couple of hours. Then you most likely would get sick at your stomach and begin to vomit. However, you might be sick at your stomach for other reasons, too, so vomiting won't always mean you have radiation sickness.

EVEN IF YOU SHOULD GET SEVERE RADIATION SICKNESS, YOU WOULD HAVE BETTER THAN AN EVEN CHANCE OF RECOVERY

The time it would take you to get sick would depend on how strong a dose you got. The stronger the dose, the quicker you would get sick. For a few days you might continue to feel below par and about two weeks later most of your hair might fall out. By the time you lost your hair you would be good and sick. But in spite of it all, you would still stand better than an even chance of making a complete recovery, including having your hair grow in again.

Reprinted from the official U. S. government report.

Where is Best Place to Go?

THERE IS LITTLE YOU CAN DO TO PROTECT YOUR HOUSE FROM BLAST

If your house is close to the explosion, there is little you can do to protect it from the bomb's blast, or pressure wave. Within one-half mile of the surface point directly beneath the explosion, the shock wave from an atomic bomb is sure to flatten most houses. Out to a distance of about one mile, steel, brick and wooden structures are likely to be damaged beyond repair. Farther out, there is less destruction, but serious damage may be expected to extend as far as two miles.

IT IS BEST TO FIGURE ON COLLAPSE OF THE UPPER FLOORS AND TO TAKE COVER IN THE CELLAR

It is only wise to figure that the upper floors of most buildings near the explosion will be pushed in. This means the basement is probably the safest place to be. If you have a basement and time to get down to it, lie flat along the outer wall or near the base of some heavy supporting column. You would be even safer under a cellar work bench or heavy table. Stay away from the middle of the floor where falling beams and other objects are most likely to strike you.

Naturally, you run a risk of being trapped in the wreckage, but your over-all chances of escape from the bomb in most cases are many times greater than they would be upstairs. If your basement has two exits, you will be in less danger of being trapped.

BASEMENTS GIVE SHELTER AGAINST BLAST AND HEAT, AND RADIOACTIVITY

Besides protecting you from blast and heat, basements also provide shielding from explosive radiation. Because, the lower you get, the more barriers against radiation there are likely to be between you and the bursting bomb. Down in the cellar you'll probably be shielded not only by other buildings, but also by earth and the cement foundations of your own house. Earth, concrete and steel are good radiation barriers.

IF YOU HAVE NO BASEMENT, LOCATE A SHELTER YOU CAN REACH QUICKLY

If you have no basement, look around your immediate neighborhood for a nearby shelter you can get to quickly in an emergency. Such a shelter might be a culvert, a deep gully, or another building within easy reach. If you live in rolling country, there is probably a hill close to you. Even a high bank will offer some protection from most bursts if it is between you and the explosion. In choosing your shelter, assume that the enemy will aim for the industrial buildings.

CYCLONE CELLARS ARE EXCELLENT

If you live in a state where there is danger from sudden storms like cyclones or hurricanes, you may have a "cyclone cellar" or something similar. If so, you have a shelter that will give excellent protection against atomic bombs.

"Why Was I Born?" Cancer Victim Asks; Pens Answer Before Death

TARENTUM, Pa.—(AP)—"Why was I born?"

Pretty, vivacious Virginia Silliman asked herself the question many times as she sickened and died within a year of cancer.

She penned the answer in a letter made public just 24 hours after her death.

There had been five operations. The 21-year-old girl lost her baby. Her body was racked with pain.

Last November she wrote her last letter as a message of courage and hope to friends and relatives, especially Husband Lawrence.

"Why was I born?"

She told her loved ones:

"I feel that this has been my task here on earth—to bring you to the Lord. And even though I have suffered, I have no regrets. I would suffer again for such a cause."

Just as Virginia wanted, the letter remained sealed until after her death. Here are some of her own words:

"For years now, I've been asking myself—why was I born? For what reason did the dear Lord bless me with life?

"I've sat in church and prayed; I've prayed at home—'Dear Lord, what can I do to help Thee in Thy great work?'

"I've tried to be loyal in my church attendance, I've tried to live Christianly. I've sung praises of the Lord with all my heart. I began teaching Sunday school when I was 14. But all this was not enough. I still found unrest.

"Then, as you know, a little over a year ago, my troubles began. But, because you've been such kind friends, a loyal family and a devoted husband, you made my troubles yours also.

"In these ways, you've made my sufferings much easier. And although I've lost a baby, made four trips to the hospital and five to the operating room within the past year, I haven't lost faith in the Lord."

"Matter of fact, I've come to know and love Him more than I ever have.

"But most important of all, you have noticed this. You have seen what the Lord has done for me and you have found Him for yourself also. Your faith has been strengthened, too. I know for I've been watching and I've seen you grow to be more spiritually minded. And because you have, I have found peace of mind.

"Even now, some people are wondering how long I will live. But I have no fear of dying. If the Lord decides to take me, I only pray that when that time comes, you—my friends, family and husband—will have found enough faith—through my faith—to bear the sorrow of our parting."

More than 42 per cent of the total sales from American farms are made during the months of September, October and November.

Scoffers Given Their Chance By Art Patron

Newt Holland, president of the Rochester Art Center, has arranged "The Layman's Revenge," a showing which will run through February.

For the past few years, Holland has had a "little gallery" in conjunction with a cafeteria he operates. On the wall of his restaurant he hung oil paintings, water colors and sketches by some of Minnesota's leading artists.

"I can't see why you torture us with some of these paintings, Newt. They're awful," the customer said. "I'll bet most of your regular customers could do as well."

Holland took the challenge. The results were immediate and startling. People who never touched a brush to canvas before turned up with their "masterpieces." A man who didn't know a palette from a palate entered a Dali-like work.

Greeting Holland's customers will be a display of false noses, severed thumbs, primitive abstractions, water-color splatterings, and one oiled portrait labeled an authentic "Rumbrand."

Prizes for the exhibition will be all the coffee you can drink in one day (as first prize), half of what you can drink (as second prize) and one third as third prize.

Divorce-Seeking Wife Says Mate Took Philosophy Too Seriously

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Dolores Sutor complained in Superior Court that her husband, Casimir, took his philosophy studies too seriously.

"He even insisted that I call him Socrates," Mrs. Sutor declared. "He finally came to believe he didn't need to support his family."

Mrs. Sutor, 22, said that was cruelty, asked for a divorce, alimony and support for their children, Yvonne, three, and Paul, 15 months.

"My wife is Xanthippe and Mrs. Rip Van Winkle combined," replied Sutor, 25-year-old graduate of Illinois Wesleyan and graduate student at Northwestern University night school.

(Xanthippe was Socrates' wife whose peevishness and quarrelsome temper have become proverbial. Rip also had an ill-tempered wife before he took his 20-year nap.)

"He even carried on correspondence for three years with a woman who signed her letters Plato," continued Mrs. Sutor.

Judge Daniel A. Roberts was not to be outdone in his own courtroom.

"For a woman," he said, "she should have signed herself Sappho."

(Sappho was an ancient Greek poetess who lived on Lesbos, the Isle of Women.)

"She beat me once a week," broke in Sutor, a South Pacific naval veteran, "but like a Stoic, I bore it."

(Stoics were members of an ancient school of philosophy that professed indifference to pleasure or pain.)

Mrs. Sutor's lawyer, Victor Frelich, told the court Sutor makes $66 a week as a punch press operator and part time clerk.

Judge Roberts ordered Sutor to pay $35 a week temporary alimony.

"I can't pay more than $20," said Sutor, who majored in mathematics and physics at Illinois Wesleyan. "I've got to go on with my education."

Auto Industry Doesn't Expect Any Off-Season

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

DETROIT, (AP)—This is off-season for the auto industry but new car sales don't indicate it.

Most surveys made so far this month indicate retail deliveries are running well above those of the same pending upward price adjustment and the early elimination of much normal bright trim probably are factors in the steady new car demand.

But while there are many buyers there also are the usual number of bargain hunters. Most would-be buyers are seeking high trade-in allowances and some still look for discounts.

Early last month many dealers offered high allowances on the purchase of the last of their 1950 model cars. More recently they have taken down signs offering big savings on low mileage demonstrators and "officials' cars."

And the feeling appears to be growing that the retailers will be able to sell all the cars they will get from the factories this year—whether the number is 4,000,000 or 6,000,000.

The maturing of a large amount of savings bonds this year probably figures in the sales picture thinking of automobile retailers. Certainly there is no question about ability to pay, although the tight credit restrictions have made it a bit tougher for the would-be new car buyer in the lower income area.

Despite dealer optimism, promotion of new model quality is going on as usual. This is handled mainly by the manufacturing division.

Practically all new models so far introduced have displayed more bright finish than last year's cars. But nobody expects the glamorous make-up to be available for many months. So the rush to buy right now is understandable.

Last week the factories built 121,287 cars and 29,132 trucks. This compares with 120,831 cars and 29,548 trucks in the preceding week. Car output is down somewhat from last January but truck assemblies are higher. This is due to the increasing number of military vehicles coming from the assembly lines.

B & O Railroad Revenue Higher

The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad yesterday reported a net income of $15,037,080.39 for 1950. Total railway operating revenues were $402,541,895.65, railway operating expenses were $324,575,869.26, and railway tax accurals were $35,621,836.76.

Revenue carloads for 1950 at 3,066,110, were 308,928, or 11.22 per cent more than the 1949 total.

Revenue ton miles for 1950 at 27,546,419,153, were 3,291,338,607, or 13.57 per cent more than for 1949.

The B & O's operating ratio for 1950 was 80.63 as compared to 82.24 for 1949.

The B & O reduced its fixed charges and interest payments by $581,636.42 in 1950 as compared with 1949. This saving included a reduction of $330,036.05 in interest on its funded debt, a reduction of $140,538.29 in contingent interest, and a reduction of $111,062.08 in other fixed charges.

For December 1950 the B & O showed a net income of $1,914,345.02, as compared with $811,827.30 for 1949.

Teen Age Rec Center Will Open Today

A new teen-age recreation center, to be open every Friday night, will be inaugurated today by Mountain City Camp No. 6, Woodmen of the World, on the first floor of the WOW building, Union Street. The project has been approved by police and recreation officials.

The Woodmen teen-age center is a phase of the "Fraternity in Action" project of the national organization. It will be open without cost to all youths between 13 and 18 years of age. No membership dues are required in the beginning, according to Richard Connors, chairman of the committee in charge which also includes Russell Reynolds and Blair Kaiser.

"I WANT TO TELL THIS TO WOMEN IN YOUR 40's"

I find Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound wonderful to relieve distress of 'change of life'"

"Any woman between the ages of 38 and 52 should be interested in my experience. I was going through functional change of life and found myself terribly embarrassed from hot flushes, and I felt so nervous, easily upset because of this.

"What really shocked me was when I overheard my husband explaining my shortcomings behind my back. He said, 'Don't mind Louise—she's going through change of life.' That made up my mind. I had heard how effective Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was for relieving such symptoms, and I decided then and there to try it. Thank heavens I did.

"I find Pinkham's Compound simply marvelous to relieve embarrassing symptoms due to this cause. In fact I now take Lydia Pinkham's Compound regularly to help build up resistance against hot flushes, tense emotions, flighty, nervous, tired feelings—due to this cause. I wish anyone when troubled this way would try this great medicine."

P. S. Pinkham's Compound tastes swell in a little fruit juice or plain water. A wonderfully effective medicine made especially for women.

Rich Little Poor Girl Graduated Cum Laude From Hunter College

NEW YORK, —(INS)— A rich little poor girl was graduated cum laude from Hunter College this week.

She is Lois Jean Prechtl, who put herself through school by hoofing in a chorus line, sitting with babies, working in a dime-store and twirling from a circus rope as high above the ground as the six-story tenement she lives in.

Before she left her top-flight walk-up, Lois looked like any well-scrubbed and wistful girl heading for hallowed college halls to receive her diploma.

But there was a difference.

"This is really a big thrill for mother," she whispered, "but I can't say I'm as excited about getting graduated as about getting the work over. I really didn't like studying very much. I want to do other things, exciting things."

There was another difference. Lois Jean had to walk through sleet, lugging the huge box that carried her cap and gown, and then take a spitting Third Avenue elevated train to the commencement exercises.

She said, "I'll look a wreck when I get there, but I guess that doesn't matter, does it?"

Lois has been walking places—or dancing places—since she first went to school and was allowed 10 cents train fare, a lunchtime sandwich, and two cents a day for a glass of milk.

She was in junior high school when she got her first job, working in a department store. In Walton High School, where she was graduated at age 15, she bought her books with money earned by baby-sitting one night and tutoring French the next.

One semester after she enrolled at Hunter College—on proceeds of the tutoring and some "throw-in jobs" she ran out of money and took a job dancing with Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey Circus. They talked her into climbing a high-rope and doing upside down pirouettes in the air, minus a net.

The $60 a week with the circus for six months earned enough to send her back to Hunter for another year, but then she was "flat broke again and had to get out." She auditioned with Olsen and Johnson, and won a chorus girl job with their 1948 revue, "Laffacade".

The next summer, broke again, she traveled with the Radio City Rockettes as captain of their chorus line. She also tutored college students in French and French-speaking immigrants in English.

In her spare time, Lois took care of her three-year-old brother, Joey, one of five children in the Prechtl family.

U. S. Soldier Pays Part Of His Bill In Korean Money

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(P)—A Louisville collection agency received a big bundle of depreciated Korean money from a former soldier at Fort Knox in payment on a $22.50 grocery bill.

The soldier, identified as Cpl. Earl Booth of the Fifth Cavalry Division, wrote in response to a threat to take legal action if he failed to pay.

"I haven't been paid since July," the soldier wrote, "so therefore I don't have any American currency at present. However, I do have 1,100 won (Korean money) which I confiscated from a North Korean. x x x I am enclosing it in this letter as a down payment on the $22.50."

The letter continued: "I am most grateful to you for informing me of the fact that you are sending the cops after me. I will be very happy to see them because, you see, I am a policeman myself, presently engaged in a police action called the United Nations.

"My police squad is located in Central Korea and I am sure you have heard of our chief, MacArthur. x x x

The soldier said he wished the collection agency had send the cops after him last August or in early November when he was wounded and easy to locate in a hospital. He also sent a similar letter to the Louisville Times and asked that it be published.

"I will close now as duty calls," the letter concluded, "and I must be walking my beat.

"P. S. We are having a policeman's ball here February 13. Please inform all Louisville cops they are cordially invited."

The agency, which asked that its name be withheld, sent the soldier a receipt for 26 cents, the value placed on the bundle of depreciated Korean money.

One gram of gold has been drawn into a wire two miles long.

Movies Feature Keyser Kiwanis Club Meeting

Telephone Company Manager In Charge

KEYSER, W. Va. — Leo P. Prendergast, manager of the Keyser office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, was guest speaker at the regular weekly Kiwanis Club dinner-meeting Wednesday evening in the dining hall at the First Methodist Church.

Prendergast brought two rolls of film, one educational and the other a marionette show in colored movies entitled "Party Lines," that had much of the comic strip idea in an enlightened presentation, dealing with the troubles caused on party telephone lines.

There were serious and comical instances presented on the subject in a manner in which the telephone company tried to show the selfishness of many telephone users in usurping the service lines of the company to the discomfort of other users.

The other picture issued only a few days ago, showed actual scenes in the laying of the first underwater telephone cable system from the United States via Key West to Havana, Cuba. Two cables were laid over that route, overcoming the difficulties of booster service from a new system beneath the water to carry voices to distant places from great depths on the sea floor.

Bond Posted For Riddle

William Riddle, 35, Keyser, W. Va., was released under $2,500 bond yesterday for action of the March grand jury at Clarksburg, W. Va., on a charge of feloniously shooting another man January 21. He waived a preliminary hearing.

Riddle, an employe of the American Railway Express, is accused of wounding Ralph Lemons, 42, at the latter's home in Clarksburg. The injured man is recuperating at St. Mary's Hospital there.

Lemons' wife, Mrs. Mary (Gatrell) Lemons, ex-wife of Riddle, was arrested on a drunk charge after the shooting. The woman told authorities she and her husband were having a few drinks in the kitchen when Riddle arrived.

There was no argument, Mrs. Lemons said, but Riddle turned suddenly and fired three shots from a pistol after he reached the kitchen door while leaving. Lemons was shot in the abdomen.

Eckhart Soldier Gets Mention In AP Column

An Eckhart soldier, Cpl. Thomas Smith ,was mentioned in the Hal Boyle column of war news yesterday.

Written by Jim Becker of the Associated Press, the article reports how Cpl. Smith and five others ducked behind a tank to escape sniper fire in Korea.

As the men huddled together, Smith offered his cigarettes. When he didn't get any takers he remarked:

"They're from the States . . . notice the blue tax stamp."

"Why cigarettes clear from the States?" another asked.

"I just got homesick for that blue stamp," replied Cpl. Smith.

The human heart pumps nearly seven tons of blood every day.

Keyser Church To Show Movie Sunday

KEYSER, W. Va. — The movie, "Yesterday, Today and Forever" will be shown Sunday at the Church of the Brethren, here at 7:30 p.m. The film's theme is alcoholism.

Rev. I. S. Long, pastor of the church, said "alcohol is a great scourge even to intelligent Americans, but it is difficult to see why it should be forever. The same is true of war. It's a pity we can't get together, around a table and make a lasting peace, just as it is a pity that we spend nine billion dollars on alcoholic drinks that bring ruination to so many."

Tucker Soldier Killed In Korea

PARSONS, W. Va.—Pfc. Benjamin F. Sowers, 23 of Leadmine, was killed in action in Korea on December 2, according to a message received from the War Department by his only brother, George Sowers, of Leadmine.

Keyser Mayor Will Not Run For Reelection

Other Activities Planned In July

KEYSER, W. Va.—John C. Freeland has definitely decided not to be a candidate to succeed himself as mayor of Keyser in July. He will retire June 30, and is making arrangements for other activities.

He stated that during his administration as the executive officer of the city over a period of seven terms or 14 years, he has pleasant memories of the accomplishments of the councils he worked with in that time. He added that there had been some very good councils in that time, councils that had cooperated well in the advancement of Keyser.

He referred to his first term as mayor, after he had spent two years as finance officer in the city administration. He said his first term was spent in a "run down" building then used as a "city hall," after which they moved to Armstrong Street, where the Star Restaurant is now located. He said that he and the council later decided on the purchase of a property, the present site of the City Hall, and proceeded with the cooperation of the council and citizens with a plan for the present building, which has been an asset to the city.

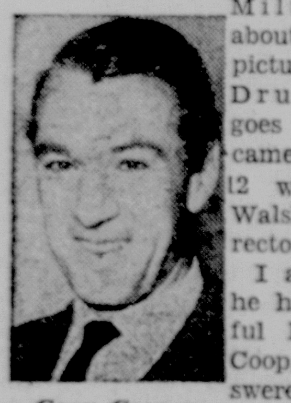
KEEPING UP WITH HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 1—(INS)—Gary Cooper returns Tuesday or Wednesday with Rocky and Maria. That heart-to-heart talk they had in New York worked wonders.

Coop comes back to confer with Milton Sperling about his next picture "Distant Drums," which goes before the cameras on March 12 with Raoul Walsh in the director's seat.



Gary Cooper

I asked Milt if he had a beautiful lady set for Coop, and he answered he didn't want to make any choice until he discussed it with the star. But, if it's all right with Gary, Ruth Roman is okay with Raoul and Milt.

Peggy Maley, who received a lot of publicity when she impudently sat on the throne of England in 1948, stars in a picture for Frank Ross. She's now appearing with Joan Caulfield and David Niven in "The Lady Says No," but Frank has come up with an idea for Peggy which, believe me, is very different from "The Robe" on which he worked for years.

He's calling Peggy's opus "The Royal Chase." It's now being written by Robert Russell and deals with an American girl who is chased all over Europe by a member of the British nobility. Could that be the Marquis of Milford-Haven who is now married to a New York socialite?

Chit-chat: Dudley J. Le Blanc, the only senator who turned medicine man and made a fortune with a patent medicine, is having his life put into a story.

But, let me say right here and now, the Senator from Louisiana isn't getting any piker author to do the job. He's engaged Stephen Longstreet (he wrote "The Jolson Story") who left Los Angeles for the Senator's home to write what he is calling "The Great American Story."

Well, maybe it is after all. It must be said of the Senator he's a man who knows how to publicize what he has—or is it because he engaged one of Hollywood's top press women to put him over?

From tiny acorns mighty oaks grow—was the thought that came to me when I watched Irene Dunne beamingly announce $135,000 had been gathered for St. John Hospital. Irene didn't just take the title of president of the St. John Guild and then sit idly by.

She worked as I have never seen anyone work because she knew well how much the children's ward and the other two wings are needed. So, her picture, "The Mudlark," brought in $50 a piece for tickets. It was certainly a tribute to her popularity and to the generosity of our stars that they, themselves, bought tickets, as well as all our producers.

Lionel Barrymore, looking wonderful, back at the M-G-M Studio rarin' to go. He's ready for a movie and for his radio show.

Betty Garrett has written a song, "Sister Can You Spare A Song," which the Andrews Sisters will introduce.

Jimmy Stewart, recovered from that demon flu, lunching at the Beverly Hills Brown Derby with Major Alexander De Seversky, famed writer and war ace.

Audie Murphy's fiancee, Pamela Archer, Dallas air line hostess, arrives here over the weekend to see Audie. I thought Audie had gone to Texas to see her.

Louis Armstrong, famous jazz trumpeter, took time off from his M-G-M chores to go to Stanford University to play for the students' annual prom.

From Boston comes a note saying that Arlene Dahl and Lex Barker were dancing romantically in the Oval Room of the Copley Plaza Hotel there. Now what would they be doing in Boston?

The sidewalk standees, who gathered as early as 6 o'clock in front of Grauman's Chinese Theater to greet the stars, followed them to the restaurant. They almost tore the bleachers apart when Sylvia and Clark Gable walked into the forecourt. That guy's popularity never lessens.

Lauren Bacall and Humphrey Bogart received a tumultuous welcome. Joan Crawford was with Clifton Webb and both rated cheers. Rosalind Russell and Freddie Brisson, with Evie and Van Johnson, were others who pleased the crowds—as did Gene Tierney, looking gorgeous.

Gene told me that Oleg Cassini, her husband, is due here. He arrived today.

Bill Grady, Jr., is the author of "Red Ball Express," and Dick Tregaskis has adapted the story. Bill, Sr., is so proud of that boy, he wants all the world to know what a smart son he has and I don't blame him.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

MIRROR OF YOUR MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Should you commit yourself to a long engagement?

Answer: As a rule, no, especially if you and your sweetheart are in a position to be frequently together. For in that case the increasing tension of the physical desire which love normally creates is likely to make you become associated in each other's minds with disappointment and frustration rather than the happiness that is love's normal basis. If it is impossible for you to marry, you had better allow each other complete freedom and accept the fact that with no marriage tie between you, either or both of you may "change your minds" as time passes.

Can "B. O." be a delusion?

Answer: Yes. A rather serious and hard-to-cure one. The unfounded fear of giving off unpleasant odors—sometimes compensated by the over-use of perfume—may grow out of an unconscious sense of guilt at wishing to attract attention, coupled with the fear that those whom you wish to attract will find you somehow repulsive. If the notion becomes a deep-seated conviction, it is a sign of a rather serious mental illness which requires psychiatric treatment, since it grows out of the "paranoid" idea that "nobody loves you."

Is obesity a psychiatric problem?

Answer: The conviction that this is the case is becoming increasingly widespread. For example, Dr. Spencer Bayles of Denver writes in the American Journal of Medical Science that the great majority of obese patients who have no disturbance in their metabolism consume more food than their bodies need because they lack other and more adult sources of pleasure. They are people who are bored or feel rejected by their neighbors and find in food a symbol of the love and affection they crave. They need "emotional re-education."

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Up near Provincetown, on Cape Cod, a harmless old gent recently released from a mental institution, wandered into a soft drink emporium, ordered a sarsaparilla, and added, "I want every straw you have in the place with my bottle."

Since he accompanied his odd request with a tip of five dollars, the clerk hastened to plank down with the drink two boxes of straws and the container-full on the counter. The old fellow peered suspiciously about the premises and demanded, "How about the ones on those little tables in the back? And how about that one on the floor over there?" "Just an oversight," the clerk assured him, after hastily adding them to his collection.

The old man persisted, "You're sure now this is all you've got?" "Absolutely," said the clerk. Whereupon the old man clarioned triumphantly, "This ositively the last straw," and st out into the sunshine.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

"The Authority on Authorities"

SECRET WEAPON LETHAL

POSSESSION of a long suit, which you never bid, can be a lethal weapon, especially if your opposition is not the kind that protects itself against possible hidden dangers. Sometimes you may decide to pass on an early round with the intention of coming in at a later stage. But developments in the bidding come so excitingly that you change your mind and decide to lay low, without anybody knowing a thing about your long suit.

West, with plenty of material for an overcall, adopted the scavenger policy of waiting and then backing into the bidding, instead of calling 2-Hearts, 3-Hearts or 4-Hearts at once. But when his next turn came, he had heard South's powerful bid of 3-Spades. Convinced that all suits would be badly divided against South or North, he now decided to see if his opponents would get too high and be wrecked by the adverse distribution. Whereas his own bid might warn them of their danger, his silence might lure them on.

He made his natural opening lead of the heart K against the spade slam, a lead which would disclose nothing about the length of his suit.

South of course won that with the A. Counting up, he saw that he might lose a trick in clubs if the finesse failed, so couldn't afford to drop one in hearts. He could park two of his heart losers on the diamond tops, but would have to ruff one in the dummy. With that in view, he led the heart 2 to the second trick and ruffed with the spade 5. Imagine his feelings when East over-ruffed with the spade 10. West then ruffed the club 5, East the heart 8 with the spade Q after the J was played from dummy, then West the club 3 to beat the contract three tricks.

West said later that, if he had bid his hearts, South probably would have scored the spade A and K before trying to ruff the heart and so would have taken all thirteen tricks. In other words, West's silence about his hearts proved to be worth four tricks to his side.

How should South play for 5-Hearts, doubled by East, if West had made a diamond overcall and leads the spade 3?

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Alfred Q. McDonald, who passed away one year ago today, Feb. 2.

We think of you in silence
Our hearts are crushed with pain
The happy hours we spent together
Can never come again.
But heaven' holds our treasures
God needed you we know
And your sweet face and sunny smile
Will brighten heaven so.
Sadly missed by
His Wife, Ruth, and Children

In loving memory of our dear son, Quay McDonald, who departed from this life one year ago today, February 2, 1950.

Although your soul is now at rest,
And free from care and pain,
The world would seem like heaven,
If we had you back again.
Let us think of him today,
Sleeping, resting, just away,
Resting where no shadows fall,
In perfect peace, he wants us all.
MOTHER and FATHER

In loving remembrance of our dear mother and father, Richard Scarlett, who died January 30, 1936, and Clara Scarlett, who died February 2nd, 1938.

No one knows the silent heartaches,
Only those who have lost can tell,
Of the grief that's borne in silence,
For the ones we loved so well.
Sadly missed by
The Children

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Berlin DeWard Towler and Kathryn Virginia Towler, vs. Earl J. Patton. No. 22032 Equity in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The object of this suit is to procure a Decree declaring Barbara Ann Patton to be the adopted child of Berlin DeWard Towler and Kathryn Virginia Towler, his wife.

The Bill states that Barbara Ann Patton was born to Earl J. Patton and Kathryn F. Patton on November 20, 1941; that the said Earl J. Patton deserted and abandoned his said wife and child in November, 1942, and that the said Kathryn F. Patton was divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the said Earl J. Patton in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, on June 29, 1946, in No. 19094 Equity in said Court, and that the said Kathryn F. Patton has supported and maintained, and cared for the said child down to the present time; that the said Kathryn F. Patton and Berlin DeWard Towler were married on May 7, 1950, at Cumberland, Maryland, and they have provided for the said child down to the time of the filing of this Bill; and that they believe themselves to be competent and responsible persons to adopt said child; further that the said Earl J. Patton has never visited the said child or contributed to her support or maintenance since November, 1942; that he is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and that his present whereabouts are unknown, but that his last known address was ——————.

It is thereupon this 18th day of January, 1951, ordered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, in Equity, that the Petitioners cause this Order to be inserted in some newspaper in Allegany County once a week for four (4) successive weeks, before the 19th day of February, 1951, giving notice to the said Earl J. Patton, absent defendant, of the object and substance of this Bill, and warning him to be and appear in this Court in person or by Solicitor on or before the 8th day of March, 1951, to show cause, if any he has, why the Decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

Market Hits Another New High For Over 20 Years

NEW YORK, Feb. 1 (AP)—The stock market today ignored crippling effects of the switchmen's strike and shot forward strongly to another new high going back more than 20 years.

The trend of prices were irregularly lower until late in the session when rails rallied and pulled the rest of the market higher.

Highlight was the 15-point jump in Nickel Plate to 235 after directors voted to pay off the $45 arrearage on the six per cent preferred stock, an amount estimated at $16,226,000. The preferred itself gained 1½ at 150½.

Santa Fe was another strong performer up 5 at 170. Delaware & Lackawanna, which owns a large block of Nickel Plate, was up 1¼ at 16¾.

A number of other individual issues rushed up from more than two to around five points.

These brilliant showings overshadowed the more modest actions of the bulk of the list which advanced by fractions to more than a point.

A basic influence on market bullishness was final confirmation that the government's policy of maintaining a long-term 2½ per cent interest rate is to be continued.

In Wall Street is was felt that continuance of a low interest rate is to be continued.

In Wall Street is was felt that continuance of a low interest rate on government securities would make common stocks look much better with their much higher rate of return at current dividend rates and prices.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced $1 to $95.10, a new high for 1950-51 that goes back to Sept. 24, 1930, when the average stood at $96.70. The industrial component was up 90 cents, rails $1.70 and utilities were down 10 cents.

Volume amounted to 2,380,000 shares as compared with 2,340,000 shares yesterday. The pace of business was slow until the final hour when 860,000 shares changed hands.

situation by originally signing application cards, but said they subsequently rejected the union by a 22-0 vote.

The situation, the drivers said, is at a standstill.

C. E. Stutzman, business agent for the union, said he had not asked any of the men to join Local 453 and that the men had come to the union, not the union to them.

He said Local 453 has a strike at the bakery and will stand fast.

Negotiations Deadlocked

The strike was called, according to Stutzman, after "negotiations for a contract for the bakery's driver-salesmen became deadlocked."

Stutzman's statement follows:

"These driver-salesmen requested a meeting six months ago with the teamsters union and we had a meeting which was arranged by one of the men, Samuel Cunningham."

"In July and August, 11 of the 19 drivers signed with the union. The union then drew up a contract after several meetings with Ort's drivers.

"The proposal was presented to the company and the men agreed to strike if the contract was not signed or negotiated."

"Negotiations were continued at a later meeting with an international representative of the Teamsters Union present. Another session was delayed because an official of the bakery was in the hospital.

"The union gave the company time—two months. The Saturday afternoon two weeks preceding the strike, a meeting was held with the company, the international representatives of the Bakery and Confectioners Workers Union, and the Teamsters Union and the local business agents of these union attending. After a lengthy discussion, the company agreed to meet with the Uniontown local of the Teamsters Union, No. 451, regarding a contract for drivers handling the bakery's bread there."

Claim Appointment Not Kept

"The company official failed to keep an appointment arranged there with union spokesmen.

"After two weeks, the union felt that the contract negotiations were deadlocked. The international headquarters of the Teamsters Union contacted me and said it was necessary to obtain a contract. A work stoppage was ordered in the same message.

"As a result, pickets were placed at the bakery on January 6.

"The Saturday after the strike was called, the men notified this office by petition asking withdrawal from the union.

"The company says there is no strike. Two men, however, are drawing strike benefits and we have a strike sanction from international headquarters.

An official of Ort Brothers made the following statement:

"Six months ago, Mr. Stutzman contacted the management of the bakery and informed us he had the majority of the driver-salesmen signed in the local.

"However, he never produced an amount of cards to substantiate his claim.

"The company has had its inside bakery workers organized for many years. We have never had any strikes or serious labor difficulties.

Want True Majority

"We are fully prepared to recognize any bargaining agency that represents a true majority of our people.

"We cannot, however, legally recognize any agency that does not represent this majority.

"The Bakery and Confectioners Workers Union in our plant has not recognized any so-called strike and all products continue to be made 100 per cent union.

"The union gave no notice of the so-called strike. The first the management knew of the so-called strike was on Saturday morning, January 6, when the pickets appeared at the bakery."

Men From Uniontown

Another development in the situation was reported Wednesday when three representatives of the drivers at Uniontown, representing all the members of Local 491 hauling Ort's products, appeared at the bakery, company officials said.

A spokesman for the trio said the trip here was made to get bread back into the Uniontown market.

A company official said the wages earned by Cumberland workers at the bakery in making the bread for the Uniontown market averages $100,000 yearly.

On January 23, the 22 driver-salesmen in a paid advertisement announced they were not on strike.

They stated that a secret ballot was held and the workers voted 22-0 against the union.

Russia is reported to have about 175 divisions of 10,000 men each in Western Germany and deployed along the borders of Western Europe.

In his speech this forenoon, Eisenhower said France had promised to supply 25 divisions by the end of 1952. Connally said the General corrected that figure at the closed meeting: He meant to say 25 divisions by the end of 1953.

Other senators said Eisenhower corrected it to 15 divisions by the end of 1952, with 25 at the end of 1953.

Addressing an informal joint meeting of the Senate and House Eisenhower expressed supreme confidence that the task of defending Europe against Soviet aggression can be achieved.

New Cold Snap Abates Threat Of Flood Here

Snow And Slush Becomes Hard Ice

A new cold wave which hit the Tri-State area last night turned snow and slush from Wednesday's heavy storm into hard ice but abated the threat of high waters as streams became engorged from the run-off of the snow and rain.

Although high water in Oldtown overflowed a small bridge and several mountain streams came out of their banks yesterday the flood threat here lessened somewhat as water in Potomac River and Wills Creek stopped rising and became stationary last night. River Flood stage here is 17 feet.

Six inches of snow covered the surrounding areas and 1.87 inches of rain fell on top of this during the past 36 hours causing the Potomac to rise to 11.15 feet at 10 o'clock last night. The river's normal stage is approximately four feet.

Robert R. Golden, local weather observer expressed the opinion the cold weather would halt the river's rise and a crest of about 12 feet might be reached.

Road Conditions Good

Primary roads in Western Maryland were reported in good condition last night and, barring a heavy snowfall, were expected to remain clear today.

The frigid blasts struck this area as darkness fell, with the thermometer dropping about four degrees an hour, with an unofficial temperature of 26 at 10 p. m.

Cumberland streets were filled with slush yesterday, with City Street Department crews vainly trying to keep catch basins open.

Officials said hundreds of calls were received, reporting that snow had stopped the catch basins, damming up the water and slush.

In many areas, sidewalks were flooded by the time workers provided gutters through the slush.

In the downtown area, streets were generally clear last night and the city's snow loader was busy clearing other areas.

In Garrett county, the thermometer dropped from the day's high 32 degrees to 30, at 4:30 as the vanguard of the storm struck.

All roads in that county were in good condition.

Youghiogheny Rises

The Youghiogheny River, in nearby Pennsylvania, was rising fast yesterday afternoon as the result of the heavy runoff of snow and rain.

A sharp drop in temperature occurred in Allegany county in the Frostburg area yesterday afternoon. The temperature was 43 at 4 p. m. and dropped to 29 within 45 minutes. Roads in that area were about 85 per cent bare and no chains were needed.

In the Cumberland area, roads were 100 per cent bare, State Roads Commission officials reported, except on Route 51, to Paw Paw, which was 80 per cent bare. No chains were needed as all bad spots had been cindered.

In the Town Hill area, roads were 80 per cent bare, with streaks of ice on shady spots. Chains were not needed, but careful driving was advised.

Roads in the Hancock area were about half bare.

In Hagerstown and Frederick areas, roads were about 75 per cent bare, with icy spots. No chains were needed in Western Maryland on primary roads.

Embargo, Bad Weather Hits Local Mails

Delivery Here Is Slowed By Act

A new embargo placed on mail deliveries because of railroad switchmen strike and the current bad weather has slowed parcel post deliveries to a stand still here, Post Office officials said last night.

Richard Johnson, local mail inspector, received notification of the mail embargo on second, third and fourth class mail last night. Further instructions are expected here today.

Mail Supervisor James W. Fatkin said the embargo probably will be similar to one placed on the mails December 18, 1950. That embargo, although it lasted only several days, cut the incoming parcel post out almost entirely, he said. First class mail is not affected.

Mail generally is not handled here for Southern states during embargoes although most Eastern and New England states are not affected, Fatkin noted.

The persent railroad switchmen strike apparently has spread from Chicago and Detroit, where it started, to Washington, Fatkin said. The Washington terminal is the crux for mail distribution in this area and the great quantities of mail probably will be shifted to Baltimore under the embargo, he thought There has been no disruption of railroad service here.

Along with the rail tieup the heavy snow and rain in the past several days has slowed up trains and mail carriers somewhat so that some packages now are several days late. The local Post Office had very few parcel post deliveries yesterday, Fatkin revealed.

Mail scheduled for one train has been coming in on later trains, Fatkin said, and postal authorities here are expecting a heavy rush when the situation returns to normal.

U. S. Bond Sales In County Drop

Sales of U. S. Savings Bonds in Allegany and Garrett counties in 1950 followed a state-wide downward trend from 1949 totals, according to figures released last night by Richard H. Dixon, Jr., state director of the Treasury Department's Savings Bond Division.

Allegany County's total sales slumped $295,742 last year, from $2,986,291 to $2,690,549. "E" bond sales held up in this county proportionately better than did the combined sales of "F" and "G" bonds. "E" bonds dropped $71,628 from 1949's $2,224,293 to last year's $2,152,665. The "F" and "G" total slumped $224,114 fro m$761,998 to $537,884.

Garrett County's record for "F" and "G" sales was better last year than in 1949, but the drop in "E" sales made the county's overall total lower than in 1949. Garrett County's 1950 "E" bond sales aggregated $209,778, a drop of $31,164 from 1949's $240,942. The "F" and "G" totals in Garrett last year combined reached $47,000, an increase of $12,560 above the previous year's $34,440.

State-wide the drop was from 1949's $65,314,085 to last year's $61,630,016.

Marines Lower Standards For Married Men

The Marine Corps has lowered standards for enlistments, local recruiters said yesterday, and are now accepting married men 17 to 31 with dependents.

Original or prior service enlistments are being accepted and enlistees are placed in the Reserves. They are called to immediate active duty for an indefinite period, and, recruiters said, any veteran may subtract his original service from his age if over 31 and be accepted in this program.

Physical standards have also been lowered to a minimum for all enlistments, officials said.

Labor Group Will Notify Members On Bakery Strike

The Western Maryland Labor Unity Conference last night voted to notify all of its affiliates that a strike exists at the Ort Brothers Bakery here.

The action followed a meeting at which driver-salesmen of the firm appeared before the group representing AFL, CIO, Brotherhoods and independent unions of Allegany County to give their side of the dispute.

John L. Estes, chairman, said the minutes quoted Paul Fisher, one of the Ort drivers, as saying that "until all of the drivers for local bakeries were brought into the union the Ort drivers would continue to go without a union."

About half of the drivers for the local bakery appeared before the Unity Conference last night in an effort to find a solution to the dispute which has continued here for several months.

They recounted the steps which led to the dispute, including the signing of application cards by a number, disputed at 11 or 13, of the drivers.

Report Stalemate

The drivers added that they realized the men had created the

City May Tax All Vending Machines

Council Probing Revenue Proposal

The Mayor and City Council are exploring the possibilities of additional revenue through a tax on vending machines, it was disclosed yesterday.

Mayor Thomas S. Post said the group will explore the possibilities of such devices as a means of securing more funds for operating expenses of the city.

Legislation is being prepared by City Attorney W. Earle Cobey for taxes on tobacco products, hotel rooms and dogs in Cumberland.

The Mayor and Council will meet in the near future to make a final decision on the rates of the suggested special taxing measures.

Mayor Post said all members of the council are "wracking their brains" in an attempt to find means of securing more sources of money.

All members of the council this week decisively called for an examination of services offered by the city, saying that any unnecessary expenses should be curtailed.

Almost unanimous opposition was expressed to any boost in real estate taxes.

By one means or another, the city must find some $152,000 next year to operate within its present budget.

Some such step would have been necessary in the 1950-51 levy had it not been for the presence of a $152,000 surplus from state-shared income.

Entries Sought For Art Show

Although some interesting pictures already have been submitted, Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian at the Cumberland Free Public Library, said yesterday that comparatively few entries have been received for the annual Tri-State Art Exhibit, which will be held at the library.

The exhibit, sponsored by the Cumberland Branch, American Association of University Women, will begin Monday, February 12, and will continue until Friday, March 16.

Miss Walsh said that over 50 entry blanks have been taken, but few have ben returned. Entries must be in by Thursday, February 8. Only two entries may be submitted by each Maryland, West Virginia or Pennsylvania artist because of limited space. However, there are no limits to the type of art that may be entered.

Mrs. William C. VanNewkirk, Frostburg, is general chairman for the exhibit.

Assessment Plan Compromise Gains New Favor

Three-Year Program Now Is Suggested

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 1—(AP)—Assessment of property every three years was offered today as a compromise between the present five-year system and a proposed annual evaluation.

The compromise plan was devised by a Senate Finance Subcommittee and Clarence E. Tyler, representing the Association of County Commissioners.

Tyler will poll his group for reaction to the plan and then confer again with the subcommittee. The County Commissioners were almost unanimous in opposing a bill calling for annual assessments at full cash value.

Three Districts

The sugested compromise would complete the present five-year cycle of assessments which have brought protests of inequities. Then in 1945 each county and Baltimore city would be divided into three geographical districts and one assessed every year.

However, the new assessments would not be used as the basis of taxation until the end of the three years and then they would all go into effect at once. Under the present system, the assessments go into effect when made.

Assessors also would use fair instead of full market value as their yardstick At present, this amounts to about 65 per cent of full market value.

Tyler expressed belief that most of the complaints against the five-year system are disappearing. "We're over the worst hurdle and from here on out it should be smooth. We're all coming up to the same level of valuation and eliminating the feeling that some area is not doing its part."

View Borrowing Plan

County members of the subcommittee, Senators Sybert (D-Howard), Jewell (D-Kent) and Ramsburg (R-Frederick), indicated they were in sympathy with objections that annual reassessment would require work beyond the ability of their assessing staffs.

Tyler also met with another Senate Finance Subcommittee about a bill to create a $25,000,000 state debt from which local governments could borrow to build water and sewer systems.

Senator Byrd (D-Worcester), Subcommittee chairman, indicated ceive an unfavorable recommenda- afterward that the bill would re- tion from his group. Byrd said the subcommittee felt the proposal is another in a growing tendency to have the state do what local governments should do for themselves.

Natural Gas Supply Low In This Area

Company Officials Urge Conservation

Low supply of natural gas in this area has become critical, Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company officials said yesterday.

The local gas company has placed an urgent request to all persons using gas in Cumberland and surrounding territories to take every precaution to avert the exhaustion of the supply here.

Severe Cold Blamed

Carl C. Robbins, district manager of the local gas company, said last night the situation has become critical in this area due to the unusually severe cold weather in the Louisiana and Texas area. All major pipe lines from that area have been unable to maintain the supply of natural gas to the Cumberland area, he announced.

The cold weather and snow, sleet and rain here has further aggrevated the situation, Robbins reported.

Major industries all along the major supply lines have cut their use of natural gas to an absolute minimum in efforts to overcome the critical condition, the manager said.

Situation Temporary

The gas company is now asking everyone to reduce the use of gas by closing off spare rooms, reducing temperatures or any other means of relieving the situation during the present period of extremely bad weather here.

Major industries in the Cumberland area which use great quantities of gas are Celanese Corporation of America, Cumberland Glass Company, Baltimore and Ohio Bolt and Forge shops, West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company of Luke, Big Savage Refracteries and others. Approximately 13,000 homes in Cumberland also use gas in some form or other, Robbins said.

Local Scout Pageant Set

The pageant on Scouting to be presented by the 25 troops and Cub packs of Cumberland District, Potomac Council, Boy Scouts, will be staged at the Strand Theatre February 7 and 8 at 9 p. m.

Willis V. Smith, council executive, said tickets are available from local Boy Scouts and Cubs.

Chairman of arrangements is Herbert Lehr while director of the pageant is Robert Rosamond, local announcer and dramatist.

The event will be the highlight of Cumberland District's observation of national Boy Scout week, February 6 to February 12.

One hundred fifty boys will be in the cast that presents 25 acts depicting various phases of Scouting.

Lehr emphasized that parents and those interested in seeing the pageant should buy their tickets from a Scout or a Cub in advance as the Scouts get no portion of the door sales.

Rehearsals for the production will be held this Saturday and next Saturday, at 10 a. m. in the theatre, Lehr stated.

Each troop and pack has a specific scene to produce. These have been practiced for the past two months under Rosamond's direction, Lehr said.

Artery Severed

Dale Whitacre, 14, son of Harry Whitacre, Wiley Ford, W. Va., was admitted to Allegany Hospital yesterday evening with a severed artery in his knee, suffered while playing on Cumberland Street near Market Street.

County Heart Association Opens Third Annual Campaign With Plea For $7,000

Thomas F. Conlon Is Named General Chairman For The 1951 Drive

THOMAS F. CONLON

The Allegany County Rheumatic Fever and Heart Association has established a goal of $7,000 for its third annual fund raising campaign which got underway yesterday.

Thomas F. Conlon, Cumberland postmaster, is general chairman of the Allegany County appeal program and has divided the county into sections with co-chairmen and committees in charge of the campaign in these sections.

Mrs. Effie Vogel, Mrs. Rachel Iames and Mrs. Heyl Walker have charge of tag day program which will be held either February 10 or 17, Conlon reported. Twelve large sign boards throughout the county will be placed with appeals for aid.

Approximately 325 heart cans will be placed in the county, Conlon stated, with several hundred placards with pleas for aid also being distributed.

Dr. Samuel M. Jacobson, president of the association, said that when the heavy toll by heart disease is considered any contribution made by the public is a step towards combatting this killer and is an investment in your own future.

The county group keeps 70 per cent of the funds collected for work within the county while 30 per cent is turned over to the National Heart Association.

The Heart Association conducts two cardiac clinics monthly in Cumberland to which physicians in charge donate their time and services. A visiting nurse was recently hired by the association to treat patients throughout the county. She is Mrs. Betty Kirk and her work is supervised by the County Health Department.

Through research under grants made by the National Heart Association great progress has been made. Surgical treatment of abnormalities of the heart and circulation is progressing especially the treatment by surgery of children born with defective hearts (such as "blue babies").

Recurrent attacks of rheumatic fever are being prevented through use of penicillin and the sulfonamides. The use of certain drugs in retarding blood clotting has decreased deaths caused by coronary heart disease.

Approximately 100 patients in the county are now receiving treatments for rheumatic fever and heart disease, Conlon related, and children up to 18 years of ago who require aid for these dread diseases are helped by the Heart Association.

Trial In Case Of Blackjacking Delayed Again

City Police Officer To Be Tried Monday

The assault charge hearing today for probationary oficer Karl W. Frankfort of the Cumberland Police Force has once more been postponed.

The case has been tentatively rescheduled for 10 a.m. Monday in Trial Magistrates Court before Magistrate Frank A. Perdew. It previously was delayed from Wednesday.

Frankfort is charged with assaulting William Shumaker, 322 Henderson Avenue, in a warrant issued by Magistrate Perdew after Shumaker alleged Frankfort struck him with a blackjack early last Sunday near Midway Inn on Route 220 between Rawlings and Cumberland.

As a result of investigation by City Police, Frankfort and two other probationary officers have been suspended indefinitely. The others are Vernon E. Browning and Lewis A. Miller.

Shumaker, who was treated at Memorial Hospital for head lacerations declined to reveal at the time how he was hurt but claimed he had been hit with a blackjack when he obtained the warrant. No mention of Browning and Miller was made in the warrant, officials said.

The three probationary officers have a total of 14 months service with the police department. Frankfort joined the department September 21, 1950, Browning became a probationary officer August 16, 1950 and Miller was accepted July 3, 1950. All were off duty when the alleged blackjacking occurred.

Police declined to discuss the case although the three suspended officers and other witnesses were questioned by authorities.

Witnesses to the brawl said it occurred at an early morning hour after a brief argument in a tavern. The alleged incident occurred outside the tavern with a crowd looking on, witnesses said. It marked the second time Frankfort had been involved in a similar incident while "off duty."
